

Chanyuan Corpus

Indexes

Chapter 2. Unconventional Thinking

1. All the Devils are Coming Out of Caves!
2. Democracy is the Pursuit of Mediocrity
3. The most selfish are those who live for others
4. Knowledge Is Not Power
5. Thinking is a Magical Power
6. Special Relationships Between People Will Ruin their Lives

Chapter 3. Universe, Time, and Space

7. Origin of the Universe
8. Overview of the Universe
9. Time
10. Space
  - 1) Introduction
  - 2) The Meaning of the Space
  - 3) 36 Dimensional Spaces
  - 4) The Use of Space
11. The New Epoch is Coming
12. This Picture Includes Revelations of Heaven

Chapter 4. Humanity and Human life

13. The Origin of Humanity
  - 1) the Awkwardness of Evolutionism
  - 2) the Awkwardness of Bible
  - 3) the Prelude
  - 4) Celestials Creating Human
14. The Purpose of Humanity
15. The Role of Humanity
16. The Past of Humanity
17. Current Crises Faced by Humanity
18. The Future of Humanity
19. The Eighteen Source Causes of Life's Pain
20. The Standards of Good (Kind) People and Bad (Evil) People
21. Check if You are Following the Road of Devils
22. The Ways which Meet Life's Needs

23. Three Magic Weapons for A Carefree Life
24. Collecting New Era Life Values from Global Citizens
25. Eight Truths by which to Lead a Life
26. Life Guide with Philosophical Dialectics
27. Life Is but An Illusion
28. The Second Home (Now New Oasis for Life) Does Not Take the Road of Reverting to Ancient Civilizations
29. The Mode of the New Oasis for Life will Solve Twenty-one Difficulties that Mankind is Facing
30. Life Arranged Ingeniously, the Ordinary Life
31. Check if You Are a Gambler
32. Lifechanyuan's Viewpoint on Euthanasia
33. One Way to Know Yourself
34. Eight Invisible External Factors Influencing our Lives
35. Xuefeng Chats with Young People
36. Communism is the only Way to Happiness for the Toiling Masses
37. Sharing of Some Very Important Common Sense of Life

1. All the Devils are Coming Out of Caves!

XueFeng

(Edited by Kaer)

There is no doubt that the genetic engineering now under way is of epoch significance and its future is immeasurable, but when we are complacent and blindly optimistic about it, believing that each mu of a field can produce ten thousand jin of grains and each fruit tree can produce ten thousand jin of fruits, that tomatoes can be bigger than watermelons and peaches can be sweeter than honey, that pigs can weigh a hundred kilograms after only half a month's growth and skin and organs can be reproduced, that a new kind of medicine will satisfy people's need for food for three months and needed species can be "cloned", and that diseases can be eradicated and cancer can be conquered to make people enjoy unlimited longevity, who would imagine that all the devils are coming out of the caves and that we might be facing doom at any time?

Genetic codes are the golden locks that maintain the relative ecological balance and stability of nature and that prevent the devils from coming out of the caves, but once they are unlocked, the following scenes are not just to scare you because they could happen at any time.

- You wake up to find that some people around you have grown tails and that their features and voices have changed because they have eaten animal meat from mutant genes.
- You call a friend who is thousands of kilometers away, but only hear "chirp-chirp" noises coming out of your phone. You do not know that your friend has grown feathers and his mouth pointed out because he has eaten poultry or bird meat with mutant genes.
- You and your guests are happily drinking tea and chatting in the living room, when suddenly hundreds of cockroaches, bigger than eagles, crawl in from the kitchen because they have drunk water contaminated by specific genes.
- You are driving your family in your car, when suddenly the road ahead disappears as tens and thousands of hills rise before you. It turns out that potatoes have absorbed the soil nutrients contaminated by specific genes and are growing wildly like hills.
- You are sleeping soundly one night when you are suddenly awakened by the sounds of walls collapsing and sharp screams, so you open the windows and see hundreds of large rats, bigger than dogs, running through the yard and staring at you covetously.

- You come home from work and turn on a national television channel to watch the news, but no matter which channel you tune to, you find nothing, not even test patterns. In fact, the country has been infected with a gene that has rapidly mutated and spread, and everyone has gone mad and died within hours.
- You see plants growing wildly one day and learn that their reproduction and growth rates have grown faster than ants running. They spread over highways and bridges, climb mountains, float across rivers, occupy towns and cities, climb up tall trees and skyscrapers, and enter into caves and buildings, sweeping through to the ends of the earth. In places where they reach, "From hill to hill no bird in flight. From path to path no man in sight."

The devils are out of the caves and strange things will happen. The mortal world is no longer the one that we have known. People do not look like human, wolves are not wolf-like, and some plants grow wildly as some animals die instantly. At this point, any regrets are much too late.

Perhaps people believe that through the efforts of scientists from different places, we will be able to handle the issues of genetic engineering rationally and cautiously and will not act recklessly. We can only hope!

The point is that no one can be so sure that they have mastered all the secrets of gene interactions and can guarantee that there will not be gene hackers. Computer hackers can only crack passwords and disrupt programs, but gene hackers could push all of us into an abyss.

In order to protect nature's ecological balance and in order to maintain our survival and development, we hope that governments and scientists who are involved with bioengineering will be extremely cautious. It would be better to suspend its development for a century than to act recklessly or to compete with each other for the most radical and extreme advancements.

We must avoid catastrophes that are waiting to happen.

2. Democracy is the Pursuit of Mediocrity

Xuefeng

June 23, 2011

(Translated by Transn and Edited by Kaer)

Three cobblers could never exceed Zhuge Liang. Neither three-thousand nor even thirty-thousand cobblers could outwit him. When critical decisions are to be made, an individual of lofty vision and great strategies can outperform the collective decisions of tens of thousands of the mediocre.

Democracy leads to mediocrity and to dead ends. We can illustrate this point by the several ups and downs of Chairman Mao Zedong during early twentieth century Chinese history.

June 1929: In the 7th CPC National Congress of the Fourth Red Army held in Western Fujian, Mao Zedong was forced to leave his position of the Frontline Committee Secretary of the Fourth Red Army.

November 1931: In the Southern Jiangxi Meeting held in Yeping, Ruijin, Chairman Mao was mistakenly criticized by the party and was elbowed out of the Central Committee during the Soviet area.

October 1932: At the Ningdu Meeting, the Chairman was excluded aside again and even lost his post of Political Commissar of the First Red Army.

January 1934: During the "Second Congress of the Soviet Area", he was made a mere figurehead and removed from his position as Chairman of the Central People's Committee. The result of these demotions was the gradual shrinking of red bases and the revolution-ushered low tide, resulting in the failure of the fifth "Counter-Campaign against Encirclement and Suppression". The Red Army was forced to make a strategic shift to start the solemn and stirring move in the war history of mankind - The 25,000-li Long March. The central base personally created by Mao Zedong was destroyed overnight.

The whole universe is run in a unilateral manner under the "one" unique Greatest Creator. It is only when all LIFE in the universe follows the will of the Greatest Creator that the universe can run orderly and all LIFE can survive and live effectively. In any other way, the universe would collapse. If a cat or dog were not convinced, and cried out, "Oh, Greatest Creator! You have been too autocratic and domineering; the throne of the Greatest Creator should be shared in turns and the Greatest Creator should be chosen by democratic elections from the whole universe", then all would disappear. As it is with Lifechanyuan, if the guide were to be decided through a democratic election and if I were not elected as such, then Lifechanyuan would inevitably dissolve, and if that were to happen, the hopes and dreams of all the Chanyuan Celestials would become impossible to achieve.

Napoleon famously said, "Nothing is more difficult, and therefore more precious, than to be able to decide." It is only when the chief-commander makes the decisions that they can be effective and orderly.

"The Sage embraces the One and becomes the model of the world." The Greatest Creator is the One in the universe. The state leader is the One in the government. The boss is the One in a company. The conductor is the One in an orchestra. This is the "model of the world" and sages must comply with the it.

Whoever creates a business should be the boss with all big and small decisions being made by or delegated by that boss.

Question: What types of people want democracy?

Answer: Eight of those types are described here:

1. Irresponsible People
2. People with Mediocre Minds
3. People who Scramble for Power
4. People who Do Things Stealthily
5. People who are Selfish
6. People who Shift Responsibilities
7. People Without Definite Views of their own
8. Profiteers from others' labor Without Sacrificing.

All matters, big and small, must be managed by responsible individuals. They should be the ones to make decisions within the scope of their responsibilities. There should be no arguments, debates, discussions, or consensuses. Whenever two or more people jointly control anything, the result becomes a resource consuming process with low efficiency and mutual finger-pointing with no one ultimately being held responsible.

No matter how democratic a flock of sheep is, it can never resist a wolf; no matter how democratic a group of people with mediocre wisdom is, it can never match the vision and insight of a saint.

The Lifechanyuan Era does not practice democracy, but "each one has their duty and accountability". "Like the Eight Immortals crossing the sea, each one shows his or her special prowess." Each undertaking is in the hands of one responsible person. Others should cooperate fully and follow the exact requirements of the one in charge strictly and meticulously.

If a leader cannot control their rule, but decides every affair through compromises and consolidations, then they are not being responsible and are incapable of assuming their responsibility. They are consuming and wasting everyone's time and energy as well as their natural and human resources.

Democracy always leads to mediocrity and the wise should guard against that, but what should we do when a leader is self-willed, domineers their power, and exercises tyranny?

I do not know; what do you think?

3. The most selfish are those who live for others

Xuefeng

July 3, 2010

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

The world always sings praises for those who live for others; therefore, the world is full of lies and deceit. Those who claim to live for others are selfish and hypocritical; they are "criminals".

Everything and every life must maintain its individual character. This was the intention of the Greatest Creator when all was created.

It is wrong for the peach tree to live for the grapevine instead of producing peaches, as not only does it lose its value as a peach tree, but it also interferes rudely with the nature and freedom of the grapevine.

To be a human, one should first cherish themselves and promote their own nature and personality. If not, they disobey the will of the Greatest Creator. Every molecule must maintain its structure; it must be selfish or the universe will regress to its random state. Every life must struggle to maintain itself or they would go extinct. Every person must ensure their own survival first or the devil wins!

It is a fact that very few people live completely for others, but for themselves by nature. Anyone who claims to live for others is lying and is concealing their true, selfish nature.

Is there an emperor who lives for the people within his jurisdiction? No, none!

Is there a parent who lives for their children? No, none!

Did Christ Jesus and the Buddha Sakyamuni live for others? No, not at all!

As the guide of Lifechanyuan, I keep myself busy with the creation of the Lifechanyuan era. Do I do it for others? Not at all, I do this for my own achievement. As long as the reason for living is spelled out for everyone, we find that people live for themselves.

What kind of people claim to live for others? Those who are false, crafty, incompetent, and without a sense of independence. Those who are selfish and deceitful want to impose their will on others and those who are good at lying intend to control and disrespect others. Those who put their own faults and blame on others want to use and abuse others and they prefer to interfere with others' lives. Those are the kind of people who claim they live for others. Let everyone live for themselves and let everyone live upon themselves according to their own nature. In such a situation, the stars will shine brilliantly, the flowers will blossom lively, and the world will be prosperous, diverse, and splendid.

Why do I say those are “criminals” who claimed that they live for others?

Firstly, they burden the spirits and souls of others because people would feel a great deal of gratitude and a need to serve them, perhaps all their lives. Secondly, they rudely interfere with the nature and freedom of others and make them feel guilt and shame, so it becomes impossible for their natures to bloom. Thirdly, they disturb the program running with Tao, create social disorder, and make lies and deception popular.

It is only when everyone is responsible for themselves that they live well by themselves within their own natures and by their own styles that society will be orderly, peaceful, and warm. Only those who can stand responsibility on their own can be responsible for others and only those who are living for themselves will respect others, be considerate of others, and understand others. Only those who live well by themselves will bring pleasure, joy, freedom, and happiness to others.

If you do not know who you are, if you are an imperfect person filled with jealousy, ego, resentment, complaints, anger, and aggression, then what can you possibly bring to others? How can you live for others? If you are unable to even deal with your own issues of life and are unable to smooth away your own trouble and pain, then what can you do for others and how can you live for others?

Xuefeng advocates for everyone to be responsible for themselves first, live for themselves first, consider themselves first, live well by themselves first, and not to consider the feelings of others or lose yourself for them. Would it lead to a social disorder? Facts speak louder than words!

In the second home life pattern founded by Lifechanyuan, nearly one hundred people live together and everyone lives according to the above standard, “Do not bother with others or regard other people’s business” and “I will not help unless help is asked for”. We just consider ourselves first. How has this practice gone on for more than nine years? Everything is in order, everyone is happy and free, and we are living in a peaceful and sociable paradise. People who want to confer benefit on society should live for themselves first and people who want to commit sin should live for others!

4. Knowledge Is Not Power

Xuefeng

October 11, 2017

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Knowledge is a combination of the experience and cognition accumulated by our social and productive practical activities. One can possess a wealth of knowledge, which means that they possess the “foundation” to gain power, but no matter how much knowledge they have, it does not mean that they will ever have power. It is like a library which has abundant knowledge but no power. From the point of storing knowledge, a person’s brain is only like a library.

“Knowledge is power”, is from “Meditation”, written by the seventeenth century British philosopher, Francis Bacon, which teachers delight in using to arouse students' learning interest at school. As a result, students blindly believe that as long as they learn their lessons well which are set by schools, and as long as they grasp that knowledge, they will have the power to achieve their own pursuits and ideals after they graduate.

Knowledge comes mainly from our sense organs. However, in the view of the Greek Philosopher Protagoras, "Human is the measure of everything". This was refuted by Francis Bacon who wrote that "It is a great mistake to conclude that our limited sense organs measure all things". In other words, it is wrong to judge and measure all things and all forms from the limited knowledge that our sense organs can provide.

Consider a scenario in which a sexy young girl with a middle school diploma is standing next to a more mature, older lady with a Doctorate degree and both are in front of an interviewer. Which one is more likely to arouse the man's rich imagination, alter his mood, and motivate his intense vitality? If it is the young girl, that is because knowledge is not true power since even beauty can have more power.

It is reckless and dangerous to believe that "Knowledge is power". Not only is it a cognitive misconception, but also a thinking one. For example, to accept that "When a son is grown, he takes a wife, and when a girl is mature, she finds a husband" as a life knowledge is bound to bring anguish and suffering throughout their whole lives. This knowledge has led people to make such common mistakes for thousands of years, but which accomplish no good.

Some more are:

"There are three forms of unfilial conduct but the worst is to have no descendants."

"Filial piety is the most important of all virtues."

"Lewdness is the worst of all sins."

"He who does not endure hardship cannot stand up to others."

Another example is how education and guidance are passed from parents to their children. Can a parent's knowledge conduct and educate their children with both a full range of healthy spirits, minds, and bodies, as well as the ability to lead their own independent lives? Most fall very short.

When great changes take place in objective knowledge but we stubbornly insist on applying our traditional knowledge, we will certainly be rebuffed. Look at various religious dogmas and concepts. As they feel a loss of power, they become reactionary, resist social development, and impede natural human liberation.

In fact, prejudices and fallacy are knowledge. What are the benefits of such knowledge? None!

Our most powerful intellectual force is the power of flexible and tactful thinking.

I believe firmly that Albert Einstein's power came not from his knowledge, but from his thinking; "How would I perceive the universe if I were riding on a beam of light?". Those who read more and get more diplomas and more experience but form rigid ways of thinking have rarely been found to wield much power.

Lasting power comes from neither knowledge nor from powerful economic strength and national defense forces, but from sincerity, kindness, virtue, love, faith, and honesty.

Sincere deeds have power, kind behavior has power, things of virtue have power, love is a powerful force, honest quality has power, people who keep their words and their faith have power.

Conclusion: knowledge must be learned and accumulated, but knowledge has limitation, danger, and can be reactionary. Never believe blindly that having knowledge is synonymous with having power.

Rather than spending your precious time on chasing knowledge, you would be well advised to concentrate your efforts on sincerity, kindness, virtue, love, faith, and honesty, for those are the people who will enjoy lasting power. Meanwhile, take pains to develop your way of thinking by never spending time and effort reciting your former knowledge or stubbornly judging and adapting to a changing, living reality with dead, prejudicial knowledge.

5. Thinking is a Magical Power

Xuefeng

August 16, 2005

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Sun Wukong was pressed for more than five hundred years at the foot of the Five-element Mountain, but after the Tang Priest took the post away from the top of the mountain with "OM MANI PADME HUM", he was able to break out. It seemed that the weight of the post was more than that of the Five-element Mountain, so what was the post and how did it have such great power? Some people cannot be crushed by great hardships or difficulties, but when their hopes are dashed, they will collapse easily. Some people who are unaware that they have a horrible disease can live happy lives every day, but once they find out the truth, they become paralyzed from the knowledge.

There was a young boy in my village of about eleven or twelve years and every time he crossed a bridge on his way home from school, he would scream with a pale face, even in the daytime. We eventually discovered that the reason for this behavior was that he had overheard some adults in the village talking about ghosts without heads residing under all small bridges. People's casual words controlled his thinking like a spell.

The above are extreme examples. In fact, our thinking is more or less confined by some incantations. Consider the eight kinds of suffering described in Buddhism:

1. Birth
2. Aging
3. Illness
4. Death
5. Encountering enmity and hatred
6. Separation from a loved one
7. Inability to attain what is pursued
8. the Five Aggregates

These all result from our conventional thinking, but none would exist if we would embrace unconventional thinking.

All laws, regulations, concepts, ethics and behavioral rules, authoritative theories and sermons, religious regulations and rituals, scientific theories and methods, and exemplary models and habits are magical powers that constrain our thinking. These magical powers benefit the maintenance of social stability greatly, but they also bind our minds and ordinary people can never be freed from them any more than fish can be freed from water.

What are magical powers? They are informational waves that restrain people's thinking. When their energy is greater than the energy of our own conscious informational waves, then we are controlled by them. Thinking is a magical power; thinking of god, Buddha, great people, and great scientists are all magical powers which ordinary people can do nothing about unless their wisdom and thinking abilities exceed them. Thinking seems to be invisible, traceless, and illusory, but it can actually change the developmental directions and forms of objects, transform the intangible into the tangible and the tangible into the intangible, and interfere with a person's conventional thinking.

6. Special Relationships Between People Will Ruin their Lives

Xuefeng

March 15, 2019

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

How many times have we watched quietly the sunrises and sunsets in our lives and how many times have we listened to the sounds of wind and insects while standing in a courtyard on an evening with a full moon? How many times have we observed carefully the sprouting of grass and the blooming of willows? When distant mountains are hazy and the green hills are dark, when water is gurgling and blue waves are rippling, when wild ducks flutter and mandarin ducks play in the water, when light rain drizzles or heavy rain beats the plantains, have we ever melted our bodies and souls into nature and felt an unforgettable experience and taste of oneness with nature, oneness with all things, and everlasting, eternal joy?

Where has our time gone? What on earth are we doing in this world? Were it not for the deep experience of the meaning of life, then what are we hurrying for all our lives?

- "When flowers fall and beauty becomes old, death separates them forever"
- "The palaces of Qin and Han are now but grazing land for cattle and sheep"
- "Who cares for the cold and lonely west wind? Yellow leaves rustle down by my closed windows facing the sunset; I am lost in memories"
- "Do you not see the mirrors bright in chambers high, grieving over your snow white hair that once was silk-black?"
- "How much worry can you have? Just like a river of spring water flowing eastward!"

Why are we busy all day? Who are we busy for? Are we not "colonizing a snail's horn, competing for a flash in time"?

- Is it not that "Down in the plain and up on the mountain, all of nature's boundless glory is their prey, but when they have sipped from a hundred flowers and made honey, for whom is this toil, for whom is this nectar"?
- Is it not that "My clothes hang loosely on my emaciated body, but regrets I have none; it is because of her"?
- Is it not that "The young know nothing of woe, to write verse, they feign a throe"?
- "Broken walls where foxes sleep, deserted platforms where rabbits walk, all were places of singing and dancing in those days; yellow flowers covered with cold dew, withering grasses looming in mist, all belong to the battlefields of the old times".

When we are old and weak, looking back on the past, will there be regrets? Who took away our teenage time? Who killed our youth? Who made our middle age toil around? Who made us full of sorrow after the age of sixty?

The answer is that it was those with whom we had special relationships; they were our parents, children, grandchildren, husbands, wives, friends, lovers, brothers, sisters, buddies, and the rest, whoever made us worry about, think about day and night, hard to sleep, hate but could not rid ourselves of, and so on; all the people who have had special relationships with us. It is they who have made our lives miserable and distressed, who made us restless and fighting day and night, who forced us to remain on our guard day and night and tremble in fear, who forced us to break the law, take risks, and made us unable to eat or sleep.

Think carefully: if you would not worry about anyone, if no one in the world would make you worry about them, if you lived on an uninhabited island with plenty of food, and if no one cared whether you lived or died, would you still live this way?

Have you ever heard of a punishment method called “the implication of nine generations of families”? A young child or a servant woman to a family would be killed because the boy’s father or the woman’s master made a mistake. Why? Because this child had a special relationship with his father or this servant had a special relationship with her master; that is the reason that they would be killed.

Have you heard of “landslide-style corruption”? A provincial governor was arrested and everyone who had a special relationship with and was implicated with them was also imprisoned. Have you heard the story of the man who traveled all the way to Australia to kill a woman? Why did he do that? Because she and he had a special relationship.

Once you have a special relationship with someone, their food, clothing, shelter, transportation, life, aging, illness, death, love and hate, frustration and adversity, violations of the law and nightmares, sighs and groans, and pains and itching will all be closely related to you and involve your mood and state of mind to affect your future.

Why do people yearn for life in heaven? Because in heaven, there are no special relationships between people. People in the Thousand-year World never know who their fathers are and after spending a few years with their mother, they never see them again. There are no relationships between brothers and sisters, no need to make friends, and no need or possibility to form relationships. People in the Ten-thousand-year World have no biological parents. On the Celestial Islands Continent, no special relationships exist between any two individuals.

People are keen to build relationships, develop connections, forge friendships, bond with lovers, and form buddies, but in my opinion, they are looking for trouble, pain, anxiety, and sorrow. In a word, they are looking for death; the death of Life in the kingdom of heaven! That is to say that once a person begins to form special relationships with others in their consciousnesses and actions, whether they are of emotions or interests, the person will gradually drift away from heaven.

Then, is there any way or mechanism to make everyone live happily and beautifully without having special relationships? Yes; were this not so, I would not dare to say this, but “I am also afraid of being scolded by people”!

7. Origin of the Universe

Xuefeng

1. Introduction

Before many chemical elements were found, most of the chemists didn't know how many chemical elements are there on the Earth and their relationship. Dmitri Mendeleev had already made the famous Periodic Table of the Chemical Element, calculated the atomic quantity of elements and showed us the relationship between them. The elements discovered later were all included in his Table.

The case has demonstrated everything in the Universe has the order and laws. Some people say the Universe is lawless and disorderly because they haven't found the laws and order.

2. Origin of the Universe

All things within the time scope, including the celestial bodies and Universe, have their origin, the birth time and process of development. The beginning and ending time of the Universe, just as the  $\pi$  and golden ratio, is mysterious and can't be reached by our wisdom. Compared with the wisdom of the Greatest Creator, our wisdom is just like a drop in the sea. I would like to share my knowledge of the beginning of the Universe gained while my mind was in peace.

When I am seeking what things in the Universe are eternal, when I am thinking about the resurrection in the Bible, when I am meditating the "The life is like a dream and all the four elements (earth, water, fire and air of which the world is made) are void" in the Buddhist scripture, when I am trying to figure out the source of Tao in the Tao Te Ching, when I ask myself why I would go to the Mortal World, why we exist and where we are going, I have known the beginning process of the Universe. However, when I am delighted to think I have found the mystery of the Universe, I suddenly realize that this mystery of the Universe beginning was explained by the humans (the ancestors of dragon nation) 6,000 years ago. It is like a Mt. Everest climber, after reaching the peak after multiple difficulties, finds someone else has left his footprint on it. Thus, I am not bold enough to claim myself as the first one knowing the Universe beginning. I only wish to add some details based on the wisdom of the past talents.

The River Diagram, The Book of Changes and the Yellow Emperor's Book of Internal Medicine have told us the process of the Universe beginning is: Wuji generates Taiji, Taiji generates two polarities, the two polarities produce the four directions, the four directions create the eight

1). Before the existing of the universe, it was Wuji

What is the state of Wuji?

Wuji is the state of neither in nor out, neither big nor small, neither bound nor edge, neither null nor true, neither time nor space, neither material nor spirit. It is clear, chaos, everything and nothing.

The detailed explanation of the state can't be completed even in a book containing 1 million words. I just want to stick to one point. According to the estimation of the paleontologists, the Earth was born about 4.5 billion years ago. Then where was the Earth before it was born? We can only conclude that it was in Wuji before it was born, just like the human beings. We were also in Wuji before we were born. Because the whole Universe was in Wuji before it was born, Wuji contains everything. But where is Wuji? A thing without time, space, material, spirit, inside, outside, large size, small size, border, edge, firmness or emptiness can only be described by the word "shapeless and visionary". However, Wuji doesn't mean it contains nothing. Instead, it contains everything. It has nothing and everything at the same time. That's why The Diamond Sutra was profound and difficult to understand. For example:

"If Tathagata explains the laws, don't believe it. The laws can't be explained. If explained, they are not the laws or not the lawless."

"The Buddhism is no Buddhism."

"The name of Anagami is Bulai. But actually, Bulai doesn't exist. So Anagami is called Anagami."

"The solemn Buddhist is not solemn. It is called the Solemn."

"Tathagata says the world is not the world. So it is called the world."

"I should eliminate all life. After doing that, I found no life has been eliminated."

And so on.

If we don't know the origin of the Universe, it is very difficult for us to understand the above "Buddha words". If we can fully understand the above "Non-Buddha words", we will know the origin of the Universe.

Before everything was born, they were in Wuji. So Wuji means everything.

We wish to take an example from the mythical novel Journey to the West to imagine the space in Wuji.

Monk Tang and his apprentices entered the disguised monastery. The Monkey King was trapped in the gold cymbal by the demon head. So how big or how small was this gold cymbal? No matter how high or how low the Monkey King could transform himself, the cymbal could change too following him. The Wuji space before the Universe was born was in the state as the cymbal. It was extremely large and extremely small.

The space described in Einstein's General Theory of Relativity just refers to the space above mentioned. The size of the space is not decided by the energy. However, it is decided by the existence of matters. The more matters are transformed from the energy, the larger the space will be and vice versa. If there is no matter, there will no space. It's the same as the relationship between the Monkey King and the gold cymbal. The space in the cymbal is decided by the size of the Monkey King transforms himself. The traditional science believes that space is like a box and the material is a particle in the box. When the particle disappears, space is still there. Nevertheless, space is not like that. When the particle is not there, space will disappear. Space is determined by the distribution of particles. Space will twist, swell, contract or even disappear as the material and its energy change the size.

How to understand the time in Wuji?

Time is generated by the movement of objects. There is no time without motion.

For example, a man is 40 years old because the cells in his body are splitting, moving and dying. If the cells were not moving or splitting, he would not have lived till 40. A piece of fresh meat will rot in a few days if placed open to the air in hot weather. However, if we put the meat in the fridge, it will not rot in months. Why? The meat in the fridge has slow even halting cell movement. When the cell movement slows down, the time of the meat is lengthened. And when the cell movement stops, the time of the meat disappears.

If a man is never born, does he still have time? If the Earth is not born, does the Earth have time? If the Universe is not born, does the Universe have time? No.

This is the time in Wuji.

The core of the quantum mechanics is the "uncertainty". Why? The time does not lapse evenly. The time is changing. So how can you obtain the "certainty"?

That's all about my explanation of Wuji.

2). Wuji Generates Taiji

What is the state of Taiji?

---

First, we have to know Taiji is generated from Wuji.

Wuji is nothing and everything. It is everything because the energy existence in it can produce the material world. It is nothing because the energy in it is not material. It is chaos without firmness or emptiness. It is like the sky. When the sky is clear, there is nothing in it. But when it is cloudy, we can see the clouds and lightings and hear the thunders. Then there is everything.

In Wuji, there is the intangible energy. The intangible energy (in contrast with the tangible energy) is moving irregularly. When the irregular movement, accidentally on a point, formed a specific order or symbol, the entire Wuji has formed a potential power arrow called the “tornado” centered on this point.

This potential power arrow, or “tornado”, is just called Taiji. (Please note that the tornado is simply a momentum with only potential power. It does not have kinetic energy because it is not rotating.)

This is how Taiji is generated from Wuji.

Taiji is in such a state: it is the one, amorphous, the unity without opposites, and an extremely large energy cluster (It is just like a locked reservoir containing billions of billions of Pacific)

The Taiji is just the Greatest Creator in common sense.

In Tao Te Ching, Lao Tzu said, “Chaos was born before there was the Earth and Heaven.” Before the Universe was born, “something” existed. This “something” is Taiji, the psychic energy of the Greatest Creator. Lao Tzu named this “something” as Tao because he confused the nature and psychic energy of the Greatest Creator.

After understanding what Wuji is, we can understand Buddha and Buddhism. After understanding Taiji, we can understand Tao and Taoism.

3). Taiji creates the Two Polarities

What are the two polarities?

It refers to the phenomenon of opposition.

For instance, in the state of Taiji, everything is the one and amorphous. But in the state of the “two polarities”, the intangible energy is shown up in a tangible form. The Sun, for example, is an energy cluster. It has been transformed from the intangible energy form in the state of Taiji into the tangible energy form. So the energy is classified into the tangible energy and intangible energy. “None” and “Existence” form the “two polarities”, namely, the unity of opposites.

The contents of the “two polarities” include: none and existence, firmness and emptiness, Yin and Yang, positive and negative, static and dynamic, left and right, up and down, exterior and interior, front and rear, high and low, noble and humble, hard and soft, big and small, strong and weak, dark and light, male and female, rich and poor, fortunate and unfortunate, gain and loss, merit and fault, more and less, life and death, true and false, good and evil, beauty and ugly, etc. They are the unities of opposites.

Everything in the Universe as we know is the demonstrations of the “two polarities”.

Then how are the “two polarities” were born out of the Taiji?

We have known that the irregular movement of energy in Wuji accidentally formed a certain order. All the energy, in a short while, formed overwhelmingly an intangible potential energy. If the potential energy is not given out, it will only remain latent like a “paper-made tiger”. However, when all energies gather at the central point, the energy center has changed its nature, just like the water will evaporate when heated to a certain degree. At this time, the energy center, or the nucleus, is no long a kind of energy. Instead, it has become a special structure surrounded by great energies. When this structure is complete, the Consciousness comes into being. It is just like a fertilized egg without Consciousness. When it keeps absorbing energy in its mother’s uterus and improves its structure, a conscious animal (human) will be born.

The gathering of mammoth energies has led to the alienation of the energy center, resulting in a structure. The constant improvement of the structure ended up with the emergence of the Consciousness, which is the symbol of life birth. The Consciousness gathering all energies then started the process of creating the Universe. And it is the Greatest Creator.

After the Greatest Creator is born, the energy in the Taiji began to move around the Greatest Creator’s Consciousness. We can also say that all energies move around the structure of the energy center. Just like a human body, when your consciousness tells you to urinate, the bladder door is open and the urine goes out. When you want to look at the sky, your head will be raised and your eyes opened automatically. When you want to have sexual intercourse, your penis is erected.

After the Greatest Creator is born, the “two polarities” come into being, the celestial bodies show up, the celestial movement begins, the unlimited space is born, the time starts and everything gets into the movement cycle of life and death.

4). The “Two Polarities” create the “Four Directions”

The “two polarities” have brought about the “four directions” . There is south, north, east and west. There is front, rear, left and right. There is life, growth, decline and death. There is quadrant 1, 2, 3 and 4 in the function image.

5). The “Four Directions” create the “Eight Trigrams”

Because there is south, north, east and west, there are now 8 directions including the east, southeast, south, southwest, west, northwest, north and northeast. The eight directions are called Qian, Dui, Li, Zhen, Xun, Kan, Gen and Kun respectively, forming the 8 trigrams. Each direction has its special meaning. Each direction has its different chance changes. Let’ s take a person as an example. If he remains healthy in the south, he might find it difficult to get accustomed to the north. If nothing goes smooth in the east, he may achieve success in the west and the ugly duckling might become the white swan. Even grass will have different growth model and blossoming timing in different directions and locations.

6). The Permutation and Combination of the 8 Trigrams (Qian, Dui, Li, Zhen, Xun, Kan, Gen, and Kun) Produce the 64 Trigrams

The 64 trigrams are corresponding to the 64 factors in the Universe. But as to the details of these 64 factors, because they are related to all the mysteries in the Universe and hidden to the common people, even the King Wen of Zhou in the Canonization of the Gods didn’ t know all of them. And the most achieved Taoists in China only knew a few of the factors. Sakyamuni masters half of them and Jesus only knows a few more than Sakyamuni does.

We often hear people say “No disclosure of the Heaven secrets” . The heaven secrets are just hidden in the 64 trigrams. The permutation and combination of the 64 trigrams have caused the birth and death of all things in the Universe. The things that you can’ t imagine are just the combination of 2 factors. The power of Jesus lies in his mastery of the formula of these factors.

The birth and death of all things, the limitless mysteries and all changes and movements in the Universe are hidden in the permutation and combination (formula) of these 64 trigrams. “No coming, no going, the time-space ends and origin shows up. ”

This is the brief process of the birth of the universe.

8. Overview of the Universe

Xuefeng

1. The Universe is the Order

The Universe exists as the order and remains relatively stable with the total energies reaching zero.

2. The Definition of the Universe

The space with the negative and positive energies reaching zero is called the Universe. Or the space with the balanced matter and antimatter is called the Universe.

3. The Shape and Structure of the Universe

The Universe is called the large Universe and small Universe. The borderless one is called the large Universe and the one with borders is called the small Universe. The large Universe is made up of numerous small Universes.

$\pi=3.141592653589\dots$  It is the symbol of the large Universe, which is limitless, no cycling, endless, vast and eternal.

The small Universe is the relatively secluded and independent galaxy space in the large Universe, like the swirls in the river. Each swirl is a relatively independent rotating space. It's also like the eggs in a henhouse in which each egg is an independent and secluded space.

The Earth we live on is in a small Universe. We might as well call this Universe the Earth Universe to distinguish it from the other small Universes.

The Earth Universe is a saucer-shaped Taiji oval with its edge covered by a layer of high-energy "clouds". The layer of high-energy "clouds" is the crust of the Earth Universe. At the same time, it functions like the stator of a motor. It is a rotating magnetic field, pushing the things on the Earth Universe to rotate counterclockwise.

The structure of the Earth Universe is an oval-shaped rotating object composed of Yin and Yang, the two meshing revolvers, just like the Taiji diagram of Taoism in China. The difference is that the Taiji diagram is a circle while the Earth Universe is a Taiji oval body. We call the Taiji Oval body the Law-rotary Galaxy, in which there are almost 3,000 rotary-river galaxies. Each rotary-river galaxy is a relatively independent rotating one. In each rotary-river galaxy there are almost 3,000 Milk Way systems with each containing almost 3,000 solar systems.

The rotating rate of each celestial body and galaxy seems to be constant. But the fact is that the rate is changing all the time. Each celestial body, when is on the short axis, the rotating speed reaches the maximum. The farther it is from the short axis, the slower it rotates. When reaching the two ends of the long axis, the celestial body will halt for a short time, on which moment all the physical life on the celestial body will die. The spiritual body of the dead life will enter the negative pole of the Taiji oval body, which is called one kalpa. After passing the long axis, the spiritual body will get out of the negative pole of the Taiji oval body and enter the positive pole in the form of the physical life. Because the celestial bodies and galaxies have different mass, they stay on the long axis for different periods of time. So they are in permutation and combination again. For example, the Earth, in the next cycle, might become a desert land like the Mars, which might be full of life like the Earth.

The spatial distance between celestial bodies and galaxies is also in constant change. The closer they are to the short axis, the more distance they will have. The Universe seems to be expanding. The closer it stays to the long axis, the less distance it will have. It seems that the Universe is shrinking.

At present, the Milk Way System is now floating towards the short axis.

The Earth Universe is classified into the Positive Universe and Negative Universe.

4. The Positive Universe

The physical world is the Positive Universe

All the matters, tangible, seeable, touchable, hearable, perceptible, and those that can be measured by the instruments belong to the scope of the Positive Universe. The dark matters and energies are also classified into the scope of Positive Universe.

For instance, the house, desk, plant, animal, human body, cloud, wind, thunder, lightning, sound, odor, molecule, atom, electron, ion, proton, neutron, nucleon, meson, hyperon, varitron, anti-particle, light ray, gravitation, magnetic force, infrared ray, ultraviolet ray, cathode ray, positive ray, ultrasonic wave, infrasonic wave, bio wave, the noise caused by the high and low frequency oscillation, diffusive substances emitted by the radioactive elements such as radium, uranium, plutonium and francium, and the universal gravitation all belong to the scope of the Positive Universe.

All things existing in the Universe in the form of elementary particles are matters.

The physical world is the world that can be explained and will be explained by the science.

The scope that can be explained by the science belongs to the scope of matters. The scope that can't be explained by the science belongs to the "superstitious" scope not accepted by the people.

When science tries to explain the things beyond the material world, it is not science any more. Instead, it is called the anti-science or super-science.

All the religions and the superstitious things are the super science that stands against the science.

5. The negative Universe.

The nonmaterial world is the Negative Universe.

All the super matters, intangible, and others that can't be seen, heard, touched, measured, or felt but affect the material world all belong to the scope of the Negative World.

For instance, the universal repulsion, time, space, spirit, consciousness, thinking, soul (life soul) belongs to the non-materials. The belief, Tao, law, order, spell and Buddhism belong to the non-materials. The angel, God, ghost, Buddha, Devil and other amorphous life are the non-materials. The dream scene, origin of the spiritual feeling, the bridge of the telepathy, the passage of the thinking telepathy, the paradise, the hell, Allah, Ancestor of the Buddha, Yahweh and their residences, the Zero World, the Heaven World, the venue of the Gods, and the Elysium where the spiritual body goes to after the dies all belong to the scope of the Negative Universe.

"The fantasy is no fantasy, and the reality is no reality" and "The seeable is not usable, and the usable is not seeable" as believed by the Taoists belong to the scope of the Negative Universe.

All energies and energy groups that do not exist in the Universe in the form of elementary particles are the antimatters.

The Positive Universe can be explained by the science and is easy to be understood. The Negative Universe, till now, can only be felt by the people not very clearly. It can't be explained by the science and is difficult to understand.

The Negative Universe is the nonmaterial world. The Negative Universe is the origin of the matters. The material world is the reflection of the nonmaterial world and image of the Negative Universe. Everything in the material world is in constant movement and change. They have birth and death. On the contrary, everything in the Negative World exists in the relatively eternal state.

6. The Law of the Universe, the Unity of the Opposites

Everything in the Universe exists in unity of opposites, such as Yin and Yang, positive and negative, man and woman, male and female, front and rear, exterior and interior, high and low, up and down, firmness and emptiness, glory and shame, static and dynamic, noble and humble, weak and strong, rich and poor, merit and fault, fortunate and unfortunate, gain and loss, forward and backward, more and less, day and night, past and future, tangible and intangible, life and death. Each pair depends on each other. Without one, the opposite one will not exist.

The unity of the opposites is the presentation of the Universe nature. However, it is a major law of the Universe existence.

The negative is there because of the positive, and the universal repulsive force is there because of the universal gravitation. It is the same with the matter and antimatter, particle and non-anti-particle, photon and anti-photon, energy and negative energy, the left rotation and right rotation, and the Mortal World and the Fairy World.

You can find the black where you find the white and the male where you find the female. It is the same with the life and death, flesh and soul, paradise and hell, law and lawless, chaos and peace. When the whole society is seeking wealth, there must be some people seeking knowledge. When the whole society is at peace, some force must be preparing for the riot. When all the human beings face the disaster because they have violated the God's orders, the representatives sent by the God and Buddha will help them to wake up. The extremely dynamic will lead to the static, and vice versa.

7. The Movement of the Universe

The movement of the large Universe is initiated and operated by the structure in the Taiji energy cluster center. That is to say, it is initiated and operated by the Consciousness of the Greatest Creator. The small Universe, where the Earth lies in, is fueled by the hull of the Earth Universe, which is a rotating magnetic field belt.

In the Universe there are two groups of energies with the opposite nature, like the action and the reaction. They have the different power but reverse directions. So the total energy stands at zero.

These two groups of energies are the “Buddhist Power” maintaining the orderly operation, stability and balance of the Universe. If we add these two groups of energies, we will get zero. However, when either group is more powerful than the other, the Universe will disappear immediately.

For instance, the universal gravitation and the universal repulsive force have the same power and opposite movement directions. Because the total is zero, the Solar System, the Milk Way System, the Law-rotary system and Rotary-river System move in an orderly way. If there is only the universal gravitation without the universal repulsive force, all the celestial movement in the Universe will become the direct-line movement and join together in the ultra-light speed. So, the Universe will disappear immediately. If there is only the universal repulsive force without the universal gravitation, there will not be the rotations of the celestial bodies in the Universe. The Earth will not move around the Sun and all the celestial movement will become the direct-line movement. The celestial bodies will expand rapidly at the ultra-light speed. In the end, they will burn and die and the Universe will disappear, too.

In the human society, the science and “superstitious” are also two groups of energies with equal power and mutual repulsion with total zero energy. There is no science without the “superstitious” and vice versa. These two forces constrain each other and move forward together. The more developed the science is, the more active the “superstitious” activities will become, because the science will prove that the “superstitious” is not “superstitious” at all. Instead, it is the super science. On the other hand, the more powerful the “superstitious” is, the more developed the science will be, because the “superstitious” will expand the scope of the science.

The science and the “superstitious” is a unity of the opposites. The science finds it impossible to eliminate the “superstitious”, which also finds it impossible to eliminate the science.

The Positive Universe is laevorotation and the Negative Universe is dextrorotation.

8. The Point for Understanding the Universe

The correct understanding of the Universe will help us build the correct Universe concept, world concept and life concept. When we gradually know about the Negative Universe, there are fewer mysteries left behind for the world. We will know our past and future, Buddha, Buddhism, Tao and Taoism, Jesus, and the Greatest Creator. We can face the death and the life sufferings peacefully. In particular, when have made self-improvement and self-refinery to a certain degree, see the Thousand Year World, Ten-Thousand-year World and the Elysium World, we will long for them, just like those people live in the poor countries suddenly see what the developed countries are like in TV. We will know what we should do and will discover the value and mysteries in the Life Chanyuan.

You might think that the Ten-Thousand-year world hundreds of thousands of light years away is much too far away. But the distance is just one step. People living a few hundred years ago used to think that there was a long distance between the Cape of Good Hope and San Francisco of the States. But today we know it will only take us two days to get there. And instant reaching can be achieved via telephone or Internet. When we have dreams, the spiritual human body gets out of the flesh body and reaches his friends or relatives faraway in a short distant. Even, the spiritual body can follow the time axis to meet with the deceased friends or relatives. For the spiritual bodies, there is no distance of time and space. When we have developed into the spiritual bodies of the Celestial Beings, it is an easy task to travel through time-space.

The Universe is our home. The Earth is just a point in the home, a temporary “hotel” .

9. Time

1. The Meaning of Time

Xuefeng

The time is a recorder of the motion of matters.

Time rises from motion. There will be no time without the motion.

The time exists within all the moving matters and is spread in all the material Universe space.

The time is antimatters.

We can' t see, touch, listen, measure, catch, seize, store, borrow, or debit the time. Time is intangible. It can be described but not depicted.

The time only exists in the material world. There is no time in the nonmaterial world (the Negative Universe), just like the thunder and lightning only existing in the clouds. If the sky is clear, there will be no thunder or lightning.

The time is both positive and negative.

The future time is positive and the past time is negative.

The time is universal or specific. The universal feature applies to the whole while specific feature applies to the individual.

We pick up two mature pears from the tree, and place one in the open air and the other in the fridge. Five days later, the pear in the open air has rotten while the one in the fridge is still fresh. From the universal point of view of the time, these two pears both last 5 days, or 120 hours. But from the perspective of the specific feature of the time, 1 day for the pear in the open air is more than 24 hours while 1 day for the one in the fridge is less than 24 hours, or even 1 hour.

Time is variable.

In different spaces, time is different. The humans regulate that one rotation of the Earth is a day and one revolving of the Earth around the Sun is a year. One revolving of the Moon around the Earth is a month (lunar calendar). One day contains 24 hours and each hour has 60 minutes. The regulations have given convenience to the human activities and the whole world can work and rest regularly in the same time system.

The above calculation is made on the premise that the certain object on the Earth remains still. For the objects in motion, the time is a variable. For instance, you take a spaceship and fly to the east. According to the travelling speed of the spaceship, you will spend less than 24 hours a day. The faster the speed is, the less the time you spend. If the spaceship has the same speed as the Earth rotation, 1 day has 24 hours for you. If the spaceship flies to the west and exceeds the speed of the Earth rotation, the 1 day of yours is more than 24 hours. If the 1 day of yours has 240 hours, it has 2,400 hours for the people living on the Earth. If you maintain the movement state, you will not feel the existence of time. 50 years later when you come back to the Earth, you will find your friends in childhood have all become elderly while you are still a young man.

Different locations have different time. What we mean by New York time, Beijing time, London time, etc. account for the above statement.

Different zones also have different time. The tropical and the frigid zones have different time. If one person is frozen in the ice, he will have unlimited time. If one man stays in an extremely thermal environment, his time will be shortened. Meanwhile, the time on the sea and the time on the mountain are also different.

Different mass has different time. The greater the mass is, the longer life it will have, and vice versa. For the objects with the same size, the diamond has longer life than other stones, wood and clouds. For the objects with the same mass, the larger they are, the shorter time they will have.

The time of one-kilo meat is shorter than that of one-kilo stone. For the people with the same weight, the higher he is, the shorter time he will have. The time of the people living on the Earth is longer than that of “those” living on the Moon. For instance, a man who can live 80 years on the Earth can only live 30 years on the Moon.

Different Universe spaces have different time. The time on the Moon is different from that on the Earth. The time on the Earth is different from that in the Sun. The man who can live 100 years on the Earth can live 1,000 years in the Thousand Year World and 30,000 years in the Ten-Thousand-year World. The main reason is that the Earth, the Thousand Year World planet and the Ten-Thousand-year World Planet have different mass. The so-called “one day in the Heaven equals one year in the Mortal World” is because they are in different spaces.

The time can be expanded or compressed. The higher speed the objects have, the more compressed the time will be, and vice versa. For instance, two people start from the same line and walk towards the same goal. He who walks faster will reach the goal. His time has been compressed. The other one just walks slowly, stopping at times, picking up gravels on the ground, touching the grass, saying hell to the bird and bye-bye to the cloud, he will reach the goal later. His time has been expanded.

2 The Time of Life

Xuefeng

Because life is composed of matters (flesh body) and antimatters (spiritual body), the time has two meaning for the life, too. For the flesh body of the life, time is eternal. That is to say, the flesh body of the life will have the process of birth, growth, aging and death. No power can stop the process. The humans can't have the eternal time.

But the spiritual body of the life is antimatter, which is not limited or constrained by the time and can cycle in the limitless space.

For the flesh body, the time is vertical and composed of the past, present and the future.

For the spiritual body, the time is horizontal. From either point of the life, the spiritual body can enter the horizontal time, going beyond life and death and entering the eternal time-space.

In the virtual function image, X axis represents the time attributes in the scope of matters while Z axis stands for the time attributes in the scope of antimatters. X axis is vertical and the Z axis is horizontal. X axis only travels in the space of the past, present and future. And the Z axis can get out of the constraint of “the present” in a short time and enter another space.

So we can conclude that when a person dies, only his flesh body dies. The spiritual body of his life follows Z axis (at the time point of his death), entering another time-space and starting a new life in it.

3. The Surmounting of Time

Xuefeng

1) Perception and Surmounting

a. Perception

Time changes everything.

Time is the key factor to the deformation of objects. The mountain 1,000 years ago was different from what it is today. The river 100 years ago was not the same as it is like today. The person 10 years ago is different from what he is today. It is the same with the tree, flower, moth, cloud, meat, spark and thunder.

Without the movement, there is no time. If there is no orbiting of the Earth around the Sun, there is no such time as the “year”. If there is no Earth rotation, there is no such time as the “day”. If there is no revolving of the Moon around the Earth, there is no such time as the “month”. And there will not be “minute”, “hour”, or “second”. The time will be zero. So without movement, there will be no time. Without the time, everything will be eternal.

As far as the object relativity is concerned, when two objects have the same running speed, the time between them is zero. When the moon revolves around the Earth at the same speed with the Earth rotation, there will be no “month”. When the Earth revolves around the Sun at the same speed of the light speed, the time in the universal meaning will disappear. Or we say the time in the narrow definition stops while the time in the broad definition still exists and affects the life on the Earth.

As far as the objects themselves are concerned, the faster they move, the quicker the time runs and the shorter life they have, and vice versa. For instance, there are 2 cars, A and B. Car A drives at 120 km per hour and Car B at 60 km. Contrasted with other objects, these two cars all run 1 hour. But for Car A, the time is two times more than Car B. If Car B is scrapped in 10 years' time, Car A will be scrapped in 5 years. For humans (excluding other factors and we only focus on the impact of speed on human life), the people who do things slowly and orderly will live longer than those always living in a hurry and with efficiency. The late-maturing kids will have longer life than the early-mature kids. The shepherds live longer than the athletes. The nuns live longer than the prostitutes. And Taoists live longer than the worldly people.

Time changes everything. And everything exists in the specific time. To attain eternal existence for an object, we must make the time eternal where it exists.

Time determines everything.

In the scope of time, everything is empty and illusion. You work hard persistently, but what are you creating? As a matter of fact, you are pursuing the illusion. Does the Roman Empire still exist now? Who can remember the name of your grand grandfather? Some people might think that your merits will be written in the history and your name will be admired by generations of people. But the fact is that the Earth will one day perish when it moves to the long axis of the Earth Universe. Or several hundred years later, the human society will have fundamental changes and your merits will turn to dust and ashes. Who will mourn you every day? Please stop the narcissism and self-cheating.

The positive time ages the objects while the negative time returns the objects from old age to the young age. Looking into the future, we will become older. Looking back to the past, we become younger. Follow the time, we become mortal. Reversing the time, we become the celestial beings.

For the material world, the time is eternal. For the human beings, the time is short because we are not able to gain the eternal existence in the material world. The short life, for us, is valuable. We are wasting our time if we focus on seeking the material benefits instead of on seeking the surmounting of time in the limited life.

Though the life is short, we must learn how to use our time. If we don't know the mysteries of the Universe and the essence of life, our life will be bitter, misery and unhappy even if we live 1,000 years.

b. Surmounting

The Movement of Polarities

On the one hand, the time only exists in the material world. Time generates from the motion of matter. There will be no time without the motion of matter. The food and vegetables stored in the fridge can be kept long because their motion has been greatly reduced. If a car drives 10,000 km a year it will be scrapped 30 years later. However, if it drives 30,000 km a year, it will be scrapped in one year. If a man works hard day and night, ponders day and night, seeks the immediate interest, desires for things eagerly, and finds it difficult to control his temper, he will have shorter life. If he has peaceful mind and peaceful life, he will have longer life, thus surmounting the time.

On the other hand, because the nonmaterial world has no time, we will make full use of the antimatter energy to break through the limit and constraint of the time. The spirit, consciousness, thinking, belief and soul of human beings are all the antimatters. If we live in the world of these antimatters, time will have no impact on us and we can surmount it.

The spirit, consciousness, thinking, belief and soul of humans are connected with the whole Negative Universe (the nonmaterial world). “The achievement will be made by your thinking” (by Xue Binyi), “The art of application lies in the heart” (by Taoists), “Tao abides in non-action, Yet nothing is left undone” (by Lao Tzu), “Mind rises from no certain things.” (by Sakyamuni), “The richness lies in the heart rather than the worldly belongs.” (by Mohammed), “Your heart is where your treasures are.” (Jesus). We will go where our heart is. Only by understanding the meaning of the above words, we can surmount the time and reach eternity.

2). Go Against the Time

What is going against the time? We see the time as a train and we are sitting on the train. The train move forward and we run backward. When our speed is the same as that of the train, the time halts or we stop the aging. If we run backward faster than the train, we have entered the negative time and can become younger. The speed we talk about is not the speed in the material world. If understand it with the speed of the material world, we can never run faster than the time.

Going against the time is just boating upstream. For the common people, it is difficult because people live in the material world and their tongue, mouth, eyes and nose are manipulated by the materials. In particular, they are heavily constrained by the worldly society, such as the money, fame, beauty, power, the burden of sustaining the elderly and the family, and the daily affairs. And going against the time violates the natural laws, which is an almost impossible task for the common people. They don't understand it and have no time to practice it. If doing improperly, they will suffer from heavy losses, unable to handle their daily affairs or attain the younger age.

Going against the time is a reverse approach of thinking of senior level. It is quite suitable for the self-improving people in the Buddha and Tao temples. Considering the acceptance of the worldly society, I will not explain it in details. If we are destined to meet, I will explain it to you face to face.

Time is impartial to everything in the Universe. Hope Allah, ancestor of Buddha, Yahweh and the Greatest Creator will bless you so that you can surmount the time.

The movement of polarities and going against the time are to lengthen the life so that you have enough time to refine and improve yourself, change the life track and develop your life into the structure in the higher level. When the flesh body dies, the spiritual body of our life and enter a completely new world along the Z axis and through the time-space.

10. Space

1. Introduction

Xuefeng

Till now, humans are familiar with only one side of the space; namely, they only know the space of the material world and don't understand the space in the nonmaterial world. We falsely believe that only the environment on the Earth is suitable for human living. And after landing on the Moon and taking photos of the Mars, we are, after short-time excitement, sad to feel that the neighbors of the Earth are not suitable for human living and it is an impossible task to reach the more distant planets.

Tragedies happen frequently due to our knowledge shortage of the Negative Universe. Our confusion about the future has limited our vision within the present time and current life. All of life we live in hurry, worry and tension, neglecting the life value and meaning and mess our life which should have been beautiful.

The science and technology has been developing rapidly, such as the virtual space of Internet, nanometer technology, cloning, genetic code and decoding, Harper telescopic photos of the outer space, and applications of atomic and ionic energy. The development should have stimulated the human thinking and led us to know the antimatters, negative space, the life meaning and the establishment of a brand-new value system, giving us a better, easier and more enlightened life.

Nevertheless, the achievements in science and technology have strengthened the people's consciousness of material existence, hindered us from probing into the Negative Universe, made the people busier, more nervous and worried; the relationship between humans and the society is closer, the relationship between humans themselves are more intensified; the human freedom is much reduced; people are kept farther away from their natural attributes and closer to the robotic features.

The human beings are now on an accelerating train without brakes. Even those old farmers living in the most distant areas have to take the express train whether they are willing or not. The driving force of the train comes from the human beings but the bio-robots will drive and manage the train, mechanizing all the people on it.

We find it difficult to understand the Negative Space and think it belongs to the unreliable metaphysics. In fact, when our wisdom is upgraded to a certain "degree", we can "see" it. The human eyes can only see the light rays ranging between 400 nm and 700 nm length, and human ears can only hear the sound ranging between 20 and 20,000 Hz. Frequency. There is no water in the middle of the sea swirls. The center of the hurricane is at great peace. So we can't conclude those we can't see do not exist, or those we can't hear are silent. Everyone has dreams. Are you really there in your own dream? If not, why do you have consciousness in the strange dream environment with desires and emotions? If yes, then who is the guy lying on the bed? So the sleeping person on the bed and the moving person in the dream are all "you". The only difference is that you are in different spaces. The space in the dream is the Negative Space.

There are many negative spaces in the Universe and dream space is only one of them.

We need to understand the concept of space by using the ideas of Sakyamuni and Einstein's theory of relativity. Sakyamuni said, "In a tiny dust, there are many limitless Chahai (worlds). In the worlds, there are dusts too. And in these dusts, there are also many worlds and the process repeats." Chahai represents the world and the tiny dust stands for the Universe. For instance, 1 nanometer, compared with a grain of sand, is just a tiny dust. Compared with the Earth, a grain of sand is a tiny dust. Compared with the Milk Way System, the Earth is a tiny dust. Compared with the Earth Universe, the Milk Way System is a tiny dust. With the large Universe, the Earth Universe is a tiny dust. Einstein once said, "...relativity space is endowed with physical qualities; in this sense, therefore, there exists an ether." The non-materials are the contrast of the materials. The Negative Space is the opposite of the space. The celestial beings are the contrast of the human beings. The intangible life is the opposite of the tangible life.

A leaf, a water drop, and a sand grain are all a mammoth world. A silicon chip of 1 square mm can store all the books in a large library. An electrical pulse of a frequency can carry numerous things. A human body includes 130 trillion lives. A sand grain can hold thousands of villages.

For a life body that can only be seen under an electron microscope, humans are the giants. For a human being, the Earth as a living life body is a titanic giant. However, when the time-space changes, 100 million people can live on a grain of sand and will not feel crowded. In different spaces, the life has their distinctive living conditions and food system. We can never understand the living conditions and food systems of the people living in another time-space based on our own. At the same time, we cannot regard those living in another time-space have the same height or weight as we do.

You might think I am just talking about nonsense when I tell you that you can live on the planet several million light years away. That's because you don't understand the Negative Universe Speed. So what is the Negative Universe Speed? It is the moving speed of the antimatters. For example, a person working at the Antarctic Work Station misses his hometown very much. His thinking can immediately go to his hometown. Though his body is still in the Antarctic, his thinking and consciousness is in the hometown. This is the Negative Universe Speed. For the sake of understanding, I assume the Negative Universe Speed at 1 light year per second (the actual speed is faster than that). When we enter the space tunnel, we "go" at the Negative Universe Speed.

2. The Meaning of the Space

The locations where the matters and antimatters are and their movement scope are called the space.

The space is decided by the material existence and distribution. The Negative Space is determined by the non-material existence and distribution. There will be no space without the materials. And there will be no Negative Space without the non-materials.

The space includes absolute and relative spaces. The absolute space refers to the space that can expand unlimitedly. The relative space refers to the space between an object and the surrounding objects. The spaces are everywhere all the time. There is space between the galaxies and between the atoms.

The space also includes the negative and positive spaces. The space where the materials exist is called the positive space. The space where the non-materials exist is called the negative space. The human bodies exist in the positive space while the spiritual bodies exist in the negative space.

The positive space twists, swells, contracts or disappears with the size of the objects' mass energy and forms. It is a relatively stable space.

The negative space changes abruptly and has limitless changes in a short while.

The space can change the forms and movement laws of objects.

The different spaces decide the different movement laws and forms of the objects. For instance, the figure of the people living in the frigid zones is different from that of those living the tropical environment. The urban people have different looks from those living in the rural areas, the fisherman and the shepherds. The growth model, blossoming and fruiting timing of the grass in the deserts are different from those living the forest or highlands. The monkeys in the scenic areas have different capability of survival from those living in the forests. The men who get along with women for a long time have different tempers and personality with those staying longer with the other men. The mentality and behavior between businessmen and priests are different. The people working in the temples have different thinking from those working for the government.

The space change can arouse the people' s change in physical function, thinking ways and mentality.

The disease contracted in the cold and moist regions will get cured automatically in the warm and dry zones. The disease contracted in cities will get cured in the rural areas. The people having average performance will achieve great success when transferred to another place. The low-rank government official might make a great deal of money if doing business.

The space change often leads to the change of situations. If one wants to change his life, he has to change the activity space. Otherwise he will die without any change or progress.

The space is changing. It can be expanded, compressed, or twisted.

When the mass of one object is equal to that of another object, the space between them is in linear arrangement. When they are not equal, the space between them will be expanded, compressed, twisted and arranged in the form of an umbrella or rotation. When the mass of an object (we can call it the energy) is bigger than the total of the surrounding objects' mass (energy), the space between them is the linear stable space and the object is the mass center of the space. For the small-mass objects, the space distance between the small-mass objects and this big-quality (high-energy) object is expanded. However, for the high-energy object, the space distance has been compressed.

Contrary to the Negative Space, the big-mass object, the space between the big-mass object and the small-mass objects has been expanded. For the small-mass objects has been compressed. So for the genuine Christians followers, Yahweh and Jesus just stay beside them, influencing their words and behaviors at all times. For Yahweh and Jesus, the Christians are staying distantly and the non-Christians even farther. The Muslims and Allah Mohammed, the Buddhists and Sakyamuni, the Taoists and Original Heaven Lord and Lao Tzu have the same space relationship.

“A bosom friend afar brings a distant land near” . The space distance of thousands of km has been compressed into the wall-like distance. This is for the low-energy people only. For the high-energy people, even if you are standing in front of him, he feels you are far away at the other end of the world. This is why the people with the highest energy feel the loneliest. Even if they are standing in a chaotic market, they feel isolated and mournful.

36 Dimensional Spaces

According to the level of the life mass energy of matters and antimatters, there are 36 dimensions in the spaces. They are: Colorless Space, Double Color Space, Mortal World, Cause-effect Space, Between Yin and Yang Space, Human-Celestial Being Space, Proton Space, Photon Space, Light Speed Circle, Super Light Space Circle, Molecule World, Micro World, Law World, Retention Information Space, Super Time Space, Macro World, Time Tunnel, Holographic Order World, Zero World, Heaven World, Elysium World, Cathode Black Hole Body, Ten Thousand Year World, Thousand Year World, Dream World, Anode Black Hole World, Livestock World, Animal World, Plant World, Insect World, Bacteria World, Landscape and Climate World, Hell World, Frozen Layer and Inflamed World.

1-dimensional Space - Colorless Space

It is a space where we can't see the size, form or color of the objects. Living in this space, we are just like the blind. The polar nights or the polar rights belong to the Colorless Space. The Taiji space before the Universe is born is a 1-dimensional space. For the humans, the nonmaterial world is a 1-dimensional space. All the antimatters are 1-dimensional in nature. That's why we can't see the consciousness, thinking, soul, Buddha, celestial being, Tao, law, Heaven World, Elysium World, Dream World, Hell World, Frozen Layer or Inflamed Layer. From the perspective of the 1-dimensional space of the antimatters, all of us human beings are the blind people. We can't see things in the space just like the blind people who can't see the beautiful flowers and other things in this world. We see nothing and have no knowledge of the antimatter 1-dimensional space.

---

2-dimensional Space, the Double Color Space

In this space, the objects have sizes and forms. But they only have the light and shade colors. For instance, the achromatopsia people live in the Double Color Space. The scenes in the Hell World, Frozen Layer and Inflamed Layer are just like the images in black-and-white TV with only light and shade colors.

If one person judges things only by good and bad, true and false, good and evil, and beauty and ugly, instead of seeing the bad in the good, the good in the bad, the false in the true, the true in the false, the good in the evil, the evil in the good, the beauty in the ugly, the ugly in the beauty, the static in the dynamic and the dynamic in the static, his thinking would be the achromatopsia thinking and he actually lives in the 2-dimensional world.

The space which only has the direct lines without curves, and the direct lines have no obliquity from the perspective of either primary vision, overlook or sectional view is the 2-dimensional space.

3-dimensional Space - Mortal World

In this space substances have forms and sizes are rich in colors. The space is constantly changing. The Mortal World is a 3-dimensional space. 98% of the human population and most of the animals, except the birds, live in this space. The 3-dimensional space is a knotless space. The movement of all matters is a knotless line, just like a rope fastened to a person's foot. No matter how many turns he or she makes, no matter which direction he or she goes, though the rope has many twists or pile into a geometric pattern, it will become a straight when we pull the two ends of it. And there is no knot in this line. The 3-dimensional space is a relatively simple and naive space. It is a space where we live without using our brains.

4-dimensional Space, the Karma Space

It is the thinking space where we can know the karma relationship. The human beings walk in the 3-dimensional space while the birds fly in the 4-dimensional space. The flight route of the birds can have knots. So the 4-dimensional space is the knotted space. From the perspective of the 3-dimensional space, we can only see the part of the tree above the ground. However, from the perspective of the 4-dimensional space, we can see the tree roots under the ground. Based on the material changes in the Mortal World, we can see through the phenomenon and detect the essence of things, the relationship between them, the interactive bridges, and the causes of the changes. We can also see through a certain phenomenon and find the future results. We can know the principle of quantitative and qualitative changes. We know how to achieve balance. We can find the truth out of the routine phenomena. We can find the thinking space of the laws. For instance, we can perceive the universal gravitation when seeing the apple falling to the ground. We can think about the movement rules and direction of the Universe when seeing the vine growing in spirals. We can reach the knowledge about the terrestrial magnetism and ocean currents when we see the swirls formed by releasing the water out of the bathtub. We can know the function of the motion power when we see the kettle lid jumping as the water boils. We can perceive the irrigation and power generation when seeing the wind and tides. We can know about the disease and disease spreading ways when we see the bacteria under the microscope. We can get the mystery of the genes when we see the different forms of the objects. We can conclude the life origin from the gene invariance and genetic features. We can know about a person's health and personality when see his complexion and face. We can predict a person's future success or failure when seeing his behaviors and listening to his words. We can see the rise and fall of a dynasty by observing the dedication of the government officials and the mentality of the civilians. Those living in the 4-dimensional space include the greatest scientists such as Newton, Einstein, Stephen Hawking, Euclid, Copernicus, Mendel, Heisenberg, Kepler, Dalton, Rontgen, Mendeleev, Planck, Pasteur, the political leaders such as Washington, Mao Zedong, Constantine the Great, Peter the Great, Toyotomi Hideyoshi, Augustus, and Caesar, the musicians such as Beethoven, Handel and Bach, the philosophers such as Aristotle, Plato, and Bacon.

5-dimensional-Between Yin and Yang Space

It is the rim space in the crossing between the matters and antimatters and between the space and the negative space.

Three types of people find it easy to enter this space. The first type is the specialists in a field. When one person is addicted to or reaches the peak in the study of one issue or one thing, he feels, though not very clearly, the existence of super materials. Sometimes he feels he can't find the interconnection bonds between the things in the actual world. Sometimes he feels that something happens in an incredible way. For instance, why the people who have dug the tombs of the Egyptian Pharaoh die a natural death? Why did one of the twins feel worried at the same moment when his brother died from the traffic accident thousands of miles away? Why could the girl called Shanty Debi born in Delhi of India in 1926 tell exactly the things in her former cycle of life, which proved to be true. Why was the coffin of famous American actor Charles Cleveland, who died in 1899 and buried in Galveston of Texas, brought into the sea by the tides, floating 28 years and 3,000 km before reaching his hometown, the Prince Edward Island? These things have made him feel that the things he used to study were much too trivial and insignificant. He still can't tell what's true and what's false when faced with the matters and antimatters. All things seem to the reality and the fantasy at the same time. If his flesh body dies now, his spiritual body will be in the state of puzzlement. Though his flesh body has died, the spiritual body of his can't find the way out and can only roam in the edgy place when the material world is connected with the non-material world.

The second type is those who practice or improve himself blindly. Due to the wrong method, too much hurry, old age or bad health, the spiritual body after the death of the flesh body can only drift in the connection place of the Yin and Yang worlds.

The third type is those who feel like getting into the unnecessary end or those who died suddenly at their golden age. Because they are not well prepared for death and still long for the material world, they are not willing to be brought to another world by the sudden death. Some of their wishes haven't been realized and they are reluctant to leave the material world. However, because their flesh bodies are dead, the spiritual bodies have no carrier and can only roam for a certain time in the connection space between Yin and Yang worlds. Some cases of spirit possession are caused by their spiritual bodies. The people who are not willing to die would stay in this space. In the rural areas, the monks or Yin Yang masters will help to release the souls of the dead people. The ceremony is just to comfort them, encourage and persuade them to enter the Yin world and forget about the things in the Yang world.

6-dimensional Space, the Humans & Celestial Beings World

This space is where the people having got out of the material world constraint live. When a person's belief is perfect innocent and he or she is not seduced by the worldly materials, they just look the same with the average people. But their inner part has been changed. They have known the Negative Universe is the origin of the matters, everything in the 3-dimensional world is simply the fantasy, the worldly people will get nothing even if they are busy working and struggling all the time, the people will end up in a dream and they are ignorant. The people in this space don't have to work to get something. They work for pleasure, not means of making a living. They have known the Holy Spirit, Buddhism and Taoism. They know how to make use of the energy in the Negative Universe to serve them. Basically, they can make achievement by thinking about them. So they are free of the worries and live an unloaded life. Except for the human celestial beings whose flesh bodies are still alive because of their self-refinery and self-improvement, the few mages, Taoists, Christians, Buddhists, Muslims and the believer of other regions can also enter this space.

7-dimensional Space, the Proton World.

This is a space where the proton can be seen. The proton is one of the elementary particles forming the nucleus of the atoms. It has the positive electron. Its electricity is equal to the electron but the mass is 1,836 times of that in the electron. In this space, the people can have the perspective as far as their eyesight can reach. It seems that the people are wearing the infrared glasses and can see what is behind a certain object. For instance, they can see the jewels and gold under the ground. They can see the people's inner organs. They can see the flowing water under the ground. In the 3-dimensional world, the people can only see the branches, leaves and fruits. However, the people in the proton world can see the worms climbing on the tree. The beauties in the eyes of the 3-dimensional world are simply skeletons in the eyes of the people in the proton world.

8-dimensional Space, the Photon World

It is the space where the rays are beyond the 400-700mm wave lengths. The photon is the elementary particle of the light. It has certain energy, which changes to the wave lengths. The shorter the wave length is, the more energy it has. Many lights are invisible to the human eyes. Only those who have certain level of energy can see them. In this space, the people can have the perspective farther than their eyesight range. They can see through the substances with high density, strength and energy. The objects will not show up in their original forms. Instead, they will show up in the form of light in different colors. The substances with low density, strength and energy are invisible just like the molecule in the air. The worldly people busy in the world are just clusters of light moving molecules. On the contrary, the self-improving people will emit the visible light with different colors based on the strength of their composure and psychokinesis.

9-dimensional Space, the Light Speed Circle

The space where the light can reach within 1 second is called the Light Speed Circle. The people in this space can have the remote viewing of things in the distance where the light will reach in 1 second. For instance, though the person is in Africa, he can clearly see his family members living in Asia. All the people living within the scope of 1-second light travelling can be seen by the people in the Light Speed Circle.

10-dimensional Space, the Super Light Speed Circle

The space where the light cannot reach within 1 second is called the Light Speed Circle. The people in this circle can have the trans-space remote viewing. They can see all the scenes beyond the Milk Way System and the Rotary River System, in particular the life situation of the celestial beings in the Thousand Year World and Ten Thousand Year World.

---

11-dimensional Space, the Molecule World

It is a space where the thinking energy of the nature shown by the molecules can be seen. The molecule is the smallest particle that can regain the chemical attributes of the original substances and can exist independently. The people in this space can see the nature of each type of molecules. For instance, the blood of an average people in the eyes of the worldly people is seen by the people living in the Molecule World as a fully-grown person who has his look and personality. If there are two drops of blood with one drop belonging to a dog and the other to a cow, we ordinary people cannot tell which is dog and which is cow. However, the people living in the Molecule World can judge them. They even know the form of the grass by seeing the grass seed.

12-dimensional Space, the Micro World.

It is a space where people can ride a horse in the nanometer space. The tiny particle seen by an ordinary person in the microscope is a large Universe system in the eyes of the people living in the Micro World, which includes the Sun, mountains, rivers, animals, plants, and the park residences for the people. They can build thousands of beautiful villages on a grain of sand.

13-dimensional Space, the Law World

It is a space where the people can see the energy which causes the matters to change, for instance, the energy that drives the combination of the sperm and egg which later grow into a perfect body. The people in the Law World can only see the energy flow. The magnetic line of force, the rays of all kinds and the waves of all kinds are energy flows. They know very clear which place has good or bad Feng Shui, and who has strong or weak life power.

14-dimensional Space, the Detention Information Space

It is the space where the information will stay without diffusion in a short time. Any motion of the matters will leave the information that will not disappear in a short time behind them. All the matters are just like the “photographic films”, able to record correctly what has happened around them. The Detention Information Space refers to the space which is able to show what has happened. Some police dogs can trace the whereabouts of the people by following the smell they have left days or even months ago. The people with the Buddha eyes can, according to the detention information left by the objects’ movement, show what happened, for instance, 10 years ago. For example, the room has been the venue of the murdering cases, how it happened, and who the murderer was.

15-dimensional Space, the Super Time World

It is a space where the people can get rid of the time constraint, follow the time numerical axis and see what will happen or what has happened in a certain place in the future or in the past. For instance, the scenes in the beginnings of Universe origin, human origin and life origin, the scenes where the dinosaurs were dominating the Earth, the scenes of Adam and Eve living in the Eden, the scenes of the Great Flood in Noah' s time, or the life scenes when the Earth is controlled by the bio-robots in the future.

16-dimensional Space, the Macro World

The big Universe is the Macro World. For the people living in the Macro World, the Earth Universe where we are is just a particle, the Solar System is simply a molecule, the Sun is the nucleus, the Earth, the Mercury, the Mars and other 6 planets are just the electrons revolving around the nucleus.

17-dimensional Space, the Time Tunnel

The time network composed of the negative and positive time and dotted the Universe space is called the Time Tunnel.

The Time Tunnel runs through all tangible objects. Each celestial body has its own Time Tunnel and each person has it, too. Once entering the Time Tunnel, the time no longer goes ahead like the ticking clock. Instead, the time is fixed and static. It is not like the calendar watch showing the past and future. Instead, the time has become the numerical axis with the two ends extending limitlessly. You can choose to live on any point. For example, you can choose to live in the times of dinosaurs, or live in the era when the current human order has been changed to experience the life at that time.

18-dimensional Space, the Space Tunnel

The passage connecting the 36-dimensional spaces is called the Space Tunnel.

For instance, after the flesh body dies in the Mortal World, the spiritual body has to pass the Space Tunnel first before it enters the upper worlds, such as the Thousand Year World, or the lower world, such as the Animal World. If the angels from the Heaven World go to the Mortal World for inspection, they have to pass the Space Tunnel before reaching the Mortal World.

All the materials in the Space Tunnel are the antimatters. All the antimatters in the Space Tunnel move at the rate of the Negative Universe speed.

All the Space Tunnels pass by the 3 World Two-way Continent in the Elysium World. That is to say, the 3 World Two-way Continent is the hub of all the Space Tunnels.

The above-mentioned 18 dimensional worlds all are related to the humans. They are the middle worlds of the life activities. When the human's science reaches a certain level, they will have sufficient ability to enter either of the above spaces with the help of instruments.

The following 18 dimensional worlds will be the spaces which can never be reached by science. The major target of Life Chanyuan is to guide the people to the higher spaces of life. So I will focus on describing and explaining the Thousand Year World, Ten Thousand-year World and the Elysium World.

3. The Use of Space

Xuefeng

The living space is vital for the humans. Different spaces have different life meanings. The ultimate goal of human life should be the senior space life, instead of the junior space life.

The space can change the objects' form and their movement laws. The space change can trigger the changes in the physical function, thinking modes and activities. The space can be expanded, compressed or twisted. So we have to make full use of the space.

1). Surmounting the Space

What we see in our eyes is where we are going. The space that our consciousness (the telegonies) can perceive is the space where our spiritual nature life will be after the death of the flesh body. So we have to surmount the existence space where we are now, extending our thought to the senior space with our thinking, imagining and knowing the situation in the Thousand Year World, Ten Thousand-year

World and the Elysium World, reinforcing our belief so that our psychology and mentality can move towards the senior space. If we can persist in doing so, the space in our imagination will move towards us. We will realize our dream and lay the foundation for the spiritual body of life to enter the senior space after the death of the flesh body.

2) Compress and Expand the Space

Can the space be compressed? The answer is yes.

“Bosom friends within the four seas are close neighbors though separated by great distance.” After the Internet came into being, the remote distance is right in front of our eyes. The space changes as the size and location of the materials and the life consciousness change. If the matters do not exist, there will no consciousness or space.

One way to compress the space is to strengthen the space. As our perception of a certain space deepens, the distance between the space and us will narrow. When our consciousness is integrated into the space, the spiritual body of life will reach the space. Then we can leave the Mortal World and enter the charming senior space in our consciousness.

The way to expand the space is to gradually get out of the space in our consciousness we don't like, keep the space we don't like away from our consciousness, expand it till it disappears. Thus we can get out of and surmount the space we don't like and develop into the senior space of life.

The way we get out of the worldly life is to expand our space. The way to enter the Celestial World is to compress the space between us and the Celestial Space. If we can freely expand and compress spaces, we can surmount the space and free ourselves from the constraint by the space.

3) Change the Space

If the space where we live has constrained us from employing our freedom and competency, or has put us at risk, we must find some way to change the space and instead of waiting for the space to change by itself. If we don't change the space, the space will change us.

Only by setting our direction and target, can we realize our ideals gradually. To make use of the space in the most effective way, we must first understand the origin, function and meaning of life. The following two chapters “Humans” and “Life” will discuss the target. Please see the Chapter of Humans.

11. The New Epoch is Coming

Xuefeng

(Translated by Conglong and edited by Kaer)

Humanity has entered a new epoch on January 1, 2018.

Thoughts of the new epoch originate at the zero point of the twenty parallel worlds. It was born in Africa, developed in Asia, and is maturing in North America. The work of theory building and the experiments into the new life mode are almost complete and will become the guiding thoughts and life mode of humanity for the next millennia.

The birth of this new epoch will bring an end to the consciousness of the old era and will change the current life and production modes of human society drastically. It will bring humans into an epoch in which:

- “All thoughts and beliefs will be unified into the Greatest Creator’s will, and all religions will be unified into one belief system”.
- “The talented will be put to their best use, and the whole world will be one family”.
- “No one will pocket anything found on the ground and doors will not need to be bolted at night”.
-

Once you enter into this new epoch, you will be far removed from the traditional abyss of misery and you will not be misled or fettered by the old-world view, life values or universe values. The mist surrounds your heart will disappear.

You will see a whole new world, and your life will be directed onto a track of happiness, joy, and freedom.

You will be walking into the gate of heaven and embarking on a new journey that will last for a thousand years, thirty-five thousand years, or even billions of years.

In order to help humans to understand the meaning of this new epoch, some angels will present the new thoughts and visions through a series of videos. This video channel is called “The New Epoch”, and by following it, your vibration frequency will gradually align with the consciousness of the universe and your consciousness level will rise to above five hundred. You will then become an angel as called in western culture or a celestial or buddha in oriental culture.

Deiform Buddha is the messenger of the greatest creator of the universe, and he is the incarnation of gods, Buddha, celestial beings, and saints. He is also the messenger, the “supervisor soul” from northwest China mentioned by the “Boy from Mars” – Boriska Kipriyanovich.

Humans will experience a short period of suffering for about ten years which has already begun. During this ten-year period, those who keep following “The New Epoch” will have lights fire up in their hearts; they will have no more fears and will be blessed enough to live in the new epoch that will last for a millennium.

This is of the greatest importance of all things. Crises will not end if this good opportunity is missed.
Best wishes to all those who follow and enter “The New Epoch”.

12. This Picture Includes Revelations of Heaven

Xuefeng

February 13, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Please study this picture before reading on.

The top part shows snow everywhere, cold wind is blowing, the ice world and snow are all lifeless; this represents the frozen layer of hell.

The middle part shows a bleak autumn with yellow vegetation, winter cicada represents melancholy, and fresh grain drifting on the breeze from the fields; this represents the human world.

The lower part shows lush green vegetation, a garden full of the beauty of spring, birds are tweeting, flowers are blooming, and everything is full of vitality; this represents heaven.

The picture shows two revelations. The first one is that hell, earth, and heaven are one, are connected, and are all in the same painting. The difference is that the different parts have different temperatures. Hell is cold, the earth is warm, and heaven is hot. Hell is connected to the earth and the earth is connected to heaven. If you leave the earth, you will go to either hell or heaven. The second one is that any person can go to heaven, stay on the earth, or go to hell, whichever they choose.

The problem is that people cannot see heaven or hell with their naked eyes; they think that the only place in which they can survive is where they are. Suppose there were an ant in the middle of the above picture, it would be absolutely unaware of the existence of the upper frigid zone and the lower tropical zone. The truth is that people are just like that hypothetical ant. When we look at this picture, everything is clear because we see the macro, the full view, the “big picture”, but the ant in a certain area sees neither the whole picture nor even the differences between the areas. People cannot see the entire picture of the existence of LIFE, cannot see the entire universe (including the nonmaterial world), and cannot see heaven and hell, so they think that heaven and hell either do not exist or that they are very far away.

So, we need someone who can see the whole picture to explain it and guide us, or someone who knows the big picture and the route to heaven and will tell it to us. If we depend on ourselves to explore the way to heaven, we might not find the way to heaven even after we have explored it for a millennium.

From the above picture we can see that the three environments are very different from each other. The core factor that makes them different are their temperatures. Different temperatures create different environments; of course you can also explain it based on latitude and altitude. The environments of heaven, the earth, and hell are also different. The core factor that causes the differences is that the nonmaterial structures of LIFE in each layer of space are different, or the vibrational frequencies of LIFE in each layer of space are different. You could even say that the weight of the LIFE in each layer of space is different.

It takes a long time to explain these principles in detail but I am here to explain them briefly and to try to inspire you, using temperature as a benchmark. As long as you try to figure them out often, you will understand them eventually. In the above picture, the lower the temperature, the more it approaches the cold zone, while the higher the temperature, the more it approaches the hot zone. The temperate zone is sandwiched between the two extreme zones. LIFE also has temperature; of course, this temperature is an abstract one. It does not refer to human body temperature but the temperature of LIFE.

Let us look at the temperatures of three kinds of people. The first type is indifferent, cold, selfish, aggressive, cruel, strongly jealous, intensely greedy for possessions and control, and always complains and whines, which makes people around them feel uncomfortable. The second type is lukewarm, lacks enthusiasm and passion, is indifferent to everything, drifts along, is not self-motivated, is confused, is neither greedy nor dedicated, and neither harms nor helps. The third type is always full of exuberant vitality and enthusiasm, always brings hope and light to people, is always full of confidence when encountering difficulties, brings happiness to people often, always likes to contribute to others and to society, and never complains.

LIFECHANYUAN

<https://chanyuan.org>
<https://www.lifechanyuan.org>

The LIFE temperatures of the three types of people listed above are very different. According to the standards of the picture above, the first type will be plucked up to the frigid zone (hell), the second type will continue to stay in the temperate zone (the human world), and the third type will drift south to the tropics (heaven). In other words, the first type of people will languish in hell, the second type will stagnate in the human world, and the third type will enjoy the splendor of heaven.

The above analysis and explanation is very rough because there are several transitional zones between those three. Therefore, the spaces of LIFE are not only heaven, earth, and hell, but also includes many transitional levels between them, such as the livestock layer, the wildlife layer, the Yin and Yang layer, and the plant layer between earth and hell, and worlds between earth and heaven such as the Asura world and the heaven realm (where the Jade Emperor described in literature is located) and others. Even in heaven, there are the Thousand-year World, the Ten-thousand-year World, the Elysium World, and others. This principle cannot be seen or perceived from the above picture.

May this picture and my brief analysis help you become enlightened and sublime, and may you ascend toward heaven.

13. The Origin of Humanity

Xuefeng

(Translated by Conglong)

Where do human beings come from?

There have been some sayings:

Pangu created the heaven and earth, Nuwa created men using clay. (In Chinese mythology, Pangu and Nuwa are the god and goddess who created the world) Prometheus made men out of mud and stole fire from heaven for humans. Ram-headed god Khnum moulded men from clay at a potter's wheel, and goddess Heqet breathed life into the new body, and they two together made new lives. God created man using clay according to his own image. Celestials came to the earth.

Human beings were created by aliens
Humans were evolved gradually from single-cell organisms....

However, the most influential sayings are evolutionism and the story of how God created man in Bible.

1.) the Awkwardness of Evolutionism

The Awkwardness of Evolutionism

According to the theory of Evolution, humans were evolved from apes, and apes could possibly be evolved from rabbits, and rabbits from worms. Worms could be evolved from microbes; microbes from single-cell organisms, which could possibly come into being by accident in the sea, the vast "organic and fertile soup". Evolution is the result of inheritance, mutation and natural selection.

Evolution is a slow and gradual process.

Evolution is in accordance with the "natural selection, the law of jungle and survival of the fittest."

But is this really the truth?

The process of one organism evolves to another organism is a very long process. A rabbit can't evolve to a monkey overnight. One seed, from germination, growth, flowering, fruiting to decline, there is a process. Any step of process could not be skipped. If we take picture of the seed every day, we will be able to see the slow and gradual process of its change. Evolutionism firmly believes that humans are evolved from apes. There must be a slowly changing process and some "intermediates", that is to say, from an ape to a man, it should at least have some steps of intermediates, it is impossible that an ape will leap to a man, so where are those intermediates? What are they?

In 1924, "scientists" found fossils which they called "Australopithecus africanus" (Southern ape of Africa) near the famous diamond town, Kimberley, South Africa, later, they found more, "Australopithecus boisei" (it is also called "Eastern African"), "Australopithecus afrensis", "Australopithecus garhi etc. Particularly, they think “Java Man” was the “intermediate” between ape and human. Based on these facts, evolutionists self-deceivingly claimed that they had made “great achievements”.

But please don't be too satisfied; self-entertaining will not bring joys to others.

According to the calculation based on molecular biology, it was between four and five million years ago when men and apes separated, so from four million years ago till the time of earliest historical records, how human beings evolved? Were there no any processes or intermediates? If not, does that mean evolution stopped at the stage? If yes, please show the evidence.

Again, I want to ask evolutionists, which animal were apes evolved from? Can you please give us evidences too?

How can you prove that the four million years old fossils you found are the ancestors of humanity? Just because their shapes look alike? Can you prove that chicken is the ancestor of swan because you found a few chicken bones?

At the end of the twentieth century, a large number of fossils were discovered in Chengjiang County, Yunnan Province, China. The research showed that today's diverse animals were actually appearing suddenly on the earth, and it also proved the correctness of theory of “Cambrian Explosion”, which happened 530 million years ago.

The theory of “Cambrian Explosion” says that over 90% of animal species were appearing suddenly in a “moment” which is less than one percent time of the earth developing history. It is like mushrooms growing everywhere along ditches and grasslands after an overnight drizzle, which is by no means a slow and gradual process, so do evolutionists still have any far-fetched explanations on this?

Let me ask more: the obtuse angle of three congruent rhomb at the bottom of a beehive is  $109^{\circ} 28'$ , and the acute angle is  $70^{\circ} 32'$ , which is the most economic and reasonable structure, so is this “wisdom” also from evolution? Rooster crowing, chick breaking its egg shell, bird migrating, spider webbing, eel discharging, chameleons changing skin color, weaver bird nestling, silkworm making cocoon, snail making shell, hound tracking, pigeon going home etc. Do all these wisdoms of animals and insects come from evolution?

Let's make the conclusion by quoting the wisdom of Darwin, the originator of the theory of evolution, “If it could be demonstrated that any complex organ existed which could not possibly have been formed by numerous, successive, slight modifications, my theory would absolutely break down”.

The birth of Lifechanyuan has proved evolution theory has “absolutely broken down”

Evolutionism cannot prove the origin of humanity.

Human beings were not evolved from animals at all.

So, what about the sayings in Bible?

Please read the origin of humanity 2.

2). the Awkwardness of Bible

There were records about the origin of humanity in the “Genesis” of Bible:

1:26 And God said, let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

1:27 So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.

1:28 And God blessed them, and God said unto them, be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it: and have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over every living thing that moveth upon the earth.

1:29 And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for meat.

1:30 And to every beast of the earth, and to every fowl of the air, and to every thing that creepeth upon the earth, wherein there is life, I have given every green herb for meat: and it was so.

1:31 And God saw every thing that he had made, and, behold, it was very good. And the evening and the morning were the sixth day.

2.7 And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

2.18 And the LORD God said, It is not good that the man should be alone; I will make him an help meet for him.

2:21 And the LORD God caused a deep sleep to fall upon Adam, and he slept: and he took one of his ribs, and closed up the flesh instead thereof

2:22 And the rib, which the LORD God had taken from man, made he a woman, and brought her unto the man.

3:20 And Adam called his wife's name Eve; because she was the mother of all living.

So is this how humans come into being?

Let's still have a look of what Bible says:

4:1 And Adam knew Eve his wife; and she conceived, and bare Cain, and said, I have gotten a man from the LORD.

4:2 And she again bare his brother Abel. And Abel was a keeper of sheep, but Cain was a tiller of the ground.

4:3 And in process of time it came to pass, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground an offering unto the LORD.

4:4 And Abel, he also brought of the firstlings of his flock and of the fat thereof. And the LORD had respect unto Abel and to his offering:

4:5 But unto Cain and to his offering he had not respect. And Cain was very wroth, and his countenance fell.

4:6 And the LORD said unto Cain, Why art thou wroth? and why is thy countenance fallen?

4:7 If thou doest well, shalt thou not be accepted? and if thou doest not well, sin lieth at the door. And unto thee shall be his desire, and thou shalt rule over him.

4:8 And Cain talked with Abel his brother: and it came to pass, when they were in the field, that Cain rose up against Abel his brother, and slew him.

4:9 And the LORD said unto Cain, Where is Abel thy brother? And he said, I know not: Am I my brother's keeper?

4:10 And he said, What hast thou done? the voice of thy brother's blood crieth unto me from the ground.

4:11 And now art thou cursed from the earth, which hath opened her mouth to receive thy brother's blood from thy hand;

4:12 When thou tillest the ground, it shall not henceforth yield unto thee her strength; a fugitive and a vagabond shalt thou be in the earth.

4:13 And Cain said unto the LORD, My punishment is greater than I can bear.

4:14 Behold, thou hast driven me out this day from the face of the earth; and from thy face shall I be hid; and I shall be a fugitive and a vagabond in the earth; and it shall come to pass, that every one that findeth me shall slay me.

4:15 And the LORD said unto him, Therefore whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold. And the LORD set a mark upon Cain, lest any finding him should kill him.

4:16 And Cain went out from the presence of the LORD, and dwelt in the land of Nod, on the east of Eden.

So, we have a question on the above records, Adam and Eve are the ancestors of humans, Cain and Abel are the first two sons of Adam and Eve, at that time, there should not be anybody else exist on the earth except Adam's family, so why Cain was worrying "every one that findeth me shall slay me"? Who were going to find him?

If what Bible recorded is true, there must be some other men exist except Adam's family, and they must have long existed before Adam's family. Otherwise, Cain would not say, "every one that findeth me shall slay me". So, if there lived other humans, and they were not descendants of Adam and Eve (back then, Adam and Eve only had two sons, and Abel was killed by Cain), we can say Adam and Even are not the ancestors of all human beings, and what Bible recorded is only the story of origin of Israelite people.

Bible only recorded the origin of the Middle East people, and not that of all human beings.

So where do human beings come from?

Please read the Origin of Humanity 3.

3). the Prelude

Xuefeng
(Translated by Conglong)

We have known how the universe and the Greatest Creator came into being, I have proven the existence of the Greatest Creator in the chapters of "the Greatest Creator” using forty natural phenomena and eight logical reasonings; but what did the Greatest Creator do after his birth?

“Wuji” generates “Taiji”, Taiji generates two complementary forces. These two forces are unity of opposites. That is to say, after Taiji, the Creator, was born, division of energy started to happen within Wuji; where the energy is low, it comes into forms, therefore, the celestial bodies of universe began to emerge one by one, space started to expand infinitely. Where the energy is high, things exist with no form, just like the “black holes” in the universe, they are invisible.

When some celestial bodies first appeared, their movement were random and disordered; there were no solar system, Milky Way system, nor Law-Rotary Galaxy system and Rotary-River Galaxy System. To ensure everything run in order, the Greatest Creator needs “someone” to take care of the universe. It is like a person borrowed a large sum of money from bank in order to establish a big business, he need to recruit some people to take the responsibilities of purchasing, manufacturing, production, internal management and sales etc. Same, the Greatest Creator also need “someone” to help him finish the project of “creating the universe” .

Then how did he manage the universe? He started to make Gods, what is god? God is the helper of the Greatest Creator. Then how did the Greatest Creator make god?

We know that the Greatest Creator is the energy core and nerve center of the universe. He used his almighty consciousness generating powerful energy to squeeze some regional energy, which then became many independent energy groups. The center of these groups formed a special structure; after the structure was strengthened with the power of the energy, a consciousness was born, these consciousness entities are gods.

The process is similar as making bricks in kilns. We use loosened soil, added with appropriate chemicals, put them into kilns to calcine. After this process, the loosened soil become hard bricks. If we put the soil and chemicals in a vessel that can’ t be destroyed by any powerful energy, and then calcine them using very high energy, the soil mixed with chemicals will form a special structure, and will further produce consciousness - a new life will be born.

How many gods has the Greatest Creator made? Many!

Each god has his own independent consciousness, but their energy level is far lower than that of the Greatest Creator. Therefore, gods have to obey the Greatest Creator.

What is the energy level of a god? It depends on the size of the energy ball used to create that particular god. Some gods have very high energy, some have very small energy. However, even the god with the smallest energy is more powerful than any one of the visible celestial bodies. The energy of sun is very high, but the total energy of the sun is less than that of the least powerful god. The “black holes” all over the universe we know are actually gods.

When the Greatest Creator finished making gods, he ordered them to form universes, for example, the universe where the earth lives is in charged by many gods (black holes). Among them, the two biggest gods are Jesus and Satan, that is to say, earth universe are managed by Jesus and Satan. (Earth universe includes 3000 Rotary-River Systems, 9,000,000 milky way systems, 27 billion of solar system)

Jesus and Satan are two opposite gods, but they are unity. Jesus stands for the sincere, kind and beautiful; Satan stands for the false, evil and ugly. Jesus stands for light, Satan stands for dark; Jesus stands for the ordinary, Satan stands for the extraordinary; Jesus stands for the weak, Satan stands for the strong.

When gods were created, the universe was still not vibrant enough, it was quiet and deserted, and gods felt bored and lonely. Therefore, they asked the Greatest Creator to create more lives to make the universe noisy and vital. He agreed and then created many new lives using smaller energy balls; these new lives are the angels which are so called in Judaism, Christianity, Catholicism, and Islam.

Angels are the lives whose energy level is lower than gods, and they are managed and dominated by god. They are also the messengers and helpers of god; they assist gods to manage everything in their own universe. Angels have their own characters; they can move freely in any time and space.

The appearance of angels made the universe very lively and vibrant, the universe can be described as “orioles sing and swallows dart, bustling with noise and excitement”. But the problem after that is because Jesus and Satan stand for two opposite sides, they are evenly matched but have contrasting views, which eventually led angels divide into two parties. One follows the viewpoint of Jesus, the other follows Satan; the former is just the “Buddha” we always know from Buddhism, the latter is the “Celestial” described in Chinese Taoism.

“Buddha” is angle. In Chinese word, Buddha is 佛. 弗 stands for not, 亻 stands for human. So Buddha means a “human” who is not human. They actually have supernatural power and are able to appear in any forms; they can create life, move mountains and turn over the sea. They can change the visible to invisible, the invisible to visible. They can survive in a vacuum, and move freely in many spaces without the constraints of time. The “headquarter” of Buddha is what we call paradise, which is also the “Elysium” I mentioned in 36 dimensional spaces.

“Celestial” is also angel. From the structure of Chinese word “仙”, we can reason that they are a group of “human” who like to travel around, enjoy nature, and love fun. They have the same level of power and ability as what Buddha have, however, although Buddha look peaceful, they are arrogant and always want to excel over others while Celestials are gentle, pure, fun-loving, behaving the same as what they look like.

To know more about how human beings were created, please read the Origin of Humanity 4.

4). Celestials Creating Human

In order to demonstrate its power, under the permission of the Greatest Creator, 4.5 billion years ago, Jesus led hundreds of millions of celestials start the “project” of creating solar system. They first created the earth, then the sun and other planets in the solar system. They made very careful calculation and design on the size, position, rotary speed of the sun and the earth. After that, Jesus sent near one hundred million celestials come to the earth with the identity of intelligent beings, they started large scale of creation on the earth; the water, air, and most green vegetation and grazing animals are the creations of those celestials, microbes were self-created as the result of water and photosynthesis. This process, from beginning to the end, lasted for nearly 2.3 billion years.

Before animals were created, there was no moon. When the first group of animals were created, celestials found that if they left earth, animals could not survive without ebb and flow, wind, cloud, rain and snow. Therefore, they built two big smelters at places not far from where is now Cairo, Egypt and the Atlantis (it is now located at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean), and made many airships (UFO) using the special smelted metals. And sent the animals they created to everywhere on the earth. At the meantime, they used these airships to transport smelted metals to a “space station”. They then created a huge hollow ball with a rough surface, silver and reflecting. This huge ball is the moon we refer to today. One billion years ago, the night on the earth was very bright. Later, because the dust from universe continuously dropped on the moon, it was no longer as bright as before.

The UFOs we occasionally saw are not from outer space, they are from the center of the moon, which is a huge warehouse. It stores many “tools” which had been used by celestials; UFO is also one of the “tools”. There is a door on the moon; it can be opened at any time. There is a giant “palace” under the mysterious Bermuda Triangle; that is the temporary “lodge” for the visiting celestials. Celestials can remotely control UFOs in the warehouse of the moon to monitor the earth according to their needs.

The earth of two hundred million years ago was very beautiful and prosperous. The place where Sahara Desert currently is located had many green mountains and a dense growth of green trees, birds were twittering, flowers were blossoming, it was once the most beautiful places for green plants and animals. Celestials used to love singing, dancing and playing on the earth, and they were so enjoying it and almost forgot their home.

Unfortunately, the happy scene didn't last long. The happiness of celestials provoked the anger of Satan. In order to show that he had superior power, he sent another group of Buddhas to the earth two hundred and fifty million years ago, and started to create flies, mosquitoes, bugs, rats, scorpions, centipedes, snakes and predators in large scale to let these animals fight with the creations of celestials. Moreover, they even appeared in the form of dinosaur, destroyed the plants and animals all over the world out of jealousy.

This inharmonious situation made the Greatest Creator very sad. At about one hundred and thirty million years ago, he destroyed all dinosaurs by applying one kind of plague, and put all their souls in the prison of "The Cathode Black Hole". Unfortunately, there were a pair of smart dinosaurs hid under the bottom of East China Sea and were able to survive, they kept dormant under water for nearly one hundred million years.

In about 1,600,000 years ago, in order not to let the earth become idle, the Greatest Creator designed a life structure himself, which is the draft version of current humans. He then gave the "design paper" to Jesus and let him to implement. The helpers of Jesus, celestials, started to make new lives according to this design. In order to receive the energy of the Greatest Creator sending from the universe, also to accumulate energy for creating this special new life and speed up the process, they built many laboratories in the place where now is Egypt. These "laboratories" are exactly the well-known pyramids of Egypt. Because of the lack of experience and some steps were missed, the first lives they made were monkeys, and then after were apes, of course, this wouldn't please the Greatest Creator, so they continued testing and making. The first group of humans they successfully made are the black men in Africa, and the second group are native Indians in America, the third are the white men in Europe, Egypt and North Africa. When they finished producing three groups of humans, they started to evacuate, and in order to avoid Satan creating difficulties again, they destroyed everything around the Pyramids before they left, which is also why Sahara is a desert today.

But, where do most people in Middle East come from except Egyptian?

They are the descendants of Adam and Eve as what says in Bible, they were created by another god. This god knew that his "rival" started to create humans on earth. He created a secret garden of "Eden" in about 7,000 years ago at Jerusalem, and made Adam and Eve, after they were created, he destroyed the "Eden" to avoid the attention of his "rival".

This is why Cain was afraid that “everyone that findeth me shall slay me”. Who was he afraid of? The humans created by another god.

This is why his god still protected him even Cain killed his brother. (whosoever slayeth Cain, vengeance shall be taken on him sevenfold)
So today’ s conflicts between Israelite and Palestinian are actually the conflicts between brothers and are family affairs.

And let’ s now talk about East Asian and Southeast Asian, they were not created by any god at all, they were the embodiments of dinosaur. At about 7500 years ago, when the pair of dinosaurs knew that celestials created human on the earth, they sneaked from the sea, and changed into human form, started to propagate along the Yellow River, and the descendants gradually spread all over Asia. One of the groups went upwards, crossed the Pamirs to India; they want to mingle with the descendants of Adam and Eve to avoid the punishment of the Greatest Creator again.

This is why Chinese people always say, “China is the hometown of dragon, and Chinese are the descendants of dragon.”

This is also why Buddhism originated from India, but blossomed in East Asia and Southeast Asia. Why it didn’ t become popular in India?

The ancestors of Sakyamuni went to India from Yellow River, when they arrived at India, they found that their consciousness was not compatible with that of the descendants of Adam and Eve, and had to find new home. Because in their subconsciousness, there’ s a very deep call, that is to “go home”, which home? The “Elysium” before they came to earth.

Sakyamuni found he came from Elysium after his enlightenment. Although he had a blurry picture of his home, he still remembered something. Once this subconsciousness was awakened, he decided to be engaged in the cause of preaching to other descendants; and shifted the focus to the East led by of his subconsciousness. That’ s also why Bodhidharma came to China to preach Buddhism.

Because Indian people were designed by a different creator, they were reluctant to accept the theory of Buddhism because of the absence of the memory in their subconsciousness. That’ s also why although Buddhists had made great efforts, it still failed in India. However, in East and Southeast Asia, people had the instinct sense of the existence of other dimensional spaces, it is quite easy for them to resonate with the theory of Buddhism. Once they accept it, it is rooted and lingers in their mind.

The state “vague and intangible” which Taoism pursues and the “Elysium world” Buddhism pursues are something rooted in the subconsciousness of the yellow race, they feel and believe the existence of the space that is hard to explain. In fact, the space where the yellow race yearning for is the place where the dinosaur had lived in “Ten-thousand-year world” and “Elysium world”. Therefore, even after ten million years, the message is still embedded in the genetic structure of the yellow men.

East and Southeast Asian tend to cultivate “Buddha” and “Celestial”, it is driven by their inner voice. Although some people accept the theory of Bible, it is not an acceptance out of their heart, but a rational act. People of other races are very easy to believe in God, but quite reluctant to accept Buddhism and Taoism, some people might believe in Buddhism and Taoism, but it is just a blind pursuit of mysterious phenomena, they are impossible to reach the state of “resonance of soul”.

Then, what is the truth of the Great Flood in Noah’s time?

First, I want to explain something: before the Great Flood, human beings had been through extinction already. The humans created 16,000,000 years ago were very strong and tall, they were cruel and very aggressive, they maltreated animals and were very greedy, they didn’t even respect the Greatest Creator, not to mention gods and buddhas. The city of Maya, ancient Egypt and Atlantis were their activity centers. They had the power of god, buddha and celestial but were lack of their virtue, they always went to “Ten-thousand-year world” and “Elysium world” to make troubles, and did whatever they wanted to do, which had become a big threat to the order of the universe. Finally, the Greatest Creator had to order some gods destroy the city of Maya, ancient Egypt and Atlantis in one night, only left some weak and less intelligent humans on the earth to continue the propagation of the human species.

In order to comfort these men, the Greatest Creator created another planet which is even more beautiful, 960 light year from the earth, it is the “Thousand-year world”. The Greatest Creator told these people, if they behave well and don’t make trouble, they would be able to go to “Thousand-year world” to enjoy happier life after death. However, these humans started to forget the warning when the population grew to large numbers and its civilization advanced; they began to ignore the Greatest Creator and thought he was nothing special!

At about 4700 years ago, humans on the earth thought that they were able to manage the earth themselves without the help of the Greatest Creator and gods. They ignored their teachings, and insisted their own will. Their pursuit of physical and material comfort far exceeded the pursuit of spiritual growth, which had caused moral degeneracy and the advancement of brute; it strongly destroyed the harmonious atmosphere of the earth. Moreover, the two gods managing the earth had different ethics, thus fought with each other, which made the Greatest Creator so angry that he turned around the earth’s dip angle, huge storms poured down; it lasted for forty days and nights, and drowned most humans and animals, the evil act of humans were then curbed.

But after the Great Flood, Noah' s family were not the only men survived, there were survivors all over the world. This can be verified in many Chinese historical records; the story of “Dayu flood control” is a hard fact. There is also detailed narration in the legends of the Indian tribe Mandan, North Dakota, America.

This is the outline of the origin of human beings.

14. The Purpose of Humanity

Xuefeng
(Translated by Conglong)

Is the purpose of humanity only for survival? Are humans the most intellectual animals in the universe? Does the existence or the disappearance of humankind have any influence on the universe?

We know from the chapter “the Greatest Creator” that there is purpose for any life beings in the universe, nothing exists for no purpose. Solar system and everything included are to serve humanity, while humanity is to serve the Greatest Creator, and indirectly to serve gods.

The Greatest Creator created the universe, gods, buddhas and celestials. Gods sent celestials to create humans under the authorization of the Greatest Creator; therefore, the meaning of humanity is to live for its creator, gods and the Greatest Creator.

The Greatest Creator created numerous gods assist him manage the universe to ensure it is running in order. God is the assemblage of high energy; god only has godhood, but doesn' t have playful and naughty character. They can' t bring joy to the Greatest Creator, so the Greatest Creator created many angels (celestials and buddhas), let them travel freely in the universe to brighten up the atmosphere of the universe.

Although Celestials and Buddhas were created by the Greatest Creator, they are on a lower energy level, and are dominated and influenced by the god in its respective universe. The celestials coming to earth 250 million years ago and the buddhas coming to earth 200 million years ago were the result of the influence. There are three origins for the human on earth: the black men in Africa, American Indian, Egyptian, white men in north Africa and Europe were made by one god;

Israelite, Palestinian, Iranian, Afghans, Iraqi, Turk, Syrian, Jordanian, Lebanese, Saudi Arabian and most Indian were created by another god, Chinese, Mongolian, Japanese, Korean and the people in Southeast Asia are the descendants of dinosaur.

No matter where we come from, we are equal in the sight of the Greatest Creator, but in the sight of gods, there is big difference. The antagonism among gods is reflected evidently on humans, we can see that from rivalries among Judaism, Christianity, Catholicism, Islam, and Buddhism.

The people of Judaism, Christianity and Islam are originally from the same source, however, because the Israelite can't get along with their fellow, and instead made good friends with the people from other origins, which had caused their god to create Islam. Muhammad created Islam based on the revelation of his god in opposition to the Israelite and other people. The Israelite should stand together with Muslims, but they betrayed their god and went to join the men created by another god. In the end, they were not only not accepted but also persecuted by those men, while their brothers, Muslims, refused to accept them either; this is the root cause why the Israelite were persecuted in World War II, and still fight with Palestinian till today.

The ideology of Buddhism is completely different from that of Christianity and Islam. To survive, Christianity and Islam have to compete; however, Buddhism advocates not fighting; even die without descendants to leave this world of disputes and go back "home" to enjoy free life.

The reason why Japanese disturbed Asia in World War II, even fought with USA is not the problem of buddhas, but the punishment by god to buddhas. We know that East and Southeast Asian are the offspring of dinosaur (dragon); they are the embodiments of buddha. They used to be the followers of god Satan, but because of that great plague, they realized that no matter which god they follow, they could be faced another calamity one day, so the best choice for them is to self-cultivate and go back to the "Elysium world". This thought and behaviour had provoked the discontentment of their god, so he punished the descendants of dinosaur at the same time he punished the Israelite.

Moreover, Taoism, a category of Buddhism pursuing only "skill" not "way", emerged in the process of propagation of Buddhism. Taoism is a school of religion which looks peaceful from the surface: "close the door for the world outside, and form its own system". But deep inside, Taoists are very competitive, when they are at a weak position, they pretend to be humble, but when opportunity comes, they will stand out to show off their power. Japanese Shintoism also has the similar character.

Human beings on earth come from three completely different origins, and the ideological polarity was a historical issue. However, this was not what the Greatest Creator wanted to see; Jesus came down in form of human body with a mission given by the Greatest Creator. He was born in the Satan-made Israelite; when he criticized the Pharisees and religious leaders, by showing his miraculous power, he also taught people to love each other, and said all nations should be united; he asked people put their hope on the Greatest Creator, and make the earth a paradise as the Greatest Creator wishes - the Kingdom of the Greatest Creator. Saint Paul is a very good example transformed by Jesus' s teaching. Today, all people around the world gradually come to surrender to Jesus; they are in fact walking on the way guided by Jesus.

Now we know that the purpose of humanity is to serve the Greatest Creator, we are not alone in the universe, except human beings, there are angels (celestials and buddhas), and there are gods above angels, and the Greatest Creator above gods. Humanity have been through hardships since its birth, today' s world is not an easy gain. We need to be grateful to the Greatest Creator, and live in accordance with the teachings of gods, any arrogant behavior will lead to more sufferings and even the destruction of human beings.

15. The Role of Humanity

Xuefeng
(Translated by Conglong)

The Greatest Creator loves humans, because we were designed by him. Among all life beings, celestials are his most favorite, and the next is human. Therefore, we have three responsibilities:

- 1.To please the Greatest Creator
- 2.To maintain unity of opposites of the god world

Gods are also the children of the Greatest Creator, there is no good or bad god, each god has its own role to play. It is up to the Greatest Creator to judge their merits and demerits.

- 3.To build and beautify earth.

Building and beautifying earth is the responsibility and the indispensable obligation of humanity. Maintaining ecological balance, purifying air, rivers and land are the jobs must be shouldered by humans. We must not shirk our responsibilities just because we are taken care by the Greatest Creator. It is just like kids must learn to be independent and help themselves; they must not rely on the parents for everything.

16. The Past of Humanity

Xuefeng
(translated by Conglong)

The past of humanity is a history of sufferings, a history of fights and conflicts.

The past of humanity is a history of bewilderment, a history of manifestation of animal instincts.

The past of humanity is a history of selfishness, a history of “survival of the fittest” .

The past of humanity is a history of chaos, a history of giants competing for powers, religions competing for position.

The past of humanity is a history of wickedness, a history that is not worthy of remembering and emulation.

The current situation of human being
Although there are regional extremes, humanity in general has been away from barbarism and ignorance, and on its way to be more rational. While in some places there are still superstitious forces, but scientific developments have made the majority realize that superstition is the source of barbarism and ignorance, and the vital cause of social turbulence.

There were some major superstitions:

1. Fanatical belief in religion

They think the religion they believe is the only right one, and others are evil. However, in fact, each religion has its own blindness, and a side of suppression of human nature. Fanatical belief in any religion is the result of an emotional choice, not rational. As long as religions exist, the light of human nature is not able to shine, and humanity is not able to get out of barbarism and ignorance, and war is unavoidable; the suffering of humanity will not be possible to end.

2. Frantic worship of the great

Every country has its own great men, and its own founding heroes; they made immoral achievements in elimination of old forces; they are worthy to be respected. But if they are worshiped as god, and the savior, a vicious cycle will begin to form, and humans will be dragging into another round of suffering. It is all right to worship a great man, but if it is over a limit, it becomes a mania, mania is a mental illness, and it is also a new form of barbaric ignorance, which will inevitably lead to destruction and repression of human nature.

3. Blindly follow a theory or academic conclusion

The development of things is progressing in a form of wave; any theory or academic conclusion is a symbol of development from the perspective of current time and space. However, they are not perfect and are not able to cover the comprehensive contents and its extended meanings. They are not the ultimate truth, if we follow them blindly, our thoughts will be bound, and therefore new thoughts and theories are not able to emerge, we will hardly see the situation of “A hundred of flowers blossom, a hundred of schools of thought contend”, which will eventually lead to the twist of human nature and stop the progress of human civilization.

4. Nationalism

Needless to say, each nation has its unique advantages. Just like different fruits and melons having their own taste and degree of sweetness. If water melon and peach think they are the best, and all other fruits are useless, a mono-mode will be taking shape; this is an extremely overbearing behavior. National pride and sense of superiority is evil, not the manifestation of one's divinity at all. The stronger the feeling, the more discrimination and barriers it will cause among nations, as a result, human nature starts to fall. Nationalism is another form of superstition.

5. Worship of masters

There are some extraordinary and distinctive people in the history of each nation; we call them “master” because they have a unique viewpoint, foresighted wisdom or possess a unique quality. It is quite reasonable we respect and call them “master”, but if we worship them, it becomes an infectious virus, a superstition. We see the magnificence of the universe from many twinkling stars in the sky; a nation is great if talents come out in succession. Any master is like a shining star of that time, if we regard him as a sun, and keep on revolving around him, the brilliancy of other stars will be covered, and the nation will not have a successor.

6. Blind faith and following, seek after extraordinary

A man can only be a man as long as he has a human DNA body; he can't be god or something else. We can't deny that life beings in other time and space could be reincarnated to human world; that is because they are bestowed by the Greatest Creator special abilities, wisdom and mission, which is something embodied in their DNA. These abilities and wisdom are far beyond any ordinary person can reach. As one of general public, we can only follow natural law and don't need to seek after extraordinary. If a potato wants to become a tomato, a red date wants to become a walnut, it is not only unnecessary, but also impossible. We will be on the way of devil if we are determined to possess supernatural power. For example, in the last two decades, the popularity of one after another gong(功) exercise is a form of superstition, and has wasted time, energy, and talents of many wise men, who fall into a mud of self-anaesthetizing and self-deceiving and cannot get out from it, eventually lose their way.

7. Worship of gods and ghosts; communicating with spirit world

This is a fundamental superstition. As far as human beings are concerned, there are only two gods: Jesus and Satan, and no other gods. If there are more, they are made up by men. Humans are not eligible to title someone as god and then worship him, this is a typical superstition. As for ghosts, as long as we show no interest, they will not bother; it is not necessary to ask god to drive away ghosts. Advertising ghosts in movies, books or verbal communication is a historical retrogression, and a wicked act incompatible with modern civilization. The sayings and behaviors of communicating with spirit world are destructing human nature; they are also negation of human beings. Spirit world does exist, but not for current human beings to communicate with. The man who can really communicate with spirit world must be a man with perfect human nature, otherwise, the communication is not authentic, or it goes astray.

8. Other superstitions

There are a variety of other numberless superstitions, which are the trash descending from human history. If I criticize them here one by one, many people would not accept it emotionally. However, these superstitions will surely be out of sight and disappear as science and human civilization develops.

The past of humanity is a time ruled by religion and superstition; the present of humanity is a time of science combined with religion and superstition. The future of humanity will be a time of science and religion mixing together under the light of ration.

17. Current Crises Faced by Humanity

Xuefeng

(Translated by Conglong)

The crises faced by humanity has been long-standing. There had been warnings in Bible, Koran and 'the Book of Earth Mother' of Buddhism. In recent twenty years, many scientists, ideologists, and spiritual leaders have all sensed the crises faced by humanity are getting more and more serious. They can be summarized as follows:

Water resource shortages and pollution, food shortages, rapid population growth, air pollution, widespread of strong virus, leakage of nuclear facilities, desertification, endangered species, ecological imbalance, greenhouse effect, ozone depletion, competition of nuclear weapons, etc.

There are also some people have foreseen the culture crisis, ethic crisis and belief crisis.

All the above crises are only the crises on surface and they are not the core crisis.

*The core crisis faced by humanity is the crisis of the soul.
All the above crisis results from the crisis of the soul.
If we only focus on the superficial but ignore the core, it is impossible to resolve them. The crises will become even more severe, which would end up with humanity extinction and earth destruction.*

Only very few enlightened people can sense some other crises like race extinction and religious virus.

Others like the crisis of disappearance of a city in one night, and a beam of wave causing the death of billions of people in a few minutes will definitely not be understood and conceived by ordinary people.

The core crisis of humanity is the crisis of the soul.

Humans can hear, listen, smell, taste and sense spiritually because they have eyes, ears, nose, tongue, body and consciousness. However, humans are losing spiritual sense.

The results of failing to have spiritual sense are:

- Not able to feel the existence of the Greatest Creator
- Not able to feel the existence of the god, Buddha or celestials.
- Not able to feel the existence of thirty-six dimensional spaces
- Not able to feel the existence of “the non-material” and “negative universe”
- Do not understand the concept of “horizontal time”
- Too much trust on scientific findings, and atheism becomes popular
- Do not believe the law of cause and effect
- Do not realize the magic of consciousness
- Do not believe reincarnation
- Self-centered and arrogant

If a man loses the spiritual sense, he loses spirituality. And as a result, he will not be able to have a perfect human nature:

- His thoughts are prisoned in three-dimensional space
- Does not acknowledge the regularity and certainties
- Does not believe the law of cause and effect
- Does not believe reincarnation
- Believe the theory of evolution, “law of jungle” and “survival of the fittest”
- Only value short term interests, and ignore long-term consequences
- Rotten morals and falling humanity
- Lack of gratitude

A man who loses spiritual sense will be just like a black hole, only absorb stuff in but never contribute. Moreover, he is like a virus, which only does destruction to the surrounding environment.

The above statements have shown that the core crisis of human being is the crisis of soul, and it is the root cause of why one cannot have a happy and free life.

1.His thoughts are prisoned in three-dimensional space.

He believes that earth is the only habitat for human beings, and completely denies the existence of other spaces; and regards any other doctrines or theories he is not able to understand as superstitions or fallacies, and blocks the way for human beings to pursue other higher dimensional spaces.

2.Does not acknowledge the regularity and certainties.

He sees many phenomena as accidents, and doesn't realize that all natural disasters are caused by ill consciousness.

3. Does not believe the law of cause and effect

He attaches too much weight on win and loss, uses any means to achieve the goal, and ignores the effects that will cause in later lifetimes.

4. Does not believe reincarnation

He thinks that death is the end of life; so does anything as he/she pleases without conscience; and regards fame, wealth and power as the symbols of a successful life.

5. Apply the theory of evolution in human society; believe "law of jungle", "survival of the fittest".

He stops nothing to achieve his goal, which may include making miseries to other people, polluting rivers, bullying the kind, lying and deceiving.

6. Only value short term interests, and ignore long-term consequences.

Use competition as primary means to promote social development, therefore, making nuclear and biological weapons, frantically developing heavy industries that damage environment, predatory exploitation of resources, and treating all people as potential rivals or enemies.

7. Rotten morals and falling humanity

He does not respect god, buddha, saints and sages, and does not respect his teacher, father and brother. He is violent, use to cheat and not shameful of his behaviors.

Lying, bullying the weak, abusing women, killing people... He does all evils. Just like what described in the ancient Chinese book "Tractate of the Most High One on Actions and Consequences"(太上感应篇):

The crimes of the wicked:

sometimes there is someone who behaves without righteousness, and moves against rationality, who defrauds ignorant and naive people, vilifies one's schoolmates, employs lies, fraud, espionage, plots, sting operations, and entrapment against others, who slanders and criticizes one's extended and immediate family members maliciously, who is cruel, irrational, and self-willed, who oppresses those below him and claims their merit for himself, but cringes before those above him to win their favor, who has no feeling for favors received, but harbors endless resentment, who rewards those irrelevant with righteousness, but punishes the innocent, who slays people to take their wealth, and overthrows people to occupy their positions, who slays captives and slaughters those who surrender, who denigrates the righteous and expels the wise, who wrongs orphans and coerces widows, who ignores the law and receives bribes, who takes the straight as crooked and the crooked as straight, who knowing his faults does not correct them, and knowing the good does not do it, who prays for people's misfortunes, wishes people to encounter disaster, destroys people's success, sullies people's innocence, pilfers people's harvests, masks people's good and kind deeds, and who generate hatred and resentment if desires are not fulfilled." etc.

A moral person with spirituality knows he should revere the Greatest Creator and walk on the way of the Greatest Creator's, and is aware of his weakness as a human, so he will not be arrogant. He realizes he should cultivate himself, and knows he needs to take care of, cherish, respect and love mother nature, its resources and all life beings.

He will never leave the wastewater of factories, mines, hospitals and cities to rivers, streams and lands.

He will never hunt and eat the meat of wild animals.

He will never destroy forests, mountains and grasslands.

He will never indulge in power, money, beauty, and let his greed expand, not even use any means to satisfy his evil desires.

He will never use his power to serve his own or his family's interests. Nor bully or suppress others.

He will never sell fake or shoddy goods

He will never steal other person's research findings to gain fame for himself.

He will never make life-threatening nuclear weapons and biological weapons.

He will never provoke conflicts among people, to profit from it.

He will never suppress any new ideas, new cultures or new values.

8.Lack of gratitude

In his heart, there is no place for the Greatest Creator, gods, parents, elders, the society, other people; he only demands and is not willing to give.

---

Even a plant bears fruits as long as we water and fertilize it.

A chicken produces eggs as long as we feed it.

A dog will be a good safeguard of our home as long as it is been taken good care.

A man who loses spiritual sense will be just like a black hole, only absorb stuff in but never contribute. Moreover, he is like a virus, which only does destruction to the surrounding environment.

The above statements have shown that the core crisis of human being is the crisis of soul, and it is the root cause of why one cannot have a happy and free life.

If we look earth from a height of 1000 meters, and focus on the cities of the world, we will find the survival situation of human beings is just like a group of ants on a hot pot, running around hastily. You don't know where these "ants" are going to; they just follow their senses with no purposes. They move quickly all together once they spot an animal corpse or a drop of oil; they follow where the trend is. If you ask one of the "ants": Why are you so busy every day? Where do you rush for? His answer will be: I'm looking for something to eat, drink and a place to live. As for where to go, I will go wherever I can find food, drinks and a place to live.

The secular world is just like an animal world. Some people stand themselves out, but where do they go after they get out? They go to religions.

All religions, whether it is good or evil, they are made of people who have spiritual pursuit. A real disciple of any religion is superior, in spiritual aspect, to any kings or great men.

So we can say, all people in secular world are sleeping and people in religion are awake. The formers do not have spiritual direction as the latters do.

However, with the development of science and the growth of human wisdom, many people in religions start to confuse and are not able to tell the direction. Many disciples are like gamblers; they stake all their energy and wisdom on the religion they belong to, although they know that they can't win back what they have lost, they want to keep "gambling"; they even want to persuade others to gamble with them to feel psychologically balanced. Just like the fox that has lost his frozen tail on the ice, he has lost the tail, he has been laughed at and left alone by other foxes, he also knows that he doesn't look good without a tail, but in order to comfort himself, he tries to persuade others that a fox without a tail is the most beautiful fox, and others are all fools if they don't cut their tails.

People always have an illusion; they think truth lies where the crowds are, otherwise, why so many people go there?

People always have an illusion; they think those religions or organizations that are strong and powerful can point to a place with real happiness, otherwise, how it can grow so big?

People always have an illusion; they think wherever celebrities or intellectuals go must have a promising future, because these smart men will not go for and praise something blindly.

However, when they are out, they want to get in, once they get in, except bewilderment, blindly following, and some shackles they put on themselves, the only thing left they can do is waiting and hoping with a fluke mind.

What are they hoping for?

18. The Future of Humanity

Xuefeng
(Translated by Conglong)

We all look forward to an era where everyone will have a happy and worry-free life.

Let's suppose the Greatest Creator and gods do not exist, are we able to realize this dream only by relying on the wisdom of humanity?

The answer is no. Without the guide of the Greatest Creator and the power of Gods and buddhas, human being is not possible to realize this beautiful dream.

How many authorities will step aside for others?

How many rich men will contribute all their wealth to society?

How many poor people will work hard except having more children as long as they don' t need to worry about food?

Let' s imagine if the future of humanity is ruled by one religion, what will happen?

It would be terrible. (Please think of the reason yourself).

If the world is ruled by one secular government, what will happen?

Same, autocracy and incompetency will soak up the blood of the underprivileged.

If we keep current situation: different religions exist; countries act on their own will, everything is decided by the country itself, what will happen?

The world is going to collapse.

So, what will be the best living situation of humanity?

The core in short is: walk on the way of the Greatest Creator.

Build a “noninterference” government, promoting freedom in politics, economy, culture, thinking and spiritual pursuit.

Then, the future of humanity will be like the following:

1. All religions will gradually disappear; humans revere the same and the only Greatest Creator.
2. Wars between nations will no longer take place; no country will have a military force.
3. The leaders of each country are elected by its people; election is no longer manipulated by the minority. Each leader serves no longer than two terms.
4. The population will no longer be increasing unlimitedly; the growth of population will be controlled.
5. Power and wealth are no longer the most important life goals of humans.
6. People will not talk about how to fight with nature and men; the earth will become a place where all life beings coexist harmoniously.
7. Terrorist activities are going to disappear.
8. Crimes will be decreasing year by year.

9. The care of elders and the education of the youth will become the responsibilities of the whole society, which are no longer private affairs of individuals or families.
10. Family life is going to dissolve; relationship of men and women is going to show diverse forms.
11. Scientists and artists will be respected by the general.
12. Manual labor is not regarded as a less decent job.
13. A common Bill of Rights will be made; journalists will have greater freedom, the force of darkness in some regions will be curbed.
14. A lazy person will be regarded as miserable and incompetent; a parasite-like lifestyle will be seen as a pity.
15. Humans will be able to make new form of Life; intelligent robots will come into being, Sahara will be returning to green again.
16. A large number of supermen will appear: they discover the secret of brain, and find the channel to communicate with the Greatest Creator, and therefore they know the secret of time and space, the cause-and-effect relationship of lives transiting in different time and space, the secret of thinking, the power of mind, and the road towards higher level life space. These supermen will bring the material and spiritual life of humanity to a brand-new level.
17. There will not be nature disasters any more, earthquakes, floods, diseases will all vanish.
18. Earth becomes a blessed paradise, which will be serene and harmonious, prosperous and vibrant; cranes are flying in the sky. People are healthy and have a long life; everyone live in peace and enjoy their job.

In conclusion, human beings will enter an unprecedented, highly developed and civilized era, an era with happiness, abundance and freedom. Everyone will transform to a celestial at the end. We will understand all secrets by that time, each moment of our life will be extremely joyful, we will meet our family and friends who have passed away, a brilliant new life will start to unfold.

However, there is a prerequisite, which is we must walk on the way of the Greatest Creator, if we ignore it, everything will be developing in the opposite direction.

19. The Eighteen Source Causes of Life's Pain

Xuefeng

June 30, 2010

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

Life should be joyful, happy, free, and blessed, but most people's lives not only lack joy, happiness, freedom, and blessings, but also have many troubles each day and night which stimulate pain in their hearts.

We have to ask, what in hell causes the pain in life?

Let me analyze the sources of pain in life and see if they are reasonable.

1. Wrong values on value, life, LIFE, and the universe.

The values of value, life, LIFE and the universe are the GPS of life. If they are correct, the life journey will gravitate toward joy, happiness, freedom, and blessings like heaven, but once they become misdirected, life will slip toward troubles, anxieties, worries and fears like hell.

For example, "people die for money and birds die for food" is a wrong value. If one insists on such a value, pain will fill their life.

For example, "every man should take a wife and every woman should take a husband once they reach adulthood". If such a value directs your life, your life will doubtless be full of pain.

For example, "People just live a lifetime and then die like the light of candles going out" is a wrong perception of LIFE, since it ignores the laws of Karma (cause and effect) and of reincarnation. If one accepts such values, their life will definitely be messy and as confused as flies without guidance, and they will encounter a lot of pain.

For example, "There is no Greatest Creator, no Gods or Buddhas, no Celestial beings, and no heaven and hell" is also a wrong value of the universe. Such identification does not understand that "there are mountains beyond mountains, and heavens beyond heavens" and does not understand that there are "20-parallel worlds and 36-dimensional spaces". It limits one's view of spirit and soul to the narrow life field of current space so they cannot see a bright and clear future, and causes much pain in life.

2. Selfishness

People who prefer to selfishly take benefits and profits only for themselves rather than serving or contributing to others and to society will definitely live painful lives.

3. Greed

“Only take one cup of water among thousands of rivers and lakes”. If one wants to possess all rivers and lakes without restraint, their life will surely be painful.

4. Laziness

Being lazy, preferring leisure over work, being opportunistic, and stealing other people’s achievements are qualities which will inevitably lead to corruption and poorness. The result of such people is having painful lives unless they can become pigs.

5. Jealousy

When seeing other people leading lives with better conditions, or living happier, freer, and more joyful lives, one immediately has jealousy and hatred in their heart, or feels uncomfortable without reason, or cannot sit or stand peacefully, or cannot help but be mean and picky, and even wants to harm those other people, this will cause limitless pain in their own life.

6. Complaints

When one has no clear identification of themselves, cannot see clearly their own shortcomings and disadvantages, always puts the reasons of mistakes or responsibilities on others, complains a lot, including complaints to heaven, earth, society, and other people, but never finds reasons from within, such people’s lives will inevitably have pain.

7. Comparison

The consciousness of comparison is evil, once one starts to compare themselves against others, pain comes immediately.

8. Being Competitive and Aggressive

Being competitive and aggressive, always wanting to have a better life than others, always liking to show themselves off, and always wanting to be superior to others, such people will have much pain during their whole lives.

9. Arrogance

Those who are arrogant, wild and proud, unable to treat people equally while always feeling superior them, disrespectful of other people’s personalities, dignity, and freedom, always speaking in a tone of teaching and superiority, revealing contempt in their eyes, and have no basic politeness, are annoying people and they will have a lot of pain.

10. Being Dependent

Not trusting in and relying on the Greatest Creator, not trusting in and relying on oneself, putting the hope of having a happy life without the troubles of food, shelter, clothes, transportation, birth, aging, sickness, and death on someone else, always wanting to rely on and be fed by others, and placing their spiritual prop on someone else, such people will have lots of pain in life, too.

11. Infatuated and Poisoned Love

Marital love, faithful love, pledge-of-eternal love, and voluntarily suffering love are all poisonous love. Once one owns poisonous love, their life is inevitably painful.

12. Possession and Occupation

Once one owns something, they will definitely taste pain, the more one owns, the more pain will come. In order to possess something, one must spend their time, energy, and heart to own it successfully; in order to maintain all they have, they need to think thoroughly to find the solution; in order to occupy for as long a time as they can, they have to cheat, fight, intrigue against others, and even join life-and-death struggles. How can such a life not be painful?

13. Chase for Fame and Profits

Life is only one journey of LIFE in the human world. If one struggles fiercely and competes seriously in such a short time, which is like the illusion of a flower blossom, and chases for fame and profits all the time, his life will be surely full of pain.

14. Attachment

Whether it is money, rights and privileges, fame, positions, or people, as long as one attachment to things, one cannot have an independent consciousness and his own opinion, he will speak and act according to other people's opinions or wills, and become a suffering slaver or puppet.

15. Want to Change or Control others

All life beings have their own natures, "Rivers and mountains can be changed, but it is hard to alter a person's nature", if one tries to change or control others by his own interests, habits, characters, and wills, tries to have others live according to his own will, it will surely bring unhappiness to both sides, and cause many pains in life.

16. Depart from the Way of Nature

Departing from the original intention of the Greatest Creator, suppressing one's nature and love, and trying to resist nature to attain supernatural power, trying to attain special abilities, and living life without following the way of nature is just like hurling eggs against stones, such life will definitely be painful.

17. Violating Laws and Disciplines

Countries can disappear, but government cannot. In order to maintain the efficient and harmonious operation of society, governments must require their citizens to obey conventions; that is the constitution, laws, rules, and disciplines. If people do not obey the conventions, but often violate laws and disciplines, and even commit crimes, it will surely cause painful lives.

18. The Consciousnesses of Marriage, Family, Nation, Political parties, Religions, and Organizations

Once people have the above consciousnesses, once they enter into the programs of marriage, family, nation, political parties, religions, and organizations, their lives will definitely suffer.

20. The Standards of Good (Kind) People and Bad (Evil) People

Xuefeng

March 17, 2011

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

The Standards of Good (Kind) People:

- All those who bring joy, happiness, freedom, and blessings to others are good (kind) people.
- All those who lead others to the way of the Greatest Creator are good (kind) people.
- All those who help others to get through difficulties are good (kind) people.
- All those who promote others into good and harmonious relationships are good (kind) people.
- All those who love and cherish nature and LIFE are good (kind) people.
- All those who promote human beings toward the directions of peace, union, and prosperity are good (kind) people.
- All those who can live independently but do not bring troubles or pain to others are good (kind) people.
- All those who lead others to a wonderful future are good (kind) people.

The Standards of Bad (Evil) People:

-
- All those who bring to others, troubles, pain, fear, and anxieties are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who lead others to the way of the devil are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who lead others into difficulties are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who destroy nature and hurt life beings are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who block others' good futures are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who impose their own wills upon others are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who make and spread rumors are bad (evil) people.
  - All those who urge others to enter into marriage, traditional families, or any organizations are bad (evil) people.

21. Check if You are Following the Road of Devils

Xuefeng

March 16, 2011

Have you ever experienced afflictions, vexation, anxiety, sadness, and fear? Have you been cheated, bullied, blackmailed, oppressed and humiliated by others? Have you felt frustrated and desperate at life and LIFE? Do you know why all this should happen? Let me tell you, all this is the work of the devil's program, all this happens because many people are walking on the road of devils.

The program of the devil tempts people with money, wealth, fame, position, power, beautiful women, and ease and comfort to enter marriage and family, nation and state, political party and religion, businesses, cultivation groups, and various organizations. As a result, these people are kept busy rushing about for all these matters. They would rack their brains and take great risks to achieve these purposes. For these purposes they would shout their support, cause harm to others, and do damage to other life forms and the nature. People are walking on the road of devils when they struggle for their own interest, for their family's interest, for their nation's interest, for their country's interest, for their political party's interest, for their religion's interest, for their company's interest, and for their organization's interest, and when they each try to cheat the other by sheer cunning and falsehood and grab at each other's throat.

Why should things fare like this? Why does not the Greatest Creator stop us?

The principle goes like this: unity of opposites is a law of the universe—superior and inferior, up and down, bright and dark, leader and the masses, hell and heaven, higher order of LIFE and lower order of LIFE, man and ghost, man and other animals and plants, carnivores and herbivores. Otherwise, LIFE cannot go on, and the great drama of the universe cannot be staged. It is just like the case of a man for whom eating and drinking form opposites with defecations. The opposites can be united and complement each other. In addition, there is a principle of the universe, namely the sum of positive energy and negative energy is zero. Therefore, everything must be symmetrical, and there must be balance between yin and yang, and loss and gain. What one gets in and what one pays out should be orderly, and the power of angel should hold the power of devil in check.

To be more specific, in order to survive, man should have animals and plants to provide for his existence. The LIFE at the lower order must serve the LIFE at higher order. Then who will be the man, and who will be the animals and plants? Some people will go to heaven, but who will go to hell to maintain a balance? There are leaders, but there must also be the masses.

Thus, the devil's program is necessary. Without it, the universe will lose its balance. The survival of LIFE cannot be guaranteed, and the whole universe will be listless and pale.

Actually, the devil Satan is a deity, an arch angel, and chief angel, who is toiling to maintain the zero sum of positive energy and negative energy. Burdened with notoriety and bad name, he is serving the LIFE of the whole universe. He must deliver many LIFE forms to the lower order of LIFE and lead many LIFE forms to hell.

Thus, when a person is walking on the road of devil, he is making his way to the lower order of LIFE and the hell. The devil will not show any appreciation for this but will say instead, "what an ignorant fool you are!"

Now let's see whether you have taken the road of the devil. If you have one of the following eighteen items, then be careful, you are walking on the road of the devil.

1. You are in marriage and family, rushing about for your own family.

2. You are striving and struggling for your own country, nation, religion, political party, organization, or group.
3. You are concentrating yourself on making money and worrying and rushing about to amass your wealth.
4. You are racking your brain and sparing no effort to win a good fame or secure a high position for yourself.
5. You are stealing, contending, or robbing, mugging, or killing, pilfering, cheating, corrupting, bribing, or accepting bribes, or requiting kindness with enmity.
6. You are doing something in the secret, which you are afraid of being discovered.
7. You are bullying, oppressing, blackmailing, exploiting, maltreating, humiliating, or trampling on others.
8. You break your word and do not keep your promise, always trying to find an excuse or reason to exculpate yourself from your fault or crime.
9. You are eating things you are not supposed to eat, using things you have no right to use, and doing things you are not entitled to do.
10. You are affronting or desecrating the Greatest Creator, or affronting or desecrating God and Buddha, or affronting or desecrating sages and saints, or affronting or desecrating ancestors, or affronting or desecrating president of the country, or affronting or desecrating your own parents, or affronting or desecrating others.
11. You are threatening, abducting, or controlling others and restricting their freedom in the name of love or other excuses.
12. You are propagating and publicizing incorrect outlooks on life, value, LIFE, and the world.
13. You are inciting or abetting others to plot a rebellion.
14. You are spreading gossips and rumors to ruin the close and harmonious relations between others.
15. You are jealous of other's joy and happiness, and you feel resentment at other's freedom and blessing.
16. You are always envying, or complaining, or reprimanding, or hating, or detesting, or attacking, or hurting others.
17. You are always making comparison with others, or prompting others to make comparisons.
18. You are polluting the rivers, the land and the air with chemical materials, waste water, and waste gases, or polluting others' spirit and soul with negative, passive and pessimistic mood.

If you have any one of the above eighteen items, then you are walking on the road of devil. You should wake up and realize your mistakes and rein in at the brink of precipice, before it is too late to repent.

Where should I go after turning back from the cliff?

Answer: walk on the road to heaven and follow the way of the Greatest Creator!

22. The Ways which Meet Life's Needs

Xuefeng

October 23, 2014

(Translated by Transn and Edited by Kaer)

The American psychologist Abraham Maslow believed that human has six major needs: physiological, safety, love and belonging, self-esteem, self-actualization, and self-transcendence. To be specific, life needs food, water, air, sex, sleep, safety, resources, health, medical care, assurance of having a job, family affection, friendship, love, self-esteem, social status, confidence, a sense of achievement, morality, skills, creativity, and so on.

Meanwhile, Maslow also argued that human needs are hierarchical and that they will be fulfilled at each level, from bottom up. That is to say, fulfilling the physiological needs comes first, then the safety needs, and so on, and the self-transcendence efforts can only be made after self-actualization.

For me, Xuefeng, my life needs are as follows: a room with a bed, a desk, and a chair, three suits of clothes and two pairs of shoes, two meals with plain tea and simple food each day, being surrounded by like-minded people who share the same resonance of consciousness, being busy every day, having a clean, orderly, and beautiful environment, sharing everything with everyone, doing everything willingly but nothing compulsorily, peace, harmony, warmth, health; realizing my dreams and ideals, understanding LIFE and time and space, and knowing the destination ahead and the realm that LIFE can reach.

How does one realize this ideal of needs? Maslow listed them from the bottom up but I do from the top down. I have found that in Tao, virtue, benevolence, righteousness, courtesy, wisdom, credibility, achievements, sorcery, and magical art, only when there is Tao, everything else can be met.

If we start from the bottom level and first pursue magical art, then one can never reach the realm of Tao because life is too short and when we have fulfilled all our needs at the lower levels, we would have neither the time nor the energy to pursue Tao. Thus, we have to first clarify life's road ahead and the realm to which LIFE wants to take us. Once this key issue is resolved, the others will readily be.

I used to be obsessed with making money. I built my own company, and at one time I had four stores, a nightclub, a bar, a fast-food restaurant, and also leased a dancing hall, a restaurant, and a barber shop. My annual net income reached hundreds of thousands ¥RMB. Later, I miraculously survived a car accident and began to understand things differently. I found that people had unexpected good or bad fortune and that LIFE is vulnerable. If you do not first understand life's value, purpose, and meaning, and the principles and mysteries of LIFE, then no matter how you live, your life will be blind and you can never fulfill your life's needs. I then gave up my businesses and immersed myself into studying the meanings of Life and LIFE, and from there, I developed the theories of first fulfilling the top-level needs and to gradually fulfil the needs of the lower levels in a natural order.

Today, I have fulfilled all the levels and have achieved my life's needs, though this would be extremely difficult for even a president or a billionaire to do. Now, what else do I need? I only need one thing - to have fun. I do whatever is fun. The desire to enjoy the finest food, clothing, accommodation and travel, birth, senility, illness and death, fame and wealth, and leaving a lasting reputation are out of my mentality. Everyone who has communicated with me has benefited from me, so I think that becoming a guide to Life and LIFE is not only appropriate, but is also assumed.

23. Three Magic Weapons for A Carefree Life

Xuefeng

February 18, 2013

(Translated by Xidai and Edited by Kaer)

When we are born on earth, it is inevitable that we will develop many worries. Some of these worries will be for food, clothing, shelter, transportation, birth, aging, illness, and death, the worry about how to make our lives run smoothly and have wonderful futures, the worry about how to keep relatives and friends successful and safe, and the worry about how to fully enjoy love and sexual intimacy. Because of these worries, some of us will begin to walk on the way of the Greatest Creator in Lifechanyuan, although many of us might have little confidence in their futures and endure fear in their hearts.

Therefore, I will show you three magic weapons to help you achieve a carefree life. These weapons will strengthen your faith and overcome your difficulties, "help you cross your mountains and swamps", in order to arrive successfully in Heaven. The first magic weapon is having firm faith in the Greatest Creator.

“For since the creation of the world, God’s invisible qualities—his eternal power and divine nature—have been clearly seen, being understood from what has been made, so that men are without excuse.” ~ Romans 1: 20

We are created by the Greatest Creator, but how do we know this? I will present you with three examples: Every woman has breasts, but they do not provide milk until she gives birth. What does this example show? It shows that the Greatest Creator has designed this program and He is looking after the new-born babies. Look at the hairs of our eyebrows, eyelashes, and armpits. Most of our hair can grow to unlimited lengths, but not those of our eyebrows, eyelashes, and armpits. Why? Why are our eyebrows arched and the eyelashes grown on the upper and lower edges of the eyelids? Why are the armpit hairs very soft? When figuring these questions out, we will know that the Greatest Creator has taken good care of us. Upon reaching the age of puberty, we will develop special feelings of attachment with members of the opposite sex, and when kissing and fondling, women’s vaginas will become moist and prepare for love-making. If their vaginas remained dry, they would not be able to enjoy the pleasure of sexual love. This program is very complex, so what can we learn from it? We shall learn that sexual love is a precious gift bestowed by the Greatest Creator to human beings and it fills our lives with infinite fascination and beauty.

It is only when we become good at reading and understanding the book without words of nature that we will learn how well the Greatest Creator has taken care of human beings in every way and form, so we will know that we have been created by the Greatest Creator and that the Greatest Creator is surely looking after us. It is only by living in accordance with what the Greatest Creator has designed for us that we will have no worries about our futures and definitely have a carefree life.

The second magic weapon is believing in Karma.

“Reap what you have sown”, “Those who do good are rewarded and those who do wrong are punished. Good and evil will have their karmic retribution when their time comes. And when the time arrives, one will get all the rewards they deserve”, “Disasters and blessings have no entry gates of their own; they are summoned by people. The effects of good and evil are like shadows following their forms.” “Therefore, a joyous man speaks what is good, thinks what is good, and does what is good; each day he does these three things, and in three years, heaven will bequeath to him good fortune, but an unlucky man is he who speaks what is evil, thinks what is evil, and does what is evil; each day he does these three things, and in three years, heaven will strike him with misfortune.” “The cause and effect are perfectly matching. The mill of the Greatest Creator grinds slow but sure.” “If you want to know your past, look into your present conditions. If you want to know your future, look into your present actions.”

We need to believe in karma. When we believe in karma, we will no longer complain to heaven, earth, individuals, or society, and accept all the twists and turns in our lives quietly and peacefully. What is more is that when we understand the law of causality, we will have no worries that we will surely have beautiful pictures of life in the future as we pursue sincerity, kindness, beauty, love, faith, and honesty. We will have no worries that everything will treat us nicely when we treat them nicely and do no harm to nature, any living beings, any person, or to society.

The third magic weapon is putting our best into everything that we do.

“Submit to the will of Heaven, do what one can”, just put out our best efforts into whatever we do on each day, treat relatives, friends, society, and nature with love from our hearts, and do our best in daily life. By doing so, we will have no regrets in our lives. As to whether our dreams come true or not, do not feel attached to the results but let the Greatest Creator arrange all. “Using a saw pulled by a rope, in time, any block of wood, no matter how thick, can be sawed through, just as drops of water will wear away a stone. In the same way, those who cultivate Tao must constantly exert themselves in their explorations. Water flows naturally into channels, and the gourd, when it ripens, sheds its stalk naturally. Thus, the person who wishes to master Tao has only to persevere in self-cultivation, and they will eventually become accomplished.” We will have no worries only if we do our best in everything.

Having firm faith in the Greatest Creator, believing in karma, and giving our best in all that we do are three magic weapons to bring you a carefree life. If you have the three magic weapons, your life will be like, “let the wind blow and the waves beat, better far than idly strolling in the courtyard.” You will no longer have worries about food, clothing, shelter, transportation, birth, aging, illness, or death. You will have a very bright future and a carefree life. If you can keep this state in your lifetime, you will arrive in Heaven when leaving the earth.

24. Collecting New Era Life Values from Global Citizens

Xuefeng

May 20, 2014

(Translated by Tongxin, Conglong and Edited by Kaer)

In order to inherit the wisdom of the past saints and sages comprehensively and to absorb the precious thoughts of today's saints and sages, and to realize the dreams of "the talented will be put to good use, and the whole world will be one family", "no one would pocket anything found on the ground, and doors are not bolted at night", and "everyone is joyful, happy, free, and blessed; human beings can develop sustainably", the 800 Values for New Era Human Beings will begin its third revision.

Every citizen on earth can take part in this activity regardless of which religion, political party, country, nation, or ethnic background he or she belongs. Anyone interested please selflessly devote your wisdom to the betterment of the entire human race, because as long as your thoughts are beneficial to the interests of all humanity, we will accept and compile them into the third version of the 800 Values for New Era Human Beings.

Please note that we are calling for values, not views or beliefs. We are calling for Life Values, not market values, country values, religious values, values for political parties, etc.

Values are the crystallization of wisdom and thoughts, but thoughts and wisdom are not values. The values we need are life principles to follow. Therefore, please condense your wisdom and thoughts into values which can be expressed concisely and succinctly, but with rich content, and use one sentence instead of two sentences if it is already clear enough. Please do not explain your values or present your reasoning with long texts.

Please contribute your wisdom and values regarding these eight aspects:

- How to achieve a harmonious coexistence among people, society, and nature.
- How to let everyone on earth have dignified, joyful, happy, free, and blessed lives.
- What values, modes, and phenomena in people's lives are ignorant and backward, and with what new ones should they be replaced?
- What kind of lives should we lead in order to resonate with the laws of nature and of human nature?
- What kind of belief system, moral system, and value system should we build?

- What is the meaning of civilization and what kind of civilized principles and etiquette should we follow?
- The universe is infinite and creation is limitless, so toward what direction should we walk and what kind of life level or condition should we pursue?
- What right values should human beings follow in all aspects of the fields of their production and lives.

We will bring people into the highly civilized Lifechanyuan era, and this will be a common objective for all human beings. We hope everyone on earth will participate in it actively, and we look forward to the contributions of foresight and understanding, and incisive values by the sages of this time.

What we need is positive, optimistic, and very creative energy. Therefore, we will turn a deaf ear to all that is negative and pessimistic. For those values which are directive or educative, or sound like advice or guidance, unless you have done it yourself and have reached that standard, please do not bother us because we have no time to listen to moralizing.

But if your values are correct, we will follow them immediately. The Second Home of Lifechanyuan is a big international family, and this family leads a life completely according to the 800 Values for New Era Human Beings. As the life and production modes in the Second Home become more and more perfect, it will achieve a lever at which it will be able to change the fate of humans and will lead the world into a higher, more civilized level.

Please be aware that many groups of people in the world are totally selfless and have dedicated their lives to the happiness of all people. These are the pioneers who are moving forward and are striving for the best.

Please spread this article as widely as you can!

25. Eight Truths by which to Lead a Life

Xuefeng

(Edited by Kaer)

Living in this world, we need to understand why we do and how we should, or we will live an unclear and muddled life. For every road on the trip ahead, there must be a destination and different ways of living will ultimately afford us different views and lead us to different destinations.

As a messenger of the Greatest Creator, the incarnation of Gods, Buddha, Celestial beings, Saints, and the guide for human spirits and souls, I propose the following eight truths by which to live. Please examine and consider them, and choose whether they make sense and whether they can benefit you.

1. Rivers have sources and trees have roots, people have parents and

Celestial Beings have ancestors. Everything has its origin and all effects have their causes. Rivers will run dry without sources, trees will wither without roots, people will scatter without parents, and Celestial Beings will fall without ancestors. Therefore, in living a life, we have to connect our souls to their source to be clear and to gain eternity. The source of everything is the Greatest Creator, and we, our lives within our LIFE, should always keep the Greatest Creator in mind and live in accordance with the will of the Greatest Creator. In this way, our life can reach a wonderful destination in the end.

2. Life is a short journey of LIFE in the mortal world which begins when we are born and ends when we die. You were there before you were born and will still be there after you die. Birth and death are only LIFE phenomena, and not the beginning and end of LIFE, so it is very important to learn from where you came and to where you are going.

3. The mortal world is a transition between different levels and different types of LIVE. Passengers traveling in all directions will transit through this mortal world and stay for periods of time whether they will ultimately ascend or descend. Therefore, the mortal world is populated with all levels and all types of LIFE. Gods, Buddha, Celestial Beings, Saints, goblins, devils, ghosts, monsters, and demons all exist in the mortal world, and as such, anyone's life trip can be misdirected by only slight miscalculations. We must therefore sharpen our eyes and be weary of the negative influences in life.

4. Everything in this world exists within the unity of opposites and the result of it is always neutral. That is, the amount of positive and negative energy in the universe is always equal. What you have paid and what you have gained are always equal. This means that what one gets and what they give within a lifetime are equal. If you gain more, you must pay more. And if you pay more, you will gain more. If someone pays a lot in their life stage but gains little, then their extra payout will await them in the bank of heaven: Tao, but if one gains more than they pay in this life stage, then they will owe a debt which must be and can be paid off in many different ways, such as becoming a cow or a horse in the next life, or becoming a chicken or pig and being slaughtered and eaten, or working for others or even falling into the lowest space of LIFE and having to withstand great stress, pain, and hardship. Therefore, we should try our best to pay more and gain less in this stage of life because no one can enjoy more than enough blessing and they must know when to stop.

5. We can become enlightened from nature. That is, each LIFE needs to live to its fullest and live itself out. Only thusly, can this world be colorful and wondrous. Therefore, everyone has to live out their own innate nature by living for their own well-being first. It is only when people live well that they can be beneficial to their loved ones and others. If they do not live for their own well-being, then they will bring endless pain and trouble to everyone and become burdens and loads. For instance, some parents live bitter lives and often cannot meet their basic life necessities such as birth, illness, retirement, and death, so they can never bring blessings to their children. We often hear parents say, “My child! I have suffered through a bitter life all for my child!”. This attitude is an excuse for their bad life because they want to transfer their pain to their children and make those children suffer guilty consciences for their parent’s deprivation. Consequently, not only does the parent deprive themselves, but then they guilt-trip their child. This kind of outlook on life is incisively manifested by married couples when the husband and wife each believe that they have sacrificed for the other and that the other owes them. As a result, both suffer and neither lives out their Tathagata nature. In short, one has to live for their own sake and their own well-being because anyone who lives for others will not only spoil their own life, but will also inflict heavy psychological burdens and spiritual bondage upon others.

6. What is there for people to live for? It is to live for their innate natures, for their gifted natures, to live happy, joyful, free, and blessed lives, and to leave no regrets, remorse, resentment, or sorry at the end. To do this, one cannot live for power, wealth, fame, beauty, vanity, religion, political party, state, nationality, family, or others. They must not try to possess or control anything or anyone, but must accept them as they are and associate with others by following predestined relationships, to act in accordance with their natures, and to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. They must deliver their lives into the hands of the Greatest Creator through the arrangements of Tao. Everything physical is a game, but only the soul is true and worthy. Do not be too serious or persistent on anything. Go for it if it pleases and uplifts, but forget it if it hurts or degrades. People will die and fields will become lakes and that which we are so serious and persistent about or which troubles us now will eventually vanish from our consciousnesses. Why bother?

7. Everything in life runs in Tao. Everything is karma. “The Lord is everywhere”, “You reap what you sow”, “Divine punishments, though slow, are always true with big meshes, letting nothing slip through”. Therefore, we must lead honorable and upright lives which are centered on sincerity, kindness, beauty, love, faith, and honesty. No one should be stealthy or talk about spirits, deities, fortunes, or disasters. “A good conscience knows no fear”. Whatever one thinks, speaks, and does should be faithful to the earth, the sky, others, and society, and to their own consciences. In this way, their life journey will become smoother and more comfortable as time goes on. Their LIFE’s future will also be smoother and more beautiful.

8. Just do ordinary, simple things within the capacity of your lifetime. Be content to be ordinary and do not pursue the extraordinary. Settle on doing more small things and avoid attempting big things. Learn how to enjoy the unknowingly quiet life and avoid being the target of the known and the noisy. “A thousand miles can be covered by constant small steps, and rivers and seas are filled where small streams gather”. We should always direct our efforts toward laying this kind of foundation. In this way, with persistence over time, the most ideal life will appear, and the most beautiful dreams will come true.

These eight life truths are only my perceptions and are only fit for a small minority. Accordingly, the majority of people are unable to accept them. If you think they make sense, then use them as references. If you think they do not make sense, then find your own ways. We do not discuss, debate, or argue.

26. Life Guide with Philosophical Dialectics

Xuefeng

(Translated by Transn and Edited by Kaer)

Philosophy is the abstract theory about the nature of the universe and its developmental law as well as the relationship between thinking and being. Dialectics is the theory of the unity of opposites, the contradictory movements of things, and the universal connections and characteristics of them. In terms of properties, dialectics is part of and resides within the category of philosophy. It is like consciousness and thinking. Thinking is part of and resides within the category of consciousness. Speaking metaphorically, philosophy is the human body and dialectics are its eyes. Philosophy deals with the broad sense while dialectics deals with the narrow sense. Philosophy is general while dialectics is specific.

It is my opinion that philosophy is science and should be understood and reasoned with real evidence, without which it would not be logical, and that would in turn lead to wrong conclusions. For instance, both the absolute idealism and absolute materialism sever the unity between the two sides of the contradiction. Such as, religion, which emphasizes more about the idealism and ignores the value and meaning of real existence. And pragmatism which stresses more about existence itself, but less about its causes.

The theory system of Lifechanyuan is mainly based on real evidence, although I have previously expounded more about the teachings and instructions of Gods, Buddha, Celestial Beings, and Saints in human history as the core, which is somewhat empty for the faithless, and not only lack operability, but also lack the cognition of the scientific nature of the spatial-temporal universe, Life, and LIFE. It is like Lao Tzu's descriptions of Tao: "An image of what existed before God", "The Tao that can be discussed is not Absolute Tao", "Evasive, elusive, yet latent within it, are forms. Dark and dim, yet latent within it is the life-force", too specious to be understood by anyone who is not extremely wise.

How do we guide our Lives with philosophical dialectics?

"Buddha has no settled rules. Buddha's rules always vary according to the situation", "Keep the main and change the others according to the situation",

"To be selfless is to achieve self", "To be free from ego is to achieve ego",

"To own nothing is to own everything", and so on which I summed up conforms to dialectics in the philosophical sense and can guide Life. Now we will talk in detail about how to understand the world and how to guide our Lives with philosophical dialectics.

First, let us see the universal law of the unity of opposites in a philosophical sense. This law is to say that all things in the universe consist of pro and con factors which are opposite, incompatible, and contradictory as fire and water. But paradoxically, it is precisely this organic unity of contradictions that makes the world complex and colorful. Specifically, positive balances negative, light balances dark, true balances false, good balances evil, yin balances yang, male balances female, up balances down, the rise balances the fall, death balances life, the tangible balances the intangible, and so on. How can this analysis be significant to guide our Lives?

The law of the unity of opposites tells us that there is the physical world but also the spiritual, heaven but also hell, material structure but also the non-material, and the tangible human but also the intangible God. As such, our consciousness and thinking are not limited to our mortal Lives and will not be limited to the material world that we see. Our field of knowledge can expand to unlimited space and time, to the afterlife, to the nonmaterial world which we can neither see nor hear from our current place. What a remarkable leap of faith this is! Thus, as human beings, we should not only value the present, but also consider the future, not only pay attention to reality, but also consider nothingness, not only cherish life, but also pay attention to the afterlife.

Let us now look at the law of mutual change of quality and quantity in a dialectic sense. This law says that any change of quality must be based on an accumulation of quantity. When the accumulation of a quantity becomes saturated and passes a critical point, its quality or qualities will change. This law has immeasurable value and significance in guiding our Lives. From the law of the unity of opposites, we understand that while there are humans, there must be Gods. Since there are Gods, the existence of Celestial Beings and Buddha become reasonable. Humans, Gods, Buddha, and Celestial Beings are LIFE of different natures. People have human nature, Gods have divine nature, Celestial Beings have theirs, and Buddha has Buddhist nature. If human nature is to be sublimed to divine nature, there must be an accumulation of quantity and the accumulation must develop towards the divine nature. “A thousand miles cannot be covered without an accumulation of steps and there will be no rivers or seas without the integration of small streams.” If one gradually accumulates a divine nature, then in accordance with the law of mutual change of quality and quantity, they will eventually become Godlike.

Based on the dialectic law of the negation of negation, we can conclude that, “New things must conquer old things”. “New things’ refers to those which are in line with objective law and possess strong vitality and broad developmental prospects. Old things are those that run counter to objective law and will die out”.

To determine whether a thing is new or old is to look at its nature, not its form or appearance.

For example, many new religions have sprung up like mushrooms with new forms and manifestations, but their natures are variations fermented in old nests, and they are not new at all.

Now let us look at the new methods, new measures, and new channels, with the aim of earning money across the globe, such as the transformation from traditional manufacturing industries to service and info-tech industries which appear new when seen from their form and appearance, but are still, essentially ways to make money. Thus, they are not new because the nature of their profit motive has remained the same.

“As in the Yangtze River, the waves behind ride on the ones before, new generations excel the old.” This is a reflection and portrayal of the law of the negation of negation. From the phenomenon of the global rise of the divorce rate and the growing number of singles, we can surmise a law such that the family as a traditional production and life mode will be gradually replaced with a new form of production and life mode. This is an objective law which will not change by people’s subjective wills and will not stop advancing just because people resent it or rebel against it. This new mode is replacing the traditional production and life mode, is a new thing, and no force can prevent its development and growth once it happens. However, the growth and development of new things is bound to suffer and will have to overcome arduous and tortuous processes. When you invest yourself into the development of new things, you must be psychologically and spiritually prepared to suffer difficult times or the new things will eliminate you. The prospects of old things are dark but the prospects of new things are bright, so the farther you walk on the way of old things, the narrower it becomes, but the farther you walk on the way of new things, the wider it becomes.

It rises here but sets there. It increases here but decreases there. “Two extremes are connected but will go in different directions when pushed too far.” “The rise is sudden but so is the fall.” “Ill gain brings ill fate.” “Karma is the shadow following a body.” Extreme joy begets sorrow, out of the extreme misfortune comes fortune. All these conform to dialectics, so we have to remain alert and have confidence all the while. After we understand the universal law that positive and negative energies always balance out, we can deal with Life affairs skillfully and easily. We know that when we constantly give and contribute rather than take and consume, we will accumulate many treasures, but where? They are reserved in the afterlife or the nonmaterial world. Who will enjoy these treasures? No one can, other than the one who has accumulated them. Otherwise, the universal law that positive and negative energy always balance out would be violated. As it is a universal law, it is a necessary procedure. When you pay, you must receive. When you receive, you must pay. If you have given but have not received in the mortal world, then you will undoubtedly receive in your next life or in heaven. Otherwise, the universe would be unfair and untrue.

Everything has its destiny. The total energy in the universe is constant. This is consistent with the law of the conservation of energy (and of matter). In terms of philosophy, yin cannot exist without yang and yang cannot grow without yin. “Yin and yang are the law and order of the changes of all things”—Huangdi Neijing. As we know from the water on the earth, regardless of the surging rivers brought on by rainstorms or the increase of snow cover on mountaintop, its total volume remains constant. It is destiny. This is to say that the quantity of LIFE in the universe is constant. It increases here but decreases there. It rises here but falls there. Well then, where does the increase in human population come from? Are new Lives born out of thin air? People who have explored and studied anything about reincarnation know that human reincarnation happens several days before birth. Therefore, an embryo or fetus does not contain LIFE. It can only be called LIFE when a reincarnated soul enters into it. Thus, we know that a new LIFE will only be born when an old one passes on. There is no LIFE without death and no death without LIFE. That is it! In this case, we know that the increased LIFE on the earth must have come from somewhere. If a new LIFE is born, then an old one must have ended. If we analyze carefully, we may wonder about the many animals on the earth that have died. Where have they gone? Have they become human? Where will their LIVES go if the earth has a mass extinction in the future? Please refer to 36-Dimensional Space for the answers.

Philosophical dialectics can guide our Lives. We have just discussed how to guide our Lives by philosophy from the perspective of philosophy. This enlightenment is only the tip of the iceberg. You may draw general conclusions about other cases from specific ones. I hope that each one of you will lead a smart life and that you will have wonderful LIFE prospects.

27. Life Is but An Illusion

Xuefeng

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Illusions are phenomena that appear in dreams, fantasies, and phantasms. With further inferences, all phenomena that arise quickly, remain briefly, and then disappear equally quickly can also be thought of as illusions.

Mirages are illusions, as are dreams, soap bubble patterns, and even thoughts at the end of the day or when we are bored will form them. It can be inferred that flashes in pans are illusions, a large number of cells, microbes, and fungi are illusions, many photos online are illusions, computer games are illusions, and movies and TV shows are illusions, too.

Dreams are illusions because the dream world lasts for a short time. If one dreams for a hundred years continuously, would that be an illusion or reality? Of course, it would still be a dream because the moment that the person wakes up, the dream would disappear, so how could the dream not be an illusion? It can be concluded that no matter how long a phenomenon exists, as long as it disappears completely at some point, it too must be an illusion. Thus, it is possible to conclude that life is an illusion because even someone who lives for a hundred years will eventually disappear altogether, so why would that be different?

Having dreamed throughout the night, we wake up in the morning, and no matter how much we twisted and turned during our dreams, we no longer care about anything that happened in them because after all, they were fantasies, dreams, and illusions. A dream will not affect our mood or state of mind too much. Here is the question: since we have deduced that life is an illusion, is it necessary to be sad for our twists and turns in life? Is it necessary to be anxious about things in our life; is it necessary to struggle hard for things and hunger to reach goals; is it necessary to make others behave according to our own wills? When the illusion of life disappears, will it not float away as a dream? When the earth we live on disappears completely in the infinite universe and all of humanity disappears as an illusion? What about a single person?

To analyze and judge this question, I want to wake you from your dream to let you not be a human being, but rather a Celestial being. When you wake up, will you still go into your dream to be nostalgic for something or to fight for someone in your dreams? Of course not, because it was an illusion; a fantasy. Well, life is also an illusion and a fantasy, so shall we be racked by people and things in this illusion? Of course not!

Who remembers their grandparents' grandparents? Not to mention the fact that the memories of our grandparents' grandparents are already blurred even in the incomplete memories of our grandparents. Who will remember us a hundred years after we die? We take for granted that we have importance in the present, but that is a complete illusion. Many great historical figures have died. They thought that they were important back then, but what about now? The earth goes on turning and humans go on reproducing. The footsteps of civilization never stop marching forward, so it is unnecessary to be too sad when people around us die because death is a normal phenomenon and everyone will die, including ourselves, so never be overly anxious, fearful, or sorry because it is all an illusion.

Nobody can control your dream, who can even control their own life? It is delusional to think that if you do something, you will get something. That is impossible! You cannot secure yourself against all risks and dangers. How can people control your life? You cannot wear shoes when you are supposed to be barefoot and you cannot stay on the mountain when you are supposed to leave. Cold shoulders cannot be expected when you are thriving and on the way up. That every cloud has its silver lining may be forgotten in despair and adversity. Therefore, never force yourself to learn, suppress yourself to work, or force yourself to do what you dislike and which is against your own better judgement. No matter how successful you are, outstanding or a billionaire, or how glorious your family reputation has been flowing down through many generations, when you wake up, all will have been a dream.

Affection and love tactics are the most difficult traps for people to escape; they are the most terrible traps in life. "Ask the mortal world what love is? It drives one mad to death." Now think about it, life is but an illusion. After waking up, everything will be nothing, so is it necessary to be bogged down on affection and love? It might actually be better to live as a beau; a dandy!

What people fear most is losing what they own and are most attached to: their property, their power and status, their reputation, and of course their most beloved lover, however they are not at all necessary. What really belongs to you and cannot escape is yours, but if it is not yours, you cannot keep it. Anyway, one looks at life, it is still an illusion which can be shattered and vanish in a moment, so why make yourself suffer for it? Why not enjoy a natural and unrestrained dream?

Has anyone in history been so intelligent and so powerful that they could control everything? Not one! Everyone is acting in a play; they are playing roles; following scripts. If anyone could control all things with their wisdom and power, their fortunes would be as boundless as the East China Sea and they would live a very happy, healthy, and eternal life – forever. Have there been any? Not one! This proves that man is only a grain of sand in a sandstorm, a drop of water in the sea, and that nothing can really be controlled by anyone. So why not just follow predestined relationships and take things as they come? Life will be easier and more natural.

People expend a lot of time and effort on their health and appearance, yet regardless of their daily exercise and nutritious eating habits, the sick are still sick and the short-lived still come to untimely ends. No matter how much paint and powder one applies to their face or how much plastic surgery they undergo, wrinkles still creep onto the forehead and cheeks as time passes, and signs of ageing become more and more visible every day. These changes cannot be resisted, so why try to fight them when you know that you cannot? Life is too short! Fiddle with this today, fiddle with that tomorrow, and remain confused. You will still get old, fade away, and die. It is a bad deal to live in fantasies but an even worse one is to indulge them.

Do you worry? What do you worry about? You were worried when you were dreaming. What about when you woke up? My point is that there is no need to worry about anything because ALL of life is ultimately only a dream. There are no real scenarios because life will end. Will all the worry not be gone with the wind? Enjoy the present, do not worry about tomorrow or the next day. Everyone's life has been predetermined by their destiny – their script. Worry is useless, so why persist with this fantasy, waste your recreation time, and ruin your relaxed mood.

Your state of mind is different when you are asleep than when you are awake. Sleeping people lead befuddled lives in their dream worlds of obsession, worry, anxiety, sorrow, and fear, however fully awake people know that all is but an illusion, so they have neither strong bliss nor intense grief, but are just pleasant, relaxed, and calm. Who are these people? Celestial beings, of course!

Within the universe, everything is an illusion except for the Greatest Creator. People live in illusions because all LIVES are illusions. In this sense, illusions are reality; illusions are stages of LIFE. People live one dream after another and live a large number of dreams throughout their lives because lives consist of dreams. Although people live in illusions today, this is really the entirety of human life. Never expect to lead a real life without it being an illusion. Even the Thousand-year World, the Ten-thousand-year World, and the Celestial Islands Continent of the Elysium world are all illusions. The differences are that those illusions are more beautiful and splendid and go on much longer.

It is very clear that everything is an illusion, but most people are too stubborn, obstinate, and perverse to see them as such and are convinced that they are living in reality. When one awakens from their dreams, their soap bubbles will burst and they will say goodbye to their dream, but they will do it unwillingly and with disappointment and frustration. Knowing that life is an illusion, how does one lead a wonderful life?

Whatever it is that makes you happy, joyful, free, and blessed; just do it! Follow your best judgement – have fun, then play!

If something bothers you but you need to do it, make a perfunctory effort. No fun: see you later! Better yet: never see you again!

28. The Second Home (Now New Oasis for Life) Does Not Take the Road of Reverting to Ancient Civilizations

Xuefeng

People have created splendid cultures and invented innumerable production tools and living products. Inventions, innovations, and scientific developments have relieved us from backward and primitive production and living modes. Except for those gifts bestowed by nature, all that we enjoy today comes from those advancements. If civilization abandons science and technology, then it would not be an advancement, but a regression.

The Way of the Greatest Creator is the way of nature. Scientific inventions and technological advancements have not gone against nature, but some have been used in irrational ways. Achievements of technological inventions and progress have gone against the ways of nature in many aspects, but the fault is not theirs; rather, it is from people's misuse out of selfishness and greed.

Cutting vegetables is a natural use for a knife but using it to cut woods or to kill people is a misuse. The problem lies not with the knife, but rather with the person who misuses it. It would be extremely illogical to blame the knife rather than to look into the false consciousness of the person who behaves irrationally.

Would it be better to use toilet paper or clods of soil to wipe ones buttock? Of course, toilet paper is better, at least more hygienic. If a toilet paper manufacturer cuts a large amount of woods and then spills wastewater into rivers, it would not be the fault of the toilet paper, but that of the manufacturer who has ignored the result of wrong behavior by only pursuing economic profit.

Some people are under the mistaken belief that the production and life mode of the Second Home will lead to a reversion to primitive conditions, but returning to nature does not include doing such things as eating raw animal flesh and drinking its blood or wearing the skins and furs of animals. Rather, it means that we should live according to the will of the Greatest Creator and by the principle that people need to coexist with nature harmoniously. At least we can say that people should not advance at the price of natural destruction, but according to the fundamental principle of sustainability.

What we have created is a brand-new civilization which will not only inherit all the positive achievements of scientific and technological development but will also advance humanity into a more developed stage of civilization. It would not be possible for us to revert to ancient practices because although we would absorb wisdom from ancient cultures, we would not be limited by them; we would learn from their essence but would not revert to them. Our thoughts should neither be confined to ancient ones nor make us repeat the mistakes of our ancestors. Following in their footsteps, we need to initiate a new future and a new way of living which will avoid the recurring tracks of previous civilizations which have been destroyed completely.

Religions should not stop progress, politics should not be shortsighted, economies should not destroy nature, and societies should not be reluctant to advance forward. The biggest crisis facing humanity is that of the soul; all others pale in comparison. When this crisis is eliminated, all others will disappear automatically.

Do not define the Second Home by using concepts of old production and life modes and do not assume that the Second Home will be the same as any other living mode in human history. We are walking on a new road which aligns completely with the will the Greatest Creator rather than human will. It will bring happy, joyous, blessed, and free lives to people, and even allow them to evolve into celestials.

I am the spiritual guide of humanity. I will lead people to an unprecedented, amazing future, and even take some to heaven. This is not a boast; as long as you follow me, you will experience it...step by step.

29. The Mode of the New Oasis for Life will Solve Twenty-one Difficulties that Mankind is Facing

Xuefeng

June 27th, 2020

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Whether we call it Utopia, New Eden Garden, Kingdom of the Greatest Creator, or Xuefeng-style communism, Lifechanyuan's new mode of production and life in the New Oasis for Life will solve these twenty-one problems that have been handed to us over thousands of years of human history:

- 1.It will free women from their daily trivial chores forever.
- 2.The elderly will lead their happiest lives in old age whether they have children and receive pensions or not.
- 3.The phenomenon of orphans will disappear forever; all children will lead lives full of love and care and will be well-educated.
- 4.The phenomena of people remaining unattached and lonely will disappear forever.
- 5.Domestic violence will disappear completely.
- 6.The conflicts among religions and belief systems will end forever.
- 7.Political parties will have no purpose, so competitions among them will disappear.
- 8.All people will be able to travel throughout the world freely and without restrictions.
- 9.Military expenditures will be reduced to zero because there will be no militaries
- 10.Border and land disputes between states will no longer exist.
- 11.Regional and ethnic conflicts will no longer exist and peace will abound everywhere.
- 12.Drug abuse and gambling will disappear completely.
- 13.Official corruption will disappear completely, as officials will have neither need nor ways to corrupt.
- 14.No wealth disparities will exist as everyone will have everything yet own nothing.
- 15.Courts, lawyers, and legal systems will die out gradually as they will no longer be needed.
- 16.Criminal activities will be reduced by three quarters and security will be greatly enhanced.
- 17.The population will stabilize without sharp increase and decrease and will be in balance with planetary resources.
- 18.Atmospheric pollution as well as that in all water and on the earth will disappear.
- 19.Extinction of species will end and many lost ones will return.

20. Climatic disasters will no longer occur and distinct seasons with consistent climate will become normal.
21. At least half of the people will sublimate into angels, bodhisattvas, celestial beings, and Buddhas.

Do not take this as a joke or myth or consider it an armchair strategy. It has been the firm evidence of Lifechanyuan's theories and the model of the New Oasis for Life which have been existing and developing for ten years; it is the ideal that mankind can fully realize. Whether you wish or not, and believe it or not, mankind has been bound to and is entering into the Lifechanyuan Era: Everything is running according to procedure.

30. Life Arranged Ingeniously, the Ordinary Life

Xuefeng

March 27, 2019

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Times change, lives reincarnate with their ups and downs, and human reproduction flourishes. Time and tides annihilate emperors, generals, and ministers; green grass invades countless palaces and pavilions; the strong disappear in an instant with their great achievements; heroes who had once shed blood and tears are nowhere to be found; huge amounts of wealth perish quickly like dreams, even the rich starve to death in the wilderness; in front of desolate and dilapidated empty buildings was once bumper-to-bumper traffic. The winners were frustrated; the powerful were desolate; fires were extinguished into ashes regardless of how fierce they might have been; overwhelming storms returned to calmness.

In life, it does not matter whether you win or lose; in the world, it does not matter whether you are right or wrong, gaining or losing. Everything is destined, everything is a constant, we suffer from our own actions, we harvest what we sow, we are responsible for our wins and losses, the Greatest Creator never has special mercy for anyone and never intentionally abandons anyone. Those who exploited others will be exploited; those who hurt others will be hurt exactly the same, not more and not less. Evil rages in the guise of justice but will be contained eventually; self-interest is cheating and bluffing in the name of public good, but it will eventually be recalled. Advantages taken will surely be lost and every extra gain will become a loss.

Tao is never absent, angels never leave, the devil never slackens, prosperity ends in a big mess, prosperous ages end in ruins, lavish banquets end, that which flourishes dies, phenomena will not last, but essence never changes. There are tens of thousands of ways to die; if one does not know how they will die or where they will be in a hundred years, then what is the use of being busy? Why are you in a hurry? Clouds are rolling and unfolding, flowers are blooming and falling, rushing passers-by cannot hold anything, lonely ghosts cannot find places in which to settle down. What are you fighting for; what annoys you? It is all a waste of energy, a waste of the meaning of Life.

Useless usage has great use; power, status, reputation, money, real estate, and houses are all passing clouds, and the winner of them must be captured by the devil. The states of realm, virtue, quality, etiquette, gratitude, contentment, and courtesy are all the claims of life, so one will be blessed by heaven if one possesses them. The sum of all positive and negative energy of the universe is zero; if you gain something here, you will lose something there. Looking at heaven, looking at hell, looking at the world, everything is clear, joy is sorrow, gain is loss, suffering is happiness, frugality is abundance. You might be eager to get what you want, but when your desire is met, misfortune will follow; you might be eager to achieve success, but when you succeed, you will suffer from it.

Virtuous individuals, please listen to me: avoid the urban noise and return to the rural countryside. Life is like a chess game and each one is different. We cannot see it through; we cannot explore it all. Why not raise a few chickens and ducks or go to watch the full moon in a field? Pickles and steamed buns warm the stomach and ragged clothes are like honey to the heart. The chaos of the world is not without its source, do not go back and forth hurriedly and quarreling. It is hard to tell who is right and who is wrong when all are jollifications of knacks. A big fire will burn everything down, a flood will wash everything away, the pandemic came quietly, and man-made misfortunes are everywhere. Living today, we do not know tomorrow's situation. Something superfluous might cost your life, so why rush yourself and worry?

The world is like an unsatisfactory tight dragnet, but everything is arranged ingeniously; every detail is clear, not a word or act is wrong. Do not hate anyone, do not complain about things happening in the world, results are what matter. Find the benevolence of the divine across three lifetimes. Evil things in the world are made by good people and supremely good deeds are made by evil people. Good intentions always create trouble and slander waits beside honor and favor. "Misery: happiness is to be found by its side; happiness: misery lurks beneath it!" "Disaster is a blessing in disguise". It is better to cultivate in the countryside, to be an ordinary person, not to be famous, not to fight for profit, but to light the sacred lamp in your heart and watch the world change.

Relying on other people, one will exhaust themselves on them, so why not rely on the Tao of the Greatest Creator? Everyone has a life trajectory that cannot be changed, so why bother to worry about others? Parents' suffering cannot be replaced by their children's, and the children's sins cannot be negated by their parents, let alone by others. You might think that you are doing something for the good of others but how do you know that you are not working against Tao and disturbing their trajectories? You cannot give money to others without having money in your pockets. How can you guide others to live well if you do not live well? Depend on your own experiences and feelings and do not listen to others' moral preachings.

No harm in life is greater than that which affection can do when it is deep and hurts very severely. Sentient beings are trapped in affection nets until they die in mazes of affection. If you cast your affection onto someone, then their burden will become yours, so why not direct your affection toward idyllic, green mountains and blue rivers? Attaching affection to flowers, birds, insects, and fish is more beneficial than doing so to people. How can you wash your feet while still standing in mud; how can you sever your worldly ties while still living in the world? Waves never end; repaying debts by borrowing will keep you in debt forever. We also need to repay our debts that we borrowed from nature. The only way to eradicate debt is by giving alms formlessly. Our minds should not abide in form, sound, smell, taste, touch, or dharma, but should abide nowhere. This mind abiding nowhere is our true mind which is nature, Buddha, angels, and celestials.

Looking throughout the world, the best place for life is the New Oasis for Life.

31. Check if You Are a Gambler

Xuefeng

May 22, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Do you gamble? Check this out!

What is a gambler? It is anyone who wants to win rich rewards by betting their money, youth, future, and LIFE on uncertain things which they self-identify as certainty.

Gamblers lose everything that they begin with including the clothes on their backs...eventually. Are there any who earn good lives by gambling? Casino dealers can do very well, but they are not really gambling because the games are all stacked in their favor, but most people who participate in gambling will lose and will end up with crushing losses. The truth is simple and clear, but people still want to gamble; all are gambling.

I studied carefully and discovered the surprising phenomenon that almost everyone gambles, with marriage being the biggest gamble in life. You cannot be sure of its outcome; you can never fully understand the other person's personality, outlook, temperament, character, interests, and other factors, but you are betting your whole youth and your entire life on them. You expect to be happy, joyous, harmonious, and blessed, and expect to remain in love with each other for your lifetime, but then what happens? It is not necessary to analyze the results. The eventual result of all gambling is that the gamblers all lose. Since marriage is a big gamble, the result is of course tragic. Participating in religion and becoming a believer is also gambling. You base your destiny and future by betting on the religious rituals, ideas, practices, and beliefs that you firmly believe are correct, but is your religion the absolute truth? Almost every religion claims that theirs is the only correct belief, but this is only its own wishful thinking. Can it withstand the challenges of facts, science, logic, and spiritual perception? Regarding the three major religions: Christianity, Islam, and Buddhism, they are each contradictory in terms of LIFE and death, so which one is right? After death, are there reincarnations or merely lying quietly and waiting unconsciously for a final judgement and possible resurrection? If you are not sure, then are you not gambling? Christianity practices monogamy, Islam allows men to have four wives, and Buddhists do not marry at all to become monks and nuns. Which one is consistent with the truth of the universe?

It is said that there are more than a thousand political parties in the world. No matter which one you choose to join to become a member of, you will still be doing the equivalent of gambling in a casino. Political parties are contenders for power and interest; as long as you compete and race for them, there will be winners and losers. Anything that has winners and losers is a gamble. Therefore, partisans are also gamblers.

Do you have children? If your main purpose of giving birth to children is to bring glory to your ancestors and to protect and support yourself in your old age, then you are gambling, because whether your children can bring glory to your ancestors or protect and support you in your old age is unknown and produces a questionable future. Is not putting your hard work, sweat, and hope on uncertain outcomes gambling? Are you not a gambler?

Do you spend time, energy, and money on interpersonal relationships? If so, you are gambling. Whether it is for benefit and safety, or for affection and entertainment, as long as you establish special relationships with others, you are gambling. You cannot guarantee whether the special relationships you have forged will be blessings or curses or whether you are putting yourself at risk or bringing in noble allies.

Do you trade stocks; engage in venture investments; support a company financially? If any of these are yes, then you are gambling because you do not know what any of the outcomes will be. You are just taking risks and thinking wishfully about getting generous returns. You can never be sure whether the results will be counterproductive. How different are these endeavors from going into casinos with the intention of winning big money?

Whether it is a battlefield, officialdom, a workplace, business, love, a family, a teaching field, or a relationship, its nature is the same as that of casinos. Once you enter any field, you are gambling; you ARE a gambler.

As long as you invest your time, energy, physical strength, mental energy, and even your future on something that cannot be determined for its developmental direction and future results, then you ARE gambling and you ARE a gambler.

Wake up now and ask yourself, what on earth are you here for? Are you here for a huge gamble? If you think gambling is fun and exciting, then play as much as you like! Anyway, everything is empty in the end, so why not enjoy it? However, if you know that emptiness is not empty, then you had better think deeply about life.

32. Lifechanyuan's Viewpoint on Euthanasia

Xuefeng

August 26, 2019

(Translated by Qinyou and Translated by Kaer)

It is extremely difficult for people to live entirely smooth lives; only a small number of us can do this without ever suffering from diseases. Most of us either die young, are tortured to death by illnesses, die in natural disasters, or are forced to commit suicide by their emotions. Some are killed in the turmoil of war or die from starvation, thirst, exposure, car accidents, and so forth, and are unable to reach the end of their lives naturally and satisfactorily.

The most ideal way to end one's life's journey is to go to sleep in good health but not wake up. Another way is to use the "Chanyuan Meditation"; that is, to choose one's day and time of death and then enter meditation to end their journey in this world. Neither method is easy for the public to grasp; sleeping without waking up is a method that requires a great deal of blessings, and the "Chanyuan Meditation" method requires long-term self-refinement and self-cultivation. So, is there an ideal way for the general public to meet their end? Yes, it is called "euthanasia".

The general interpretation of euthanasia is: "to stop medical treatment for patients who cannot be cured so that the patient can die comfortably". Lifechanyuan's explanation is: "Anyone who does not want to continue their life, but wants to end it voluntarily should be allowed to do so". People should have the right to decide their own life paths; in fact, most people are kidnapped by their reality, the environment, or by their relatives; they live passively, not actively. We should offer the right to choose and decide their own life's ending to everyone.

Anyone who has reached the age of eighteen, dispares of life, and is willing to end theirs, should be offered the option to be euthanized; regardless of their situation, as long as someone still wants to live, regardless of their age or physical condition, they should be treated, given energy, and the hope to live.

How much time is enough for someone to live; a century, a millennium? The truth is that for most people, no amount of time is ever enough; immortality is everyone's wish, however life is a short journey of LIFE in the mortal world. In the end, everyone has to part with life; no matter how much they love being alive, ending it is inevitable, and since farewells are inevitable, it is only a matter of time before everyone will sooner or later have to say goodbye. We associate closely with our friends and relatives, but no matter how close our relationships are with them, no matter how much we like them, or how much they want to stay with us, we will eventually have to say goodbye to them and leave; we cannot stay with anyone forever, so since we have to leave them, we should find the most suitable time to do so.

Is euthanasia not a kind of farewell? Why bother preventing anyone from leaving? It is better to arrange everything leisurely and give a decent goodbye in a cool and ready manner than to end one's life in a hurry with regrets, remorse, anxiety, and fear, without saying goodbye to those of whom we care.

Of course, the vast majority of people would not agree with this Lifechanyuan view of euthanasia and only those in extreme despair would accept it gracefully. Someone might ask: "should we euthanize someone who is nineteen years old, healthy, and in the prime of their life with a clear mind and a bright future? It would be the biggest joke ever but no laughing matter - it would be very cruel!"

Of course, many people believe that the implementation of euthanasia would be murder if it were not only voluntary but also agreed upon by relatives, but hold on a moment; I have a question. Roughly one million people in the world end their lives annually. How many of their relatives have signed onto and agreed with those decisions? Of course not many, so why would anyone need anyone else's consent if they are willing to end their life? If people could only do this with the consent of their relatives, then few would ever be able to.

Of course, this kind of euthanasia requires legislation and a "National Convention", otherwise it would be difficult if not impossible to implement. I want to say that we can hardly imagine how many people in this world are living in extreme pain and despair. Many feel "tired of life" and do not want to continue on, but they have to "bite the bullet" and continue to live because they are kidnapped. Many others are in pain and are being tortured to death, such as those who are lying in hospital beds for long periods of time while incurable. They need to decide for themselves whether they are willing to accept euthanasia and should not require the consent of any relatives. Now that technology is developed, it is possible to video record the patients' words and wishes; in other words, anyone who voluntarily accepts euthanasia can speak their own mind and record it in an environment in which they are free from any duress, coercion, or kidnapping. Without this legally binding video, euthanasia would not be implemented.

If a young person wanted to end their life, their relatives might call them selfish, but who is really more selfish, the young one or the relatives? Actually, I have thought about this. If Lifechanyuan were to implement euthanasia and hospice care, at least half of the people who want to commit suicide would give up those thoughts and that number might be saved every year.

By the way, it is better to deal with the people after euthanasia in accordance with the arrangement of the Lifechanyuan Funeral System. The more we open up, the easier and simpler things become; the more restrictive we are, the more difficult and complex they become.

33. One Way to Know Yourself

Xuefeng

July 6, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

It is fairly easy to understand others, but more difficult to know ourselves, however when we do not understand ourselves correctly, our lives will be lost, stepped over, and frustrated everywhere. Recently through my work, I found a method to learn about myself, and you are invited to try it as well. To know ourselves, we must first establish a reference point and compare ourselves to it; then we can better understand ourselves.

Over the past three years, I have operated a small hotel in BC, Canada. The nature of the hotel is a B&B which provides housing and breakfasts. Over my last three years of experience, I have discovered the phenomenon that the worse one's financial condition is, the less their education, self-cultivation, and self-restraint will be; for example, they will leave their rooms dirtier and messier with debris all over the carpets, throw snow-white face towels on the floors randomly after usage, leave the face towels especially dirty by wiping their feet with them, the toilets were left unflushed and smelly, they did not use the quilt covers, but the quilts directly which made the cleaning much more difficult, they left food on their plates after finishing their meals, they argued with and did not greet each other, they rarely communicated, and spilled their drinks on their beds which stained the quilts and sheets. My three sets of large, medium, and small towels, sheets, and quilts are pure white, so once soiled, it becomes next to impossible to restore their original appearances. In contrast, the better one's financial situation is, the cleaner and neater they leave their rooms and the better they communicate and get along with others. All in all, those who messed things up and could not communicate well were lower-middle class workers, while the more civilized were more intellectual.

My conclusion is that a person's situation reflects their education, self-cultivation, and self-restraint, as well as their knowledge, realm, and pattern. Do you want to understand and know yourself? Then look at your current situation because it represents you. If you are very poor, have few close friends and confidants, have trouble getting help from others, and your life is rough and difficult, then there must be something wrong with you, and it is not because society is unfair or others are short on love. In Lifechanyuan, there is one value, "The world is faultless; all faults lie within us". Any trials and tribulations that we encounter are reflections of our own consciousnesses. If we want to live a good life, then we must start by transforming ourselves; this is the "building of our own soul garden" as advocated by Lifechanyuan. Never resent or blame others or your society.

LIFECHANYUAN

<https://chanyuan.org>
<https://www.lifechanyuan.org>

There is another phenomenon; that is, those who are good at communicating with others have relatively easy and satisfactory lives, but those who are not have more difficult and miserable ones. One can understand and know themselves from the social circle in which they interact with others. If there are no knowledgeable people in your social circle with big views, it shows that you are a commoner and it will be difficult for you to have a bright future.

From this analysis, we can derive a useful life experience; that is, that one should always put the improvement of one's education, knowledge, self-cultivation, self-restraint, realm, and pattern first, not rushing to make money, success, to become the best, to glorify your ancestors, or to curry favor with rich and powerful people and celebrities. If you are excellent, then those correspondingly good things will come to you, but if you are not, then do not detest the flies around you. Let yourself be a flower! Butterflies will find you. By extension, when you are faced with natural and man-made disasters such as epidemics, floods, turmoil, and the like, do not blame the Greatest Creator for being unjust or people for being unkind; all these things are reflections of your human mind and consciousness because you caused and invited them upon yourself. If you want the weather to be favorable, the world to be peaceful, and everyone to be happy and satisfied, then you should first learn to be a decent person, learn how to communicate, always be wary of your thoughts and intentions, and make sure that they are not evil. If you have more negative, passive, and pessimistic emotions, then your lives will become harsher and the world will continue to worsen.

Above is a basic method of how to understand and know oneself. The core of this method is the "root" (quality); that is, if we want everything to be satisfactory, then we must change our "roots". Do not envy those whose "roots" are bad but very flashy. "If one's position cannot match their virtue, then disasters will befall them". Flaunt with bad "roots", and you will see the results! They must include disasters.

34. Eight Invisible External Factors Influencing our Lives

Xuefeng

May 9, 2020

(Translated by Quiyou and Edited by Kaer)

We should be aware of these eight mysterious and invisible factors that influence our lives:

1. Feng Shui (geomantic omens)
2. Gods and Deities
3. Grievances and Curses of Others
4. Ancestral Virtues and Sins
5. Solar Radiation
6. Socio-ecological Environments
7. Destiny Trajectories
8. Mathematics.

Let us examine each one of them in greater detail:

1. Feng Shui mainly refers to one's geographical and atmospheric environments, the veins flowing underground, the humidity or dryness of the climate, whether the air is fresh and its flow is smooth and unobstructed, whether there is sufficient light and the geomagnetic field is comfortable and pleasant, as well as the water quality and the chemical elements contained within and whether it is alkaline or acidic, and so on. It is really not easy to find a perfect geomantic omen place. The best way to avoid long-term damage to yourself by certain unfavorable factors is to change your living space often. Most chronic diseases are caused by Feng Shui, and they can be cured after changing one's environment. For example, if people with arthritis who live in humid areas can relocate themselves to places with drier humidities for three to five years, their arthritis can heal completely. People in my hometown in the Thousand-year World never get sick for many reasons but one of them is that people change their living environments often. This is why I emphasize that Lifechanyuan celestials must move to another home every three years. When there are two-hundred and fifty-six homes (New Oasis for Life) on the earth, it will be hard to get sick for a lifetime if you relocate yourself every three years.
2. Affection of Gods and Deities. Everything has spirituality. What we call heaven gods, mountain gods, water gods, earth gods, and so forth are actual gods and deities, and if we worship them in our hearts, then we will have no bad luck. For example, if you want to climb a mountain, pray to it and ask its god for protection, and you will not fall or injure yourself during your climb. If you pray to a river god or deity when crossing its river, then you will cross it safely. If you soothe and comfort the trees, flowers, insects, birds, and beasts where you live, then you will face no misfortune.
3. Other People's Grievances and Curses are very harmful to life. If you do not believe me, then you should live among people who are full of grievances. It will not only make people lose their fighting spirits, courage, and confidence in their pursuit of better lives, but it will also cause people to become depressed, get sick, and have nightmares. Curses are even more powerful; they are silent harm from their hearts and invisible thought powers. It is also a curse to secretly cut a ground vein or manipulate an ancestor's grave. Curses will lead to the declines and extinctions of families and nations. They will even lead to sudden disasters, so it is best to remain cognizant.

4. Ancestral Virtue and Sin Karma have great impacts on life. An ancestor's virtuous karma can help their descendants to flourish and prosper, but their sin karma can lead them to wither and decline; therefore, whether our lives are smooth or full of ups and downs, we must consult whether the karma that our ancestors created for us is virtuous or sinful. After learning the answer, we can find a way to remedy it. Otherwise, the trajectory of our lives will not change.
5. Solar Radiation. People whose ancestors lived in or near the tropics tend to have darker skin, while those whose ancestors lived closer to either of earth's poles have lighter skin. This is caused by the amount of ultraviolet solar radiation that is present. We need to be exposed to the right amount for proper vitamin D production, neither too much nor too little. The amount varies with our latitude and we can often change it to alleviate the damage of insufficient or excess ultraviolet solar radiation.
6. The Socio-ecological Environment is crucial to the formation of human personalities and consciousnesses. It includes factors such as culture, beliefs, conventions, customs, overall values, and the outlooks on life, LIFE, and the universe. If you are enclosed in a bad socio-ecological environment for a long time, you will become incapable of distinguishing fragrance from stench, it will be hard for you to know that there are mountains beyond mountains and skies above skies, and you will live very ignorantly.
7. The Trajectory of Fate is an invisible binding force created by people's previous lives' merits and demerits, as well as an invisible manipulating force. The eighteen unmanageable factors of life are an invisible arrangement of the trajectory of fate. "Why am I so lucky or unlucky?", "Why have I met such a noble or unreasonable person?", and other such questions are established arrangements along the trajectory of fate. To change that, to resolve or continue your trajectory of fate, you must self-cultivate and self-refine.
8. The Influence of Mathematics is mysterious. Symmetry and proportion are very important. To be symmetrical and proportional, you must work hard on the math. The figure of the "golden section" looks beautiful, and this is caused by perfect symmetry and the most appropriate proportions. Symmetry and proportion must follow math strictly. Math is the principle of numbers. The more symmetrical things are, the longer their lifespans, and the more symmetrical a LIFE is, the healthier it is. Once the math falls out of balance, a LIFE will quickly decay and die, and it also becomes easier to suffer from nature. Therefore, how high a house should be, how big its doors and windows should be, how far or close it should be to the neighbor's house, how many sets of clothes and shoes should be stored in its closets, how high its tables, stoves, and windows should be, on which dates you can go out for trips or important meetings should be held, on which date the construction of the house should be started, how many plates, forks, and chopsticks should a family have, how big your house should be, and so on are all in the math. If the math is suitable, then everything will go well, but if it is not, then everything will go against your will.

There are sixty-four factors that affect people. The permutations and combinations of them are astronomical figures. As a person, it is hard to attend to one thing without neglecting another. The simplest method available is to follow the way of the Greatest Creator; the path of Lifechanyuan.

35. Xuefeng Chats with Young People

Xuefeng

October 22, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

After more than sixty years of springs, summers, autumns, and winters, I have some insightful life experiences to share with young people. They may not be correct, but they are just for reference.

Life is the perception and experience of LIFE in the human world. The richer that experience is, the deeper its perception is; the deeper that perception is, the clearer its truth is. Therefore, life is about experiences, and only those experiences form the wealth that LIFE possesses. Some of those experiences are frustration, disappointment, failure, despair, love, friendship, kinship, sex, holy love, the spring, summer, autumn, winter, wind, clouds, rain and snow endowed by nature, joy, freedom, happiness, satisfaction, sacredness, solemnity, beauty, infinity, the coming and leaving of predestined relationships on the trajectory of life, and the cycles of causes and effects.

When you are young, do not pursue vanity and trends, be engulfed by the trends of the times, compare yourself with others, or pursue material possessions, such as buying real estate, cars, expensive consumer goods, high-end supplies, and so forth. If you focus on material abundance and possessions, then you are heading towards decadence, corruption, depravity, pain, troubles, and death; rather, you should spend your time and energy on learning scientific knowledge and skills, how to behave, the teachings of gods, Buddhas, and celestials, and how to enhance the value of your life. Do not study metaphysics or enter religious groups, political groups, or various cultivation groups because they are all problematic. Especially do not learn anything about magical powers, special abilities, or spell powers. I do not even advocate the premature learning of Buddhism, Taoism, or Divine Law, let alone supernatural powers. Learning is to enrich one's understanding and to improve the quality of their LIFE, not to be an official or make money, glorify and illuminate one's ancestors, or to be outstanding, let alone to build your good fame forever, but to experience life more deeply and to experience fun and wit of LIFE.

Why is the most important thing in life to enrich one's understanding and improve the quality of LIFE? You can only understand it if you look at and study stones. From diamonds, emeralds, rubies, sapphires, opals, aquamarine, tourmaline, moonstones, and garnets, to pebbles, each of their values are completely different. Although we cannot always be human diamonds and emeralds, we cannot let ourselves become the pebbles among people. The more precious the stones are, the more embedded they are into the most sacred places and the rougher they are, the more they are laid under people's feet. If some day, someone can become a god, you will know that the purer their quality of LIFE, the more they will live in a free and perfect world, and the lower their quality of LIFE, the more they will live in a world of control and dilapidation.

When you are young, do not waste your mind on building relationships with people because the cost of doing so is very high. Many people spend their precious time, energy, and even wealth on maintaining relationships, but it is not worth it. As long as they are people, they will part ways with you. Lasting relationships are almost impossible to maintain. Following predestined relationships is best but not maintaining them deliberately. True confidants will appear on your road to strive forward instead of in the relationships you maintained by racking your brains. If you are a precious gemstone, then you will not need to establish relationships deliberately because people will chase you; if you are a cobblestone, then no matter how you rack your brains to establish relationships, people will abandon you.

We are currently living in the era of network information and the biggest characteristic of it is impetuosity; people are impetuous, markets are impetuous, society is impetuous, religion, and political parties are all impetuous. There are bubbles everywhere and they will burst at any time; therefore, learn to calm down and think and study those that can last longer. According to my observation and analysis, ninety-five percent of the internet's content, including social media, is rubbish. Therefore, if you invest your time and energy with social media on the internet, you will be collecting rubbish and you will be dealing with rubbish. In the long run, you will become a garbage collector.

There are three major wealths in life: material wealth, spiritual wealth, and soul wealth. When you are young, you should pursue soul wealth first, then spiritual wealth, and material wealth last. If you have a healthy body, that is equal to having material wealth; it can be said that health is the first material wealth of life. Thus, you should take good care of your body, do not stay up late, do not smoke, avoid drugs and alcohol, do not overeat, but eat in an orderly manner, and do not do so indiscriminately to satisfy your appetite.

Your first priority in life is to honor your parents. How your parents treat you is their business, but as children, do what children should do. There are many ways to do this, the most important is to not let your parents worry about you and rush about and overwork for you. You may not be able to provide superior material wealth for your parents, but at least do not let your parents work hard to provide you with superior material conditions because you are a human, not a pig, and your parents raised you to adulthood. After you have reached the age of eighteen years, you have to walk on your own and you can no longer rely on your parents for your survival. In this way, even if you cannot afford to support your parents in their old age and bury them, at least you will not have too much guilt in your heart, and in the eyes of heaven, you will be regarded as a reasonable person, a person who can be blessed.

I have compiled a book, "Treasures of Classical Advice", which is the essence of the wisdom and experiences of human sages. It is worth reading. I hope that you will read it when you are free, because you will definitely benefit from it.

36. Communism is the only Way to Happiness for the Toiling Masses

Xuefeng

November 20, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Communism is actually sharing, and the higher the degree of sharing of things, the greater their value. The most effective way to maximize the value of all resources is to share them with everyone, which is communism's essence.

People are inherently selfish, so they reject communism intuitively, and they are most afraid of sharing when they have little material wealth. If a person is so poor that they only have a broken bicycle, then they will be unwilling to allow anyone else to ride it. This is human nature.

However, when people not only have material wealth, but also power, status, and reputations, they always want to make themselves and their families live more luxuriously than those around them so that others will envy them. This satisfies their vanity, so they are reluctant to share anything with others.

Since Marx founded his theory of communism, the communist movement has almost always been promoted violently and in ways which damaged the interests of the property-owning class. The imperfection of Marx's communist theory and the blindness of the behavior of communist practitioners has led to the failure of the communist movement. As a result, when people hear about communism, they instinctively hate it and resist it, which is completely understandable.

According to historical experience, I can understand why people demonize and resist communism. This should be a lesson learned and it can even be said that they are doing right because the so-called communist movements throughout history have run completely counter to the real thing. True communism is gentle, soft, and civilized; not coercive, violent, or depriving others of their property.

Who has suffered the most in human history? Of course it has always been the toiling masses; that is, the common people. For thousands of years, their condition has basically not changed much and they are still the bearers of most of the suffering. I grew up in Asia, spent more than ten years in Africa, lived in North America for nearly four years, and I have also spent a few months with primitive tribes in Oceania. I felt and experienced deeply the pain and troubles of the commoners everywhere I went.

In order to relieve the suffering and troubles of the toiling masses, I have immersed myself in the "Bible", Buddhist scriptures, the "Quran", the "Tao De Jing", and I have also concentrated on Western spiritual practices and Eastern Osho. I have always paid attention to the global climate and ecological changes, focusing on changes in global political ecology. What I want to tell mankind is that Communism is the only bright way out for the common masses.

So, what is communism? I have explained some of its theories, but no theories can reveal the essential characteristics of things, let alone analyze all the interpretations and extensions of them. It is only by creating real objects that people can observe intuitively and deeply, that they will fully understand them. Therefore, Chanyuan celestials and I created the purely communistic New Oasis for Life (formerly the Second Home), so if you want to know and understand what communism is, you can visit and experience the New Oasis for Life created by Lifechanyuan for yourselves.

Many people equate communism with utopia, and there is nothing wrong with this understanding because utopia is the embryonic form of communism, but most of them throughout history have failed. In order to figure out the reasons for their failures, I have carefully analyzed some historical ones, especially the "New Harmonious Village" founded by the Utopian socialist practitioner, Owen in the United States. I wrote an article to analyze the reasons for its failure in which I opined that its core problem and the reason for its failure was that its Utopian leaders did not have clear understandings and blueprints in their minds. They only relied on their passion and were "crossing the river by feeling for the stones". So, when encountering the rush of wind, waves, and whirlpools, they could only drown in their rivers.

In order to distinguish between the theories and practical activities of communism in history, I call the New Oasis for Life created by Lifechanyuan, "Xuefeng-style Communism". This Communism can resolve territorial disputes between countries and excessive consumption of natural resources, solve the corruption problem of government officials, avoid Yang Gailan style tragedies, reduce criminal activities by three quarters, enable people to live and work in peace, eliminate war, turmoil, refugees, and hunger, reduce suicide rates by more than half, and can give 98% of the people happy, joyful, free, and blessed lives.

Who are these toiling masses? The term refers to those who have suffered their entire lives for food, clothing, housing, transportation, life, old age, sickness, and death, those who have been struggling for a lifetime and are still struggling, those who have suffered and have been bullied, troubled, and tortured all their lives, those who have been "looking forward to getting rich every year, while year after year still wearing torn clothes", those who lack security but see no hope, and those who hate government officials, but on the surface have to show smiles on their faces and be deferential and sycophant to the officials; in short, everyone who wants to live a good life with their hands and diligence are the toiling masses.

The cruel reality is that they are people who want to live better lives by hard work yet their hands cannot rid themselves of troubles, pains, anxiety, sorrow, and even fear throughout their entire lives. This is what happened thousands of years ago, it is the same today, and it will remain this way for thousands of years to come unless we change our traditional production and life mode completely and enter the Xuefeng-style communist society. Otherwise, they will only dream eternally of having better lives.

Moral education is always fragile and vulnerable. Christian moral education, Buddhist moral education, Islamic moral education, Confucian moral education, and the moral education of all kinds of sages have been easily destroyed by the face of reality. Look no further than today's China; all Communist Party officials have been raised on Mao Zedong's ideological and moral education, but in the face of money and interests, Mao's thoughts have been shelved. The level of corruption is staggering, millions of yuan, even tens of millions are not enough; they embezzled hundreds of millions, billions, or even tens of billions. These "Servants of the People" never cared about the lives of all the Yang Gailans? Who cares about the lives of the toiling masses? Very few! Did decades of moral education work? Not at all!

Let us look at the recent U.S. presidential election. Before the result of the election had even been settled, the mainstream media in the United States rushed to declare Joe Biden as the president, followed by the heads of western democracies such as Britain, France, Germany, Israel and other similar countries which sent congratulatory letters to Biden for his election victory. Even the president of Taiwan, Tsai Ing-wen, who is known as a democrat, hurriedly sent congratulatory messages to Biden. No matter who is elected president, respecting the facts and listening to the voices and wishes of the people is the basis and bottom line of morality. The mainstream media's announcements and the congratulations of foreign before the facts had emerged and the votes had been counted violates the basic bottom line of morality and does not conform to legal procedures. What should be emphasized here is that most people in western society have been educated in Christian morality, but where is the morality of the mainstream media? Where is the morality of those national leaders? Democratic countries are like this but moral education in non-democratic countries is not even worth considering.

The facts tell us that moral education is not enough to allow the toiling masses to live and work in peace and contentment because all spiritual chicken soup is an anesthetic. The current rampant Buddhist preaching is even more of an anesthetic and the preaching to return to traditional Chinese culture is tantamount to advocating for men to wear braids and long mandarin jackets and women to bind their feet. That mysterious and spooky preaching is a portion of poison. Those who care about the welfare of the toiling masses should seek and establish programs which fundamentally guarantee happy lives for them.

It might be very good to say that we should "put power in the cage of the system" such that government officials "dare not, cannot, and would not have access to corrupt practices", but unfortunately, it is the system itself that is the best soil for officials to grow corrupt, so the system will be unable to restrain and stop it because it is its own hotbed of corruption. I ask, can this system shut down power? Can it shield officials from corruption? Of course not!

There have been many changes of dynasties throughout Chinese history; but what were the results? The herbal soups changed but the medicines did not! Individuals changed, but the system did not! The obvious result is that the toiling masses are still the toiling masses and their toiling nature and destiny have been fundamentally unchanged.

If you do not change the traditional production and life mode, then it is of no use to change the ones in charge. It is useless even if you adopt a "separation of powers" such as in the United States if the president is Old Wang, the judiciary is run by his brother-in-law, the legislative power is under the control of his third aunt, and the media are controlled by his best friends; toiling masses, use your heads, would you have free and happy lives? Xuefeng-style communism is the only way to happiness for the toiling masses. The New Oasis for Life production and life mode created by Lifechanyuan is a paradise for everyone.

Many poor people among the working people have fluky minds and they always think that they can squeeze into the upper class and live the life of the best as they sharpen their heads. Yes, they have that chance, there have always been one or two people out of ten thousand who have achieved this wish, but the probability of success is much too low, and it is a path that very few common workers will ever take. There are also some commoners, who think that since they have million-yuan houses and cars worth several hundred thousand yuan, that they no longer belong to that low level; in fact, they are self-anesthetized and daydreaming. If they cannot maintain control for three days, then their car is just a pile of scrap iron; if they do not have food for three days, their million-yuan house is just a cote; if there is a major illness or disaster, their property and vehicles will not save them. There are even some poor toiling masses who think that since they have become civil servants with iron rice bowls (secure jobs), they feel that their futures are secure, but in fact that is just a temporary comfort for themselves and when they get old, they will learn the feelings of life: the sour, sweet, bitter, hot, and salty tastes of life.

In fact, Xuefeng-style communism is not only the road to happiness for the toiling masses, but also for capitalists and government officials, and the road for the cultivators to become celestials and Buddhas. The reason for this cannot be fully explained in a single article. If you have any doubts, please ask those who have lived and experienced Xuefeng-style communism, they can answer you.

Remember this: Communism is the only way to happiness for the toiling masses, and the only way out for mankind.

37. Sharing of Some Very Important Common Sense of Life

Xuefeng

October 19, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

If your life is stable but stressed, see if you lack common sense in these areas.

1. If the Greatest Creator came to you but you failed to recognize him, then your Life will reincarnate again and again.
2. If Gods, Buddhas, and Celestials have come to see you but you have been unaware, then you have not yet awakened, and you can only keep on sleeping.
3. If noble people occasionally appear in your life but you do not acknowledge them, then it will be difficult for your life to have a turning point and change, and your hardships are inevitable.

Among the three factors that change one's destiny, personality is a very important one. This person may be a god, Buddha, celestial, or noble on the path of your life, and as long as you know any of them, your destiny will develop and change for the better, but I found that no one knows the Greatest Creator, and when gods, Buddhas, and celestials come around, people do not know them either. When noble people come near, few will pay attention to them; therefore, most people are just living beings, rather than other-worldly saints. Some people can change the trajectories and destinies of their lives, but it is unfortunate if they keep missing their chances.

Five major turning points impacted my life; four were from noble people, and one was related to the Greatest Creator. Had I not recognized the Greatest Creator, this tour guide that you know would not have been born and were it not for the four noble people's guidance and help, I would be an old farmer in my hometown today.

Where are the noble people, the Gods, Buddhas, and celestials, and where is the Greatest Creator? They are all in your life and at your side. Why can you not see them and why are you not aware of their existences? This has something to do with your consciousness and soul, as well as your understanding and realm. From your consciousness point of view, you cannot tell the priority of your life or reverse it and from your spiritual point of view, your heart is too selfish and your mind is dim and closed. If your understanding is poor, then the sound of water running down mountains is noise and if your realm is not high, and you cannot see beyond material content.

For example, if I am the noble one in your life, then have I ever appeared before you, and if I have, then did you pay attention to me? If you did not, then you will not get anything from me, let alone change the trajectory and destiny of your life.

How can it be considered that you have paid attention to me? When I speak, you must first listen carefully and then express your gratitude to me. When I come to you, you must stop what you are doing, mute your mobile phone, isolate yourself from the outside world, and communicate with me seriously and intently. When I post articles in Wechat "Circles of Friends", you should offer likes and show that you have me in your heart. When I show you the way, you must have no doubts, but rather start then and there. Such can be considered your having paid attention.

So what kind of words and deeds are considered as your not having paid attention? When I talk to you, do you steer clear of my crucial points, not focus on the subjects of our conversations, and stray to topics that have nothing to do with my subjects? Do you talk too much and listen too little? When I came to you or when you came to me, were you too busy looking at your phone and chatting with someone else to communicate seriously with me? When I posted an article, did you never offer a like, and therefore prove that I am not important to your consciousness. Were you so busy expressing yourself that you never reacted to my point of view, and so on?

What I am saying is that there must be someone whose cognition is higher than yours in any group; just as in a banquet, there must be a guest of honor. Therefore, after entering any group, the first thing that you must do is to find a person whose cognitive ability is higher than yours. As long as they are there, then you should talk less and listen more to them; in this way, you will benefit. Since they might be a celestial, Buddha, or the noble person in your life, they might well change your miserable destiny.

There are mountains beyond mountains, skies above skies, people beyond people, and great masters beyond masters. Do not express yourself too much. When confronted by people with higher cognitive abilities, always listen, do not argue or express yourself because the more you do, the worse you will be because within the scope of his or her cognition, those actions can only show your limitations. When you become complacent, they will have already abandoned you. In this way, you will have missed the gods, Buddhas, celestials, and noble people, and missed your opportunity to change your destiny.

When one thinks that they are completely right, then there is no room or opportunity for them to sublimate anymore. Their sublimation will be over, and the gods, Buddha, celestials, and noble people will avoid them. All those who insist that they are right will distance themselves from gods, Buddhas, celestials and noble ones, and auspicious lights will no longer shine on them because they will have already set their shape and what they now are will definitely remain the same in the future.

People have many opportunities to change their destinies throughout their lives, but most are not blessed to seize them. Gods, Buddhas, celestials and nobles will appear once or many times in each person's life, but whether you can get to know, meet, and accept them depends on your own thoughts, words, and deeds. Of course, the core factor is your consciousness, state of mind, realm, and understanding.

Remember, when you feel that you are right, are obsessed with it, and are arrogant about it, then you are finished.