I Have an Ideal

Xuefeng

(Translated by Transn and Edited by Kaer)

Following the footprints of immortals, sages, oracles and saints, I have crossed and trekked numerous treacherous mountains and rivers. Roaming all through the wilderness of soul, I have been spreading the message of the Greatest Creator.

The wishes of god and Buddha and the expectations of oracles and saints have converged to form my ideal, which is as clear and bright as the shining sun and can be food of thought for you to meditate over.

Human beings have been trekking along a long path soaked with blood. Jesus and Sakyamuni have revealed to us that in the universe there are many higher spaces of LIFE and have earnestly and tirelessly admonished us not to go astray from the great road of LIFE. Numberless immortals, sages, oracles and saints have exerted their utmost effort for the happiness of mankind. Their souls are still shining brightly over us, warning us not to act against the law of nature and wishing us to live a happy life. However, blinded by the dense fog of “civilization”, mankind has been straying further and further away from the great road...

I want to kindle a beacon of hope to light up the endless darkness, bringing mankind a ray of hope. I want to create an oasis out of the vast and isolated desert, offering an auspicious and harmonious habitat for LIFE on earth. I want to build a land of spirit and soul out of the boundless ocean of flaunty material prosperity, leading to the land those people who yearn towards the Greatest Creator, love LIFE and nature, and possess beautiful human nature and soul and making them eternally severed from the abyss of sufferings. I will shepherd them safely to the Thousand-Year World to enjoy the wonderful time of the millennium.

The people favored by god and Buddha are still miserably shackled in spirit and soul. In this bustling world overrun with desire for material acquisition, people with a purer and better heart are more prone to spiritual and psychological tortures, and cannot afford even a moment of peace and quiet. Every place reeks of putrid smells. What meet the eyes are wickedness and evils that have gone unpunished. Man’s tremendous number of legal articles and religious teachings are powerless to avert the depravity of morality and the prevalence of wickedness. The viciously misleading evil soul and the junk thought have taken up the throne of truth.

Despotism has not only caused the loss of personal and spiritual freedom for the governed but also has caused the governing class to be trapped in the quagmire of desperation, without any hope to obtain the true freedom of LIFE.

I want to tell people that the plight of mankind does of lie in the material aspect but in the spiritual aspect. The wasteland of spirit and soul is the real source of human suffering. Seeking the homestead for spirit and soul is an urgency for mankind. The blind pursuit of material acquisition is only analogous to quenching one’s thirst with poisoned wine or stopping water from boiling by scooping it up and pouring it back. Thus such acts will cause the ruin of not only the earth but mankind itself.

An era is a demoniac era if the dignity of a person is determined by the amount of money he has earned and the social position he has attained and if the value of man is not measured by his moral character and good deeds. A society is an evil society if it allows its subjects to become upstart through speculation and plundering instead of getting rich with honest and diligent labor. A government is a despotic and satanic government if it spares no effort to force-out new thinking, attempting to lock people in an ignorant and barbarian and savage world. A nation will be one void of wisdom and oriented toward insanity and destruction if it does not advocate dedication and love but blindly instigates its people to use violence.

Man's worry originates partly from ignorance and partly from selfishness. Because of ignorance, we have invited demons in but shut the door against god and Buddha. Because of selfishness, we have chosen wickedness but abandoned righteousness. A lot of good ideals and kind moralities are often snuffed out in the cradle. The desolation of soul is the optimum soil to breed junk thought and religious plague.

Today people are engulfed in information. Television, networks, newspapers and magazines, books, and lectures are infusing mountains of information into us, far more than we can digest, thus causing the indigestion, malnutrition, and ill health. The pursuit of knowledge has become a morbid thirst. The more we attempt to swallow down unthinkingly, the less we understand. Various media have become the fertile soil to cultivate ignorance and manic and blind adherence.

Having no beliefs, no principles, no wisdom, and no spiritual perception, those literati have made up rancid articles under the pretense of maintaining stability, advocating reform, carrying forward culture, inheriting legacies, publicizing morality, and promoting benevolence, and under the disguise of adhering to "belief", cultivating oneself, pursuing freedom, and fighting despotism...They have fabricated so much cultural garbage and so many spiritual drugs that it is impossible to clean them all up. The roughly manufactured scum has become our daily food for thought, which has directly distorted our values, destroyed our human environment, and polluted our pure heart.

Having no beliefs, no principles, no wisdom, and no spiritual sense, those literati hangmen worship those rancid articles as classics under the pretense of maintaining stability, advocating reform, carrying forward culture, inheriting legacies, publicizing morality, and promoting benevolence, and under the disguise of adhering to "belief", cultivating oneself, pursuing freedom, and fighting despotism... As for those works of wisdom, which shine resplendently with thought, they look down upon them as "heresies" and wielded their cultural butcher knife toward them without hesitation...

The Chinese people, on the one hand you have been heaving sighs that China has become a land deserted by the Greatest Creator, but have you on the other hand acquired the broadness of mind to include great wisdom? Can you recognize it when great wisdom really “descends from heaven”?

I have an ideal that the Greatest Creator may enter China and the human world, that Christianity and Buddhism may regain their prevalence here, and that humanity may be restored on the beautiful land.

When conspiracy and tricks prevail over truth, justice is taunted, enthusiasm meets with contempt, reverence for the Greatest Creator is regarded as ridiculous, oppression and bully are viewed as inviolable power, the hoodwinked masses are meanwhile branded as ignorant, freedom is slandered, life is trampled, right and wrong are reversed, black and white are confused, and good and evil people mix together, then in such situations we have no choice but to search the source of LIFE. Only in this way can we pierce through the indistinct murk and see the light. Only in this way can we steady the steer in the turbid and turbulent waves and ultimately reach the ocean of LIFE.

In this unusual time of superficial prosperity, when actually crises are lurking everywhere, we are not yet in the position to sing praises of the virtue or merits. At a time when the journey is rough and treacherous, flattery and conservativeness cannot salvage us. Now it is not yet the time when “the bank of injustice” has gone bankrupt completely. Any non-action and dawdling will only speed up the approach of “doomsday”. We will only eventually lose our beautiful homestead and splendid future if we are only capable of destruction and are incapable of construction, if we don’t know how to repay other people’s favors and are only bent on vengeance, and if we only want to acquire from others and do not know how to dedicate to others.

For many centuries, man’s blind behaviors have dug out an abyss, which can engulf us at any moment and thus should be filled up. The sooner it is leveled up, the better it would be.

Reverence for the Greatest Creator and adherence to his road is our only hope, because only in front of the Greatest Creator can we have equal human dignity; because we should worship the Greatest Creator so that our mind can possess soul, our knowledge be transformed into wisdom. And only in this way can we understand the meaning of LIFE and embark on the great road of LIFE.

You may lock yourself up in the ivory tower, lose yourself in the piles of broken papers, and engross yourself in the so-called academic research, thus placing yourself outside the social issues. In so doing, you seem to have entered a serene heaven. However, can you expect any egg to remain intact if the nest is overturned? Poke your head inside a cave, leaving your hindquarter exposed and fancying that what is not seen does not exist. Can you derive from your research any great achievements that may do any good to humankind?

The unrealistic teaching or “truth” that blindly preaches pursuit of happiness of future life is absurd and wicked. A person always wearing a smile is relentless at heart; a person always with tears is cruel at heart.

Children are suffering starvation and cannot afford education; the poverty-stricken have no money to treat their diseases. However, we are manufacturing various kinds of luxury products, and building one after another lifeless skyscrapers. Isn't this a mockery and blasphemy against LIFE?

If our neighbors have no freedom, we ourselves cannot obtain complete freedom. If our brothers are suffering starvation, we cannot swallow the dainty food in our mouths. If people in the remote areas are crying, we will not be able to enjoy quietly the comfort and luxury of big cities.

I have an ideal. I will lead those who truly yearn towards the Greatest Creator to Lifechanyuan, and transform the jarring hullabaloo into a fraternal movement, and play a convivial symphony of LIFE.

I firmly believe that mankind can certainly walk out of the dark canyon and the wasteland of spirit, and enter an unprecedentedly beautiful field. I firmly believe that soul will prevail over flesh and that people will eventually obtain the freedom of body and mind and the serenity of LIFE.

This is not a golden fantasy for the remote future. The majestic tides are surging with mighty momentum. Among their broad bosoms are contained colorful gems that can decorate man's life and make it more noble and beautiful. When the unexpected supernatural incident comes, the mysterious power shall strike people's heartstrings, the vast fields will take on the splendid coating, the polluted rivers will become clear and pure again, the turbid sky will be changed into expanses of colorful clouds, and the free rhythm will reverberate in each inch of the land.

Eternal virtue remains with Jesus Christ!
Supreme wisdom is ascribed to Sakyamuni!
Eternal glory belongs to the Greatest Creator!

About Xuefeng

Early Life

Xuefeng was born in 1957 and grew up on a farm in Gansu Province, China. His father was a very firm believer in and practitioner of communism and his mother was a kind-hearted and hardworking farmer.

As a child, Xuefeng attended temple with his mother to worship Chinese gods, including the Earth God, King of Dragon God, Erlang God, and others. He learned Taoism from his grandmother, Buddhism from his mother, Islam from a Muslim colleague, and Hindu from some Indians.

Xuefeng spent his early years in China and had various occupations including being a technician, an English teacher, and a statistics officer. A state company sent him to work as an interpreter in Zimbabwe during the 1990's.

Before founding Lifechanyuan, Xuefeng was self-employed and had several shops plus a restaurant in Harare, the capital and largest city in Zimbabwe.

Spiritual Awakening

His enlightening experience began after a car accident in Zimbabwe.

One day, after he had been driving for many hours on a highway, he fell asleep and crashed his car into a big milestone near a cliff. Magically, incredibly, he survived without any injuries. He did not understand how he could have survived because if his car had gone in only a slightly different direction, it would have rolled over the cliff and he would have died instantly.

After that experience, he felt that his old, secular life had died in that car accident, but that his new, spiritual life belonged to some “God”. He began questioning the meaning of his life as he gradually lost interest in his businesses. He then spent three years learning the Bible from Jehovah’s Witnesses, occasionally joining them at “Kingdom Hall” services, however he eventually felt that he had not found all his answers from that source.

For many years, he practiced Qigong every night in order to maintain his health.

Moment of Epiphany

Without finding the answers from Jehovah’s Witnesses, Xuefeng continued his way seeking for truth in the theory of Buddhism, Taoism, and other philosophies from Chinese ancient wisdom, modern science discovery to meditation on nature phenomena.

Then it happened at one night of 1999, when he was reading the Diamond Sutra, he suddenly understood everything!

The mysteries of the origin of the universe and humanity, time and space, and what LIFE is, unraveled and became crystal clear to him.

An invisible divine force compelled him to write all his discoveries on paper, and that is where Xuefeng Corpus and Chanyuan Corpus came from.

Chanyuan Corpus and Xuefeng Corpus

In June, 2001, Xuefeng terminated his businesses in Zimbabwe gradually and began writing articles for Chanyuan Corpus and Xuefeng Corpus.

From 2001 to 2017, Xuefeng has written nearly three thousand (3,000) articles describing the construction of the Lifechanyuan Values system, including the profound truth of the universe, life, LIFE, time, space, consciousness, nonmaterial structure, and energy, as well as the way to create a new production and life mode for people and guidance articles to help Chanyuan celestials purify their soul gardens and sublimate their LIFE qualities on the self-cultivation way.

In 2010, Chanyuan Corpus and Xuefeng Corpus were published formally through the Hong Kong International Culture Press with the first thousand sets of ten books.

Lifechanyuan Column articles on Boxun website have reached 12,880,000 hits as of the end of 2017.

Note: Boxun is the most visited website for political commentary and social reporting among the ethnic Chinese population of North American.

New Oasis for Life

In 2009, Xuefeng returned to China and founded “The Second Home of Lifechanyuan” (now New Oasis for Life) community. It had been developing quite well, with more than one hundred and fifty (150) members on three farms in Yunnan Province. In January 2017, in anticipation of a promising future, Xuefeng changed the community’s name to “New Oasis for Life”.

As the founder of Lifechanyuan, Xuefeng sees that his role is the spiritual guide to “reap the ripe crops”, initiate and develop the new production and life mode for the new era, and guide Chanyuan celestials to climb the highest realms of life and LIFE.

1. The Symbol of “Ripe Crop”

Xuefeng

Sept.1, 2010

“The time for the harvest of crops will mark the end of this system. Angels will carry out the harvesting.” --Jesus

I am the angel to harvest the ripe crop.

I will gather in the ripe crops and put them in the granary of the Greatest Creator—Thousand-Year World, Ten Thousand-Year World, Celestial Island Continent of the Elysium World. I will bring mankind to a new millennium--the era of Lifechanyuan.

The so-called "ripe crop" refers to person with a perfect soul.

The ripe crop that I will harvest has the following characteristics:

1. Revere the Greatest Creator, revere life, revere nature, and follow the way of the Greatest Creator.
2. Do not involve in marriage and family, do not involve in state, do not involve in political party, and do not involve in religion.
3. Have no position, no property, no reputation, and no influence.
4. Have no jealousy, complaint and comparison, have no selfishness, greed and contention, have no laziness, arrogance, and enmity, have no anxiety, worry and fear.
5. Not self-opinionated, flexible and accommodating, act in response to the will, and follow the Tao.
6. Be humble, kind, industrious, honest, faithful, unsophisticated, healthy and civilized.
7. Be good at games, like collective activities and collective life, be outgoing and vivacious, and always remain happy and pleasant.
8. Cling to celestial life rather than human life, to celestial relations rather than human relations, follow the Tao of celestial beings rather than the Tao of man, attach to the fairyland rather than the human world.

Without the above eight characteristics, the crop cannot be regarded as ripe crop, the unripe cannot be gathered in the granary (kingdom) of the Greatest Creator, and cannot enter the heavenly kingdom.

I will lead the "ripe crop" to the heavenly kingdom--Thousand-Year World, Ten Thousand-Year World, Celestial Island Continent of the Elysium World.

The unripe crops will enter the Lifechanyuan era to continue their growth and development.

As for the others, they are none of my business and have nothing to do with me.

2. A Contrast Between the View of Love in Human World and the View of Love in Thousand-Year World

Xuefeng
April 28, 2007

Human World: I have affection for you, and you must also have affection for me; I love you and you must also love me.

The Thousand-Year World: I have affection for you, but you need not have affection for me; I love you but you need not love me.

Human World: I have affection and love for you, you must be responsible for my affection and love.

The Thousand-Year World: I have affection and love for you, you need not be responsible for my affection and love.

Human World: Lovers will be united in marriage and family.

The Thousand-Year World: Lovers need not be united in marriage and family.

Human World: I love only you.

The Thousand-Year World: I love all people.

Human World: I have affection only for you.

The Thousand-Year World: I have affection for all people.

Human World: There are reasons and conditions for affection and love.

The Thousand-Year World: There are no reasons and conditions for affection and love.

Human World: You can only love me.

The Thousand-Year World: You must love all people.

Human World: Affection and love is selfish.

The Thousand-Year World: Affection and love is unselfish.

Human World: The sole and attentive constant love is most respectable.

The Thousand-Year World: The sole and attentive constant love is most harmful to the collective and society.

Human World: The couple who have affection and love for each other own each other.

The Thousand-Year World: The couple who have affection and love for each other do not own each other.

Human World: The couple who have affection and love for each other keep company with each other all their life.

The Thousand-Year World: The couple who have affection and love for each other can part with each other any time.

Human World: One may worry that his or her love may be usurped by other people.

The Thousand-Year World: One need not have any worry about love.

Human World: I will protect my affection and love.

The Thousand-Year World: I will release my affection and love.

Human World: One must pay the cost for affection and love.

The Thousand-Year World: Affection and love is natural and one need not pay any cost.

Human World: My affection and love belong to you and your affection and love belong to me.

The Thousand-Year World: There is no affection and love that belongs exclusively to anyone.

Human World: Without your affection and love, I will be overwhelmed with sorrow.

The Thousand-Year World: Everyone has affection and love, and no one will be overwhelmed with sorrow because of affection and love.

Human World: There is jealousy and resentment involved in affection and love.

The Thousand-Year World: One will only experience joy and pleasure in affection and love and will not feel jealousy and resentment.

Human World: I feel unhappy to see your affection and love for others.

The Thousand-Year World: I feel happy to see your affection and love for others.

Human World: Affection and love is restricted by morals and customs, otherwise it constitutes the abuse of affection and love.

The Thousand-Year World: Affection and love is itself moral, there is no problem of abuse of affection and love.

Human World: Affection and love is something to be pursued.

The Thousand-Year World: Affection and love is the precious gift endowed by the Greatest Creator, and is the nature of origin.

Human World: Affection and love is the greatest obstacle to achieve the spiritual state of celestials and Buddha.

The Thousand-Year World: Lack of affection and love is the greatest obstacle to achieve the spiritual state of celestials and Buddha.

Human World: Secular affection and love is the principal factor to maintain the harmony and stability of society.

The Thousand-Year World: Secular affection and love is the principal factor that contributes to the plight and afflictions of man and human society.

3. The Intoxication of Love

Xuefeng

June 29, 2010

Affection and love are the precious gifts bestowed to the human kind by the Greatest Creator. Like salt in dishes, affection and love can make the food delicious and delectable. However, what will happen if we take mouthfuls of salt or mix a lot of salt in the dishes? It is just terrible.

There is no real poison in the world. Everything can be poison if the proper amount is exceeded.

Heroine, arsenic, opium, morphine, marijuana, Dolantin, coca, cocaine, ice, ketamine, and Ecstasy are all useful things if taken an extremely small amount. Once the proper amount is exceeded, they are poisons.

Oxygen is very good thing, right? But you may get poisoned if you take high concentration, high flow and high pressure of oxygen for an exceeded amount of time. Appropriate amount of wine can help regulate the circulation of blood, but we will be poisoned by alcohol if we take too much wine. We drink water every day but we may be poisoned if we drink more water than kidney can handle. A proper amount of bee venom is beneficial to our health, but excessive dosage of it will kill us.

Money is a very good thing, but if we are blinded by lust for money, money may prove the most lethal poison.

Appropriate amount of desire is also a good thing, but it may prove to be a deadly poison if we are consumed by boundless avarice.

Affection and love is a very good thing, but once we are blinded by it, affection and love will be the poison of life.

In the proper amount, everything will be useful, but once the proper amount is exceeded, anything can be a poison.

What kinds of affection and love are poisons of love?

The affection and love between wife and husband is the poison of life.

The affection and love between lovers is poison of life.

The steadfast affection and love is poison of life.

The fully devoted affection and love is poison of life.

The hysterical affection and love is the poison of life.

The intoxicating affections and love is the poison of life.

The affection and love that makes it difficult for you to sleep and have any appetite is the poison of life.

The affection and love with a solemn pledge is the poison of life.

The affection and love that require a life of commitment is the poison of life.

The above poisons of affection and love are all a result of excessive dosage.

If you are emaciated for affection and love, if you are lost in a trance, if you become listless because of love, or if you die for love, you are poisoned by love, which is no different from the poisoning of heroine.

People, take care, be on guard against the love poisoning!

The best way to prevent love poisoning is to learn from celestial beings in the Thousand-Year World.

4. A Century's Dreadful Earthquakes and Jesus' Revelation

Xuefeng

January 19, 2010

Jesus the Christ's Revelation said: "and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places. All these are the beginning of sorrows."

Historically, human beings had never experienced such frequent earthquakes in the history. Please look at the following cataclysmic earthquakes all over the world:

On December 28, 1908, the earthquake in Messina, Italy took more than 80,000 lives

On December 16, 1920, about 200,000 people were killed in the earthquake in Haiyuan, China.

On September 1, 1923, in Japan, it was estimated that about 143,000 deaths in the Great Kanto earthquake,

On October 5, 1948, in Turkmenistan, the Ashgabat earthquake took 110,000 lives.

On May 31, 1970, the earthquake in Ancash, Peru killed about 70,000 people and 800,000 became homeless.

In 1976, the death toll in the Great Tangshan Earthquake in China was about 250,000.

On December 26, 2004, Indian Ocean earthquake triggered a series of devastating tsunamis and 227,898 people were killed according to official announcement.

On October 8, 2005, about 79,000 were killed in the Pakistan Kashmir Earthquake.

On May 12, 2008, in China, the Sichuan earthquake killed 69,225 people and 17,923 were missing.

On January 13, 2010, a strong earthquake struck Haiti, killing about 300,000 people.

What do these frequent earthquakes mean? It means the beginning of "circles of sorrows". Human beings are on the point of experiencing a period of unusual difficulties. "Great tribulation" is coming. Jesus told us: "For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be. And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: but for the elect's refers to the Chanyuan Celestials on Book of Life-noted by Deiform Buddha) sake those days shall be shortened."

"For as the lightning comes out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be."

"Immediately after the tribulation of those days shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken."

"And he shall send his angels with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect (refers to the Chanyuan Celestials on Book of Life-noted by Deiform Buddha) from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other." the Lifechanyuan Era will start then.

We must "Be alert", and "Keep watch" because we are at a turning point in human history.

Believe it or not, it's up to you.

5. Do Not Lay Your Hopes on a Person

Xuefeng

July 9, 2012

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

Human beings are absolutely unreliable.

However trustworthy a person seems, they will eventually die, so how can he or she be reliable?

Can parents be reliable? They cannot even master their own fates to be alive or dead the next day, so how can they be relied upon?

Can husbands and wives be reliable? Not mentioning the changes of faith and love, even if their love remains strong and consistent, once there is any unexpected misfortune, where will the person that you want to rely on be?

Can sons and daughters be reliable? "There have been many concerned parents since very ancient times, but where is the child who is filial?" (Chinese proverb)

Can lovers be reliable? Someone once said, "I will surely be responsible for her". This is total nonsense! You do not even know whether you will be alive or not on the next day, so how can you be responsible for her? Can you guarantee her happiness and blessings for her whole life? You cannot even guarantee your own happiness and blessings in your life, so how can you guarantee other people's happiness?

Can brothers and sisters be reliable? Can friends, superiors, and subordinates be reliable?

Even Chairman Mao is not reliable, not mentioning any other people.

Am I, Xuefeng reliable?

No!

We have today's homeland only because we are walking on the way of the Greatest Creator, this is a blessing from the Greatest Creator, the result of Tao's operation, not because Xuefeng has any special abilities or talents.

Question: Then who can be relied upon?

Answer: Only the Greatest Creator and walking the way of the Greatest Creator.

As a person, works and behaves by following the will of, and the way of the Greatest Creator, that is the best policy.

6. The New Life Mode of Human Being Has Come into Being

Xuefeng

Aug. 23, 2012

The ideal life mode once dreamed of by many saints, as what the ancient Greek philosopher Plato wrote in his dialogue The Republic, the One World Confucius was after, and the Communist Society Karl Marx pursued, has been practiced and realized now on earth. This new life mode is beyond what Plato, Confucius and Karl Marx and other saints had imagined and described. It was born in a completely new way, and this brand-new life mode is just the idyllic the Second Home founded by Lifechanyuan.

The life mode of the Second Home is totally different from the traditional life mode we are familiar with. Many saints' dreams have completely come true – People live in a worry-free environment where troubles, bitterness, anxiety, desperation and fear are reduced to the minimum, and so are conflict, fight and crimes. An all-around harmonious and sustainable co-existence between man and nature, man and society, man and man is realized. Our three and a half years practice and experiences have fully proved that this new life mode is more than just successful; it will be developing continuously and healthily and have an extremely bright future.

We have now total 180 residents living in our community which includes 13 kids. The age of the oldest resident is 87 while the youngest is only 3. 180 people live in three branches separately; the biggest branch has 72 residents, and the smallest has 45 people. Most people are from rural areas of China; the education level of majority is middle school. More than half of the residents are female; middle-aged are the majority, and the average age in the community is around 40. The Second Home* implements a paradise management mode. The gist of the mode is that no management is the best management. This mode stimulates and motivates the qualities of sincerity, kindness, beauty, love, faithfulness and honesty in human nature, and creating a proper external atmosphere to bring those qualities in full play. There is no management team or leaders, people do their work voluntarily. There isn't any office. No other meeting or gathering are hold except Monday, Wednesday nights are the time for group study and Friday night is the time for everyone to gather to discuss and solve any issue that may arise in day-to-day lives. Everyone here is first and foremost an ordinary worker; there used to be a branch manager to organize the running of the branch, and now this role has been cancelled, each branch only has a senior , whose role is neither manager or leader, but just a coordinator to arrange and coordinate branch's daily activities.

There is no more traditional "family" in the Second Home. Husband-and-wife relationship pattern is broken automatically when the couple start living in the community, and they become independent of each other. The nurture and education of kids, the care of the senior residents will be the pure responsibility of the community, which means that children are no more responsible for the wellbeing of their parents and vice versa.

All the jobs in the Second Home are professionalized and specialized, big or small, there will one person in charge. The chef only does cooking, the washer only does the laundry, the cleaner only does cleaning, the gardener only does gardening, and chicken raiser only cares chicken, vegetable growers only grow veges, and the one who cultivate economic crop just focus on making sure the crop grow well, builders only do the building and maintenance work. The purchaser, driver, hairdresser, health carer and tailor will be doing other jobs when they finish the main task. Home school teacher is a part-time job, so teachers are involved in manual labor when they are free.

The main income of the Second Home comes from the donation of Chanyuan celestials. We grow a variety of vegetables ourselves, now the supply can meet the demand of 180 residents. Every day we can get all together about 300 chicken and duck eggs from three branches, which ensure that everybody could have at least one egg each day. The meals are mainly veges, but we do have meat occasionally. This year we have started the business of growing monk fruits, and now we have total 10,000 monk fruit trees under management, if everything goes well, a yearly 1000,000 RMB net profit can be expected.

The officers from Public Security Department of Yunnan Province, China (where the community is located) once said after visiting our community, "What you have done is too ideal, and we doubt how you people can keep and develop this life mode". But I'm very sure that the economic development of the Second Home will not have any problem, and we can definitely become self-sufficient and eventually live in abundance. The reality will prove it after three years.

In the three years' time since the Second Home was founded, our community never had any form of attrition and confliction with our neighbors. Actually, we keep a very friendly relationship with the neighbors. Internally, the community residents never had any quarrel, argument, abuse or fight and everyone get well along with other people. Also, violations of the law and crimes are not seen here at all; gambling, drug taking, prostitution and stealing have totally disappeared.

The environment of three branches has become very idyllic. All branches are surrounded by green mountains and clean streams; luxuriant plants and trees are everywhere. We have a variety of fruit trees, especially pear, bayberry, peach and chestnut trees, which produce fruits more than our residents could consume. Over 70 different kinds of flowers are blossoming in all seasons. Our home is clean and tidy everywhere, especially the kitchen, dining room and public toilets, you can hardly see any stain. The criss-crossed brick or cement walkways in the orchards extend in all directions. In our 4th branch, brook's babbling can be heard everywhere, and the crystal mountain spring flows through the front of everyone's bedroom and the vegetable garden. Rooms of all branches are managed according to hotel standard; all rooms are equipped with a wooden bed, a desk, a chair and a wardrobe. Each of the bedrooms later built by ourselves has a spacious bathroom and a closet; all rooms have two windows which allow enough sunlight and fresh air to come in. We also built an entertainment hall which can hold 300 people and a five-star level dining hall which can seat 150 people.

Except that every a few kids are still live together in one big room, other people all have a separate bedroom. The ideal of "No one pockets anything found on the road, Doors are not bolted at night" has been completely realized in the Second Home. There never be any stealing case in three years, nobody ever lost anything and people can keep their door open at daytime and leave the door unlocked at night. Breaking into other people's bedroom without permission at night is rarely heard.

The meal standard in our community is above worldwide average; the main course is usually rice, steamed bread, steamed stuffed bun, twisted roll, noodle, Chinese dumpling and spring onion pancake. The vegetables include cabbage, Chinese cabbage, carrot, eggplant, cucumber, capsicum, tomato, potato, cauliflower, chives, celery, string beans and melons. The meal is usually served in buffet style; everybody can take what they need, and the food supply is always enough to feed all.

All residents "own nothing but have everything". All properties belong to everyone; individual no more own any property or money. No one is treated specially. All people go to the dining room for food; the storeroom is open for everyone to take what they need for daily life. There is no distribution and supervision. Clothing can be purchased on demand. The basic policy is as long as the goods is not luxurious and wasteful, it will be definitely purchased to meet the need of requester. Currency is no more useful inside the community, and money transaction also disappeared between people.

The Second Home basically does not have any celebration activity except the Mid-Autumn Festival and Chinese New Year. We don't celebrate birthday too; gifting between people is not allowed.

The Second Home* try to prevent any religious ceremony and political activity; we don't have church, temple, Mosque, preaching hall, meditation room and office, we don't have any form of worshipping, for example, burning incense and bowing to an idol, therefore, we don't hang up the image of any saint, master and buddha. Everything comes from nature and should be returned to nature, so artificial stuff is unwanted in our home. Moreover, everyone is independent of others, and no one should impose his will upon other people.

The cultural and recreational activities in our community is full of variety, in addition to the monthly big party, we play games and have entertainment anywhere when we feel like to. Game ideas are so many and varied that we always have new and exciting one to play. Singing, dancing and poetry recitation are the main theme of entertainment. All residents can participate in these activities so that their talents and skills can be displayed and developed. Our home is short of musical talents now, but we prepare to buy some instruments so that we can enjoy the beautiful music of flute, piano, Chinese pipa and trumpet all round our home in future. We don't have a reading room and only have small volume of books right now, so we plan to set up a library in each branch, and most books will be related to philosophy and natural science.

The Second Home* has a home school for 13 kids' study purpose, and their level is now at 4th, 5th and 6th grade of primary school. We have classroom, study desk, blackboard and a big play ground. The educational materials are the same as what people use in public schools which meet the requirement of the Chinese Department of Education. The teachers are chosen from residents who are either used to be a professional teacher or have completed tertiary education. In addition to the basic subjects, we also added the subjects of "how to behave as a competent and useful man" and "the relationship between human being and the Greatest Creator (God)". Kids are also required to do some manual labor according to each one's ability, for example, cleaning bedroom and yard, pulling weeds. English language is also a major subject in primary school education.

"Each does his best according to his ability and asks for what he need" is a key policy in our home. Anyone, even if he is 800 years old, as long as he is still fit, should assume a job according to his ability. Therefore, there is no such saying as "retired" in our home. Nobody is an idle and parasite, everyone has something to do. In fact, working has become the most basic and enjoyable daily activity for everyone, it almost turned to a form of game. People feel like they are punished if they are not allowed to work.

In the Second Home, if someone has caused any hurt to others mentally, spiritually or physically, this person will be dismissed immediately from the community.

The love between man and woman is absolutely free in the Second Home. Nobody should interfere a couple in love, but group sex is prohibited. Also, we implement the value “Gents come second, ladies are always first and should be respected for no reason”. So man can never be active trying to seduce a woman, and any form of sex harassment is strictly prohibited. Breaking into a woman’s room without her permission is not permitted. Moreover, in our home, there is no marriage, one would be relocated to a different branch every three years, therefore, permanent relationship between man and woman is almost impossible. If a man and a woman fall into love and don’t want to be set apart, they can choose to return to the secular world, get marry and form a family like what people do in traditional society.

Currently, the situation of the Second Home can be described as “Excellent”, and it is developing towards the direction of “more and more perfect, more and more ideal”.

We have set a successful example for all human beings. If everyone on this earth lives according to this new life mode, undoubtedly, this world will become a heaven, an Eden. The earth will no longer have wars, conflicts, crimes, famine and crisis, but enter into a new peaceful era. Man and man, man and society, man and natural will co-exist very harmoniously.

Every single person of human beings, no matter which country, ethic group, religious and political party you come from, no matter you are rich or poor, no matter you are big or small, please note that the Second Home will not develop to any kind of political party which might cause trouble and harm to you. I believe that if you are interested in this new life mode, if you come live in our community, you won’t lose anything; on the contrary, you will surely get more than you can imagine!

I sincerely hope that you will pay close attention to us, and we warmly welcome journalists or visiting groups to come to our home to experience this exciting lifestyle!

Note: Chanyuan celestials are those people who like the above lifestyle and are willing to give up all their possession in secular world and dedicate their life to initiating a heavenly-like brand new era. They are the ones who are brave enough to pursue the highest state of life, which is a journey on the earth full of fun, happiness, freedom, and joy.

7. One Who Takes No Liberty Will Not Understand

Morality

Xuefeng

July 9, 2017

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

First of all, the morality of which I speak here are Tao and Virtue. Tao is the consciousness of the Greatest Creator and the synthesis of all laws and rules of the universe. Virtue is the level of which LIFE is consistent with Tao, and as with love, it is only a state of LIFE.

Liberty is a state of mind with neither selfishness nor ego, and without worry, fear, responsibility, or obligation, but rather is acting freely and being unfettered. Without it, we can neither enjoy Life nor understand the meanings of Tao and Virtue. In other words, those who take no liberty remain confused.

Very few articles are worth reading. All those that were written by authors who have taken no liberty will cheat and deceive their readers. As the five blind men who patted parts of an elephant, they will concentrate on details while not understanding the “whole picture”. Therefore, rather than reading textbooks, it is better to read the “book without words”.

Who are some of the people who take no liberty?

- Leaders of governments are surely not free, nor are any of their officials who serve them.
- Masters of commerce who administer obligations and responsibilities to their disciples are not free, nor is anyone who lives for money, power, status, or fame.
- Those who own wealth and property are not free, nor are those who sleep all night only to work hard all day.
- Those who are fighting for some ideal and those living in traditional marriages and families are certainly not free.
- Finally, those who fear death and those who are inflexible in any way are deservedly not free.

Actually, liberty is the quality of LIFE in heaven. There are very few free people in the mortal world, and this is why history is so full of pain, confusion, misfortunes, struggles, contradictions, and all too often, total chaos and disorder.

8. The Vast Sea of Bitterness and the Tragic Life

(Edited by Kaer)

Being born into this world is tantamount to falling into a boundless sea of bitterness. How many ideals come to naught? How many hopes turn into despair? How much frustration? How many tears from the heart run on and on all day long? How much unspeakable bitterness follows us, year after year?

Each year a million people around the world commit suicide and the number who try but fail is too high to count. Why? Because of Life's bitterness! In this vast sea of bitterness, the shore is ever elusive. The endless suffering is too hard to explain. When will this pain ever STOP!

The suicides of a million people are only the tip of the iceberg or a drop of water in the vast sea. Much more pain is hidden under placid surfaces like volcanoes before they erupt. Hidden behind each smiling face are unspeakable hardships and sorrow. On the worried looks of the frowns and brows there is much sadness and regret.

Your social status rises, yet your suffering increases. You make more money, yet your pain increases each day. You finally have no worries about food, clothing, accommodations, or travel, yet you worry more. Your level of education includes a high degree and your knowledge is admirable, yet rather than sweeping your troubles away, they squeeze you like a constrictor snake.

You endure in silence, struggle hard, wait for a long time, eagerly look forward to the dawn's light, but no dawn of Life appears on the distant horizon, only an immeasurable abyss.

As a Life guide and a LIFE guide, I know where the shore of freedom and blessing is. I understand how to leave this boundless sea of bitterness. I can guide you to heaven, but you neither believe me nor trust me. You are full of doubts and even some of you who did follow me could not follow the route map I designed for you strictly enough. You followed my shadow, but not my spiritual light. In this way, you could never escape from Life's pain and troubles or reach the ideal shore.

Where is your pain? Your pain and all your bitterness are in your dedicated life program, your greed and selfishness, your lust, your possessions, your attempts to control and possess others, your envy, complaints, and comparisons, and in your passivity and pessimism. In other words, it is in your ignorance and savagery.

Committing suicide? Do you want to quench your thirst with a tall glass of poison? That would only lead you straight to hell. It is definitely not the right way to escape from your suffering.

The best ways to get rid of your Life afflictions are to carry on your torture stake, but to follow each step along my route map. As long as you strictly follow my route map, the farther you walk, the more you will begin to feel relaxed, the brighter it will be, the less pain you will feel, and the nearer you will be to heaven.

If you do not follow my route map strictly, your pain and suffering will never end. You can either hold on to your original way or you can choose a different path, but I can tell you that this is the only way to heaven. If you do not believe me, then just wait for your experience to answer!

Never assume that you can escape from the immense darkness on your own as you walk ahead. Without my guidance, you can never leave the affliction of the cave of the silver web, nor can you ever escape from the immense darkness.

9. Xuefeng's Manifesto

– to Corrupt Officers and Dark Power

Xuefeng

Dec 03, 2013

(Translated by Conglong)

In today's peaceful China, there still exist a group of corrupt officers and dark power who violate laws, bully the kind, confounding black and white, and stop at no evils even in broad daylight.

We have walked to today, and have suffered enough bullying and humiliation from corrupt officers and dark power. We cannot stand it anymore, and I hereby want to “declare war” on you.

Numerous people have sacrificed their precious life in order to realize the loftiest ideal and for the interests of all humanity. Their blood cannot be paid in vain. Today I want to take over previous martyrs' unfulfilled cause, and will fight to death for this great ideal.

Today, we have realized the absolute communal lifestyle within a small group. And you want to nip this flower in the bud, but I tell you, it is impossible!

You have used despicable means by threat, intimidation, and slander: damaged the road, cut the power and telephone cables, broke the water pipe, grabbed the camera by force, shoved young kids, and harassed community members at night, to forcibly occupy the home of many kind and diligent people and order them to move out. You use your power to commend the Public Security Bureau including the Domestic Safeguard Team to create difficulties and make sufferings to our souls. You threatened and intimidated the landlords to terminate our lease contracts, and stated that you wanted to drive the entire community away from Yunnan province within the next three to four months. You have committed innumerable crimes and lost your humanity.

You people intruded into our home, and searched our rooms and acted viciously. We were around by you. You intimidated local villagers to besiege us and forced your way in. You took pictures and videos arbitrarily and deleted the data in our camera by force. You came without presenting any documents or identifications but only give verbal orders, are you people different from bandits?

Because we are a group of people who voluntarily gather together to have a communal way of life, and we did not register with any relevant government departments, you then stated that we are an illegal organization. I want to ask you, what is the meaning of “illegal”? We never violate Chinese laws or commit crimes, and we never harm nature, the society, and people’s life. Is it illegal that we choose a communal lifestyle? Are your behaviours legal?

You organized forty people to besiege us for almost two weeks and forcibly occupied our home without giving us any compensation. What kind of people are you? You came as a team of about 16 police officers just to request some of us to get temporary residence permits. What do you want to do? You want to show us your strong power?

President Mr. Xi Jinping has told you to “value the initiative of masses”. The Third Plenary Session of Eighteen Central Committee has approved that CPC should “encourage the initiative of masses”. Did you not hear it or you do not understand it? Do you want to go against with central Chinese government?

You think that you can do anything as long as you are in authority. You think you can bully people and prey on them arbitrarily. You think that we are afraid of you. Let me tell you, you are wrong!

Civilization is never afraid of barbarism. The good is never afraid of the evil. Brightness is never afraid of darkness. The masses are never afraid of corrupt officers. We will never succumb to your despotic power! No way!

How long can you continue this reckless attack? And how long can you still cover the sky and tyrannise us? Let us see whether you will make us die of famine or short of resources. Let me tell you, your last day is coming soon, you are making your last crazy attacks and death struggles.

God's mill grinds slow but sure. Your wickedness will be unable to escape the net of justice!

10. Do not Attempt to Control Others

Xuefeng

March 5, 2011

Who should be controlled?

Answer: livestock, poultry, idiots, maniac (mental patients), criminals.

Who will control them?

Answer: feed lot, mental health hospital, penitentiary, prisons, and the staff members of these institutions.

Apart from those mentioned above, man should not seek to exercise control over each other (with the exception of special organizations)

Men should establish an equal, friendly, mutually respecting and honourable relation. There should not be any attempt of mutual control.

If you attempt to control others, then you regard them as animals, or idiots or maniacs, or prisoners. The slave owners in the age of slavery-controlled slaves. Thus when some people want to control others, they are treating them like slaves, or they are regarding themselves as the jailers and the people they attempt to control as the criminals.

In the normal society, man should not attempt to control each other, if so, you are despising and trampling on human right and human dignity, and actually you are committing a crime.

It can be said without exaggeration that a person who wants to control another normal person is a criminal, or a maniac who is inflicted with mental disorder.

We should ponder over it and be vigilant if the above definition has its meaning and value.

Most couples are trying to control each other, either in economy, emotion, body, thought, spirit, or soul. In one word, there are traces of mutual control between husband and wife. In this sense most of husbands or wives are in essence criminals or mental patients. Of course, a criminal will not regard himself as a criminal and a mental patient will never think of himself as a mental patient. Once he regards himself as a mental patient, he is not a mental patient any more, but a normal person.

There are also mutual controls between lovers and sweeties. Therefore, infatuated lovers or sweeties also smack of mental disorders.

Some parents who still exercise control over their grownup children are actually criminals.

Some children who exercise control over their parents are not only criminals but also mental patients.

In the normal organizations, it is normal for the higher authorities to control the lower authorities, but it is abnormal for one to be controlled by his superior, because such superiors are taking their inferiors as their slaves and taking themselves as the masters.

Any phenomenon of controlling or being controlled is absolutely abnormal, no matter whether it occurs in the politics, religion, culture, production, or cultivation and refinery, or in life and family, in social intercourse (with the exception of those cases where control is necessary). The person who exercises control is either a criminal or a mental patient.

Controlling others is actually paramount to depriving other people's freedom. Poultry and livestock have no freedom, maniacs or mental patients should be monitored during their illness; prisoners should not enjoy freedom during their service in the prison. A normal person should enjoy complete freedom as endowed by the constitution. Aren't we criminals if we deprive a normal person of his freedom? If we are not criminals, then we must have suffered some mental problems.

Therefore, we must keep it in mind that we should never attempt to control anyone, especially the Chanyuan celestials. We should never control others but must fully respect their freedom. In the Home Without Marriage and Family of Lifechanyuan, there should never be the control of man by man, which is one of the main elements of holographic management.

When we are currently controlling other people, we must be vigilant, we are either criminals or mental patients.

When we try to control others, we must watch out, because we are heading for crimes or schizophrenia.

11. Do Not in Any Way Try to Change Others

Xuefeng

March 5, 2011

The most complicate and most troublesome relation in the world is that between husband and wife, the most saddening and most disappointing relation is that between husband and wife, and the most yearned and most despairing relation in the world is also that between husband and wife. To maintain this relationship, one should be neither too soft nor too tough, neither too close nor too estranged, neither too powerful nor too weak, and neither too indifferent nor too intimate. This relation may look as illusive as thin strands of silk, as hot as fire, and as cold as ice. It is almost impossible to straighten out what is entwined in the relation, and very difficult to explain it in a clear and logical manner.

The relation between husband and wife begins with a comedy but ends in tragedy. Don't be fooled by the report of many couples that have developed love in childhood and sustained it all through their lives. This is only an appearance put up under the control and check of various factors. The marriage and the relation between husband and wife is in essence a tragedy.

The source of the tragedy is not the lack of money or poverty, is not wealth and rank, is not parents or children, and is not the involvement of a third party or the differences in characters and interests. The source of the problem lies in the fact that both husband and wife intend to change the other party according to their own values and wills.

The wife always wants to change the husband according to her own values and wills, while the husband always wants to impose his own values on the wife. What is the result? Neither the husband nor the wife can change each other, and the so-called change is only temporary compromise and suppression in consideration of various factors.

The desire to change others is the beginning of tragedy.

Let's ask people who have been husbands and wives or are now husbands and wives if they have changed the other party. The more you want to change the other party, the worse the relations between husband and wife will be. Don't you think so?

Why is the desire to change others the beginning of tragedy?

"It is more difficult to change man's natural disposition than to change rivers and mountains". It is a painful thing to change one's natural disposition, not only for the person that asks others to change but also for the person asked to make the change. It is extremely arduous, painful and also perverse to nature to change rats into cats, cats into dogs, dogs into men, and man into another self.

In addition, because of each individual's predestined relations and evolutions in previous life and transmigration, people each have their own peculiar track of life and LIFE, which is a plot of screenplay that has already been written and their own life. That we want to change others is actually paramount to changing the track of other people's life and LIFE and going against Tao. The result is just imaginable. All the effort can only prove to be futile and will lead to tragedy.

If husband and wife who are mutually related in interests and deeply in love with each other cannot change each other, then it would be more difficult for people in other interpersonal relations to change reach other. The parents' attempt to change their children and vice versa, the friends', neighbors' and relatives' attempt to change each other--all these will end in tragedy.

Jesus Christ, Buddha Sakyamuni, and celestial Lao Tze have left us with many teachings, but they had never attempted to change any body, they were simply reasoning with us and offering guidance to us. Only devils and their offspring desire to force their will upon others.

Men should never attempt to do anything to change others or do anything that may be a strain on energy and does not produce good results. Man should not do anything impossible, should not cause tragedy to himself or other people, especially between husband and wife, between parents and children, and between friends and lovers, between masters and disciples, and between teachers and students. The best approach is: I respect your will, your choice, your hobbies and interests, and your character. If we are compatible with each other, we can get along with each other happily and joyfully, if not we just go our different ways. If we vary too greatly in views, we can break up in good manners and follow our respective ways.

Do not attempt to change any other creatures and LIVES (including man, of course) except yourself.

The more intimate the relations between men are, the more important it is for them to respect each other's will and character. Be sure not to try to change the other party with your own values and outlook on life. Do not attempt to impose your own will into the other party, otherwise, you may become estranged and part company, each going your different ways, no matter how close you have been to reach other.

How can we prove that we ourselves are right? There is no way to prove. "What seems to be a misfortune may be a blessing in disguise". Even if someone has suffered a misfortune, how we can know the meaning and value implied in such "misfortune", how can we know that such "misfortune" may actually turn out to be a blessing?

The conclusion: Do not try to change or transform the other, and just change yourself if you cannot endure. In this way, you will not create tragedy, and in this way, you may enjoy more intimate relations, in this way, you will have broader space to utilize your talents, in this way, you will have the mien of a celestial being.

12. The Survival of Mankind is in Great Danger

The Production and Life Model needs to Change Immediately

Xuefeng

August 1, 2017

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

According to a report that was released on August 1st of 2017 in the Worldwide Fund for Nature, people would have consumed the full year's supply of renewable resources for 2017 by August 2nd of 2017. The report pointed out that, "By August 2nd of this year, we will have used more natural resources than the earth can replace during the entire year". This means that during the first seven months, our carbon emissions have been more than all the oceans and forests will recycle for the full year, and that we will have caught more fish, cut down more trees, harvested more food, and used more water than the earth will replace during the year, so that during the following five months, we will be borrowing or "overdrawing" the benefits that were to have been for future years and offsprings.

In April of 2009, I warned everyone that the so-called "end of the world in 2012" would not happen, and that rather than doomsday coming suddenly, it will happen gradually to and fro, with more and more serious natural climatic changes. Alas, little changes happen gradually, but great changes take place instantly, and natural climate changes over the past eight years have fully demonstrated my predictions.

If the human race as a whole fail to awaken to this last-minute danger and do not change our traditional production and life model immediately, the entire natural ecology will collapse within fifteen (15) to twenty (20) years, and the human race will all be in great danger.

During the last eight years, Lifechanyuan has been actively engaged in the exploration of and experimentation with a new production and life model, and has found a way to solve the conflict between natural resources and human consumption. Once again, I give warning to everyone today that we urgently need to live according to the production and life model created by Lifechanyuan.

If we do not act NOW, it will be too late.

13. Live for Yourself, Never for Others

Xuefeng

April 30th 2010

(Translated by Treasurer and Edited by Kaer)

The most selfish people in the world are those who claim to live for others. The most selfless people in the world are those who admit to living for themselves.

The Greatest Creator creates every life as an individual, endowed with a unique appearance and nature, free will, and a full physiological system. Each individual is given a mission that is uniquely different from all others. As individuals, each of us has our own unique fate and trajectory of LIFE and of human life. It is only when there are diverse, rich and varied lives that a fantastic world can be constituted.

It is The Greatest Creator's arrangement that every life should live out its own nature. It is only with great selfishness and lack of mercy that we repress others' natures or deprive their natures by persuading or forcing them to live according to our own will, and that is totally against the way of the Greatest Creator.

As long as everyone lives only for themselves, everything will be in order and each of us can live out our own style and live easily. Whoever does not live for themselves but attempts to live for others will exhaust not only themselves but also those who are served by them.

The value of Lifechanyuan is to be responsible to the Greatest Creator and for yourself. Everyone should live for and be responsible for themselves, as it is only when they live completely this way, that all of humanity will be in a state of harmony. If everyone lives for others and tries to be responsible for others, all of humanity will be chaotic and under stress. In fact, there is not a single person in the world who lives entirely for others. Even the greatest prophets, including Christ Jesus and Buddha Sakyamuni, lived for themselves more than for others. They served objectively for others, but subjectively for their own achievements and for completing their missions.

I, Xuefeng, the founder of Lifechanyuan, was motivated to start Lifechanyuan to lead humanity out of misery, to create the Lifechanyuan era for all people, on the surface for the human race, but intrinsically for my own benefit. "The sages recognize selfishness for its selflessness". The more selfish I am, the more I can achieve and realize myself and the more I can be a true self and lose myself. In a word, I live for myself and I am responsible for myself, but I never live for others, never bother with others, and never answer for others. Certainly, I do not need others to live for me, bother about me, or answer for me.

Every parent gives birth to and raises children for themselves definitely not for the sake of their children. Any parent who truly does everything with regard for their children would never bring children into this world of suffering with neither the consent of, nor any agreement from those children.

Taking care of and raising children and creating conditions to ensure that they receive proper education is for the children on the surface, but is essentially for the parents in order to satisfy their own desires to obtain what they need from those children. These desires include feelings of parenthood, glorification and illumination of their ancestors, passing on their genetic legacy, the need for support when they become aged and unable to work, and so on. Some children do not want to get married, however their parents will persuade and coerce them to. What is the purpose? It is entirely for the parents themselves.

Anyone who forces others and who imposes their will upon others is completely selfish and in no way lives for others. The more they claim, "All that I do is for you", the more their extremely selfish and purposeful, concealed motives become revealed.

No matter how deeply a husband and wife might love each other, it is essentially for each of themselves. Does any husband live completely for his wife? Does any wife live completely for her husband? Is there any? Of course not! Is there any king, president, or chairman who lives completely for their people? Of course not! In order to gain favor from their constituents so they can consolidate their power and maintain their positions, they have to gain favor from the people, and the more favor they gain, the more they benefit themselves. This is really quite a tacit understanding.

When anyone says, “I do this completely for the sake of the people, not for mine”, or “I do this completely for your own good, not for mine”, they are attempting to fool the public. They are looking for scapegoats to hide their own inabilities, passing on their own incompetence and irresponsibility, conspiring to control others, attempting to impose their wills and wishes upon others, mistreating others in spirit and soul, increasing the burdens of spirit and soul on others by arousing their emotions, and are shirking their responsibilities.

A good person should seek the truth from the facts with honesty but with neither deception nor falsehood. Everyone lives for themselves and is responsible for themselves. Never repeatedly claim that you live for others or are responsible for others. When anyone claims, “I did this for your own good”, it can be concluded that they are a liar and that they are lying. When someone says, “I live for you”, it can be concluded that they are incompetent, greedy, selfish, and merciless.

Someone says, “I want to deliver all beings from torment”.

I say, “Bullshit”!

Why do you want to deliver all beings from torment?

Everything is running in Tao, need you not also?

14. Only Communism Can Save Mankind

Xuefeng

August 8, 2016

(Translated by Conglong, Ailian and Tongxin, Edited by Kaer)

Capitalism has achieved great progress for humanity. Transportation and communication are very convenient and produce is abundant in today’s society. The earth supports seven billion people, mainly as a result of capitalistic development. Without capitalism, today’s civilization could not exist.

Capitalists are the elite of society. They have generated much material wealth for people and resolved unemployment issues for a large number of people. Without capitalists, many more of us would be very poor and suffer underdeveloped and empty lives.

However, the development of capitalism has gradually revealed three major issues that it cannot overcome:

1. The unequal distribution of wealth
2. The over consumption of natural resources
3. The further intensified trend of selfishness and greed from human nature

As reported by CNS New Work on January 20th, 2015, the top 1% of the wealthiest people in the world possess 48% of the world's wealth, the following 19% possess 46%, and the bottom 80% only possess 5.5%.

The unequal distribution of wealth will result in a series of social problems such as:

1. A desire to be wealthy quickly and its resulting illegal activities
2. Hostility against the wealthy
3. Production of counterfeit goods
4. Seizing of resources
5. Illicit drug production and trafficking
6. Jealousy and struggling
7. Stealing, cheating, blackmailing, exploiting, gambling, speculating, and corrupting because of feeling psychologically unbalanced
8. Violence

All these problems cannot be resolved through capitalistic production relations.

The second issue caused by the development of capitalism is the unreasonable and huge consumption of natural resources. Professor Mohan Munasinghe, the Vice Chair of the U.N Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change and a board member of Green Cross International, said that by 2012, we had overdrawn 50% of the sustainable natural resources of the earth and he predicted that if we continue pursuing our current lifestyles, we would need those of two planets to meet the demand of the total population by 2030.

Not only is the excessive consumption of natural resources unable to support a sustainable future, but it will also lead to a series of natural disasters. The deterioration of the natural environment in recent years is very evident: global warming, drought and drying river beds, floods, hurricanes, thawing permafrost and the disappearing arctic ice cap as ancient glaciers melt and result in a rise of sea level, destruction of biodiversity, and polluted rivers, sea, and soil, to name just a few. Even more severe are the natural disasters which are aggravating, not by a small percentage, but rather at a geometric rate. Due to this climate change, it is possible that within the next fifteen years, many places on earth will become uninhabitable. The number of refugees caused by natural disasters could reach hundreds of millions which could lead to social upheavals, and if that happens, the United Nations and the existing governments will be impotent.

The nature and development of capitalism are based on selfishness and greed. The ultimate purpose of the efforts of almost everyone is to get more resources and wealth for themselves. In order to meet their growing and changing desires, people are working hard, day and night, in order to acquire more wealth and resources, which in turn, aggravates the selfish consciousness and actions. Excessive development and consumption driven by endless desires of human beings are the core drivers that lead to pollution, global warming, destruction of biodiversity, and other natural disasters. Stephen Hawking once predicted that selfishness will lead to the destruction of the human race within 200 years.

Except for the three big conditions of inequitable distribution of wealth, uncontrolled consumption of natural resources, and selfishness and greed, others such as financial turmoil, massive global military spending, fast population growth, huge numbers of civil servants in each country, and large amounts of waste, are problems that cannot be overcome within our current system; Stephen Hawking predicted that the end could come within two hundred years. It is becoming clear however, that if these issues are not resolved soon and if things continue to deteriorate, it could very likely happen within less than one hundred years.

The U.S is the most developed capitalist country in the world, and its consumption of natural resources is so large that, according to Singapore's newspaper "Zaobao", if everyone in the world consumed what the average American does, we would need five earths to meet their demand. In addition, according to a report in the American "Aerospace Daily" of April 11th, 2016, data from the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute (SIPRI) showed that global defense spending in 2015 totaled about $1.7 trillion, and the top spender, the U.S., reached $596 billion. Given the reality of the U.S.'s consumption of natural resources and its military spending, natural resources will surely become depleted eventually as a result of the development of capitalism. A country whose population accounts for less than 4% of the world's total is consuming 25% of the earth's resources. If every country were to do as the U.S. does, humanity would surely face a dead end.

Population expansion is a major world problem. According to statistics from the United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), the world population is increasing at a rate of 80 million people per year. A recent report from the UN forecast that the world population will increase from 7.3 billion in 2015 to 8.1 billion by 2023 and to 9.6 billion by 2050. With these increases of population and with the rise of people's consumption levels, the demand for natural resources will also increase.

For example, to meet the demands of 73 million people for food, clothing, accommodations and transportation etc, a huge amount of natural resources must be consumed. The resources of our earth are limited; however the increase of population is unlimited. We have limited water and land resources, so how are we going to handle this challenge? If we do not have a feasible plan to control the population growth or change our lifestyles and production modes, one day the resources will become exhausted and humanity's doom will not be much farther away, no matter how many UN meetings are held or what efforts the governments of each country take.

We are facing a huge crisis. The best way to overcome this is to gradually move toward a communist lifestyle. In other words, only communism can save the world.

Communism is not just a new lifestyle and a new production system; it is a noble faith. It is the essence of the thoughts of many saints and sages ever since the ancient Greek philosopher Plato wrote of an ideal lifestyle that is desired by ordinary citizens. Communism represents universal values. Social issues such as racial discrimination, religious disputes, state rivalries, national extremes, distribution inequity, selfishness and greed, resource waste, territorial disputes, population growth, huge military spending, government over-staffing and corruption, and high volumes of waste can all be resolved and eliminated through communism. In addition, communism can purify our souls and sublimate our characters, and it will not only make materially abundant lives possible, but the state of global happiness will be elevated as well.

The communism I discuss here is very different from the communism described by Karl Max, Vladimir Lenin, and Mao Zedong. The way it realizes the communist production relationship has essential differences from the ways carried out by Lenin and Mao. Please do not jump to the conclusion that the communism I mentioned is like your previous experience and perception of the term.

To differentiate between our communism and that described by Marx, Lenin, and Mao, we temporarily name ours, “Xuefeng-style communism”.

Xuefeng-style communism has been running for over seven years, and it has proven through practice that Xuefeng-style communism can be fully realized under current conditions. Xuefeng-style communism can resolve the crises of unequal distribution of wealth, intemperate consumption of natural resources, population expansions, financial storms, huge military expenditures, overstaffed civil offices, and disposal problems. Moreover, Xuefeng-style communism will bring an unprecedented bright life to the human condition.

Xuefeng-style communism has realized the following after seven years' practice:

1. From each according to his ability and to each according to his needs. Everyone has something to do and a place in which to live, and people never need to worry about making a living. Everyone does their best according to their talents and abilities.
2. No one pockets anything found on the road and doors are unbolted at night. There is no stealing, cheating, robbing, or concealing of goods.
3. There is no marriage and no family. Also, there is no currency within the community.
4. Love is free, but there is no sexual promiscuity or venereal disease.

5. The environment of the community is beautiful, clean, and orderly.
6. Nobody has personal belongings. Everything belongs to the community and everyone is selfless.
7. Illness is reduced to the minimum and the average expenditure on medical care is less than ¥200RMB per person, per year. If we lived this life style, aging would slow down and the average lifespan would exceed eighty years. However, our ideal is for everyone to live up to 120 years and to die peacefully and without illness.
8. The young will get a proper education and the old will be well taken care of. Rearing and educating children will no longer be their parents' responsibility. There will be no widows or empty-nest elderly. Also, there would be no undisciplined or neglected children.
9. People live in harmony with others, with society, and with nature. Over the last seven years, Xuefeng-style communism has never had any conflicts with neighbors or with the outside world. We have never hurt little animals such as birds, snakes, or fish. We have planted many trees and flowers which not only beautified the environment, but also brought vigor and vitality to our community.
10. Over the last seven years, no crime has taken place within our community, and fighting is extremely rare.
11. We use no chemical fertilizers or pesticides in our fields. Human and animal wastes are well composted into fertilizer. Also, we separate rubbish from waste, and purify the sewage. Zero pollution has been nearly accomplished.
12. We have no administrators, no leaders, and no offices within the community. Also, there is no command or force, and everyone consciously and generously infuses himself into his work because every member is also a laborer.
13. We have no religious rituals or activities and there are no spells or idolatry.
14. In all affairs, whether big or small, the responsibilities are well divided. Traditional heavy housework has been eliminated.
15. We only celebrate festivals of nature, such as Chinese spring festival, Ching Ming festival, Dragon boat festival, and mid-autumn festival. Apart from natural festivals, we celebrate no other festivals and we do not celebrate individual birthdays.
16. We keep communications open with the outside world. Everyone communicates with the outside world by telephone, email, and WeChat messenger. Strict screening is required before anyone may enter our community, but anyone can leave the community freely.

17. We are self-sufficient. We are not supported from the outside world nor do we need to be. We do not take capitalists' wealth.

18. Every member relocates to a new facility every three years to avoid aesthetic fatigue, forming cliques, or being trapped into relationships.

19. All the resources are highly shared and utilized. For example, a hundred fifty people within our community share five cars. However, under capitalism, four people typically share a car. In this case, a hundred fifty people save thirty-two cars. We can enjoy very good lives with only one quarter of the resources needed in a capitalist system.

20. There are no rules and no discipline with punishment. We comply only with the natural and civilization Tao.

21. A strong credit system has been established. Those who are dishonest will fail as in the parable of the long spoons.

22. Birth control is well carried out. No children have been born in our community during the last seven years. One reason for this is to comply with national laws and regulations, and another is to lighten the burden of the nearly fully loaded planet.

23. The funeral system of Xuefeng-style communism is such that no matter who passes on, only simple farewell ceremonies are held. Their bodies are committed to fire and their ashes are sprinkled to nature. We have no graves, mausoleums, or urns (ash boxes).

24. If measured by GPI (Genuine Progress Indicator), HDI (Human Development Index) and NHI (National Happiness Index), it goes without saying that the Xuefeng-style communist community is at the forefront.

If the whole world can do the above, all humanity's crises would disappear quickly. Here, I want to say to all the capitalists that Xuefeng-style communism would not take your wealth away. To the contrary, it would bring you safety and stability. It would provide you with soulfulness and spiritual abundance. We human beings not only need financial wellbeing, but also soulful and spiritual wellbeing. Xuefeng-style communism helps people to achieve their highest levels of self-transcendence. As stated in Abraham Maslow's "Demand Theory", you would lead very good lives. If you do not carry out communism, there will be no escape from the poor, because when a huge crisis comes, your armies and police will not be able to protect you. The wealth you possess will not save you.

Here I want to say to the head of each country's government that Xuefeng-style communism would not interfere with your management, nor would it threaten or harm to your powers and positions. We are neither a religious group nor a political group; we are just a completely new production and life model. Please understand this: the person who has strong beliefs and ideals would never covet after short lived power and position, nor would they waste valuable time on possessions and vanity.

Here I want to say to the 80% of people who own only 5.5% of the world's wealth that your only way out is to move towards Xuefeng-style communism, that no matter what you do, you are not able to ascend to the upper classes. Your lives are constant struggles to survive. When you suffer from illness or natural disaster, you are set way back. For even those of you who own hundreds of thousands or millions of dollars, that is only a drop in the bucket. If there is no food for a month, you would know hunger. Therefore, you should long for communism and devote yourselves to communism. Only communism can save you.

Taking stop-gap measures cannot solve humanity's problems. The only way out is for the whole world to transit to Xuefeng-style communism.

How does capitalism transfer to Xuefeng-style communism?

1. With keen eyesight and an open mind and heart, observe, investigate, visit, learn, and study the successful, practical experience of Xuefeng-style communism in our community.
2. The transition should be supported by the United Nations and executed by the respective government of each country, with specific plans and steps.
3. Do not practice this as a worldwide movement, but experiment in small regions at first. Each country should start with from one to three experimental regions. If they are successful, then they should spread it gradually; if not, then can give it up. In this way, such practices would not inhibit the normal operation of the current system and it would also be good for exploring the methods and ways of eliminating the current crises which face humanity.
4. Throughout the whole practice, Xuefeng-style communism will not deprive capitalists of their property and capitalists can continue their commercial activities by following market law. Once half the people on earth enter this communist lifestyle, and when the capitalists see that communist life is more ideal than their current lives, they will embrace it and become willingly involved with the exploration and practice of Xuefeng-style communism. Not putting requirements on anybody at any time is the core principle of Xuefeng-style communism.
5. People who are involved in the production and life of Xuefeng-style communism must first have a soul-garden purification. Capitalism is created and realized by stimulating people's selfishness, greed, wisdom, and skill to realize individual value through attaining resources, wealth, status, rights, and fame. However, Xuefeng-style communism is created by positively inspiring the qualities of sincerity, kindness, beauty, love, faith, and honesty deep within people's hearts, to climb to the highest realm of temporary life and eternal LIFE. Without purifying one's soul-garden, the laziness, selfishness, and greed of people cannot be overcome, and such people are not suitable for a communist lifestyle.

After seven years' practice, Xuefeng-style communism is still not perfect. We are still exploring it as "walking a tightrope" or "walking on thin ice", which means that we need wise and judicious people from all over the world to point our mistakes out, to offer advice, and to practice it together. We need understanding as well as involvement and support from governments much more.

"The future is bright but the road is torturous". No matter how tough the path and how much difficulty we encounter, we need to make every effort to succeed. Only by making strong effort, can we have hope, but once we give up making this effort, the future will definitely be bleak.

15. Jesus Never Wanted us to Marry

Xuefeng

April 29, 2008

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

The teachings of Jesus are the way of LIFE and truth and the journey to heaven. Jesus is Christ and the savior. Following His instructions and living according to His instructions is our main guarantee of going to heaven.

There are two point one billion Christians in the world, but only a small percentage of them truly understand His teachings, and even fewer live according to them. The vast majority are what we call "Sunday Christians" or "Verbal Christians", not real ones.

Let us illustrate with the example of marrying and starting families.

Jesus told us not to marry and start families.

Why? On what basis?

First of all, we need to know that in His time, He could not tell people directly not to do that; otherwise, he could not preach to them, so He managed to speak in parables not to be understood directly. He said "The knowledge of the secrets of the kingdom of heaven has been given to you, but not to them". At the same time, He also said not to give that which is holy to the dogs, or put your jewels before pigs. That is to say, the core contents would not be told directly. However, as long as we have a deep understanding of His words, we can comprehend their meanings. The book of

Matthew tells us what Jesus wants us to know about marrying and starting families

Matthew 10:35

Jesus said, “I came not to send peace, but a sword. For I have come to turn men against their fathers, daughters against their mothers, and daughters-in-law against their mothers-in-law. People’s foes shall be from within their own households. Anyone who loves their father or mother more than Me is not worthy of Me and anyone who loves their son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me.”

Matthew 12:50

Jesus said, “For whoever does the pleasure of my Father in heaven, they are my brother, and sister, and mother”.

Matthew 19:9 - 19:11

Jesus said, “I tell you that any man who divorces his wife except for marital unfaithfulness and marries another woman commits adultery”. The disciples asked, “If this is the situation between husbands and wives, then is it best not to marry?”, and Jesus said, “Not everyone can accept this word, but only those to whom it has been given. The ones who can accept this, should accept it.”

Here, Jesus came very close to explaining that clearly. The disciples asked, “best not to marry?”, and Jesus encouraged the unmarried lifestyle, “Not everyone can accept this word, but only those to whom it has been given.” What was “this word”? It was “not to marry”. Therefore, “not to marry” is something that has been given, “only those to whom it has been given” could understand the meaning of “not to marry”, but others could neither understand nor accept it.

Matthew 19:29

Therefore, Jesus Christ stressed further, “And everyone who has given up houses, or brothers, or sisters, or father, or mother, or child, or land for my name will be given a hundred times as much, and have eternal life”.

Lifechanyuan advocates that people not marry, break up nuclear families, and hope that married couples will become Chanyuan Celestials together so they can end their marriage bonds as implemented in accordance with the teachings of Jesus Christ. The profound meaning of “not to marry and start a family” is for letting people enter the kingdom of heaven.

Matthew 22:30

Jesus told us clearly, “For when they come back from the dead, there will be no husbands or wives, but they will be as the angels in heaven”. This further indicates that those who enter into the kingdom of heaven have not married and that those who have married cannot enter into the kingdom of heaven. Why? Can those who marry not enter the kingdom of heaven? The answer is, NO, they cannot, and the reasons can be found in Lifechanyuan (Chanyuan Corpus and Xuefeng Corpus).

That is it! I have given a further explanation, but whether you can understand it or not is up to your own considering and judging. Therefore, what Xuefeng says does not go against the teachings of Jesus Christ, but carries out Jesus' teachings faithfully.

Christians all over the world, do you understand? Do you deserve to be Christians when you are obsessed with marrying and loving your families? Do not shout "Lord! Lord!"; Jesus will not hear you.

16. The New Consciousness for the New Era

Xuefeng

Those who wish to be a part of the New Era of Lifechanyuan must realize and accept these eighteen requirements:

- Abandon atheism and the theory of evolution and accept the reality of the Greatest Creator and follow the way of the Greatest Creator
- Abandon the concepts of ego, family, religion, political party, and state, and form the consciousness of global citizens
- Shift from the belief that reality creates consciousness to the belief that consciousness creates reality
- Repudiate the God of the Old Testament of the Bible and establish the new idea of the Greatest Creator
- Negate the view of fortuity and establish the view of inevitability
- Shift from the view of disorder to that of causality
- Accept the existence of different levels of LIFE besides that which we see on the earth
- Accept that LIFE consists of a material entity and a spiritual one
- Accept that death is not the end of LIFE but only the beginning of a new journey of Life
- Accept the reality of the existence of heaven and hell
- Understand that there is no ultimate judgment, but that judgment is ongoing and universal
- Understand that our futures are determined by us and shaped by our own hands

- Understand that whether one has a good future or a bad one depends on whether their non-material structure is perfect or deficient
- Abandon personal heroism and elite consciousness and lower oneself to the humblest of position
- Understand that, “What one reaps, so shall they sow”, and that we need to contribute more but ask for less in return to accumulate our merits and virtues and to sublimate our quality of LIFE
- Understand that only by embracing sincerity, kindness, and virtue, can we perfect our own structures of LIFE, completely abandon “attack and revenge” attitudes, and treat everything kindly
- Master the principle of the Mobius Net, unify opposites, and give up one’s criticisms of the world
- Understand that LIFE has an infinite future, and only those who pursue the highest realm of life can have the most splendid future. It is only in this way that we can enter the New Era.

17. States are Bound to Disappear (And They Are Doing So)

Xuefeng

February 9, 2018

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

As Zhugeliang predicted in his “Divination Before Saddled Horses”, “the talented will be put to good use, and the whole world will be one family” is the general trend of human social development as marriages and families, states, political parties, and religions are becoming decadent. This is a law of the evolution of society that cannot be stopped. Today, artificial intelligence is growing – a black swan which is flying high – the world is rapidly moving toward a new pattern. All the efforts to maintain those marriages and families, states, political parties, and religions are not only fatuous, but even futile.

In 2002, I predicted that marriages and families would disappear; that marriages and families, just like foot-binding for girls which was popular in the Southern Song Dynasty, would be regarded as symbols of backwardness and fatuity. Today, the rise of the global divorce rate and the rapid increase in the percentage of single people prove that my prediction is becoming a reality. Looking back upon marriages and families from twenty or thirty years hence, people will see them as ridiculous as foot-bindings for girls.

Marriages and families are the same as states; the present states are equivalent to primitive tribes; those tribes have died out and so will states. This must happen because the existence of states seriously restricts the development of the productive forces and the leap of human civilization. Even more horrible is that states are the chief criminal agents which cause military conflicts, over-consumption of resources, purging of human rights, and the destruction of the ecology. All states are actually jails which keep their people in perpetual bondage in their names. It is right to love one's hometown and one's motherland, but wrong to love their state. Places have emotional ties, but states are violent machines.

The bankruptcy of states will be disastrous for those in power, but glad tidings and welfare for their nationals. Let us use China as an example to show this. At present, who would think that the extinction of what used to be states but are now provinces was not a good thing? It is precisely because of the extinction of those states that there is a unified China today. Is this not a good thing for the people? At least we do not need visas nor to deal with customs agents to travel throughout China. How great! If China were again divided into Qi, Chu, Yan, Han, Zhao, Wei, Qin, even add Xixia, Dali, Inner Mongolia, Xinjiang, Tibet, and Manchuria, we would not be able to travel freely between those provinces. How do you feel? It would absolutely not be a good thing for the people. So we can imagine that if there were no states in the world today and that if all states disappeared, the people would be able to flow freely throughout the world. What a great thing that would be for ordinary people! Therefore, all states are morally bankrupt and they must all disappear.

How can all states be bankrupt and disappear?

1. Facebook has nearly two billion users. It has actually become a great invisible power. Mark Zuckerberg has a great plan to build a global community, actually a global government, and as more and more citizens of the earth join Facebook, the existing states will gradually exist in name only.
2. On February 7, 2018, the private American Company, SpaceX launched a super heavy-duty carrier rocket, "Falcon Heavy", far beyond all the satellites in orbit. Their power to launch rockets far exceeds those of Russia, the United States, and China. This shows that if thousands of private enterprises like SpaceX were to appear, then these private enterprises could completely solve all the problems of the world and the existence of the state would be totally unnecessary.
3. In South Africa, Michael Tellinger, launched the Ubuntu movement. As this movement becomes more and more popular and is implemented more widely, the existence of the state will become less and less necessary.
4. Someone proposed that the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand should form a Federal Republic. Would that not be great? I believe that the vast majority of citizens within those four countries would cheer. The more quickly that such proposals come into being, the sooner that states will disappear. If the European Union, the African Union, and South America were to unify, then most states would exist in name only.
5. There are thousands of spiritual, ecological consensus communities in the world and their numbers are growing. These communities have been created to solve the problems of food, clothing, shelter, transportation, birth, aging, illness, death, and LIFE sublimation on their own, and none of them are willing to be controlled by any government. With the establishment and development of more and more communities, who will still need huge administrative expenses to bully people? Who would want the government to control people and tell them when to urinate and when to defecate?

6. In 2009, I predicted that great disasters around 2013 would not happen; instead, there would be stepwise, reciprocating, and more serious natural climatic changes. The natural climatic changes over the past nine years have proven my prediction to be accurate. In the “prologue” of the 3’rd edition of “800 Values for New Era Human Being”, I said:

A new era for humanity will begin on New Year’s Day of 2018 and it will last for a millennium. The first thirty years will be a time for soul purification and the elimination of outdated consciousnesses. A large-scale soul purification will be necessary for humanity. Those consciousnesses which are not suitable for the needs of the new era will be eliminated. The following ten years will be a transitional period – the traditional production and life modes will be replaced by new models. After that, humanity will enter a harmonious era when all religions will unite as one, favorable weather will prevail throughout the year, and everyone will enjoy happy, joyous, free, and blessed lives. This new era will last till the end of the year 3017”.

In other words, from January 1, 2018 through the succeeding twenty years, and especially through the first ten years, unimaginable climatic changes will take place, refugees from these changes will be countless, and the problems of dealing with the refugee crisis will become more and more difficult. From 2028 to 2038, people will have to compete for survival resources. Their struggles will be unrestrained, impossible to suppress, and extremely cruel. The first ten years will produce continuous natural disasters and the succeeding ten years will be filled with many human misfortunes. This will calm down in 2048 because the population on the Earth will have become much smaller and a stateless world will have been born.

7. Artificial intelligence is evolving in geometric progression; the AlphaGo robot has defeated human beings in many thought experiments. People will still be people after ten years, but by that time, AlphaGo will have evolved into a super biological robot. Comparing those super biological robots’ intelligence to that of today’s biological robots would be like comparing human intelligence to that of primitive, four-legged mammals. Professor Kaplan of Stanford University has come up with these statistics: “47% of 720 jobs considered in the United States will be replaced by artificial intelligence. In China, this proportion may exceed 70%”. Ten years later, when super biological robots begin to take over the world, states will undoubtedly be swept into history museums.

8. Everything is advancing too rapidly in this era to predict what will happen next. Maybe black swans will fly as we wake up some day and the world will have changed into something unimaginable; something that we are at a total loss for. By then, such things as states are bound to have vanished completely.

In the face of the state, how does every citizen treat it?

- Do not work hard for your countries because all of those efforts will be in vain.
- Do not regard yourselves as American, Japanese, or Vietnamese anymore, but think of yourselves as citizens of the Earth.
- Imagining that your state does not exist and consider how you will survive without it, NOW!
- Affairs of the family, the state, and the earth are inconsequential; what really matters is your survival.
- Do not waste precious time listening to the lies and constant haranguing emitted by your governments and their apologists. Governments are not reliable at all; they can never be relied upon. It is no better to rely on a government than to rely on pigs. It is more useful to raise pigs than to raise a government.
- Join Facebook, the Ubuntu movement, an ecological community, a super private enterprise, a civilized and powerful state, or any crowd that cannot be destroyed by super biological robots; do not wait until tomorrow, do it today.
- Escape from unfair societies with scarce resources and dense populations where morals have degenerated, as soon as possible.
- At all times, be vigilant and be alert; be anchored against the wind; “Dig deep holes, accumulate grain extensively”, and find your way out.

18. Please Say Good Words as Much as You Can

Deiform Buddha

December 11, 2006

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

The ancients said, “Just as bitter medicine cures sickness, so unpalatable advice benefits conduct”, this is half right, the other half should be “The favorable weather benefits the growth of grains, so good and sweet words benefit the affections”.

Lifechanyuan implements the latter half.

Nobody is perfect and flawless. Life is short, so why aim at each other’s flaws? Everyone has their unique advantages and shining characteristics and everyone has their bright spots that are worthy of being appreciated. If we point to other people’s flaws, those flaws will be enlarged, but if we appreciate other people’s advantages, then their advantages will be enlarged. In order to make people happy and joyful, I advocate being blind to other people's flaws but to appreciate their bright spots instead. If we continue doing so for a long time, everyone will become kind and merciful, will have glorious hearts, and will be grateful and reasonable.

Therefore, in Lifechanyuan, please say good words as much as you can, as long as you do not mean to hurt people, you may say whatever you want. Humorous words, lively words, and wise words are all welcome, and as long as you can make others feel happy and pleasant, you will have earned merit.

Life is not easy! So many troubles and worries torture people and steal their smiles, so why, "add frost on snow" and make it worse when we get together? Without us, the earth would still rotate normally and other people would still live without any problems, so why should you make others unhappy?

I oppose being picky and nibbling and I oppose wrangling and arguing or teaching others wisdom I have gained (as if I am telling myself, I will not dare to do this in the future and I will correct this whenever I can). In all situations, if we have reasons, we state them, but we do not suggest that other people are unreasonable.

Lifechanyuan is the homeland for spirits and souls, to create a warm and harmonious atmosphere is our ideal and our expectation. The relationships among Chanyuan Celestials are the relationships of brothers and sisters, and relatives and lovers. We care and love each other, encourage and appreciate each other, we need to grow with encouragement and praise, but not hurt with arguments and criticism.

Dear guests, please understand that this is Lifechanyuan. We will spread such style to every corner of the world and create the Lifechanyuan era by following the principle of, "The favorable whether benefits the growth of grains, so good and sweet words benefit the affections".

Therefore, if you are picky when you enter Lifechanyuan, and say this is not good or that is unsuitable, then you are surely not welcome here.

The world is big, so please be merciful and allow us to cultivate our own small fields in our own way.

Say good words as much as you can and just keep those picky and critical words to yourself.

19. The Reversal of Heaven and Earth, Respect for Women

—New Value of Chanyuan

Xuefeng

Jan. 10, 2011

The heaven is superior and the earth is inferior, man is superior and woman is inferior, this is what is preached in Confucian theories (Confucius is an ancient saint in China) and traditional moral ethics. This concept is reversed in Lifechanyuan, namely men are green leaves and women are flower petals; in heaven and on earth women are superior.

The reasons are as follows:

1. The source is superior

The source of LIFE is the Greatest Creator, in the universe the Greatest Creator is supreme.

2. Women are superior

The Greatest Creator has created LIFE, which then propagate by itself, mainly through female. So women are superior.

3. Mother is respectable.

After ten months of gestation, LIFE comes from the mother, so mother should be respected and women should be superior.

4. Sisters and daughters are all women, we should protect sisters and daughters, so women are superior.

5. Women are not as strong as men and are vulnerable to harm, so for the equality and balance, women should be respected.

6. The Spirit of the Valley never dies.

It is called the Mystic Female. The Door of the Mystic Female, is the root of Heaven and Earth.

Xuanpin (Mystic Female) is the female reproductive organ, the root of heaven, which should be revered, so women are superior.

7. Buddha is gender, gender is Buddha, the gate of gender is the gate of Buddhas, only women have the gate of gender, so when we respect Buddhas we should also respect female.

8. Women are soft and quiet, they love peace and gentleness, they are merciful and kind in nature, they are broadminded and thus should be respected.

In Lifechanyuan, considerations should be given first to fairies. Fairies are lotus flowers and faeries are green leaves to protect the flowers.

1.Men should not contend with women.

2.Men should be brave to sacrifice for women.

3.Only women can sexually harass men; men are not permitted to do so.

4.In the face of danger, men should go forward to face the danger and place women behind for protection.

5.Women take precedence over men in the matter of enjoyment.

6. Men shall take initiative in doing heavy and dirty and tiring tasks, while light, skilled and clean work shall be reserved for women.

7. Men are not permitted to humiliate, desecrate, abuse, beat, maltreat, persecute, scorn and deride women.

8. Men are not permitted to limit women's freedom of person, spirit and soul in the name of love.

This idea is debatable around the broad masses. Anyone who disagrees to it can put forward solid evidences and theories, only a simple expression of complaint is not enough.

20. The Only Way to Restrain Climate Deterioration

Xuefeng

November 19, 2018

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Can the Kyoto Protocol or the Paris Agreement restrain climatic deterioration? It is an unrealistic and completely impossible joke to think so, and those projects to restrain global warming from some countries are even less possible.

The core factor in Climatic degradation is not carbon emissions and the pollution of land, air, and water, nor is it a matter of cattle and sheep digesting and producing methane gas, but rather, it is one of the human souls. Your state of consciousness determines your living environment and the overall reality is a projection of humanity's consciousness. Without changes of human consciousness and the purification of people's souls, it will be absolutely impossible to reverse the deterioration of our climate and our environment. This is an issue that can be resolved very easily; so what data analyses, computer simulations, and dedicated researches are needed? Will it be necessary for the United Nations to organize international conferences and meetings to discuss and formulate programs repeatedly?

Our environmental problem is one of people's souls and the first thing necessary is to reverse and to purify them but this cannot be accomplished by the U. N. or by any state or states, but only by everyone involving and purifying their own souls individually. This purification of human souls must be carried out from theoretical directions and with new orders of construction, both at the same time. As for theoretical guidance, I have offered a plan to prepare everyone, but they need to learn from me and abide by me. The order of construction is to replace the traditional production and life modes of society with a new one according to the model of the New Oasis for Life as created by Lifechanyuan. This is the ONLY way to reverse the deterioration of our environment.

Honestly though, it is too late to take action even if society were to begin immediately. I have shouted and appealed for at least the last decade, but instead of listening, most have wrecked the theories and practical demonstrations of Lifechanyuan. What can be done now is not to restrain climatic and environmental degradation, but to save a small group of people as seeds for human continuation, or extinction will be our destiny.

The crisis is here and now; if people still remain completely indifferent, then disasters such as the fires near Paradise Town in California, USA will recur frequently. Remember, no place in the world is safe! Where there are no fires, rivers might flood; where there are no droughts, violent storms might blow; where there are no earthquakes, volcanoes might erupt, and where there are no plagues, intensely hot summers or bitterly cold winters might become normal. This does not even address the eventualities of massive theft, murders, and wars. In short, there is no way to escape from these disasters.

Those who want to live must follow my guidance. I am the messenger of the Greatest Creator, the incarnation of god, Buddha, Celestials, sages, and saints, and the greatest spiritual guide of our time. Please do not hoard what you possess, but dedicate your wealth so that we can build our new mode of production and life on earth as soon as possible. Do not be short-sighted and accuse me of wanting to accumulate wealth by taking yours; I want nothing from you, but you need to use your wealth to save yourself.

I hope that the U. N. will cooperate with us. There are many places on earth which are disputed between nations and tribes but can be administered by them, so let us build new modes of production and life in these disputed places as soon as possible so that we can have kindling materials for the continuation of our species. It will not matter if people continue to turn deaf ears and use their small minds to deny my warnings and assumptions because they WILL learn the truth, but it will be too late by then. Have foresight and take action NOW.

21. Communism Has Been Fully Realized Here

Xuefeng

Aug. 24, 2011

The pursuit of an ideal society has been an everlasting ideological subject for sages and saints of mankind. The establishment of an ideal society has always been a direction and goal aspired by great politicians. Mankind has never stopped its exploration and pursuit of an ideal society, from the ideal of Great Harmony practiced by China's sage Confucius, to the ideal of Republic advocated by ancient Greek philosopher Plato, to Utopia proposed by Thomas Moor of England, to Utopian Socialism of Saint Simon and Fourier, to communism founded by Marx in Germany. There have been various attempts to establish an ideal society, from New Harmony Village created in Indiana of America by Robert Owen of England, to Collective Farms launched by Stalin of Russia, to People's Commune established by Mao Zedong in China, to Mountain-shore Village in Japan, and to Kibbutz in Israel.

Actually, "Kingdom of God" described by Jesus Christ in the Bible, the Elysium World mentioned by Buddha in Buddhist Sutra, the "society of harmony" portrayed by Lao Tzu in Tao Te Ching are all ideal societies.

Now we can say that one common goal, namely the highest ideal of life mankind can achieve, has been described and pursued by Great Harmony, Republic, Utopia, Ideal Land, Harmonious Society, Communism, the Kingdom of God, and the Elysium World.

The highest ideal society pursued by mankind must have the following 18 characteristics:

1. "Public ownership is the prevailing way under Tao".
2. There is no private ownership, all properties are shared.
3. There is no marriage, no family, no political party, no religion, no state, no organization of any form.
4. There is no currency.
5. "The talented are put to good use, and the whole world will be one family".
6. "No one will pocket anything found on the road, and doors will not be bolted at night"
7. "From each according to his ability, to each according to his need".
8. "Recommend and assign the talented to important tasks, advocate good faith and harmony".
9. "The old are taken care of, the strong are put to good use, and the widowed, orphaned, sick and handicapped are well provided."
10. All members have meals at public dining halls.

11. Normally the work hours will be limited within six hours per day.
12. Rich and plentiful material wealth without extravagance and waste.
13. Extremely harmonious social relations and high spiritual realm.
14. Rich and colorful cultural entertainment and games.
15. Everyone develops freely in an all-round manner, everyone brings his or her talent into full play, all things are put to good use.
16. Everyone has a joyful, happy, free and blessed life.
17. Everyone is in the service of the others and no one owes anyone anything.
18. The environment is clean, tidy, elegant and serene, like an earthly paradise.

It can be said that the above 18 conditions have been basically realized in the life of the Second Home created by Lifechanyuan. In another word, communism has been fully implemented in the Second Home, or it may be said, the kingdom of the Greatest Creator has descended upon the earth.

As the founder of communism Marx has said, "without belief in God (the Greatest Creator), and without identity with Christ, mankind cannot possess truly perfect virtue to pursue truth and light", "Only God (the Greatest Creator) can save us." The facts have proved this to be true. The complete realization of mankind's ideal society in the Second Home of Lifechanyuan is the very fruit of our reverence for the Greatest Creator and our observance of the way of the Greatest Creator. Of course, we have another secret, that is we have imitated and copied the life and production model of the Thousand-Year World of the heavenly kingdom.

Today I hereby proclaim to the whole mankind: Communism has been realized in the Second Home and the kingdom of the Greatest Creator has descended upon the earth.

22. Humanity has Missed a Great Chance

Xuefeng

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

If you have been keeping up with global climate change and the dynamics of our political state, you must feel that the crisis is getting worse and worse. Tomorrow or death? It is sometimes difficult to predict which will come first as you retire for the evening.

On October 18th of this year, the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) of the United Nations released a report in Incheon, South Korea, “IPCC Global Warming of 1.5°C”, which says that global warming must not be allowed to exceed 1.5°C or mankind will succumb to an extremely pitiful doomsday by the year 2040.

Can we keep global warming under 1.5°C?

It is out of control; a dream.

2040 is only twenty-two years away.

Attention please! If the end comes in twenty-two years, then for many people, next year or perhaps even tomorrow will be the end of their time and they might not even see tomorrow's sunrise.

This is not a bluff or prophecy from some historical prophets or the ravings of spirits and deities about fortunes and disasters, but the conclusion drawn by experts from more than forty countries who have accumulated more than six thousand pieces of data.

In fact, I personally warned people clearly in early April, 2009 that the so-called apocalypse of 2012 would not happen but would be replaced in a gradual, reciprocating, and increasingly serious way. Almost a decade has passed, so let us find out how precisely the climate changes over the last decade have conformed to my predictions.

In addition, at the end of 2017, I warned humanity once again that from 2018 on, the earth would enter a new era and dramatic changes would take place during the first three decades. You can look back at the climate changes of 2018; can you sense the smell of the coming storm? From now on, the changes will get worse and worse until the “extremely pitiful doomsday” happens.

Actually, if people had followed my guidance ten year ago, then they would have avoided their current suffering, but they missed their great chance. How do I know all this? Because I am the messenger of the Greatest Creator, the incarnation of the god, Buddha, Celestial beings, and saints. It does not matter if you think that I am bluffing and that my purpose is to deceive you and gain money or carnal pleasure; that is your right and freedom. However, people with spirituality know the truth and it is not hard for rational people to understand what I have said and written for more than the last decade and draw their own conclusions. Now, it is unnecessary to repeat what I warned of in the past; all epoch-making theories and practices are relegated to history.

If I had merely pointed out the problem but had not offered any solution to it, then I would be unworthy of the title of messenger and incarnation. The problem is that I showed the way to solve the crisis and even created a model, but if people either did not believe me or simply ignored me, then it is not my problem, but theirs.

It can be said that the Greatest Creator, through his messengers, has warned mankind and shown them the way forward. Gods, Buddha, Celestial beings, and Saints through their incarnations have done their best and no matter how humanity will suffer, no one can blame them for neither helping you nor saving you.

The United Nations has met many times to formulate plans and appeals to try to solve the problem of climate change; the most famous of those was the Paris Agreement. As I said in my article, all the efforts of the U.N. could not accomplish enough. This is because the root of climate change lies in mankind's traditional production and life mode. In order to stop climate change, we must change that production and life mode; any other measures and methods are futile. Of course, the final end can be delayed for several years, but it cannot solve the root problem.

So how do we change the traditional production and life mode of mankind? With my guidance, angel-like Chanyuan celestials have established a model for humanity; the New Oasis of Life (formerly, the Second Home) model. From this model, we have a wealth of written reports, pictures, illustrations, and video presentations. In this regard however, the United Nations, governments of major countries, experts and scholars, and billions of myopic people have been completely indifferent. So, if 2040 becomes the "extremely pitiful doomsday", can we not say that mankind deserves it? Is mankind not beyond redemption?

It is too late to reverse climate change now, regardless of what efforts are made.

However, mankind will not die out; people will still multiply on the earth and within another forty years, they will usher in a brilliant era and live happier lives than have never existed before. Unfortunately, though, not many people who are alive today will survive to that time and whether you will be one of them will depend completely upon your fortune, but even those who have fluky luck might not survive unharmed; causality is everything.

We must rely on the laws and rules of nature, "Divine punishments, though slow, are always sure. With big meshes, yet letting nothing slip through!"

It is customary for executioners to offer condemned prisoners one final good meal before they put them to death, so all of you should just enjoy your meals and have fun, day by day, every day!

23. The Second Confession of Xuefeng

—the founder of Lifechanyuan

Xuefeng

March 24, 2011

1. Xuefeng is not any kind of God, buddha, or celestial being, he was not sent to earth by higher level life beings, he is very down to earth instead.
2. Xuefeng doesn't have any supernatural power, and never has shown any as well.
3. Xuefeng has told his personal story very clearly, he was born in a poor family near the Yellow River, Gansu province, China. He also has told his history clearly to all Chanyuan celestials, and he doesn't have anything mysterious to hide.
4. Xuefeng doesn't have a master, what he said or wrote are all what he learnt from life experience.
5. Xuefeng doesn't have any political background, nor does he have any political or other kind of organization as his support.
6. Xuefeng is not the “Spokesman” of the Greatest Creator as some people think wishfully; he has never said that he was the “Spokesman”.
7. Xuefeng is not any kind of “Savior” as some people think wishfully, and has never said that and accepted that title.
8. Xuefeng is not a “Master”, and against people call him “Master”. Xuefeng claimed himself a Tour Guide, and said more than once that he doesn't have the goodness what a “Master” possesses.

Xuefeng call himself “the Messenger of the Greatest Creator”, the “Embodiment” of Jesus Christ, Buddha Sakyamuni, Lao Tzu, and the Prophet Mohammed, the reason is that he has written one-hundred-thousand-Chinese-word chapter called “the Greatest Creator”. He thinks it is the most comprehensive and profound description about the Greatest Creator. Although so, he has never given orders in the name of “the messenger of the Greatest Creator”. He has very insightful understanding of Jesus Christ, Buddha Sakyamuni, Lao Tzu, and the Prophet Mohammed, and resonates with their thoughts and wills, that is why he call himself the “Embodiment”.

As for Xuefeng said that he is from the heaven——Ten-thousand-year world, that is the truth, if people don't understand and have nowhere to verify it, it is up to them to think Xuefeng is talking nonsense.

24. My Conversation with Wuhan Coronavirus

Xuefeng

January 24th, 2020

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Xuefeng: Hello, Wuhan coronavirus, where do you come from and what is your name?

Coronavirus: We are Plague god 008, and we have been lurking within people for many millennia.

Xuefeng: Why have you emerged now?

Plague god 008: Because the conditions for our emergence have been met.

Xuefeng: What do you mean? What are these conditions?

Plague god 008: Just as when a person does not bathe or change clothes for a long time, lice will emerge because the conditions for the emergence of lice become ripe.

Xuefeng: I am still confused; are you lurking within humans' bodies?

Plague god 008: Yes, we have been and we are.

Xuefeng: So, you were not passed on from animals such as bats, snakes, or paguma larvata to people?

Plague god 008: Of course not; we awakened from within people's bodies.

Xuefeng: Since you have been lurking in people's bodies for so long, why have you only appeared now, but never before?

Plague god 008: The conditions for our emergence had never been ripe before.

Xuefeng: What conditions for your emergence have ripened?

Plague god 008: Qi! We will emerge naturally as long as these eight qi exist:

1. Strong enough stench qi
2. Bitter enough hatred qi
3. Violent enough temper qi
4. Scary enough nerve qi
5. Evil enough heart qi
6. Dense enough lung qi
7. Weak enough kidney qi
8. Feeble enough liver qi

Xuefeng: So, when someone has what you call the "eight qi", you will appear in their body?

Plague god 008: Yes.

Xuefeng: So no viral transmission occurs?

Plague god 008: Transmission is only how we awaken; once this happens, we attempt to awaken others who lurk within other people's bodies; whether they can be awakened or not depends on those “eight qi” in people within whom they had lurked sufficiently to meet our conditions.

Xuefeng: So, many people will not be infected even if they are in contaminated areas?

Plague god 008: Correct, most teenagers have strong nerve qi, sturdy kidney qi, clear lung qi, and are not infected easily, but many middle-aged and older people have thick stench qi, strong hatred qi, weak kidney qi, dense lung qi, feeble nerve qi, and are infected easily.

Xuefeng: How do you “transmit” as you said, to “awaken” within others?

Plague god 008: Through information.

Xuefeng: I do not understand this; could you explain it more clearly?

Plague god 008: We do not enter into people's bodies through their mouths or wounds, but through their eyes and ears.

Xuefeng: Now I am even more confused; how can you enter people's bodies through their eyes and ears?

Plague god 008: When phenomena are witnessed by one's eyes or messages are heard by their ears, then we actually enter into the recipients' minds and awaken.

Xuefeng: If this is so, then is the reason that people are infected by viruses not because pathogens have entered into their bodies, but because those that have lurked within their bodies have awakened after their carriers see infected peoples' situations and hear the information about the viral transmissions?

Plague god 008: Yes, so those who see the so-called patients, such as doctors, relatives, and friends, become susceptible to infection, as do those who hear about the disease, and the more and clearer the information that they get is, the more their chances become of succumbing to us.

Xuefeng: These unheard-of ways of transmission are incredible.

Plague god 008: People can be scared to death, but how? The more panic and fear they have and the more confused they become, the easier it is for us to sneak in. Fear is one of the most effective ways for us to control people.

Xuefeng: So people who are not afraid of you are not easily infected?

Plague god 008: Of those who possess pure minds and stick to the One at absolute peace, being unselfish and free from ego, full of joy and happiness, we are powerless.

Xuefeng: Will no medicine work on you?

Plague god 008: We are invisible, odorless, colorless, and tasteless; what medicine would you use? Material medicines will not work against us, but non-material medicines can play a role.

Xuefeng: I see. Thanks for telling me so frankly. How long will you stay?

Plague god 008: It is not for us to decide; if the stench qi is strong, then we might grow and persevere; if it fades away, then who is to stay. Therefore, we might stay for only three months and be gone, or we might stay for three years. That depends on people's "eight qi"; for instance, if people's hatred qi declines, we will be unable to stay.

Xuefeng: One more question, why are you called Plague god 008?

Plague god 008: There is no doubt that we are gods; as for 008, this is because there are also Plague gods 009, 010, 011, 012, and many others. Humans call 009, pestilence, 010 is smallpox, 011 is flu, and on through the list.

Xuefeng: Who are Plague gods 007, 006, 005, and so on?

Plague god 008: Those Plague gods are much fiercer than we are but have not awakened yet; they will rise when their conditions ripen.

Xuefeng: Are you the SARS virus which came in 2003?

Plague god 008: Yes, we changed our structure slightly so that more of us could awaken. People will have trouble recognizing us after our structures change and we are not in a hurry to awake more versions of us. We will do it quietly so that it will be impossible for anyone to defend against us effectively.

Xuefeng: It is said that your birthplace, Wuhan City has been sealed off so that you cannot get spread out; will it not be difficult for you to wake the rest of you up in the rest of the world.

Plague god 008: There is no way to seal us off; we are invisible, so isolation is only people's self-paralysis and self-anesthesia. Our emergence is concerned with people's "eight qi", not about regions or the sizes of population centers.

Xuefeng: I suppose that you resent or even envy the large population on the Earth, so you have come to reduce it.

Plague god 008: We abide by our laws strictly, do not have any moods, and have nothing to do with big or small population centers on Earth. We may emerge in many people or few people, however it is easier to spread the "eight qi" and induce the conditions for our emergence in places where many people gather.

Xuefeng: I want to know why you chose to emerge in Wuhan, a transportation hub through which so many people travel back and forth, especially just before and after the Chinese Spring Festival when a large number of people passed through it? This seems to be a deliberate attempt to maximize your devastation.

Plague god 008: Do not blame us unjustly, we never did that on purpose. For us, the "proper conditions" are the only factors that will bring us forth. As for matters of the Earth, humans, or China, they are not our concern.

Xuefeng: Is this a coincidence? A random event? But there are no chances or coincidences in the universe, everything is inevitable!

Plague god 008: We have no idea. You will have to ask the higher gods!

25. Xuefeng's Conversation with The King of Plagues

Xuefeng

January 26th, 2020

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Xuefeng: Hello, King of Plagues! There are some things that I need your help with to understand more thoroughly.

King of Plagues: I am listening.

Xuefeng: How many Plague gods do you manage?

King of Plagues: All of them...all sixty-four of them.

Xuefeng: What is the main purpose of these Plague gods?

King of Plagues: To keep the Earth clean.

Xuefeng: Of which aspects of cleanliness are you speaking?

King of Plagues: The cleanliness aspects of morality and soul gardens.

Xuefeng: How do you maintain them?

King of Plagues: When the level of human morality declines and people's mentalities become dark, we send Plague gods to stop them.

Xuefeng: How to stop them?

King of Plagues: If it is not serious, then a small group from within your population will be eliminated as a warning; if it is more serious, then much more of the population will be reduced.

Xuefeng: But the phenomena of what we called "bird flu" and "Africa swine fever" had nothing to do with population reductions, and why? Are they the results of declined moral standards and degraded souls among birds and livestock?

King of Plagues: No, everything on the Earth is arranged for and served upon mankind. When they are not worthy of certain things, those things will be removed. Small faults will cause small reductions in order to warn human being, whereas more serious ones will cause all those things to disappear and no one will ever have any more.

Xuefeng: So, do your Plague gods also serve people?

King of Plagues: We never concern ourselves with human matters, we are only responsible for maintaining purity on the Earth.

Xuefeng: Can plagues purify the Earth?

King of Plagues: Whenever we Plague gods see the black qi somewhere in the sky, they will set out to eliminate it.

Xuefeng: What is black qi? Is it haze and smoke or smog?

King of Plagues: No! It is a fog that humans cannot see.

Xuefeng: Where does black qi come from?

King of Plagues: From deep within people's souls.

Xuefeng: How can this black qi be eliminated from people's souls?

King of Plagues: Warnings are sent to make people reflect, repent, and purify themselves.

Xuefeng: Then why do you want to cause a pandemic outbreak?

King of Plagues: When the black qi in the souls of enough people is seriously strong and warnings are insufficient, then those people with serious black qi (eight qi) must be eliminated.

Xuefeng: Can you do this? Human wisdom and technology are powerful enough to defeat these plague gods.

King of Plagues: Are you kidding? I could collapse mankind completely with one blow; I am the King of Plagues!

Xuefeng: Could you be overestimating your power? When Plague god 009 (SARS virus) erupted in 2003, it was humans who wiped them out.

King of Plagues: You are the messenger of the Greatest Creator, so you must know that actually humans did not contain Plague god 009, but the objective of the Plague god had simply been achieved.

Xuefeng: I do not understand. Are you not making excuses for the failure of Plague god 009.

King of Plagues: You crafty messenger, you are looking for a way out for mankind!

Xuefeng: Great King, you have read my mind and my thoughts.

King of Plagues: I know your tasks and what you are doing; in fact, you had better not say or do anything because you are neither capable of stopping us nor of changing the running trajectory and laws of Tao, so there is no need to discuss them; just keep talking about love and romance.

Xuefeng: Your Majesty, can chess pieces decide their own behavior on chessboards?

King of Plagues: You are right. Actually we are also chess pieces, diligent ones who dare not have the slightest carelessness.

Xuefeng: It seems like you are also not so free and unrestrained!

King of Plagues: The game has rules which must be followed; we have to do what we are supposed to.

Xuefeng: So why do you want me to say and do nothing? I also have to do what I am supposed to!

King of Plagues: All of us must follow the Lord of gods.

Xuefeng: It seems that you are the same as Satan, both are chess pieces for the Lord of gods.

King of Plagues: Throughout the universe, Satan and I, the King of Plagues, show the greatest assiduity in our work.

Xuefeng: No human would agree with that; they regard Satan and you as the worst of evils.

King of Plagues: Humans are short-sighted with blind souls and shallow knowledge who confuse good with evil.

Xuefeng: What do you mean?

King of Plagues: One of great virtue does not claim virtue; one of great mercy does not flash mercy.

Xuefeng: I see. This time you have set out Plague god 008 to eliminate the black qi from people's souls?

King of Plagues: After Plague god 008 had begun their work, humans tried to trap them. I have sent out Plague god 007; both Plague gods will work together.

Xuefeng: I do not understand; do you mean that Plague god 008 will play their role outwardly this time while Plague god 007 assists in secret?

King of Plagues: Yes, Plague god 008 will make people show external symptoms which are easily recognizable and that can be trapped while Plague god 007 will be impossible for humans to defend themselves against effectively.

Xuefeng: Do you mean the transmission of the Plague god 007 is unrecognizable? Is it also disseminated as information?

King of Plagues: Yes, the transmission of 008 is generally based on infected bodies, while the transmission of 007 is completely different and can be transmitted by healthy people.

Xuefeng: How do healthy people transmit them?

King of Plagues: Plague god 007 can send forth all the plagues that cannot be transmitted through people's eyes and ears, but through their qi. People leave toilets with foul odors; botanical gardens with fruity fragrances; fish markets with fishy stench; and sheep pens with mutton smells, so when they absorb 008, they will take the pathogenic qi, which is information. Whether they possess infected bodies or healthy ones, they will all distribute the “pathogenic qi” wherever they go.

Xuefeng: In this way, the isolation measures and preventive measures taken by people will not work? You are really powerful! Are any Plague gods stronger than 007?

King of Plagues: Of course! Plague god 006 is transmitted by air and people become infected by breathing.

Xuefeng: So, will you fight strongly this time?

King of Plagues: I will never quit until the black qi is eliminated!

26. Another Warning to Mankind from the Messenger of the Greatest Creator!

Deiform Buddha

January 1, 2020

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

More than twenty-five hundred years ago, a messenger from the Greatest Creator warned mankind about today's situation. Today, I have come to fulfil those ancient warnings.

Floods, fires, wars, plagues, unrest, earthquakes, and other disasters which began in 2009, will continue to play their roles from the warnings which had been given to you a long time ago. Those people whose souls and hearts show only darkness, who pursue material pleasures, who fail to keep their faith, and who are selfish and egotistical, will reap all that they have sown.

Let me lead those of you who still have rays of light in your souls onto a brighter path.

1. Take the way of the Greatest Creator, not the ways of mankind, gods, Buddha, celestial beings, or demons.
2. Revere the Greatest Creator, not your worldly leaders; read the books without words, not the ones written by man.
3. Forget all religions, for they have all become corrupted; none of them retain any truth any longer.

4. Escape from marriages and families; they will lower you down to hell, not raise you up to heaven.
5. Stop pursuing material pleasures; they will devour your spirits and souls and drag you into darkness.
6. Pursue wealth of spirit and soul to the greatest extent; only they can make your souls healthy and pure and lead you to heaven.
7. Woe unto those people who possess great material wealth for their sins are great and their misfortunes will never come singularly.
8. Woe unto those people with great power for they oppress the good, deceive the public, force the pure into prostitution, compel the honest to become thieves, and they will shirk responsibility for their transgressions hardly.
9. Woe unto those people who break their promises, for they are lawless, possess neither virtue nor wisdom, disregard nature's laws, and create unlimited strife and suffering; as divine punishments are always sure, they will not escape theirs.
10. Woe unto selfish and egoistical people, for they are heartless, ignore laws and rules, and destroy nature; they will face painful consequences.
11. Woe unto those people who practice psychic powers and preach supernatural power and magical arts, for they are only concerned with spirits, deities, fortunes, and disasters; they break rules, talk wildly at will, and guide people down evil paths; they deviate from natural rules and principles; they sin greatly.
12. Do not envy and yearn for capitalism; it invites its own destruction inevitably.
13. Do not envy and yearn for socialism; much deceit, injustice, and lies are within it and its road is impassable.
14. Light the divine lamp within your souls; never do evil when encountering hardships and tribulations, but always continue with kindness, for it is only in this way that you can escape from your troubles and leave your suffering and disasters.
15. Each of you has your own soul garden; you need to deweed it and cut the poisonous grass from it as soon as possible and then import the flowers of virtue; cultivate and fertilize them well so that you will gradually step into the new era after the disasters have ended.
16. Never run around blindly, for no place is absolutely safe; the key to saving yourself is inside yourself, for you can never outrun your shadow.
17. As time is running out, do not let the excess of disinformation on the web and in the media devour your last chance, but search for LIFE-related issues quickly; follow the instructions laid out by saints and sages and venture to climb toward the ideal realm that mankind has dreamed of.

18. The beauty of the future era is beyond belief; I have prepared the road for new era humans which is the “Way of the Greatest Creator” and the “Road of Lifechanyuan”.

We hope that you will avoid the disasters and step into our new era.

27. Who Can Manage a Marriage Well?

Xuefeng

December 31, 2018

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Everyone wants to manage their marriage well; they want to grow old together with their childhood sweethearts, respect, support, and love each other until they die, and be compliant and loving until the end, but try to answer this question: how many people across all times and countries can actually do this? Can emperors or presidents? Can billionaires? Can powerful and influential high officials and dignitaries? Can literary talents, experts, professors or stars of entertainment? Can even ordinary workers manage them well?

The answer is that no one can manage their marriage well; even saints cannot do it. What is the ideal marriage? A happy marriage requires that there are never arguments or quarrels, no hurting words towards each other, mutual trust without suspicion, that neither will keep private money or even consider sexual relations with anyone else, and that both will treat their parents, parents-in-law, uncles, other in-laws, more distant relatives, friends, colleagues, neighbors, and children equally well and with the same spirit, heart, and courtesy, and without disagreements. Each respects and has much love for the other, and they never have any kind of cold war with verbal or emotional violence, let alone physical violence. The wife never attempts to control the husband by “crying, misbehaving, or threatening to harm herself, and the husband never swears, curses, or threatens to harm his wife. When either is unhappy, the other takes good care of them and comforts them lovingly. They were not born on the same day, but they hope to die together in each other's arms.

May I ask what husband or wife can do this? Stop fantasizing because there are none; they only exist in fiction novels.

Question: Where is the problem?

Answer: It is in human nature; human nature is inherently selfish, so knowing that, how could you hope to find such a thing in real life?

The most complicated and difficult relationships in the world are those between married couples. If it is not a good match, then there will be no equality; if they are not in the same realm, then there will be no mutual understanding; if they do not make a perfect match, then it is inevitable that one will cheat on the other; if one of them is not enthusiastic about the other's career or hobbies, then they will not resonate in harmony. The relationships between married couples are not simply ones between two people; rather, they involve all aspects of life. Unless a couple occupies an environment in which they are isolated from the world and rich in food, the war between them, whether obvious or secretive, superficial or deep, will only stop when death brings their relationship to a close.

People all yearn for freedom, but as long as you are in a marital relationship, that will never happen.

- Will people be free if they earn more money?
- Will an official be free if they rise to higher ranks?
- Will a performer be free if they become famous?
- Will people be free if they escape to a foreign country?

No, no, no, and no, so stop cheating yourselves and each other. Your superficial tenderness cannot hide your heart's eagerness and your superficial smiles cannot cover up your heart's bitter tears. People need to end marital relationships NOW.

Then how are people to live without marital relationships while still satisfying their needs for spiritual, emotional, and physical intimacy?

Blessed are we because it is for this reason that the ideal life mode which humans have dreamed of for thousands of years has finally arrived; it is the New Oasis for Life (the Second Home) mode created by Lifechanyuan. After nearly ten years of exploration and experimentation, we have found that this mode can not only solve all the problems that all couples have faced and confronted, but also lead lives toward a rich and beautiful world of happiness, joy, freedom, and blessing.

The problem which has not been solved for thousands of years, finally has been...NOW.

Discard your fantasies and troubles and start to move toward Lifechanyuan's New Oasis for Life.

Come closer!

Closer still!

Do not try to change your husband or wife, do not try to know and understand them thoroughly, stop making unnecessary efforts, but try to build the New Oasis for Life wholeheartedly, plunge into the life of the New Oasis for Life. This is the most rational choice for a better life.

I hope that you can enter the New Oasis for Life (originally the Second Home) soon and experience the real joy of being human. Only then will you truly understand what human life can be.

28. Each Encounter in Life Is an Exam

Xuefeng

March 14, 2019

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

- “Gods are watching from just above your head”
- “A whisper in the mortal world is like a rumble of thunder in heaven”
- “Evil that is done secretly is as recognizable to the Greatest Creator as a flash of lightning in your eyes”

My body has carried my soul in this world for more than sixty years and I have experienced much during that time. Since my mission to create Lifechanyuan began, I have made careful observations of everyone whom I encountered. It should be said that I am searching carefully for those who can go to heaven.

To be honest, less than one hundredth of one percent can do this; that is to say, only one in ten-thousand people can go to heaven. I have discovered many mysteries from my practice of “reaping ripe crops”, with “Every encounter in life is an exam” being one of them.

After staring at every person I met, Chanyuan celestials and others, I understood that the Greatest Creator is staring at every life being in the universe and that all things and persons who anyone encounters are exams for them. If one passes an exam, then they will move on to the next one; if they fail it, then they must continue in this incarnation for another exam. If they fail to pass the exams for a millennium, then they will reincarnate for a millennium, if they fail them for ten millennia, then they will reincarnate for ten millennia.

The will of the Greatest Creator cannot be violated, but the human mind is unpredictable. Human minds can be good and evil because human souls are unpredictable and inconclusive. The only way is to set up tens of thousands of exams, and THEY will be your experiences in life. When you meet someone, how you treat them is an exam; when you encounter an event, how to deal with it is an exam. Whatever we encounter, even if it is facing a bug, a beggar, or a social activity, it is actually an exam.

What people do not realize is that there are “people” who have always been staring at us, recording our merits and demerits. Even if you drift to a desert island, are an emperor sitting upon your throne, are in prison, or are talking to yourself, there are “people” staring at you, and you cannot escape the eyes of these “people”. I am speaking of the “Divine punishment, though slow, are always sure” philosophy. Knowing this, I now realize that life is like walking on thin ice or on a tightrope because you can only be considered a spiritual self-cultivator and have the opportunity to go to heaven when you understand this. Without understanding it, no matter how well educated you are, how rich in wisdom you are, how many merits you have accumulated, or even if you have self-cultivated for tens of thousands of years, you can only be a mere human and can never reach heaven.

The content of the exam is set by Tao, is very simple, and anyone can get passing scores.

I will give eight examples here:

1. Someone sang or danced for you, so you clapped your hands and passed the exam; had you been indifferent, you would have failed it.
2. You dropped some food on the dinner table, so you picked it up, ate it, and passed the exam; had you wasted it, you would have failed it.
3. Someone cooked a meal for you, gave you their seat, praised and encouraged you, or helped you, so you thanked them and passed the exam; had you not, you would have failed it.
4. You encountered a tortoise while driving on the road, so you stopped the car and let the tortoise pass first and passed the exam; had you just rolled over it, you would have failed it.
5. You saw a beggar passing by and gave alms and passed the exam; had you ignored them, you would have failed it.
6. You met a lost person, so you patiently pointed the way to them and passed the exam; had you ignored them, you would have failed it.
7. You saw rubbish, so you cleaned it up and passed the exam; had you turned a blind eye to it and left it there, you would have failed it.
8. You caused inconvenience to others, so you apologized and passed the exam; had you not apologized, you would have failed it.

There are thousands of examples like this and we should never think that any of them are unimportant.

During my lifetime of dealing with people, I have found that most people's reactions cannot pass all of their exams. For example, a doctor speaks fine words, but when they have the opportunity to help a patient, they might avoid it. I often give likes to people who post on their Wechat moments, but they never give likes to the articles that I share; "Hollow valleys echo, dead valleys are silent". If you read our 800 Values for New Era Human Beings, you are asked to contribute one dollar. The fact is that even if it is not a million people, at least a hundred-thousand people have read the values, but fewer than ten people have paid these dollars throughout the past ten years. This is the overall credit of a nation. A few days ago, I posted the article, "An Amorous Heart is the Truest Heart" in a Wechat group. As a result, the group owner immediately warned me to delete it. The owner failed the exam. Someone applied to add me on Wechat. I accepted and welcomed them, but they ignored my welcome. Some people speak very piously, but they completely ignore what you say. Someone came to me with a vow but left with neither a sound nor a trace, so I deleted them from my contact list. Deleted means gone, disappeared, dead; we are dead in each other's minds.

Back to the point, no matter who we are, we experience many people and many things every day. Every encounter is an exam and Tao is always our judge. Our future is determined by the results of our exams. The Greatest Creator has never abandoned anyone; he has been arranging encounters to save us...once, twice, ten times, thousands of times, he never gives up. We should not expect to enter heaven by passing only a single exam. What we need is to pass every exam, all of them. A failure of any exam will inevitably bring you back for a reexamination. We cannot have fluky minds. Tao's test is absolutely scientific, rigorous, meticulous, practical, and realistic. You are bound to encounter setbacks if you try to muddle through its exams by luck.

29. The More Stubborn one is, the Closer they are to Hell

Xuefeng

June 4, 2019

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Signs of hell include more troubles, sorrow, pain, and fear, with less freedom, joy, happiness, and blessing, and two unobstructed roads lead there. One is found by entering into an exclusive romantic and sexual relationship such as marriage, and the other is maintaining stubborn self-persistence; as long as you believe that you are always right, then you will definitely find your path to hell.

Whether you are a president, a billionaire, a celebrity, a master, an expert, a scholar, or an ordinary self-involved person, clinging stubbornly to your views, opinions, values, measures, approaches, methods, conclusions, judgments, and so forth are always right and true proves that you are on your way to hell and that you are also bringing others along with you.

This is an observation that I have drawn from history and through the current situation of humankind which is based on the countless accumulation of facts. This observation and conclusion can be verified by everyone. Of course my observation and conclusion are not necessarily correct because the complexity of life is unimaginable, the "astronomical number of possibilities per-mutated and combined by sixty-four basic factors" cannot be seen through or straightened out by human thinking, and it is even more difficult to study. Whoever believes that they are right is proving precisely their foolishness, ignorance, stupidity, stubbornness, and irrationality.

Therefore, we must never again dare to think that our own opinions are always right, or dare to judge others. As a result, our hearts are brightened, we need to stay away from those who insist that they are right in everything, regardless of whether they are a president, a master, a scholar, or expert in any field, and we therefore have to be humble. We have to look up to Christ Jesus, Buddha Shakyamuni, and Saint Lao Tzu instead of researching and exploring on our own; it is better to follow the teachings of these three.

Today I learned that I, the founder and guide of Lifechanyuan, am very ignorant.
Do you dare to say that you are right?
Do you still want to stick to your opinion?
You bastard!

30. Lifechanyuan Has Paved the Path into the New Era of Humanity

Deiform Buddha

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

In the following decade or so, climate change will lead to unending occurrences of droughts, floods, hailstorms, hurricanes, insect calamities, earthquakes, extreme weather, pestilence, and other disastrous events that will turn hundreds of millions of people into refugees and famines will abound. In order to compete for limited essential resources such as food and water, people will engage in savage struggles which will cause social unrest and instability. The government functions of the United Nations and all countries will fail, governments will no longer be able to control any part of the situation, fear and despair will spread everywhere, and people will not see any kind of bright recovery. It is estimated that within the next thirty years or so, the global population will be reduced to less than half.

Minor changes occur gradually but major ones happen instantaneously. After these great changes occur, even the most powerful empires will collapse and disappear forever; the United States, China, Russia, Germany, Japan, France, and many others will cease to exist, most electricity will be off, communications will be unavailable, and the world will be in chaos; authority will not exist, religious organizations will do their best, but will be so scattered and disconnected that they will be powerless; there will be no way to save mankind. The occurrences of all these things will not only be caused by the script arrangement of the grand adjustment of the universal LIFE, but also by the state of consciousness of humans. To be sure, it is the consciousness of recent generations that has brought on these changes and now this trend can no longer be reversed and we have to face the reality of what will happen soon.

In order to deal with these great changes and guide the rest people into the millennium, Xuefeng, who created Lifechanyuan, began to make theoretical preparations in 2002 and has been practicing them since 2009. Now, the theoretical and practical preparations are ready and are laid out in "Chanyuan Corpus" and "Xuefeng Corpus" and their essence has been condensed into the third edition of "800 Values for New Era Human Beings". The practice is the "New Oasis of Life" (the original Second Home) which was created by Lifechanyuan with the new production and life mode for humans.

The main purpose for releasing this message is to attract the attention of modern, living sages, and ring alarm to them so that they will not feel panic or act blindly when it happens. At the same time, I hope that everyone will begin to follow the lead of Lifechanyuan and to plan in advance so as not to mess up and regret their poor decision for the rest of their lives.

Ten years later, there will be two hundred and fifty-six branches of the New Oasis of Life throughout the world which will serve as an ark in the New Era. The new order of production and life for humanity will expand outward from these branches of the New Oasis of Life to the rest of the world. Humanity will begin to lead a brand new existence, regardless of race, ethnicity, nationality, or religion, and from both the rich and the poor; the whole world will be as one family. People will live in the millennium era that humans have dreamed of for generations in which "The worthy person will utilize their talents fully", "No one will keep lost articles found on the roadside and homes will not need to be locked at night", and everyone will lead happy, joyous, free, and blessed lives.

Lifechanyuan has established an NPO called the "International Big Family" in British Columbia, Canada, and also another branch in Chiang Mai, Thailand. Those who are willing to enter the New Oasis of Life in advance can contact us to visit either. You are welcome to visit and explore here for more details and information about Lifechanyuan's values and the new production and life mode with the precondition that you must be a sage, neither mortal nor laity, and certainly not an ignorant person.

Whether or not the above is a deceitful lie depends on your judgement based on your spirituality, but to be sure, it is impossible to draw a conclusion by logical reasoning and intelligent analysis.

It would be better if the developing changes of the world would be different than the above scenario; I would prefer that Lifechanyuan become notorious for this wrong prediction than that the great changes occur in the world because no one wants such a tragic catastrophe to happen.

As for the broad masses of people, listen to it or not as you like; you can just regard this message as a joke to laugh at and ridicule over dinner.

31. A Further Discussion of Revenge!

Xuefeng

June 28, 2019

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Each of you has a good understanding and attitude toward revenge. Having read your posts, I can see that you understand Chanyuan values well. As a new achiever of immortality, you must not have desires for revenge, let alone the motive or behavior for it. Because the world is faultless, all faults lie within us. If the outside world makes us uncomfortable, suppresses, and deceives us, or insults and deprives us of our freedom or property, then these are all our own faults and the root is still within us. From the law of causality, all effects originate from causes. The effect fruit that we eat, whether it is sweet or bitter, is caused by our own planting the cause. Therefore, revenge is tantamount to contending one's self. It is resisting the fruit that you deserve. The debt that should have been repaid will continue to cycle because of your revenge.

On the road of self-improvement and self-cultivation to heaven, we need to place our LIVES into the hands of the Greatest Creator and give our lives to the management of Tao. Since we believe in Tao, we can just work hard towards the beautiful destination of truth, kindness, beauty, love, faith, and sincerity, and leave everything else to its arrangement and management. For enmity or hatred, we swallow, digest, and expel it. As for what punishment an enemy should receive, it is not our business, but rather that of Tao. How will Tao treat that enemy? We do not need to know; we only need to believe firmly that Tao is fair and will not favor anyone.

We also realize that the sum of all positive and negative energy of the universe is zero. That is, what you give and what you gain always balance. Being humiliated, wronged, suppressed, and exploited are forms of giving because since you have paid something, you will surely gain something else. As to what you will gain, Tao has its own arrangements and methods. Your gain may be health and longevity, auspiciousness and smoothness, adequate food and clothing, turning a misfortune into a blessing, or perhaps even going to heaven. In short, you will not give something for nothing, and of course you will not gain anything without paying something for it, so do not take revenge. Jesus taught us to take up our own cross and follow him; this cross is our suffering, grievances, and hatred. If we take revenge, it is equivalent to dropping the cross instead of carrying it. This runs counter to Christ's teachings. Buddha Shakyamuni also taught us that if people are despised for reciting the "Diamond Sutra", then not only can their sins from previous lives be eliminated, but they can end their samsara by attaining supreme enlightenment and the state of spiritual immortality. "Despised" here means being bullied which gives rise to hatred. If we take revenge, it is the equivalent of throwing away the benefits that we have obtained because of being despised and spoiling our fortunes and blessings, so it is never a good deal. Lao Tzu's teachings are that,

- “Sages put themselves last, find themselves in foremost places, regard their bodies as incidental, and their LIVES are therefore preserved”
- “Favor and disgrace cause our dismay, what we value and what we fear are within ourselves”
- “We have fears because we have selves. When we do not regard the self as a self, then what do we have to fear?”

These imply that we should not avenge our hatred because we can only “live” if we do not take revenge and can only be free from harm if we become “selfless”.

So, is revenge wrong? No! Revenge is a punishment, but punishments and rewards are cosmic properties. Those who should be punished must be punished or justice would not be served. If one planted the cause of suffering, then they must bear its bitter fruit; if they made others bleed, then they must be made to bleed; if they killed others, then they must also be deprived of their Life. As you have been measuring others, so shall you be measured.

Now we need to know who has the authority to take revenge. Revenge should be executed by the universe’s reward and punishment system; that is, Tao. How does Tao take revenge? If all humans do too much evil, then they will be punished with extinction; if some humans do too much evil, then they will be punished by large-scale catastrophes; if individual humans do too much evil, then gods and Buddha will punish them; individuals who are wicked will punish each other. People have no right to take revenge on each other and Chanyuan celestials have no authority to punish anyone.

“Revenge is a great good”. Buddha asked, “If I do not go to hell, then who will?” and why “to save those who are in distress?” How does one “save those who are in distress”? One way is to take revenge to punish the wicked. If evil cannot be contained and the wicked cannot be punished, then the so-called “save those who are in distress” is just empty talk, that is “Wu Gang cuts the sweet-scented osmanthus tree and Sisyphus pushes the stone up the mountain”, which will never happen. Why should we worry about “going to hell”? Because taking revenge can lead easily to that. Since Buddha has attained supreme enlightenment and has reached the state of “non-self”, of course, for the sake of all beings, he is not afraid of “going to hell”. Therefore, Buddha can take revenge. Also, Gods have the authority to take revenge and punish evil. If anyone becomes a god, then they can take revenge.

So we can see the following phenomenon: “One of great virtue does not claim virtue; one of great mercy does not flash mercy; one of great benevolence does not appear benevolent; one with great faith seems devoid of faith”.

Knowing the above principles, we can see a person’s future, a nation’s future, and humankind’s future. At the same time, we can understand the principles and root causes of the natural and social disasters that occur on earth every day. Only in this way can we observe the world with a cold eye, watch current events calmly, and be extraordinary, reborn, and reach the celestial islands without premature death.

Based on these principles, ask yourself the following five questions.

1. Why did Ming Chenzu implicate Fang Xiaoru's whole clan?
2. Why did Li Zicheng's soldiers punish the descendants of Zhu Yuanzhang wherever they went, "All those who live in the prince's palace, whose surname is Zhu, whether obedient or disobedient and whether military or civilian must be killed"?
3. Why did Hitler kill millions of Jews?
4. Why did the Chinese Communists severely crack down on the "landlords, rich peasants, counter-revolutionaries, bad elements, bourgeois, and capitalists"? Why did Mao Zedong want to "get rid of all types of evil people"?
5. What will happen in the next few years? Who will suffer?

Those who do not plan for the long-term will see their short-term plans fail.
Those who do not plan for general situations are not good enough for specific situations.

32. Exploring the Developmental Trend of Human Society

Xuefeng

January 17, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

It is not moral preaching but the advancement of science and technology that change human thinking and living conditions.

The invention of steam engines in the 1860s changed the way that people traveled and dressed and brought about the appearance of ships, trains, and the international cotton textile and the steel industries. The invention of electrification in the 1870s brought electric lights, telephones, airplanes, and cars to people, which changed their life patterns. The inventions and innovations of atomic energy and microprocessor-based calculators in the middle-twentieth century not only brought people a new thinking mode, but also brought us into a new era, especially the scientific and technological revolution in electronic communication in the beginning of the twenty-first century which accelerated the change of people's thinking and life patterns in all aspects.

As for the moral preachings of Christianity, Buddhism, and Islam, it is the same today as it was two centuries after their founding prophets lived. The moral education of Confucianism in traditional Chinese culture is even more stretched; it has no effect on people's thinking and brings no effective changes to the way that people live. Mao Zedong's ideological and moral education, which was popular in China from the 1950s through the 1960s not only failed to bring freedom and wealth to people, but it also cultivated countless hypocrites and corrupt officials. The facts have proven that the more emphasis that is placed on moral education, the worse people's living conditions become and the more cunning people's characters turn, while the more rapid the development of science and technology are, the more people's lifestyles and living standards improve for the better.

Today, it is not moral education that changes people's thinking, behavior, and life patterns, but scientific revolutions and technological innovations such as computers, mobile phones, videos, and biotechnology. With continuously emerging new technologies such as artificial intelligence, big data, cloud computing, facial recognition, and so on, people's thinking will undergo revolutionary leaps, and people's traditional life patterns will be completely subverted.

With mobile phones and other social media, who would still send love letters and family greetings through snail mail? With powerful cars, who is still willing to ride ox-carts and carriages? With fast airplanes, who would still ride to faraway places on horseback? With GPS navigation systems, who wants to look for places on street maps? The invention and creation of science and technology force people to change their traditional lifestyles. It is not a question of whether we are willing to do this, but a matter of necessity.

In addition to science and technology, the core factors that change people's ways of living and thinking, another major factor is institutions, systems, and programs. Different systems lead to different ways of thinking and living. For example, mainland China, Taiwan, Hong Kong, and Singapore are all Chinese, but their social styles are totally different due to their different systems. As far as their systems are concerned, the more open and free a system is, the more advantageous the development of its productive forces will be, the more vibrant the society is, the more active people's thinking becomes, and the better the people's living conditions become; while the more closed and conservative a system is, the less freedom it has, the more it hinders the development of productivity, the more lifeless it is, the lower people's degree of happiness is, the more rigid their thinking is, and the more ignorant the people remain. Let us compare the United States, Iran, Venezuela, and Zimbabwe.

- The United States was founded only two hundred years ago, but its productive forces have flourished from the beginning through the present, and its society has unlimited vitality. This proves that its system is superior.
- Historically, the Persian Kingdom once created a splendid civilization, but after the Ayatollahs took power in 1980, Iran embarked on an autocratic system that combines politics with religion, and they have declined since then.
- Venezuela used to be the wealthiest country in South America, but since Nicholas Maduro took over the supreme power of the country in 2013, he implemented an autocratic dictatorship and changed the country's operating system; and as a result, the country has gone from bad to worse and become the country with the most severe economic collapse and the worst national life in the world today. A country of just thirty-two million people has created four million refugees; this is how different systems produce different outcomes.

- Zimbabwe was once the granary of southern Africa and the most pleasant garden-like country in the world, but since they gained their independence in 1980, they have been governed by Robert Mugabe. As Mugabe became more conservative and authoritarian, the country's currency collapsed by 2009, and its people were becoming desperate.

After analyzing the above factors, let us look at the developmental trend of human society.

1. The current systems in China, Russia, Iran, North Korea, Venezuela, Zimbabwe, and several other countries will collapse. No matter how the autocratic systems are controlled, due to the massive emergence of computer networks and mobile phone communication videos, no matter how effectively their firewalls block people from receiving new information, the spread of information is unstoppable, and people will become less and less tolerant of authoritarian rule.
2. Market economies will replace all other forms of economic models.
3. The movement of people will become freer and more frequent. The concept of hometown will only exist in people's minds, and that of "where there is bread, there will be motherland" will be deeply rooted in people's minds.
4. Religion, culture, and nationality will gradually merge, religion will go into decline, culture will develop toward the American style, and nationalist sentiment will fade.
5. The concept of countries will gradually fade, a global government will appear, and people will move toward it.
6. Various kinds of social and non-governmental organizations and teams will spring up like bamboo shoots after a rain, and they present social wonders of a hundred flowers blooming in a variety of forms.
7. Marriage, as one of the most ignorant phenomena in human society, will gradually disappear as the traditional nuclear family mode gradually disintegrates. People are keener to rely on their emotions and live with folk collective production and life modes such as in Japan's Konohana Family.
8. After experiencing great changes, turbulence, and integration, the world will move toward unity and countries will disappear completely. Eventually, the values of Lifechanyuan will be deeply rooted in people's hearts, and the New Oasis for Life mode created by Lifechanyuan will blossom everywhere.

The above is only the developmental trend of human society as analyzed from the evolution of social factors. The inventions and creations of science and technology and the evolution of systems are not enough to constitute such huge social changes. Another extremely explosive factor that will also play a role is the vicissitudes which will be brought about by climate. Fires, floods, earthquakes, volcanoes, plagues, scorching heat, freezing cold, droughts, and similar disasters will be staged in turn and become more and more severe and harsh which will force all of human society to move towards the Lifechanyuan era. This will be an objective law that does not evolve with people's subjective will.

Let us wait and see!

33. The Theory of “Destiny”

Xuefeng

February 20, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Confucius said:

- At fifteen years old, I set my heart upon learning
- At thirty years, I planted my feet firmly upon the ground
- At Forty, I no longer suffered from perplexities
- At fifty, I knew my destiny
- At sixty, I heard them with docile ears
- At seventy, I could follow the dictates of my own heart; for what I desired no longer overstepped the boundaries of right

“Knowing one's destiny”?

What is destiny?

Destiny is the mission bestowed upon us by the Greatest Creator; or we can say, destiny is our inherent talent and fate.

Then how can we “know our destiny”?

The smartest and wisest people in Chinese history are Jiang Ziya, Zhang Liang, and Zhuge Liang. Jiang Ziya's wisdom undoubtedly exceeded Zhou Wenwang's, Zhang Liang's must have surpassed Liu Bang's, and Zhuge Liang's must have surpassed Liu Bei's, but why did the former not replace the later and stand on their own as kings? Because they “knew their destinies”; they knew that their destinies were to assist, not to rule. Had the three of them attempted to become kings, they would have lost everything. Commanders in chief and generals are two completely different realms. Kings and counsellors require completely different talents. Birds can soar in the sky, but once they fall into the water, they will not only be defenseless, but they might even drown. Liu Bowen, Li Chunfeng, Yuan Tiangang and many others were god-like persons who knew the vicissitudes of the previous millennia, so why did Liu Bowen, Li Chunfeng, and Yuan Tiangang still kowtow to the feet of Zhu Yuanzhang and Li Shimin? Because they all knew their destinies.

Peach trees can only bear peaches, apricot trees can only bear apricots, roosters can only crow, and hens can only lay eggs. These are their destinies.

After reading all the books without words, you will find that everything is born, grows, is punished, and is finally exterminated by nature. Talents are born, not learned or cultivated; those who are born to be thieves will definitely steal and those born to be kings will gather talents. Destiny is not to be violated because whoever does so will have a bad life that is full of twists and turns.

It can be seen from this that when everything goes wrong or when we encounter misfortune, it must be that we have acted against our destiny; if we can follow our destiny, our lives would be smooth. Therefore, when eating corn bread, eat happily; do not envy other people's delicacies; when living in a thatched hut, do not be jealous of others' tall buildings and villas. It is easy to see others start businesses to generate income but not so simple to germinate the idea to start your own business. Watching others become celebrities, do not imitate them blindly in any way. Finding others becoming spiritual leaders, do not engage in sneaky and furtive activity dealing with spirits and deities or fortunes and disasters yourself and expect to be seen as Jesus or the Ziwei Saint or Maitreya Buddha coming again. Be yourself; if you like farming, then farm honestly; if you like teaching, then teach diligently. Do not follow others because by knowing what you can do, you will be knowing and following your destiny.

I would like to introduce my own process of "knowing my destiny". I discovered very early that people with the Zhang surname can neither succeed in official careers nor become successful in financial ones. If a Zhang follows an official career, they will develop a bad reputation and if they go into a financial career, they will become impoverished, however the Jade Emperor's surname was Zhang, which proves that I can become a saint. Knowing this, I must enter neither an official career nor a financial profession. There are too many things that I cannot do because I am not cut for them. The only thing that I can succeed in is to become an immortal saint, but I will never become a god, let alone a king. At the same time, I found out that I must not accumulate material wealth. The less I own, the more I can use my talents; the emptier I am, the more spiritual I am. Leading people toward heaven, I can do; leading people to run businesses to make money, I cannot; leading people to change dynasties or become heroes, I definitely cannot do. In the end, I found that I cannot do much of anything very well, even if I try my hardest, but I can do service work; I can serve others, to be servants of others. This I can do well; I can be a first-class servant. It is easy for me to deliver everyone to the fairy world; I am very capable of serving people to enjoy the fun in life and LIFE; that is the communist life.

Among other things, I am a big idiot.
How about you? What is your destiny?

Young people will not know it, but even Confucius “knew his destiny” at fifty. It is very difficult to know one’s destiny without experiencing the torture of life, without reading the books without words, and without often trying to figure out the world.

Are you familiar with Zhou Enlai, a key figure in the history of modern China? He died well because he knew his destiny. Zhou Enlai never visited Liu Bang’s tomb but he did visit Zhang Liang’s tomb. This could have saved his life; otherwise, he might have suffered Liu Shaoqi and Lin Biao’s ending.

The core of “The Theory of ‘Destiny’” is to be yourself, and you must never deliberately plan anything.

34. The Crying and Shouting of Lifechanyuan’s Tour Guide

March 30, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Translated by Kaer)

The Covid-19 epidemic sweeps across the earth as the daily death toll continues to rise and everyone is at a risk of being infected. It may claim a hundred-million lives, but this is only the beginning of human suffering with more difficult days to follow. Death by drowning, burning, dehydration, starvation, hyper and hypothermia, and physical attacks will happen in rapid succession; and in the end, few people will remain.

For the last eighteen years, I have been calling, yelling, and crying out to people to attach importance to the construction of the human soul because the core of all crises is the one of the souls, and I have been warning people that it is only by changing the traditional mode of production and life that people be able to survive the crises and turn them into peace. Few people have responded and still fewer people have listened to me. I wrote letters to Chinese President Xi Jinping and to the Secretary General of the United Nations, but it was like dropping pebbles into the ocean. In order to create a model that is different from the traditional production and life mode for everyone to follow, more than a hundred Chanyuan celestials have begun creating a new mode of production and life for mankind since April, 2009. Whether the mode is good or not, government staff and public security personnel have visited and investigated our home with six-hundred individual officer-visits, during which times they have witnessed our status quo. Just ask them, they will not say that they found anything bad.

So, as the tour guide, what did I get? Verbal internet abuse at me ranged from “Liar, fool, sorcerer”, to “demon”, all the way to “Devil King”, and those were just some. As for the parents, children, spouses, and siblings of Chanyuan celestials, threats and scolding from them were even worse. Even today, a father of one Chanyuan celestial said that I brainwashed his child and ruined her brain, and that he would never stop holding me accountable for injury to him and his family.

People scold me mostly about cheating my followers out of their money. Lord in Heaven! Whose money have I taken and how did I take it? I sold all the property that I had accumulated over the past ten years and invested in the construction of the New Oasis for Life. I am still worrying about my three meals each day. You say that I cheated them for money, but I ask where your conscience is?

Crueller is how the government never understood us and destroyed our three picturesque homes that we created in Yunnan and forced us out of them. There were a hundred and fifty of us! Where were we to go; what should we have done? All the money we donated had been invested in the three homes in Yunnan province. Do you know about our going to Nanjing and Xinjiang to rebuild our homes? Who could understand the pressure and hardships we suffered? In Nanjing, we had just begun construction, built a few houses to live in, beautified the environment, and planted some crops. Hey! The government came back to demolish everything and drove us out again. We built three more homes in Xinjiang, houses were built, the environment was beautified, the crops were harvested, and we were about to live happy lives. Oops! The government came again, demolished everything, and drove us from Xinjiang again. We could do nothing but find another place in Yunnan to build three more homes secretly. After we finished everything, everyone was smiling and we were all ready to live happy lives. Then, misfortune returned and we were driven out of our homes for the fourth time.

For more than ten years as the tour guide, the pressure that I have had to bear and the difficulties which I have had to resolve have exceeded the Red Army's 25,000 Li March and Tang Monk's travels to West Heaven to acquire scriptures. This morning, when the father of one Chanyuan celestial blamed all the responsibility for his child on me, I was near to having a nervous breakdown.

Over these ten years, more than a dozen children have grown up in our home as our middle-aged members have matured and grown old. More than twenty Chanyuan celestials are now over seventy years old. Most of them have no retreat and no source of income; what about their senior care? I once hoped that people who read my "800 Values for New Era Human Being" would pay one dollar each, but more than ten years have passed and fewer than ten people paid their dollar. Lifechanyuan's column on a North America-based, Chinese language website has been viewed more than one-hundred and seventy-million times, but very few have paid their dollar. We once published "Chanyuan Corpus" and "Xuefeng Corpus" in a paperback format with the hope of getting some income from selling those books. As a result, the state banned their sale and the cost of their publication has never been recovered.

I can now feel the pain deeply in Christ Jesus' heart when he was nailed to the cross, and understand deeply why Buddha Shakyamuni shed tears when he talked with the Chinese Devil King.

I am not complaining to anyone here because although we have gone through hardships, we have never complained about heaven, earth, society, the government, or anyone. The world is faultless; all faults lie within us. I am just faithfully recording the history and development of Lifechanyuan, and the course as the tour guide of Lifechanyuan, so as to provide a way of thinking and reference for people who want to follow the footsteps of Jesus, Shakyamuni, and me, Xuefeng in the future.

But there is still one thing that I must emphasize here; if humankind wants to survive crises and disasters and have lives in which, “the talented will be put to good use and the whole world will be one family”, “no one will pocket anything found on the ground and doors are not bolted at night”, “the weather will be good for harvesting, everything will be prosperous, and everyone will be happy, joyous, free and blessed”, you can only follow the path pioneered by Lifechanyuan. I, Xuefeng, am currently the only candidate to lead humankind out of its predicament. Of course, people can continue to mock and ridicule me, insult and abuse me, and continue to threaten me, so let us wait and see! When people die in rapid succession and when they are enveloped by the fear of death, they will know who I am.

When Lifechanyuan is driven to a dead end, humans will have reached the end of the road to complete destruction.

35. Fire at Traditions (1): All Family members are Enemies

Xuefeng

March 22, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Matthew 10:36 in the Bible recorded Jesus Christ's warning that, “Everyone's worst foes shall be from their own households”; He also spoke clearly that, “I have come not to send peace, but a sword, for I have come to turn sons against their fathers, daughters against their mothers, and in-laws against each other; anyone who loves their father or mother more than Me and anyone who loves their son or daughter more than Me is not worthy of Me”.

In John 14:36, Jesus Christ tells us clearly: “I am the way, the truth, and LIFE”.

I, Xuefeng, am the incarnation of Jesus Christ in this age, and am here to bear witness to His teachings. I am proclaiming to the world that what He said is true. I have come to implement His words; let children leave their parents and let parents leave their children. I want to complete His final words and take the children who have left their parents and the parents who have left their children all into the kingdom of the Greatest Creator.

Relatives in the traditional sense are actually enemies; they are a resistance to heaven and the path to hell. Everyone who maintains traditional marriages and family relations is an assistant to the king of the Devil; every kind of preaching that maintains traditional marriages and families is the Devil's preaching; all praises of marriages and families are harmful.

- Parents have kidnapped their children for millennia in the name of love.
- Parents always treat their children as private property by preventing them from following the lives they would choose.
- Parents always impose their will on their children regardless of their children's feelings and whether they know it or not.
- Parents always rely on their children for care in their old-age.
- Parents always impose their unfulfilled wishes on their children and hope to realize their wishes through them.
- Parents always blame their incompetence on their children.
- Parents always control their children with promises and threats.

Across thousands of years, from ancient times to modernity, both in China and abroad, history is bitter and filled with blood and tears, and it was personally brewed and written with praise for marriages and families with parents and children. If these relationships do not disintegrate, then the sea of human suffering will continue boundlessly. Not only will it remain as such, but in this kind of civilization, humankind will face disasters or even extinction.

Success leads to success and failure leads to failure. Five thousand years of human history is a history of failures, and repeating them will not bring success. It is only by thoroughly formatting all failed programs that we can usher in a beautiful and happy era for humankind.

Marriages and families are the pots for "boiling frogs in warm water". Everyone in it is ultimately boiled to the animal world and hell. No one who lives in them all his life can reach heaven.

If Xuefeng was just discrediting the bitter and bloody program of marriages and families without pointing to a more ideal and better direction and building a more perfect new program, then he would be a destroyer, not a builder; I would be a devil and those words of Jesus Christ could neither be proven nor disproven.

Those who are parents, please do not scold me so quickly; those who maintain marriages and families, please calm down first; children who love their parents, please do not deny me so quickly.

I have created a new program for humankind that has no marriages or families. This new program is the kingdom of the Greatest Creator. People living in this program will testify that it is thousands of times more beautiful than traditional marriages and families. If you have not lived in it deeply, then it will be impossible for you to imagine, but the facts are there and we cannot help but face the truth.

Of course, I know clearly that the traditional program is very powerful and the people who fight against this new one have great power to destroy it, but this is not my concern. My business is its construction, and if you want to destroy it, that is your business. I just use the facts to prove to mankind that what Jesus Christ said is completely correct. Jesus Christ is “the way, the truth, and the LIFE”. By following His teachings, all of humankind can enter into the kingdom of the Greatest Creator and enjoy beautiful lives for a thousand years. Not only that, but most people can enter heaven.

Believe it or not, you can choose for yourself. Those who believe it are blessed but those who do not believe it will witness the results for themselves.

36. Firing at Traditions (2): Marriages make the Ugliest Relationships

Xuefeng

March 24, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

The ancient Chinese had long studied life through and declared that “Husbands and wives are opponents”. What is an opponent? An enemy!

The ancient Chinese showed wisdom when they said that, “It is better for opponents to untie than to tie up”. What did they mean by that? They meant that two opponents should not unite; that is, they should not marry and become couples. “Not to tie up” means not to join together! Anyone who accidentally forms a couple should untie (divorce) ASAP. To “untie” means to dissolve the partnership, to “untie” the rope that binds both parties and to let both parties fly freely.

Among the various relationships in society, the worst and the ugliest ones are those between husbands and wives. The most trouble and pain in people's lives come from their marital partners. Domestic violence does, and so do cold wars. The worst complaints are those between married couples, and the mutual torture between them is also the worst. Once a person is married, they fall into an abyss of misery which lasts for the remainder of their union.

When an angel marries, they become a devil; when a saint marries, they become laity or mortal. Ninety percent of married men wear green hats (feel betrayed); is this not painful? Ninety percent of married women lose their desirability after marriage; is this not annoying? Chinese culture was created by God. Just look at the Chinese character, “婚” and you can understand everything. “女” means woman and “昏” means confused. A woman gets confused then gets married. “结婚” means to marry, and it is clear that when a man unites with a confused woman, he also become confused.

There is a saying that, “A wife is not as good as a concubine, and a concubine is not as good as stolen love”. These words reveal the secret of secular life. If a man has a wife and a concubine, then he will definitely prefer his concubine, but even if he has three wives and four concubines, he would still want to “steal love”! Why? Because the stolen love tastes exceptionally delicious, and is fascinating, irritating, and yearning, so why not steal it? Only a fool would not want to steal some love! Lechery is not a crime and stealing love is not theft, so why not steal some love? Even if you do not steal any, you still think about it; come on, admit it! Even if you cannot sleep at night, lose your appetite, and become haggard, you will still be restless and ready to take action. Once opportunity knocks, you will definitely take action even if it means "walking the wire" or even dying for it.

This is reality and people have to face it. For thousands of years, this reality has not changed at all. No matter how fancy someone's moral preaching is, how harsh their legal precepts are, or how people talk about them, even if their body would be smashed into pieces and their family would be disrespected for ten thousand years, there would still be an endless stream of them who will cheat on love.

Since this is the truth of human nature in the mortal world, why should we avoid it? Why not just accept the truth? Husbands of the world, why even dream of stopping your wife from cheating on you; wives of the world, why even fancy stopping your husband from cheating on you? Even if you could have controlled your spouse from cheating on you before, this is the age of mobile phones with internet access where people can cheat on anyone at any time. Can you watch and guard them all the time? No way! No guarding, defending, threatening, or tempting can stop the flood of cheating. If a wife does not cheat, then she must not be sexy enough, and if a husband does not cheat, then he must not be charming enough.

Never believe that people with power and money do not cheat. The richer and more powerful they are, the more they cheat. Do not expect your partner to not cheat on you because you are as beautiful as a flower in a jade setting or handsome and debonair. A handsome husband is not as good as a stolen fool and no matter how beautiful a wife is, she is not as good as a stolen lascivious woman. A man who has been married for many years will tell you that his wife is the most annoying woman in his life and a woman who has been married as long will tell you that she was blind on the altar. The fact is that no one is wrong. What is wrong is entering into the “boundless sea of bitterness”, the marriage program.

- Would Buddha Shakyamuni have become Buddha if he had not escaped from his marriage?

- Would Lao Tse have become a celestial if he had ridden a green bull out of the pass with his own “yellow face wife”? Would he have become Lord Lao Tse?
- Would King of Yin dynasty, Zhou’s Kingdom have been overthrown if Jiang Ziya had a wife next to him to direct him as he was helping Zhou Wenwang and Zhou Wuwang to win their battles?
- Would Christopher Columbus have discovered the New World if he had loved a wife who loved him equally?
- When I was a child, seeing new couples at weddings made me feel green with envy.
Now, I feel pity for them because I know what they are in for.
- When I was a child and saw a man with his wife, I felt that he was very imposing. Now, I feel as if I am looking at a ghost.
- When I was a child and saw a woman with her husband, I felt that she was very happy.
Now, she reminds me of a frog in a well.

In fact, all couples live in pain, though on the surface they pretend to be very happy. In their hearts, they ask each other: “why are you still alive”, but then they verbalize: “You are my favorite”. People are so deceptive and such good performers.

Even more strange is that some couples have never had more than a few days of happiness in their entire lives; they know that entering into marriage and becoming a couple was the worst mistake in their lives, but they still force their children to follow their own painful paths. It is an obvious fire pit, but they force their children to jump into it; how cruel do you think such parents are? Are there any real people in this world? I have thought it over and over again but could not figure it out. Finally, I can only say that all parents who force their children to marry must have been kicked in their heads by donkeys or even camels. Either their minds are flooded, some nerves in their brains short circuited, or they were fed the wrong drug when they were born; there is no other explanation.

Then, if you do not get married and do not have a romantic partner, where will you go? The most ideal and most beautiful way out is in our garden - the New Oasis for Life created by Lifechanyuan.

37. Humans Should Understand These Eight Truths from the ### Covid-19 Pandemic

Xuefeng

May 20, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Let us look first at some natural changes that have occurred during the pandemic and then we will see what we should conclude from them. You might want to research the following news items on the internet to see what has happened.

1. The virus has healed the earth. The contrast of aerial photos from before and after the lockdown of the cities is amazing.
2. Satellite data show that China's air quality has improved significantly.
3. The air quality comparison chart under the global pandemic is conclusive.
4. An Italian city was closed for two weeks and satellite views of it found amazing changes.
5. Due to the outbreak, the number of tourists has plummeted and the canals in Venice, Italy have cleared nicely.
6. Miami's water became clear, global carbon dioxide emissions dropped, mountain lions appeared in cities, and the earth began to "restart".
7. Residents of Punjab, India could see the Himalayas, two-hundred and one kilometers away in early April for the first time in nearly thirty years.
8. India ordered a nationwide blockade at the end of March and found that the Ganges River had cleaned itself.

Since the outbreak of the pandemic, the global blockade has slowed people's activities. As a result, all-round changes have taken place on the earth. The eight examples above are enough to make us understand the eight truths below.

1. Atmospheric pollution, turbid rivers, reduced marine life, soil acidification (salinization), reduction of animals and plants, climate warming, ecological crises, and more are all caused by human activities, and humans must reverse them.
2. There are too many people on the earth and we should reduce our uncontrolled growth. Regardless of race, ethnicity, or country, population development should be controlled within mother nature's tolerance.
3. The national policies and human activities dominated by the developed economies are biased. Economic development must be in line with mother nature's annual productivity and we cannot ask too much from her, otherwise she who nurtures us will get sick and lose her temper.
4. People's food, clothing, shelters, travelling, aging, sickness, and death, are all consuming natural resources. The more people possess, the more they damage the earth and the more sins they commit.
5. The more people enjoy, the more they abuse and ravage the earth and the more sins they commit.
6. Once anything's development goes to the extreme, it will inevitably be contained. The only way to avoid containment is to maintain harmony and balance among all things.
7. Human nature has both a good side and an evil one. Capitalism and the market economy model conform to the evil side of human nature; that is, the greedy side. Greed leads to evil which leads to ecological imbalance and ecological disaster.

8. These facts tell us that there is something wrong with traditional values and the production and life mode of humans, and that this value and mode is the source of the virus.

How do we solve the above eight problems? In order to let people live happy and peaceful lives without anxiety or fear, to make society harmonious, and to restore nature to its original purity and cleanliness, I am fully prepared in both theory and practice. The theory is called “Chanyuan Values”; the practice is called the “New Oasis for Life”. I have lived in Asia for decades, Africa for seventeen years, North America for three years, with primitive tribes in Oceania for a few months, with Christians for three years, with Muslims for three years, had deep contact with Hindus, subtle contact with Buddhists and Taoists, understood Western spiritual culture, Osho’s thoughts, and earnestly studied and explored Marx’s theories, so I understand that people’s needs are at the bottom in the minds of rich bosses. Therefore, my theory and practice are suitable for the interests of humankind as a whole, as well as to meet everyone’s wishes. I hope that people will think about it deeply.

Again, without changing humanity’s traditional production and life modes, our suffering will continue endlessly, and not only will we be punished by nature, but the future will never be bright.

38. Everybody Carries the Covid-19 Virus

Xuefeng

June 16th, 2020

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

As the Covid-19 pandemic keeps spreading throughout the world, all countries continue their efforts to avoid it out of fear that they might catch it and wearing masks has become a main method of preventing its spread.

I would like to inform everyone that these external preventive measures including wearing surgical masks will not work. Whether people will be infected by the virus or not, depends completely on the “eight qi” that they possess. That is to say that those who are supposed to catch the disease, even if they remain fully insulated, will get sick but those who are not supposed to get it, even if they bathe in water that is fully contaminated with the virus, will not. My viewpoint is supported by the following three theories:

- Holographic theory

According to Cosmic Holographic theory, “Even while latent, all subsystems contain all the information of their systems and all the information of the universe”. Any subsystem is a microcosm of its system and therefore a microcosm of the universe. A medical doctor can order a blood test from one drop of our blood and all the information about our bodies can be determined from that single drop. Through that test data, the doctor can determine what diseases we have because every cell of the body contains all the information about the body: this is the Cosmic Holographic theory. It can be concluded that once the Covid-19 virus came into existence, everyone in the world became infected with it and this has nothing to do with their location or whether they have guarded against it. Those who deny this, deny Cosmic Holography.

- The Truth of Buddhism

"One flower, one world; One leaf, one bodhi ", the Buddha said, "Everyone owns Buddha nature". "All humans can become Buddha", the truth of Buddhism shows that, “human self-nature owns everything”, "self-nature can generate all dharma and all dharma is generated from self-nature". This tells us that each of us has both the most beauty in the world and the most ugliness in the world. We can also infer logically that, “Everyone owns a devil’s nature and a beast’s nature”. Whether people achieve Buddhahood or fall to a demonic level depends on their self-nature. Therefore, it can be concluded that whether we become infected by the virus or not depends on our "self-nature", not on our preventive measures such as wearing masks. If one thinks that someone is infected by exposure to someone else, it shows that they do not understand the truth of Buddhism.

- The principle of causation

“All dharma is a void except karma”;” If one wants to understand their past lives, then they should study what they receive in this life”. The principle of causation tells us that “Reality is only the projection of one’s consciousness”. One suffers because they have ever sinned; one is blessed and can live at ease and comfort because they have accumulated merits and virtues. “You reap what you have sown”. Those who take baths often and wash their clothes regularly will not get lice but those who do not do so will acquire them. The birth and spread of Covid-19 need to meet certain conditions, so whether one gets infected and sick depends on whether they meet those conditions. If they meet them, then they will become infected and get sick, but if they do not meet them, then they will not get sick even if they become immersed with them.

I have written more than two hundred and sixty articles over the last seventeen years as Warnings to the World which have been disseminated across the internet. The current state of the today’s world and sceneries of a future world have been heralded clearly by them. Although it is too late for mankind to turn the corner, the laws and principles of life and LIFE do work at all times. I want mankind to know that the only way to escape from your current crisis but to walk the propitious path is to change your traditional mode of production and life, and that the way for individuals to escape from this crisis and to lead blessed lives is to take the way of the Greatest Creator and follow the road of Lifechanyuan.

If you think that I am wrong and that you are right, then just follow your own path and you will find out.

39. The Great Demon of the Evil Homeland Replies to China's Anti-cult Network

Xuefeng

July 30, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Fighters of China's anti-cult network!

First of all, if you feel that you are doing right and are confident in your actions, then do not delete or block my article here. If you are scared, then delete it or block it!

You have been a great help because your video, "The Home of Evil", has expanded Lifechanyuan's influence, which is exactly what I have been looking for. As for whether or not people believe your video's content, you know that in today's China, it is everyone's tacit understanding. Nowadays, only mindless people still believe the messages published by governments at your level?

After watching your video, I can see that you have put much work into it, but also that it is still rough and that your understanding needs refinement!

1. You said that you "rescued" believers who had been directed remotely by Zhang Zifan (Xuefeng), but this is inconsistent with the facts! One of your insiders sent me some photos of your process of "rescuing" my followers. In one of them, a female Chanyuan celestial's hands were tied behind her back with a rope and she was squatting on the ground with a police officer holding a pistol against the back of her head in the same way that Japanese devils shot and killed Chinese compatriots during the War of Resistance against Japanese Aggression. Is this what you called "rescue"? I still have the photo.

2. You posted a few photos of me in the video which we had taken while playing games. You deliberately selected those photos to vilify me and to scare my potential sisters-in-law away. That was unscrupulous of you!

3. The biggest shortcoming of the video upon which you worked so hard is that there were no voices of any Chanyuan celestials. It is a failure! In fact, the biggest blow to Lifechanyuan and Xuefeng should be Chanyuan celestials exposing my ugly deeds which would have been much more convincing. It is lacking that you did not do that!

4. Wang Gang, who appears in the video, is the son of Foci celestial. His performance in the video was simply that of a respectful son, but what is the truth? You should allow his mother Foci to talk about it! Why would an elderly woman in her eighties not be with her son, but with the demon, Xuefeng? People with normal thinking ability will come up with something, right? We have a lot of evidence to prove why the elderly woman would rather die outside than live with her son. Is it evil for Xuefeng's homeland to take in 80-year-olds and allow them to live comfortable lives? I used to think that evil meant not showing filial piety to the elderly, but now it seems that showing filial piety to the elderly is evil. Thank you for showing me the true meaning of evil. Wang Gang said that Xuefeng asked his mother to bring her salary card over and end her relationship with the family. You should show evidence of this occurrence because without any, what you said is just slander; will people believe it? Saying that your mother took her savings, ran away from home, and that you then lost contact with her is simply one big lie. Does telling such a lie mean that you have forgotten about the time that your wife and you visited Lifechanyuan?

5. The video said that I joined traditional Christianity, but have you any evidence of this? Of course not because you made all this up!

6. You know that I am the messenger of the Greatest Creator, Jesus Christ, Buddha Shakyamuni, the prophet Muhammad (PBUH), and the incarnation of celestial Laozi, but you think that this has all been made up by me, right? Is it not strange that one dares to claim himself as such but can still have a clear mind for twenty years? Is it not abnormal? This is not something that anyone can claim for themselves casually. If you do not believe me, you can try doing it yourself. If anyone claims to be such, it would take less than one year for them to go insane and die. If you do not believe me, try it yourself! Now suppose, what if Zhang Zifan's claim is true? If so, then your sins are surely not small!

7. You said that our two places in Guizhou are secretly established bases under the cover of cooperative, comprehensive development projects. Excuse me, but are we also engaged in any illegal activities or any other than those stipulated in our contract? If so, please provide evidence.

8. You said that the most important of Xuefeng's fallacies is that Chanyuan celestials must hand in all their property. Please provide evidence of this; in which article did I write this? On what occasion did I say it? Please provide material evidence and testimonies of witnesses.

9. Liu Qiang is the husband of Xianyin celestial and appears in the video. You said that Xianyin celestial sold all of her family property behind Liu Qiang's back and dedicated all his hundreds of thousands of RMB Yuan to Lifechanyuan, but are the facts really as Liu Qiang claims? Liu Qiang is addicted to gambling; not only did he gamble away their pig farm which they had worked so hard to build, but he also lost their house, driving the family into bankruptcy and unable to pay off some usurers from whom he had borrowed money. He hid outside all day and his wife had no choice but to beg to come to Lifechanyuan home. His wife had not sold their property behind his back and donated hundreds of thousands of RMB yuan to Lifechanyuan because she had nothing and even needed to purchase the train ticket with the pocket money her daughter gave her to travel from her former farm to Lifechanyuan. You have provided false testimony; I wonder if this is a crime in jurisprudence. I guess you need to study the law more seriously!

10. Liu Qiang said that he weighed nearly 75 kilograms when he was with his wife, but that his weight had dropped to 45 kilograms after she left. What does this fact show? With his wife supporting him, he was obese, but with his wife no longer taking care of him, he became underweight. Who can afford to support a man like this?

11. You said that Lifechanyuan is an illegal organization, so we asked your public security officer why you felt that way? The officer said that Lifechanyuan was never registered. I ask you, must an organization register in order to be legal? Was the great, glorious, and correct Communist Party of China organization registered with the Nationalist Government of that time when it ruled China? If not, then according to you, the CPC has always been an illegal organization? Besides, Lifechanyuan is an international family which has been registered with the Canadian government. Can it not be counted as registered?

12. Regarding Xuefeng's pronouncement that "family members are enemies", this was a warning from Jesus Christ. Do you dare to say that Jesus Christ was wrong? Leaving home, this is the guidance and example of Buddha Sakyamuni. Do you dare to say Sakyamuni was wrong?

13. You keep saying that Xuefeng's claims are fallacies and heresies. I have 800 values; do you have enough wisdom and ability to refute ANY of them? You only need to challenge a few of them. If you cannot refute any of them, then how can it be called a fallacy? In view of this, it is not surprising that you call filial piety evil, and the theory of truth fallacious.

14. I will not comment on Li Yutian in the video, but he and his wife divorced voluntarily in 2009. At that time, their two children had grown up and his wife had left him without taking a penny from their family. The video said that his wife left him to live in Lifechanyuan community, but the community had not yet existed at the time of their divorce, so it would be nonsense to say that she came to us at that time. His wife's father died seven years after they divorced, but you said that it happened only a few days after she left? In order to achieve your goals, lies can be made up like this only because the government is in league with liars. Is this what the government does? You also said that his wife's father died from lung cancer because his wife left him, is there any scientific evidence that this can happen? According to Li Yutian, his wife's departure caused her father to get lung cancer, and he passed away within a few days. I ask, can lung cancer really kill anyone within only a few days of acquiring it? Is it not ridiculous to make lies like this up? Is this how the government collects evidence to prove that Lifechanyuan is evil? In fact, this has nothing to do with Lifechanyuan. The number of divorcees in the world is increasing and many people are not marrying; are all of these changes caused by Lifechanyuan? Of course not!

15. I advocate that as long as two parties are willing to, they can maintain emotional relations for a long time; what is wrong with this in terms of ethics and jurisprudence? Is it not allowed for them to keep long-term emotional relationships if they are consensual?

16. You said that some of our game photos which you showed in your video were described as being "intolerable to the eye"; do you really think so? Then how do you feel about the large number of pornographic pictures on the regular Internet? You think our homeland life is immoral, right? Your public security officers raided our home at two or three o'clock in the morning many times, forced their way into our rooms, checked in our cabinets and under our beds. Did they ever find a man and a woman sleeping together? Never! Based on your realm, you can never imagine that Chanyuan celestials like to talk and laugh, but in our home, we mostly like to live quietly and alone; we pursue the joy of nonmaterial souls, not that of flesh. Based on your cognitive abilities, this realm is extremely difficult for you to imagine and you will not be able to understand it even if you live for five hundred years.

17. Peng Jinlai, who is shown in your video, stayed in the Chanyuan home for only five or six days; during that period, he wanted to be intimate with a female Chanyuan celestial but she rejected him. For this, he hated the home and left immediately and he also wanted his wife and daughter to leave with him. In your video, it was reversed, he was falsely accusing the female Chanyuan celestial of seducing him. This man lied at every step!

18. When Peng Jinlai's wife became a Chanyuan celestial, she had difficulty walking because of surgery on her legs. In 2020, she was brought to the New Oasis for Life of Lifechanyuan to recover because she was unable to walk, and a dedicated specialist had been assigned to take care of her during her recuperation. I ask you, if she had been sent home, would that not have added trouble to Peng Jinlai? Not only did Peng Jinlai not appreciate the Lifechanyuan home, but he spread rumors and framed us. Would you agree that what he did goes against basic human morality?

19. You said that my homeland is a "mental cancer that endangers the masses". Please read carefully the Chanyuan Corpus, Xuefeng Corpus, and the 800 Values for New Era Humans. This huge theoretical system is in line with the teachings of Jesus Christ, Buddha Shakyamuni, Prophet Muhammad (PBUH), immortal Laozi, the sages of the past and Marx's theoretical communism. You seem to regard the teachings of gods, Buddhas, and immortals as "mental cancers". So what your "spiritual medicine" might be?

20. You said that through careful investigations, you had found various evidence of violations in the homeland. What are they in accordance with China's constitution and laws? If you cannot show the evidence of our violations to society, have you committed the crime of perjury?

21. You said that all our believers were successfully rescued with no mistakes, but how could there have been no mistakes with nearly a hundred people? Did you say that Xuefeng asked the Chanyuan celestials to commit collective suicide, "if I live, the home will exist; if the home perishes, I will die"? From your video, can you tell any clues of Chanyuan celestials wanting to die by committing suicide? Is there one Chanyuan celestial resisting? Let me tell you that Chanyuan celestials are the most civilized group of well-educated people in the world and that none of them would do anything extreme. You have suppressed Lifechanyuan for eight years and "destroyed" our homes a dozen times, but has even one Chanyuan celestial confronted anyone or done anything extreme? There were no mistakes in your process of "smashing" us; this was not because of how thorough and detailed your plan was, but because the quality of Chanyuan celestials determined that they would not respond in any uncivilized manner.

22. You said that Chanyuan celestials cannot get prompt medical treatment and that they suffer from diseases in Lifechanyuan. You are really good at fabricating and framing! The home regards every Chanyuan celestial as a family relative; once anyone feels uncomfortable, we immediately arrange for them to go to a hospital to be examined and treated and we have never delayed anyone's timely treatment. During any Chanyuan celestial's hospitalization, we provide at least four people to take care of them twenty-four hours each day. Do you not see it or know it? The care that the home delivers to every Chanyuan celestial during their illness cannot be offered by ordinary families or social groups. Would you like to compare theirs against ours?

23. The home's care and education for children are all-encompassing. To know the quality of a fruit tree, just look at it. We have raised more than a dozen children in our home; why do you not let the kids tell their stories? As for the thirteen-year-old Zhao Mingming mentioned in your video, he is not running around the yard all day as you described and delaying his studies. The child's terminally ill mother arranged for her child to enter our home in order to secure a good future for him. Soon after his entering the homeland, his mother passed away. The homeland took care of all her funeral affairs. When the child's mother was critically ill, we promptly notified the child's grandmother and uncle who came to inspect how we managed her funeral affairs. As for the child, his grandmother and uncle both agreed that the homeland is good and wanted the child to stay here. We then arranged for the child to go to the local school in time. Is this not true? How can you alter and despise the true facts? Is it not true that the detained child shown in your video was still wearing the uniform of the Hope Primary School in Rongguang Town? Didn't you take the child away from that school? How can you say that we had delayed the child's studies?

24. The alleged pennant sending in the video is very ridiculous. It showed that Xu Dong, who was originally from Shanxi, sent a pennant to the public security organization. The fact is that your officers customized the pennant in advance, and then forced Xu Dong to take a photo with the pennant. This is how pathetically you make yourselves look good. Just think about it, relying on your brain capacity, knowledge and spiritual quotient, is it possible for you to complete the de-programming of Chanyuan celestials in such a short period of time after my more than ten years of patient and meticulous "brainwashing"? Are you qualified? Your so-called transformation is nothing more than threats, intimidation, and coercion, and then through blackening people's names, cutting off people's sources of life, and forcibly taking away their mobile phones, computers, ID cards, and passports for forced conversion. How is this fundamentally different from the ruffians, hooligans, gangsters, and bandits, who put knives to people's throats and say, "Call me grandpa or I'll kill you"? Since April 28, you took away the ID cards, mobile phones, and computers of many Chanyuan celestials, some of these objects have yet to be returned. Is this how you transform Chanyuan celestials?

25. You said that the evil homeland created by Zhang Zifan was "smashed in one stroke". Your memory is really bad; this is not "smashed in one stroke". You started the "smashing in one stroke" eight years ago in 2013. You have already "smashed in twelve strokes". You gave us real trouble, but it is too early to conclude whether we were destroyed. "Boundless grasses across the plain come and go with every season; wildfires never quite consume them; they are tall once more in the spring wind". If you really have the ability to completely destroy us, then what you have to do is not to drive the Chanyuan celestials from their "dens", but you must subvert Xuefeng's entire theory. If you do not destroy my theory, then the home will never be destroyed. Not to say to "smash it in one stroke", you cannot destroy it with "a thousand strokes" or even "ten thousand strokes". Another way to destroy us is to control all foreign networks and block the eight public websites of Lifechanyuan, especially social media platforms such as Facebook, Google, and YouTube. Otherwise, who will be destroyed in the end has not yet been settled!

After reading the above, are you scared? If you are not scared, then do not delete my article so that the so-called righteous people can see the evil of the Chanyuan home and of Zhang Zifan. But if you do not delete it, will the good people who were deceived by you think you are evil instead? Who knows? Maybe! However, your deletion and blocking can only be limited to your sphere of influence. The world outside your sphere of influence is very vast, and I can continue to publish it in that vast world!

Nowadays, there is a popular saying, "You will have to pay it back sooner or later". The twelve homes of Lifechanyuan were each "smashed in one stroke" by you. Sooner or later, this account will be settled. On average, each home is calculated at ten-million RMB yuan and the twelve homes were worth one hundred-twenty-million RMB yuan, according to the current market value! "A murderer must pay with his life and a debtor must pay his debt"; it is an unalterable principle that the debts you owe must be repaid. You are not going to get away with this. "Up to the highest height and down to deepest depth", even if you die, Chanyuan celestials will trace you to the end. Before you pay off your debt, your soul will never rest in peace. If you do not believe me, just wait and see!

We hope that you will realize your errors, mend your ways, and commit fewer sins!

40. China's Anti-cult Network is Nailed to the Pillar of Shame of Human Civilization

Xuefeng

August 18, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

What is China's Anti-cult Network? I had never heard of them before they vilified the name of the Second Home of Lifechanyuan as the "Evil Homeland", I know that this group is a malignant tumor that grows on the body of human civilization and if it is not eliminated, then human civilization will surely die from it.

Therefore, starting from today, China's Anti-cult Network is nailed to the pillar of shame of human civilization! They, who reverse black and white, confuse right and wrong, spread rumors and slander, and fool the people, are a thorough anti-human and anti-civilization gang and an evil organization; as long as they exist, human civilization will suffer.

The facts have proven that China's Anti-cult Network is a thorough cult organization and what they fight against are just and bright religions. People who believe them should wake up and alert themselves. Anyone who bangs the drum for them is holding the candle for the devil and their punishment has been scheduled. Therefore, the sooner you renounce this group, the better off you will be.

41. The Greatest Creator Has Taken Action; My Reply to a Netizen

Xuefeng

August 18, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

People ask why they suffer from innumerable disasters while the Greatest Creator does nothing. The simple answer is that HE has already done a great deal.

In early April of 2009, I posted that the catastrophe of 2012 would not happen but would be replaced by a stepwise, reciprocating, and increasingly serious pattern of natural and man-made disasters. Then, on August 1 of 2017, I once again warned that "If mankind does not reevaluate their ways immediately and change their traditional modes of production and life, then not only is the entire natural ecology expected to collapse within fifteen to twenty years, but that humanity will be at risk long before then".

In order to save mankind, I compiled the "800 Values for New Era Humans" and set a new life model for people with the Chanyuan celestials of Lifechanyuan. All this is equivalent to saying that the ship of LIFE of the Greatest Creator has arrived and is calling everyone to embark quickly so that they can be kept safe, but how many have boarded this ship? I am telling you plainly that I am the messenger of the Greatest Creator and that I have come to harvest ripe crops and to create the Lifechanyuan Era for mankind, but after more than ten years of my calling out, how many people have responded? Is this not the action of the Greatest Creator? If this is not HIS action, do you want HE, HIMself to come and carry everyone to heaven? Are we worthy of HIS carrying?

When Noah built his ark on the top of Mount Ararat, most people ridiculed and mocked him and took his call as the act of a lunatic. What was the result? People still indulged in dissipation in their own ways. Eighteen years ago, I called on people through the internet to hurry up and get onboard this ship. I have been working hard, following the will of the Greatest Creator for eighteen years, but what has the result been? Not only have very few people responded, but they destroyed the kingdom of the Greatest Creator - the Second Home of Lifechanyuan - and called it "The Evil Homeland". I ask you: has the Greatest Creator taken action? Have people listened?

You called me a big liar and accused me of deceiving and cheating people for money and sex, but have I cheated anyone out of their money or tricked anyone into having sex with me over the last eighteen years? Which of my thousands of articles is not telling the truth? Do you not believe me? Will you not listen to me? Alright then, live by "your" truth and let us wait for the result? I have warned against plagues, fires, floods, hurricanes, earthquakes, hunger, extreme heat, extreme cold, social unrest, and so on. I have written more than two hundred articles in my "Warning Chapter" alone. Do you not think so, let us just wait and see! What happens next will not even leave you a chance to cry.

Do not blame the Greatest Creator for not saving you. If you want to blame someone, then blame yourself for being too foolish, too arrogant, too proud, and too ignorant not to have HIM in your heart. Do not blame the gods, buddhas, Celestial Beings, and saints for not saving you.

I am coming to save you by combining the incarnations of the messenger of the Greatest Creator with all the aforementioned and my doing so is tantamount to their doing so. You refuse to listen, so why cast blame?

When cows enter cowsheds, pigs enter pigpens, the devil collects demon grandchildren, celestials go to a celestial world, they are all just returning home!

42. Eighteen Values that Chinese People Need to Understand Urgently

Xuefeng

August 18, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

I am watching China heading toward purgatory, so I am warning every one of their urgent needs to understand the following eighteen truths. With your understanding, there may be some room for reversal; otherwise, there will only be wailing and regrets.

1. It is not that U.S. imperialists want us to die, but that the west never gives up its hope of helping us.
2. It is not that mainland China should liberate Taiwan, but that we should hope for Taiwan to liberate the mainland.
3. Mao Zedong's thoughts will bring no happiness to the Chinese people, but only poverty and disasters.
4. Our government is unreliable; the more you rely on it, the more you will suffer.
5. Chinese government officials at all levels are failing to serve the people, but rather are oppressing and exploiting them.
6. Programs are more reliable than moral preaching; we need more program construction and less moral preaching.
7. Confucian culture is the root cause of China's inability to produce Nobel Prize winners.
8. Xuefeng-style communism is the only way for the Chinese nation to achieve happiness.
9. Confrontation with the United States is the path to death.
10. Uniting a centralized country by marriage is the same as prostitution.
11. The stronger the control becomes, the more cunning the people will become.
12. Most common people's crimes are forced upon them by officials; therefore, the common people are not guilty, but the officials are.
13. All those who praise the heads of government and the ruling party are bastards.
14. A government that does not allow freedom of speech should and must be abandoned; why would anyone want or need such a government?

15. There is no need for power, but there is for bread and freedom.
16. A. There is no need for a country, but to live and work in peace and contentment.
B. Where there is freedom, there is the best place for peaceful lives.
C. Without freedom, you cannot live in peace, so for what do you want or need an unfree country?
17. Small amounts of chicken soup for the soul and religious preaching are supplements, but large amounts of them are toxic and can poison people's minds.
18. Those who are oppressed, bullied, and exploited, but do not resist, are tantamount to pigs or dogs; therefore, they will only fight back when they are driven beyond the limits of their endurance.

43. My Final Warning

Deiform Buddha

September, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

I have been preaching to the world for eighteen years and have told everyone what to expect and which path they should follow. It is none of my business whether or not you should listen or follow, that is only yours, but as you face difficulties or even death, you cannot blame gods, Buddha, celestials, saints, or especially the Greatest Creator because the road has been shown to you and you can only blame yourself if you do not choose to follow it. The Great Purification is about to begin, so I will give you some warnings now and I hope that they will protect you from disasters:

1. Do not try to escape from predicaments and death because there is nowhere to hide; just light up the sacred lamp in your heart, let the Greatest Creator enter your heart, and pray that the Greatest Creator will ease your pain and keep you safe.
2. Abandon everything, only embrace the Greatest Creator and allow HIM to flow into your blood, shine in your hair, give orders through your consciousness, and guide you when you are confused.
3. Do not spend more time and energy on reading books with words; read the books without words. Everything and all phenomena are the works of the Greatest Creator. Changing phenomena show the Greatest Creator announcing HIS will and warnings to you, so please read HIS books; they have no words in them, only images and phenomena.
4. When deserts flood, tropical lands have snow, cold lands are hot, and black swans arrive in incredible places, you should be aware that the great purification has begun and is underway.

5. When the meteorite that will destroy mankind is spotted and something that you have never seen before appears in the sky, you should understand that the earth has guardian angels and managers who will have exhausted their endurance for humankind's destruction of nature; their patience will have reached its limit, and they will be ready to act against humanity's evil.
6. Stop worshiping gods, buddha, celestial beings, saints, and great human leaders, and worship nature! Worship the sun, the moon, the stars, the earth, and its mountains, rivers, insects, grass, and trees; worship all natural things because you will then be worshiping the Greatest Creator.
7. Stop striving for money and material wealth because neither of them will save you. Even if you have hundreds of millions of dollars of assets and even if you hide in the safest place, pox will appear spontaneously all over your body, both inside and out, and you will die from unbearable itching.
8. Do not follow and defend power because it is the source of lies and falsehoods; if you follow it, you will be with the devil and end miserably.
9. Do not look for a savior; do not be deceived by people with apparently great supernatural powers because they are only illusions of the truth.
10. Do not believe and follow any masters, angels, Christ, Buddha, immortals, or other similar figures who claim to be able to save you; they are clay bodhisattvas crossing the river-people who cannot protect themselves; following them will drop you into a pit and you will lose your chance of being saved.
11. Do not listen to the myths of psychics; you do not know with what spirits they communicate and that is the same as gambling.
12. No secretive talking is good and all sneaky things are shit, so be careful.
13. Do not follow the masses; that is the road to confusion and enslavement.
14. When all you see is death, you will suffer from extreme fear, so find three to five confidants in advance with whom to live and eat together and to help each other get through the sea of fear.
15. Even when your hunger becomes intolerable and you are in extreme distress, neither steal nor rob, let alone harm other LIVES, but maintain the purity of your soul and the light of your LIFE.
16. Desperate trumpets will sound from all directions; it is only by lighting the sacred lamp within your heart and by firmly believing in the Greatest Creator, cause and effect, and that you are walking on HIS way that you will be able to climb through your quagmire of despair.

In the past, people could be saved and delivered from torment by showing kindness, compassion, and love; but now, those three attributes can no longer save them, so the program to save nature has started, including those people who should be saved.

Let the dead take care of the dead as you look up to the pure land.
Do not stop your marching feet before you reach the pure land;
if you die, you must die on your way to the pure land.

44. Walking toward Xuefeng-style Communism

Deiform Buddha

January 21, 2022

Xuefeng has paved the way to paradise for humanity, from theory to practice; it is called Xuefeng-style Communism. Whether you are a president, a billionaire, a religious leader, a scholar, a professor, a worker, a farmer, a business person, or an entrepreneur, as long as you are a person, please march towards this goal.

From the dawn of recorded history, there has never been a better production and life mode than what we have created. No one from a common laborer or lay person to a saint, an immortal, a Buddha, a god, or even the prophetic “Sage of China Ziwei” will ever be able to create a better production and life mode than ours.

No matter how the American-dominated western countries strive to perfect their “democratic” social mechanisms or how hard China tries to improve its, neither will ever be able to achieve as highly civilized a production and life mode as we have; nor can the people of Latin America, Africa, or Oceania create a more ideal society than what we have accomplished.

To all the people who have great ideas:

Please stop seeking and discussing how to create a better future for human kind. Xuefeng has planned and arranged everything. No matter how intelligent you might be, you are like the mythical blind people touching the various parts of an elephant. All of your theories, no matter how superb and correct you feel they might be, are like balloons full of pinholes next to ours, so please stop wasting your time and energy, and put all your wisdom and talents into what we have developed and perfected.

To all the people who are suffering and struggling, Xuefeng-style communism is the best way out for you, your children, and your grandchildren. Walk towards Xuefeng-style Communism with a grateful heart and do not hesitate or look away; Deiform Buddha does not lie to you.

To give everyone this warning is to save you and guide you toward a heavenly life. If you comply and follow it, then you will be blessed, but if you do not, then not only will poverty, ignorance, trouble, pain, and fear haunt you forever, but so will death. Do you not believe this? Let the facts answer for you.

Whether people walk on the path to Xuefeng-style Communism or not, society's future production and life mode will be Xuefeng-style Communism, and there will never be a second version; so the earlier that you follow this path, the happier you will be; do not wait until it is too late.

45. Notice from the Arrogant, Proud, Bossy, and Autocratic Xuefeng

Deiform Buddha
September 21, 2020
(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

I have made a lot of friends on the web recently. To avoid consuming too much of each other's time and energy, I am hereby announcing the following:

I am Deiform Buddha. There are only two ways to react when you meet me: You can either follow me step by step, or if you think that you are wiser, you can follow the way that you think is right, and there will be no need to get acquainted with and make friends with me. I like dictatorships. You either surrender to me or follow your own path because I will never cooperate with or discuss nonsense with any of you. I believe that anyone who thinks that their cognitive abilities exceed those of Xuefeng and wants to direct him is ignorant.

For thousands of years, apart from Jesus Christ, Buddha Shakyamuni, celestial Laozi, and prophet Muhammad (PPUH), no one in this world's cognitive ability has surpassed mine - Deiform Buddha (Xuefeng). Many of today's masters are only worthy of carrying my shoes. People like Osho, Krishnamurti, and Neil Donal Walsh (author of "Dialogue with God") are probably worthy of serving my tea. I despise people who call themselves "Heavenly Masters" on the internet even if they offer to wipe my ass.

To my eyes, people are very different and I can see them as clearly as they see pigs; I can distinguish who is fat from who is thin at a glance. In recent years, many "enlightened masters and superiors" have come and gone like mushrooms after rainfalls. They "teach scriptures" everywhere. To tell you the truth, they are like farts in my nose. They are ignorant of time and space, know nothing about the essence of LIFE, are mysterious and spooky all day, deceive the public, fool the people, and kill for money. Due to their limited cranial capacity, they think that they are "masters of Taoism" because they bamboozled a few fools. Some have even posed in front of me. It was so shameless because they never understood the immensity of heaven and earth. Shameless as they are, they might as well have hit a blank wall.

Some want me to "accept everyone". Bullshit! I am not a trash can; why should I accept everyone? Some want me to "unite all those who can be united". Bullshit! I am not a politician, so why should I want to unite so many people; to seek power, usurp the throne and become president? Do you think that Xuefeng wants to become president? Do you think that a deer wants to be a "pig leader" to reign over a group of pigs in a pigpen?

Someone suggested that I learn from the spirit of the sea, asking, "How did the great rivers and seas become the Lords of the ravines - by being good at keeping low". Nonsense! I am the snow-covered peak who saw Mount Everest "Being good at keeping low"? What about "being good at keeping high"? Many people have never even stepped out of their country yet they ridicule foreigners' messages all day. They are like pigs in pigsties mocking lions and tigers outside; extremely foolish! Chinese people have generally received neither the knowledge of the Greatest Creator nor that of being human, but they are daring to educate and guide others brazenly. They are benighted, ignorant bastards who pretend to be saints worthy of teaching others, but they are nothing but thick skins.

People generally lack education and politeness, let alone other aspects. They add me on social media, but never "like" my posted contents. Are they educated and polite? Giving likes is not for the content, but just good etiquette to show respect for others and their good upbringing and self-cultivation. When they cannot even give likes, then they are lazier than pigs; what else can they do? Since they cannot give likes, why do they add me to their contacts? If they do not give likes but add many names to their contacts, then how are they different from thieves?

Why are those who post advertisements with small images everywhere so idle? Either they are bored or they have no brains, but they have to understand that when they share piles of rubbish, it is a deprivation of other people's time and energy, disrespect for others, and a rape of other people's consciousnesses, so I have quit most of these groups. Many groups do not even share central themes, but are just big garbage dumps.

For the laboring masses, for the hardworking and plain, honest people, there is only one bright way out, that is Xuefeng-style communism. All other roads are dead ends that lead to misery and abysses. Do not engage in those spiritual practices all day long, or those enlightenments, or in loving yourself, or upholding dharma, or being open to medians, or untying some made up "seal"! Those are all tricks of self-deception designed to deceive honest people. On the other hand, if you feel happy and like having fun, just follow your innermost driving force!

46. Xuefeng's Pride of Qualifications and Capital

Xuefeng

September 21, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

To be proud, one must have qualifications and capital, otherwise they are either neurotic or at least in some way, mentally ill. Xuefeng's pride of qualifications and capital are as follows.

1. I have analyzed the three elements that make up the universe and unified Buddhism with science organically for the first time. These three elements are the "universal unified field theory" that scientists have been seeking diligently to obtain. This is something that can never be achieved by human thinking and wisdom. It is okay if you do not understand the mystery, but do not make noise, because I would never expect a donkey to understand it, but braying is very annoying.
2. I have written nearly one-hundred and ten thousand characters to show people the birth process of the Greatest Creator, His characteristics, and His relationship to humankind which provides a basis for us to understand Him correctly. This is an unprecedented pioneering work.
3. I have analyzed the principles and essence of LIFE. This has never been done before and can never be done again. No one can surpass this analysis; if anyone thinks that they are better than me, just try to re-analyze it.
4. I have created a new mode of production and life that has never been seen before in history - Xuefeng-style communism - the mode of production and life for the future.
5. I have analyzed the nature of marriages and families; although many people have studied them throughout history, their analyses cannot be compared to mine.
6. I have interpreted the eight forces of the universe for the first time; scientists currently only recognize four of them.
7. I have divided people into five categories according to their characteristics for the first time: ignorant ones, lay people, mortals, sages, and Celestials. These classifications make sense. Whoever wants to surpass me is invited to give it a try.
8. I have described to people the eight levels of thinking based on the characteristics of LIFE for the first time, and have given detailed explanations.
9. I have, for the first time in human history, guided nearly eighty people to become Celestials, opening a path to Celestial life for future generations.
10. I have analyzed twenty parallel worlds and thirty-six dimensional spaces.

There are many more qualifications and capitals worthy of my pride, but I will not describe them one by one over here. The above ten are enough to make me proud and anyone who is not convinced is invited to post their abilities online.

I am really this proud, and in a few decades, humans will send me - Xuefeng - to the temple of God.

47. That which You Cling To will ### Become the Obstacle to Your Sublimation

September 24, 2020

(Translated by Kaer and Edited by Kaer)

If you walk unswervingly toward a great and bright goal, you will find that fewer and fewer people will remain with you. At first, there will be many people, but as you walk, they will thin out. Why does this happen? The reason is that they are blocked by stubbornness and become unable to continue.

As long as you stay where you are, people will remain with you, but once you make a breakthrough, some people will part ways with you. To move toward a great goal, it is necessary to constantly break through your original cycles, your original concepts and cognitions, and your original values, ethics, outlooks on life, LIFE, and world views. As you continue making breakthroughs, more people will part ways with you, so you will become more and more alone, and finally even those who quarreled with you and scolded you will have disappeared.

To change from one form to another, a person must break through their original self; their inherent cognition and thinking logic, which is like pupae metamorphosing into butterflies. Without breaking through their original cocoon of protection, no one can transform into a dancing butterfly. When a LIFE thinks that it is right, then its transformation stops and can no longer sublimate. If it is a pig now, then it will always remain one and will never have any hope of becoming a person.

Breakthroughs and transcendences are not only cognitive leaps, but also qualitative mutations. They are smelting rebirths; resurrections. They are processes of joy, also with pain, like thunderstorms and lightning which are unbearable to the vast majority of people because inertia always pulls people back to their original positions.

I have had classmates in all my levels of education as well as colleagues with whom I worked as playmates, friends, and lovers who now have almost all disappeared, not because they have died, but because we no longer share anything in common and have no desire to get together.

What interests them bores me and what interests me bores them, so we drifted apart and disappeared over each other's event horizons.

I have met many people online; at first, our friendships were as sweet as honey, but as we walked on, the tastes of our friendships changed from sweet to waxy; then their images became more and more vague until they gradually disappeared from the screen of my memory.

When people standing on the tops of mountains and people standing at the feet of mountains look at each other, they each feel that the others look very small. People who eat Manchu Han Imperial Banquets feel sorry for those who eat wild fruits in the forest, who in turn feel sad for those who eat Manchu Han Imperial Banquets. Different realms and different cognitive abilities create different feelings.

The boy of Wu Zhuang Guan (name of a Taoist temple) sent the Tang monk a first-class immortal Zhenyuan ginseng fruit (with the shape of a baby), but the Tang Monk not only refused to accept it, but also complained that the boy had tainted his compassion and Buddha heart by feeding him the baby. This scene was very ridiculous.

Sometimes, from a word, a post, a look in a person's eyes, or an expression, one can know what another person is thinking, what they want to do, and what the result will be; no matter how one pretends or how they whitewash their thoughts and feelings, they cannot hide the state of their mind or the level of their soul. Sometimes, to know and understand a person, you do not need to listen to what they say or see what they do, because you can know their inner world from only the content that they post; flies post shit, bees post honey.

Who are the poor people? Those who cannot read this article and those who do not give likes after reading it. The gate of heaven is always open for you; can you not find it; do you know why you cannot find it? Because the things that you cling to are obstructing your spiritual eyes, what you value, what you pursue, what you insist on, and what you maintain, just like high walls blocking your path, preventing you from getting out of the cave of the silken web.

Are you complacent about your achievements and greatness? Please note that when flies find fresh shit, they feel as good as you do.

48. The Relationship Between the Destruction of the Meteorite and Lifechanyuan

Xuefeng
October 6, 2020
(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

On February 15, 2013 at 9:23 AM, a meteorite with a diameter of about seventeen meters and a weight of about seven thousand tons fell towards Russia's Chelyabinsk Oblast at a speed of Mach fifty-four. At a distance of twenty-four kilometers above the ground, it was caught and violently smashed into and destroyed by a mysterious object at a speed exceeding that of the meteorite.

If this meteorite had not been destroyed, the consequences would have been serious. According to scientists' calculations, the impact of the meteorite's explosion on the earth would have been equivalent to thirty atomic bombs. Even more terrifying is that one hundred kilometers from the place where the meteorite fell are Russia's Mayak nuclear fuel plants. Once the meteorite had hit the ground directly, it would have instantly destroyed all of Asia and perhaps even the world.

Who made the mysterious object that crashed into the meteorite? Was it a missile made in Russia? No, the fastest missile in the world only has a speed of Mach twenty, while the meteorite flew at Mach fifty-four. No missile could have intersected that meteorite. So, who did it?

Was it the military? Are you kidding me? Humans do not have that technology yet. I clearly stated in the Chanyuan Corpus (before this meteorite was crushed!) that the earth is protected by Super Celestial beings. These powers who protect the earth are in underwater pyramids beneath the Bermuda Triangle. There is a huge space beneath those pyramids which are as big as a medium-sized city. They observe and protect the earth at all times and occasionally remotely control UFOs inside the moon to patrol the earth, and they keep abreast of the dynamics of the earth. Crop circles are information symbols that they record. The above-mentioned meteorite being crushed was done by the Super Celestial beings who protect the earth.

Do you still remember the strange car accident that happened to me? Do you remember the panic before 2012? I told you in early April 2009 that due to leaks, the catastrophe that people expected to occur in December 2012 would NOT occur, but instead would occur in reciprocating, circular, and increasingly serious ways until the great purification comes. Have the changes that have taken place on the earth in the past eleven years not completely met my prediction?

Do you know of Boriska, the Russian Martian? As soon as Lifechanyuan emerged, he came out within a week to support us, which prompted Xianhe Celestial to write "The Prologue to Lifechanyuan". Soon after that, Boriska informed everyone that the great spiritual guide of mankind had been born in Northwestern China. Do you not think that was too coincidental? Does anyone not think that this is a deliberate arrangement?

Who else does not believe in Lifechanyuan? Many mysteries I cannot say, nor am I allowed to say, but I can tell you that the future era will be the era of Lifechanyuan, and that the future human production and life mode will be the New Oasis for LIFE mode created by Lifechanyuan. The dark forces have tried their best to obstruct this and they wanted to destroy it, but I can tell everyone that this cannot be done, and in the following twenty to thirty years, mankind will surely send Xuefeng to the altar.

By the way, I want to warn all who engage in mysterious, spooky, furtive, and sneaky affairs, that the universe knows what you are doing. In the future everything will be done in the open. Stop it now or you will regret it later.

Everyone, hurry and infuse Lifechanyuan's values into your minds, make haste to understand the New Oasis for LIFE mode, hurry up to purify your hearts, and you may have a glimmer of LIFE.

49. The Day of Reckoning Will Come

Writings on the Eve of the Cataclysm

Xuefeng

November 27, 2020

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

The sum of positive and negative energy in the universe is always zero. What you get and what you pay must be calculated. If you get more but pay less, then it is time to pay some back. If you cannot pay it back, then your LIFE will be taken from you and you will have to pay with it. Do not have a flukey mind; no one can run away. Wearing a mask is useless, wearing armor is useless, and hiding below the ground is useless. Where there is air, there is balance, and where the sun shines, there are courts.

Do not look everywhere for a savior; no savior can protect you. Only you can save yourself. Pick up a calculator to figure your own income and expenditure account and see if you are receiving more or paying more. If you are receiving more, then you need to spit it out; if you are paying more, do not worry, for your reward will come. The calculation is easy, nature knows what you have gained from it and what you have done for it and will forget neither. What you have gained from human society and what you have done for human society is clearly recorded in the detention information space. Your subconscious is clear of what you have gained from others and what you have done for others.

Maybe no one else knows what you have done, but heaven, earth, God, and you all know it. Heaven has eyes, earth has eyes, and there are eyes throughout the universe. Nothing is concealable, including what you reflect and think in your heart. Remember! You cannot even hide what you think.

If you say more and do less, even if what you say is true, you are just making a living with the truth. If more people are making a living with the truth, then ordinary people's lives will be even more difficult. The lives of ordinary people become more difficult, and those who talk a lot should take responsibility.

Once a person opens their mouth, you will know what they are thinking about and what they are planning, and even if they speak nicely or even beautifully, their true intentions will not be concealed. People can say very beautiful things and they can say a lot of things that reveal the truth, but if they cannot do them, then they are deceiving the world, stealing glory, and lying. There are two reasons for the occurrences of cataclysms. The first is that the plot of the program written into the story says that it is time to settle the accounts and the second is the hope of the people. Those who suffer have long been looking forward to the occurrence and arrival of the cataclysm because only it can get them out of their predicaments.

Three factors can alleviate this cataclysm:

1. Elderly people must be allowed to spend their old age happily?
2. Nature must be restored to its original purity and the weather will be made favorable?
3. Honest people should live and work in peace and contentment without being bullied and oppressed?

You should rack your brains hard and forget about everything else.

Because the "Ziwei Saint", the "Second Coming of Jesus ", "Maitreya Buddha descending into the world", and the "Appearance of the Saint" will do the three things above, first. If you concentrate hard, then the frequency of your consciousness will be the same as the above individuals, and you will be saved.

50. The Source of the Suffering of the Poor and the Way to their Liberation

Xuefeng

February 5, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

I am a poor man, so I know the source of poor people's suffering. Let us not talk about individual people's specific internal factors, but only their external factors. There are three main external factors that cause them to suffer. The first is harsh governance, the second is natural disasters including diseases, and the third is mutual tormenting among the poor. Among the three factors above, mutual torturing among the poor is the main one, or it can be said that at least three quarters of their suffering comes from their mutual tormenting of each other.

Who are the poor? Farmers, workers, peddlers, wage earners, migrant workers, public service personnel, cleaners, urban management officers, security guards, police officers, soldiers, teachers, and civil servants all fit the bill; it can also be said that except for very wealthy officials and intelligentsia from all walks of life along with scholars and celebrities, most others qualify.

Mutual bullying of the poor is common throughout Chinese society. The poorer they are, the harder they bully each other, and the closer they are to the bottom of the social totem pole, the more cruelly they bully each other. Here are eight examples:

1. Urban management officers bullying peddlers
2. Police, even traffic police, setting obstacles
3. Security guards beating others
4. Thieves stealing the property of the poor
5. Civil servants are jealous of and suppress each other
6. Teachers lecturing and threatening their students' parents
7. Civil servants making things difficult for others
8. Soldiers killing other conscripted soldiers

Between relatives and friends, classmates and colleagues, neighbors, villages, locals and outsiders, the mutual torturing and bullying of these poor people are even more untold.

The poor should pity and support each other as fellow sufferers, but the fact is that the poor are even crueler when they bully each other and as long as their income and social status is just a little bit higher and they have just a little bit more power than others, they will be cruel and merciless to those who are lower than them. They have no compassion at all and even less pity; for example, urban management officers who were originally weak and poor but then got a little bit of power bully peddlers mercilessly and even knock the elderly to the ground.

How can this be? If the poor did not bully and torment each other, then no matter how severe the natural disasters and harsh governments became, they would not be able to make the poor feel desperate. If the poor did not bully the poor, then the world would become a paradise.

How do we stop the poor from bullying the poor? Preaching is not very effective; our ancestors preached that people must understand benevolence, justice, etiquette, wisdom, and trust, and they must care for each other, and live harmoniously. Various religions teach people to self-discipline, fulfill their rites, be loving and conscientious, and not hurt each other, but what actually happens? For thousands of years, bullying between the poor and the poor has never ceased or even decreased, and endless incidents of the poor bullying the poor every day abound, so what is the problem?

The problem lies in private ownership and in marriages and families. Everyone understands the truth, but the reality is that persecution is more severe than the truth. In the face of money and vital interests, moral preaching loses out overwhelmingly; most choose interests over morals and conscience, and therefore it is only by dispelling people's anxieties and fears about food, clothing, shelter, birth, old age, safety, sickness, and death, that bullying among the poor can be turned around.

It would be absolutely impossible for any single teenager or young adult to not long for intimacy with someone of the opposite sex. The best cure for their lovesickness would be to provide them with accessibility. If you prevent them from connecting with someone for the affection that they require, but instead instill moral consciences into them and teach them about Buddhism and saints, it would be like seeking fish from trees.

So, how do we eradicate the phenomenon of the poor bullying each other? Let them all enter into a communist society; there, this phenomenon would disappear. When people think of communism, they do so instinctively as either an impossible, utopian fantasy, or they denounce it as an evil spirit aligned with the devil. Today, few people on a global scale believe in communism because of all the slandering against it; even very few of the so-called Communists who swear to fight for it actually believe in it; they consider it to be just a slogan, a pretext, or an unrealistic ideal. They take an oath, but they have no intention in their own hearts of fighting for it.

In China, suppressing our Communist community, the New Oasis for LIFE created by Lifechanyuan, is the most obvious example. Is it not ironic that the Communist Party suppresses our Communist community? True Communism is not an unattainable ideal because it was realized in China long ago and has been in operation for eleven years. It is the New Oasis for LIFE, where everyone is poor, but the phenomenon of poor people bullying other poor people has disappeared because they are also wealthy beyond their dreams, and the more honest, sincere, and diligent the people are, the more they are respected and cared for, because everyone's food, clothing, shelter, transportation, birth, old age, sickness, and death concerns have been eliminated. So, why should anyone bully anyone else? They do not!

In the New Oasis for LIFE, boys grow into responsible, masculine, and modest gentlemen, and girls develop into caring and tender gentlewomen. Children grow up happily and the elderly enjoy their twilight years. It is thoroughly beautiful. My conclusion is that if the poor want to end their suffering and the tragedy of the poor bullying each other, then there is only one way to go, and that is to join our pure, communist society.

51. The Way of the Poor

Xuefeng

February 6, 2021

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

I grew up in a poor family, so I am deeply aware of the sadness and helplessness of the poor. Now, I am over sixty years old and have gone through vicissitudes and hardships, so I have gathered some background perception and I am speaking out for the poor to think about them and as a reference.

Let me first define what being poor is. Anyone who is accompanied by troubles, pain, anxiety, sorrow, or fear is poor. They can also be defined thusly: anyone who suffers for food, clothing, shelter, transportation, birth, old age, sickness, death, or security without enjoying a happy, joyous, free, and blessed life is poor. It can also be said that anyone who is not free in body and mind is poor. Because I have walked out of the quagmire of poverty and am no longer a poor person, my knowledge may be of reference value to you.

There are only four words that you must learn in order to escape from poverty: they are theory, skills, simplicity, and diligence.

1. Learning theory means to learn theoretical knowledge, truth, human science, natural science, and logical thinking.
2. Learning skills means learning survival techniques. It will not work if you know nothing; you should have at least one technique which you can rely on to support your family and yourself.
3. Learning simplicity means being down-to-earth, not showing off, not being extravagant, not pretending to be wealthy, not pursuing goals that your energy and ability cannot reach to satisfy your vanity, not being overly ambitious, not trying to be outstanding, not wanting to be the best among people, not misbehaving, and not wanting to get rich overnight, let alone making a blockbuster killing.

4. Learning diligence means to keep learning, keep doing things, not sleeping late, not "hanging out", not playing games online, not coveting for ease, not swiping your screen all day while playing on your mobile phones, and not obsessing over TV dramas.

The poor must guard against these following eight traps:

1. Anything that allows you to get rich quickly or get something for nothing
2. Anything called for by officials, the wealthy, or celebrities
3. Anything that charges you money to teach you to become a Buddha, a Celestial being, or a saint
4. Anything that allows you to take advantage of others
5. Anything that is mysterious or spooky
6. Anything that is sneaky or furtive
7. Any teaching of gong or magical arts other than productive skills
8. Ninety-nine percent of those who preach to you in the name of the Greatest Creator, God, Buddha, Celestial Beings, and saints

There are nine more insights for you to think about:

1. From Buddhism, read only the "Diamond Sutra"; do not learn from, listen to, or read anything else.
2. From Christendom, read only the four major gospels; do not learn from, listen to, or read any of the others.
3. From Taoism, read only the "Tao Te Ching"; do not learn from, listen to, or read anything else.
4. From traditional knowledge, learn from the Familial Precepts of Master Zhu and Zengguang Xianwen and read Hong Yingming's Caigentan; for other Confucian schools, such as Disciple Rules, and so on, do not learn from, listen to, or read them, because the more that you do, the more trapped you will become in their circle of poverty.
5. Rather than listening to people's moral preachings, it is better to read respected scientific articles quietly.
6. Rather than listening to intellectual snobs talking, it is better to study what they have done and what they are doing.
7. Do not place your hopes on any savior: the second coming Jesus, the Chakravartin King, Maitreya Buddha, or the coming of the Ziwei Saint; do not risk your good life on the appearance of any seemingly wise moral leader. Your happiness and future depend upon yourself.
8. Do not expect anyone else to save you; it is good if others do not cheat you, but only your good character and good deeds can save you.
9. Do not look for ways to solve new, current problems from traditions. Those who have played chess or mahjong know that every game is different and that there are no fixed rules; the results of reviving traditional cultures can only lead to rigid thinking.

There are eight more considerations for reference.

1. Never indulge in recreational drugs.
2. Never participate in gambling.
3. Never invest in stocks or participate in so-called financial investments.
4. Never despise your parents, children, husband or wife, or brothers and sisters.
5. Never participate in fighting gangs.
6. Never join any organizations.
7. "Neither a borrower nor a lender be" ...William Shakespeare.
8. Do not hurt others or violate the laws of your country.

The above are just a little bit of my understanding and experiences after I, an ordinary poor person, have risen from poverty to freedom. They are very simple and only serve as lessons and references. You need not argue with me; if you believe what I said, then refer to it; if you do not, then do what you think is right. I have an even higher path for any poor people who believe that what I have written above makes sense.

52. The Spirit of Chanyuan Celestials

Deiform Buddha (Xuefeng)

January 6, 2007

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

We are the grass of the earth and our roots grow deep into the fertile soil. The sun shines to us, the rain and dew moisten us, and the Greatest Creator blesses us continuously, therefore, we have endless power.

We are not lonely anymore because we have found the homeland for our spirits and souls, we have many bosom friends in our home, and whenever we encounter hard or challenging conditions, only we can break down the barriers and win rich and colorful lives.

We can create and build oases in the desert and shining lighthouses in the darkness. No matter how heavy the wind and sandstorms blow, nor how strong the burning heat and frigid cold might hit us, we remain upright and indomitable and we stand confidently and proudly between heaven and earth with smiles on our faces.

What we do today is all the arrangement of the Greatest Creator, it is the mission bestowed upon us by the Greatest Creator, we are the Greatest Creator's favored citizens, it is our glory to serve the Greatest Creator, and nothing can block us from continuing to strive toward and move forward with full speed and courage.

Today, the heavy burden of creating a new life mode for the new era is undertaken by us, we are the hope of human beings, and it is mainly we who are the guarantors for leading human beings into this healthy, rich, free, and blessed era.

It does not matter which country, nationality, political party, or which religion, organization, and belief system people come from, people must adjust their values on the world, life, and value according to Lifechanyuan values. This is the requirement of the age and the wishes of all kind, diligent, honest, and trustworthy people. It is also the ideal pursued by all sages and saints for generations, and the objective law which cannot be changed by any individual's will.

Our lives are the greatest lives because they have abandoned vulgar interests. In our hearts, we have shining lights and a big love, such lights and love can resolve all contradictions and unhappiness in the human world and lead us all into a lovely, beautiful spring garden.

We are ready to fight at any time. Our weapons are not swords, guns, or missiles, but a big love for nature, people, life, and LIFE. Love is the weapon in our fight, we will smash any shackles and chains with the power of love, and we will break through the darkness that has existed for thousands of years with the light of love and knock down all firm, old castles with the power of love.

When we are faced with extremely harsh conditions, that lone figure fighting on could only be a Chanyuan Celestial of Lifechanyuan. When wind and sandstorms blow fiercely, evil raises its head, and people are scared and trembling in the dark, that one person walking bravely and firmly with strength and courage could only be a Chanyuan Celestial of Lifechanyuan. When danger and death come and people are pessimistic, desperate, and have lost their way, if one person is calm and peaceful without changing his face, still singing and dancing happily, then he could only be a Chanyuan Celestial of Lifechanyuan.

No false or evil power can beat us and no fear of danger can frighten us because we are no longer bodies, but spirits, expansive spirits that go beyond time and space, invincible spirits that can be neither beaten nor smashed.

We have boundless and inexhaustible soul power because we are with the Greatest Creator, we are with the earth, we are with sincerity, kindness, beauty, love, faith, honesty, and diligence, we are with light, and we are with all people who love peace and justice in the world. Our souls are as strong as rocks and we are angels of the new era.

Of this, we are very confident! It is a confidence coming neither from ignorance and blind arrogance, nor from unrealistic illusions, nor even from naive fairy tales and fables. Our confidence comes from the source energy of the universe, the rich life experience, our full awareness of Tao, and the realistic valuable judgment to life and LIFE. Moreover, it is coming from the passionate hope for life and our big and deep love of LIFE.

We will no longer fight for personal gains, nor for the benefits of families, groups, or nations. We will not fight for political parties or religious organizations ever again because such fights would be too tiny, narrow, craven, and shortsighted. We will fight for the blessings of all human beings and strive for turning the earth into a fairyland for all life beings.

We are overwhelmed with good psychological qualities and we have endless power in our hearts because we are one with “Nature, Love, and Tao”. We are kind, as flexible and ever-changing as water yet as firm as steel. We “have no shadows when hiding”, and are “like young dragons when emerging”, as ordinary as the grasses growing along the road yet as extraordinary as mountains standing tall and upright into the sky.

If heaven did not send forth Jesus and Buddha, then all the times of the human world would remain clouded in darkness, and if mankind did not have Chanyuan Celestials, then wonderful lives would remain impossible to find even after searching for thousands of years. We will awaken all sleeping souls and let them enjoy bright and splendid futures, break the unbroken darkness with our wisdom, and use our talents to pave a rainbow that all might have access to a happy land. We will warm every frozen soul with our love, expand the lands of oases with the enormous power of our spirit and soul, and we will create a fragrant, joyful, and happy fairyland with songs, flowers, smiles, and warm affections in this human world.

53. Eight Footstones for a Successful Life

Xue Feng

August 22, 2005

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

1. Believe in the Greatest Creator Firmly

The Greatest Creator is the source of LIFE and wisdom, and this fundamental guarantee leads to higher LIFE spaces. Life that departs from the Greatest Creator is devilish life and is destined to be ruined.

2. Follow the way of Tao

Tao is truth, the source of spirit and soul, and the bridge or channel of attaining eternal life. It is also a sufficient and necessary condition for sublimating LIFE quality. A life without following Tao is an illusion, as transitory as a night-blooming flower.

3. Respect your National Leaders

The president, king, or chairman of a country, is the leader of a societal group, and a society without a leader is a disordered society which will surely be unstable. Respect for the president or king is a necessary quality of every citizen. Desecration of or resistance to the president or king often results in a loss of the basic quality of being a citizen, such people will surely lead stormy and turbulent lives.

4. Be Filial and Respect your Parents

Heaven has the Tao of heaven, hell has the Tao of hell, and the same holds true for people. Being filial and respectful to one's parents is one of the main principles we should follow as human beings. Our parents are the roots of LIFE's bodies on earth, and if we are not filial and do not respect our parents, then we will be destroying the roots of our lives, and such lives without roots will lead people to become lost and lonely souls.

5. Be Trustworthy and Have Integrity

We cannot be trusted without integrity, and once we lose our integrity, we will slip downward into the lower LIFE spaces of demons, devils, ghosts, and monsters, and join the camp of devils. Although wearing the "skin" of a person, such a LIFE does not belong to a human being any more.

6. Be Diligent and Motivated

Laziness leads to ignorance and poverty, being gluttonous, lazy, and wandering around all day without purpose, and these are the wastrel's lifestyle. "An inch of time is an inch of gold, but even an inch of gold cannot buy back an inch of time", life should not be wasted at any moment, but should cherish time and seek happiness in struggles. Those who are studious and motivated have bright splendid futures, but those who are shiftless, negative, and pessimistic can only have tragic lives.

7. Be Courageous

Do not make trouble but do not fear trouble either, dare to face reality and let yourself go, be good at winning but dare to be defeated, be able to come back after being destroyed utterly, be able to hold the sword, fight on a running horse, and rush toward difficulties, always remain calm before danger, and be fearless and dauntless in the face of death.

8. Love Collective Life

In nature there are unexpected storms, and in life, unpredictable vicissitudes. How much energy can single individuals have? Can they face heavy crises and changeable situations alone? Even if they achieve great success by themselves and own enormous amounts of wealth, if they have no trustable friends and close partners with whom to share their happiness and pains, what is the value of it?

Everyone shows their own magical powers and crosses the seas together, like the eight immortals flying across the sea (from a famous Chinese fairytale). Everyone appreciates and takes care of each other, like a transformer cannot only fight well separately but also cooperate well with other partners, and becomes an invincible fighter when combined into one.

Life without love for collective life is a sad life and suffers much loneliness.

Above are the eight footstones of a successful life, and none of them can be excluded.

54. Persistent Motivation Comes from the Longing and Pursuit of a Wonderful Life

Xue Feng

November 28, 2012

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

What promotes everyone to live day by day?

It is the Tathagata (nature) which has been the designed program ever since LIFE was originally created during the beginning of creation. For each LIFE, whether they like it or not, must run around in circles to survive for several decades after being born, and this is not controllable by anyone. As people, we must run around solving the problems of eating, clothing, shelter, transportation, birth, aging, sickness, and death, although these are reluctant choices which lead to tragic lives.

These are reluctant and tragic lives within the realms of necessity. If people cannot escape from the bondages of the realms of necessity, then no matter how they may live, trouble, pain, worry, anxiety, and fear will follow them forever. Life will rise and fall, set in sorrow and joy, and bloom and fade like flowers, until one reincarnation of LIFE is finished and a new one begins anew.

Coming back to the original point, after several years, many decades, or even centuries, these are the reincarnations of the realm of necessity. If we do not escape from the bondage of the realm of necessity and enter into the realm of freedom, then whatever we do and however glorious a state we can reach, everything is as futile and transitory as passing clouds. Nothing is worthy of being pursued or owned.

Although the road leading forward is tortuous, it is only by targeting an eternal direction and goal and by walking firmly towards it, that we can ever hope to walk out of the realm of necessity, out of the rises and falls, and out of the reincarnations of life, that we might taste and enjoy the scenery and joys along the road.

Everything we pursue and own in the human world will eventually melt into emptiness or burst like bubbles. They are absolutely illusions and dreams. If everything in the human world eventually disappears, then what is worthy of being pursued? What is worthy of being owned? What is worthy of being strived for by consuming the energy of LIFE?

Either swim with the tide and do not care about truth or falsehood, sincerity or deception, beauty or ugliness, kindness or cruelty, good or evil, or what is yours or mine, because everything will disappear into silence when one eventually disappears from the world; or move forward, firmly toward the realm of freedom which exceeds this human world, and exceeds space and time.

Where is the realm of freedom? Where is the way leading to the realm of freedom?

The human world is not the realm of freedom because our bodies push us to run for survival. The realm of freedom is heaven, and the ultimate realm of freedom is the Celestial Islands Continent of the Elysium World.

The road leading to the realm of freedom is the longing and pursuit of a wonderful life, and this is the source of persistent motivation.

What are wonderful lives?

They are states of no death, no pain and sorrow, no worry and fear, no trouble and misfortune, and no fighting and deprivation, but there is always joy, happiness, sunny life like beautiful springs, eternally green mountains and clear rivers, and one has the freedom to do whatever they want to do forever. What is fortunate is that we have found the way that directs us forward to the realm of freedom in which a broad, beautiful world is already waiting for us. The question is how can we reach it? Can we keep going? Did we delay too much on the road, feel powerless like sighing before the sea, and get pulled back into the realm of necessity because of sluggishness?

So many people have fallen down because they lost, do you still have the motivation to move ahead?

As long as you strive for and pursue the good life continuously, you will have persistent motivation, and can overcome all difficulties and finally reach the destination. But if your pursuit and longing are reduced or stopped, then you will stay in the same place and miss your opportunity to enjoy a truly beautiful life.

55. Life Should be Spent Like This

Xuefeng

January 05, 2007

(Translated by Conglong)

Life is a short journey of LIFE, a process of LIFE, not the ultimate goal.

No matter our life is difficult or easy, life itself is beautiful, and the time of short decades can't be purchased at any price, when it is lost, we can never get it back.

We must pursue a rich and colourful life, and be brave enough to experience different situations. Don't be afraid of setbacks, failures, risks, and adversities. Don't be afraid of losing something. We had nothing when we came to the earth, and cannot take even a piece of leaf when we leave; everything of life is just an experience. It doesn't matter if we are winning or failing. I want to say again here: Life is like a dream, all space-directions are void; we should have full experiences and live our life to the most so that we won't have regrets when we leave the earth.

We must be rebellious, otherwise, we are not able to get out of the bondage of other people's thinking power; we must have courage to walk the way nobody has walked before. Breaking new paths in jungles or wildness may make us black and blue, and we may wander at times, however, only by living this way, our life is the most valuable.

We must be positive and optimistic, as long as we are still alive and haven't left the world, we cannot be depressed and give up our hopes, even in the last minute; we should still climb towards the highest peak of life and LIFE. We should despise the behaviour which is coward, lazy, and pessimistic, and despise the negative lifestyle that nothing is accomplished.

We must go towards the brightness, and shouldn't compromise to the darkness. We must bring our wisdom and talents into full play and leave no regrets.

The greatest life is the life that serves the whole humanity, the life that brings people brightness, hope and happiness. Only by holding this value and attitude, we can be inspired to have great wisdom, and have endless energy and great abilities; we are then able to distinguish between the right and wrong, and have a clear mind. We are able to go forward without the fear of any hardship or difficulties.

We must find the like-minded, and people who have the same vibration frequencies; we must avoid loneliness, a journey having companies is much better than travelling alone, happiness of oneself is not real happiness, group happiness is real happiness.

We must have good teachers and friends, the more beautiful our soul, more good teachers and friends we will have, if we are lonely without the company of good people, our life is definitely miserable, boring and dull, and it will become a lament.

We must be as pure as jade, we must be innocent, open and above-board. When we hate someone, we make it open, when we love someone, we express it clearly. We walk our talk and show the same inside and outside. We never go in for intrigues and conspiracy, never be furtive, we must be honest to ourselves and others, and are not afraid of "ghosts knock the door at midnight".

We never do anything furtively; all dirty things are leading us to the hell. They sell our LIVES to the monster, and we will not be able to clear it in our lifetime. Therefore, it will be difficult for our LIVES to be saved, and we are not able to stand straight and have a clear mind, and we will end up achieving nothing.

We know that the universe is made of three elements "consciousness, structure and energy", which has offered us limitless future, our life is limit, but our LIFE is unlimited, as long as we have perfect consciousness, we will have perfect LIFE structure, as long as we have perfect LIFE structure, we will attract the corresponding energy, that way, we will be able to extend our LIFE to the unlimited time and space.

We also know that the key points of cultivation are "nature, love and Tao". "Nature", when we follow our nature of origin, we are Buddha; "love", when we love others same as we love ourselves, we are god; “Tao”, when we walk following Tao, we are celestial.

Mysteries are endless, our future is so promising; life is so beautiful. As long as we are still alive, we have hope; as long as we work hard, we have brilliant future, as long as we give up our own interest, as long as we look forward and don't lose direction when we face gain and loss, we are able to experience the most wonderful feeling and we are able to stride across rivers, climb over mountains to reach the ideal shore.

Creating Lifechanyuan era for humanity is our highest ideal. To extend our LIFE from the earth to “Thousand-year world”, “Ten-thousand-year world” and “Elysium world” is our unremitting pursuit; this is the most important thing of our life.

Whatever consciousness we have, we have corresponding LIFE existence style and space; this is a truth with no doubt. All people who have spiritual sense, let us be shone under the light of “Revere the Greatest Creator, Revere nature and Revere LIFE; walk on the way of the Greatest Creator”, devote our limited life time to unlimited creation, let us raise awareness, shift thinking, perfect consciousness, and perfect LIFE structure, to create a brand-new life and enjoy the endless happiness of life and LIFE.

Overcome all worldly thoughts and enter sainthood, “Foster righteousness by learning from nature”, “Emulate the sages and saints in human history”, our beautiful ideal will definitely be realized, let's plan our life with a span of one hundred thousand year, when we look back, we will say, “Ah, my life has no regrets at all”.

56. Approach to the Best

Xuefeng

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Stay in the company of the righteous and you shall become righteous, but keep in the company of wolves and you will learn to howl. Hang out in an orchid and yours will be the aroma of flowers, but stay in a store of abalone and you will exude a putrid odor. With saints, you will get a clear and bright mind, but with thieves, you will become one. It is hard to avoid getting your shoes wet when you walk along a river bank and it is easy to get stabbed when you wander through thorn bushes. Consume flower nectar and distribute delicate fragrances, but dine on onions and garlic, and you will stink. Therefore, approach excellence and you will approach perfection for a while, but be with degradation and you will degrade.

Neighbors need to be chosen when you move and friends should be selected from society. On the mountain you will learn the twitter of birds and from bodies of water you will understand the freely swimming fish. Pray to the Buddha and you will gain the Buddha's nature, pursue the Celestial being and your dream may be realized. Enjoy delight with an optimist or suffer pain with a pessimist. Associate with composers and you will understand melody or be with poets and learn to chant. The bel-esprits often reside on green mountains with sparkling water while rogues live on barren hills with muddy sludge. Minds remain clear and at peace with the words of saints and sages, but become unsettled and uneasy with a gangster's words. To enjoy a grander sight by climbing to a greater height. To reach the fairyland by approaching the best.

You have to be cautious in the mortal world because even slight laziness may lead you to fall. Objects must remain segregated or the bad ones will mix together with the good ones. Of restaurants with the same type of food and within the same price range, always choose the one with more customers.

Associate with people who are successful, optimistic, open-minded, and of good character, drink with soul mates but chant with close friends, and do business with knowledgeable specialists but make love with an amorous lover. Life will have no regrets if you always choose wisely. The Greatest Creator is always the best.

Therefore, approach the Greatest Creator to the end of life.

57. The Crisis of Being Eliminated Lurks in Passivity

Xue Feng

August 15, 2011

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Passivity means dullness, loneliness, and depression, and it manifests itself as a lack of vitality of LIFE. Only initiative can expand the one's LIFE into full bloom and play fully to the most incisive. Passivity is not responsible for life; it is the repression of LIFE! It is only with initiative that the brilliance and wonder of the boundless world can be appreciated in life, and LIFE can be fully vigorous.

With such a short lifetime, the brilliance of youth flees within the blink of an eye; the precious time is gone as a torrent in a river. If the elegance of LIFE cannot be revealed in a timely way, then as times passes and situations change, only pity will remain like dust and ashes deposited in the riverbed of LIFE, and all the regrets will devolve into poisonous weeds and thorns growing in the garden of one's soul.

Passivity is dark; initiative is bright. Passive lives can only be accompanied with negativity and pessimism, while initiating lives will associate with positivity and optimism. Passive lives are at the mercy of fate and cannot escape samsara in the endless suffering, while initiating lives can turn hostility into friendship and overcome all difficulties on the road that advances to the optimal prospects and to finally ride on the fate of the trajectory to reach the realm of freedom.

Money in the bank ends up being devalued, one's wisdom and talent that cannot be played on time will ultimately meet their fate of having no value. Fresh flowers bloom for brief moments, fruit trees bear fruit which eventually spoil, insects have very little time to breed and calve, and hens need to lay their eggs exactly when they are ready, or they all risk being eliminated.

A nation should actively introduce and promote its cultural characteristics to all of mankind. If they stay in a corner, remain conservative, and preserve their outworn systems, they will inevitably perish. A talented person should hunt actively for, or create good opportunities in which to give full play to their talents in due time. Until that time has changed and situations have shifted, the opportunity to show their intelligence and wisdom might be lost forever. As vegetation in nature does not sprout in spring, they will have less chance to stretch their green leaves, bloom, and fructify.

Be active, make your own wishes and ideals known by as many people as possible, "The mind of a real gentleman is as clear as the blue sky; as bright as the shining sun which shall be known to others". Create opportunities to give full play to your talents, to make your presence bring maximum benefits to mankind, and to benefit society and nature. Even when falling in love with someone, you must confess to your beloved one actively and never wait passively because waiting will destroy the best opportunities and leave only eternal regret.

It does not matter whether flowers grow in the moor or on the cliffs, and regardless of whether they grow in the imperial garden or in the thorn grass, they will duly bloom their beauty. We should be like flowers regardless of where we are; at home, with friends, while working, in a dance hall, or on a journey, we should actively show our qualities of sincerity, kindness, virtue, love, faith, and honesty, and fully play as incisively as we can.

Never wait for tomorrow, just bloom in the present! Say what needs to be said and do what needs to be done...now! Without blooming today, today will be wasted, every day will be wasted, all of life will be wasted. Tomorrow's rising sun is not yesterday's setting sun and tomorrow's self is not yesterday's self. Fulfill yourself every day, fulfill your whole life, and advance every step with brilliance and splendor. Then, you will shine along the ten-thousand-mile road.

Everything created by the Greatest Creator has its own value and function and everything will prolong life and please the Greatest Creator only by revealing its full value and function. A fruit tree that fails to produce fruit will be chopped down and a hen that lays no eggs will be killed to be eaten. People exist with value and meaning and it is only by fully revealing this value and meaning of their existence that they can be useful individuals and have the opportunity to ascend. If one has neither value nor function, then they must be banished down to the dump of LIFE – hell!

Chronically passive individuals have no chance to ascend up to heaven and those who always hesitate, wait in depression like incombustible wood waiting to decay. The crisis of being eliminated lurks in passivity. Pessimism and despair belong to the passive, optimism and hope belong to the active. Regardless of what situation you face, even in your times of greatest trouble, you still need to have initiative, for it is only in this way that you will have any hope to conquer your difficulties, overcome all resistance, and create an absolutely new world with dense willows and bright flowers.

By a river, Confucius once said: “The passage of time is like the flow of water”. “A thousand sails pass by the shipwreck and ten thousand saplings thrive beyond the withered tree.” Be active to make yourself a member of the thousand sails or the ten thousand saplings. Taking the way with golden times along, let your life be full of vigor and of energy, and full of the symphony of LIFE and its gorgeous colors till you reach the highest realm of LIFE – The Celestial Islands Continent of the Elysium.

58. Life's Most Critical Step

Xuefeng

August 24, 2005

(Translated by Transn and Edited by Kaer)

What kind of person would you like to become? This is the most critical question in Life. A mistake here could reduce your whole Life to a tragedy.

Everyone's reality is the result of the consciousness of their past. Buddha's consciousness will attain Buddhahood. Saints' consciousnesses will become saints. Dogs' consciousnesses will become dogs. Likewise, whether you will become a Celestial being, a sage, a mortal, or a laity all depends on your own consciousness.

Life is short and not easy to come by. Foxes, white snakes, and other animals need to cultivate their LIVES for millennia to attain human status. If we do not fully grasp Life, it will be too late for us to regret it.

Consider four classmates: Peter, Alex, Jack, and John are the same age and attend the same classes at the same school. Peter wants to become the president, Alex wants to become an artist, Jack a peasant, and John a robber. At the present, there are no obvious differences between them, but in the long run, the distance will grow immensely. Jack can never become the president and John can never be an artist.

Ninety percent (90%) of people live haphazardly. Only a handful are sensible enough to master Tao. Many great figures started to plan their Lives and begin their own unique struggles when they were very young.

In terms of realizing Life's value, the greatest ideal leads to the easiest potential to be developed and the greatest contribution to society and mankind. The lives of those who live only for themselves by consuming resources and bringing pain to others do not have much value. If they live only for their families, to glorify their ancestors, and to rush around for their children, they will not benefit their society very much. If they serve only their nation, state, religion, political party, or class, they cannot be beneficial to the whole of mankind by creating contradictions, chaos, hatred, and wars with non-members. However, those who seek to benefit all of mankind stand too high for average people to reach. Their love benefits everyone. Jesus and Sakyamuni were great in this way.

Consider this question:

Has anyone in the history of mankind ever been as wise or as great as Jesus or Sakyamuni?

We must learn from Jesus and Sakyamuni, become their disciples from deep within our hearts, and keep our thoughts resonant with theirs. On the basis of this resonance, we draw ourselves closer to the Greatest Creator; the ancestor of Buddha Tathagata.

The accumulated and combined wisdom of mankind would not surpass the integrated wisdom of Jesus and Sakyamuni. Therefore, those who have given up their teachings, be it an individual, a religious organization, a psychic, or someone who has acquired special magical power and arts, and no matter how many believers they have or how prestigious they might be, have taken on the heterodoxy, the small way, not the Great Way.

What kind of person would you like to become? You must consider this question and answer it or your life will be unclear, confused, muddled, and ultimately in vain.

Why do people have no faith? Because they do not know what kind of people they want to become.

Why do people suffer? The answer is the same.

Once you have set your goals, information that is relevant to them will flood in. You can make full use of the following information: “The benevolent see benevolence and the wise see wisdom”? Su Xiaomei recognized this when she educated her unwise and confused brother.

Capitalists see money everywhere and stay on top of market conditions; artists live in a world of colors, lines, and structures; sports fans are keen to find information about their favorite teams and players in newspapers, magazines, on TV, and across the internet; pop culture fans know each and every move of their idols; johns looking for hookers have very different looks in their eyes than saintly priests; Mages think quite differently from pastors; and beggars never think like millionaires.

“Seek and ye shall find.” Everything depends on whether we have or do not have firm faith. If you want to build a tall building, you must see concrete and steel; if you want to live in a thatched cottage, you must feel thatch and adobe; if you want to eat meat, you must taste flesh; if you want to eat vegetables, you must smell plants; and if you want to be a Celestial being, you must explore the mysteries of time, space, and LIFE. The truth is simple but hard to enact.

You often stray from your goal because you cannot resist temptation and you often regret because you do not have a strong enough will. Those who monitor others have evil intentions and those who are always afraid of being cheated are themselves, worthless cheaters. Those who suspect Jesus and Sakyamuni have no spiritual perception or short of firm will to seek Tao, and those who are companies of laities cannot be saints. Those who delude themselves with phenomena and who are extremely rational and focus on reality too much shall never see the Greatest Creator and atheists can never become Celestial beings.

Hey, I have said more than enough.
The lost are lost and the awakened are awake.

59. Brothers and sisters, I feel very happy to be with you

Xue Feng

April 18, 2014

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

Some brothers and sisters have asked me, "Guide, you have given up your favourable living conditions overseas and you gave up the upscale villa and three beautiful poetic Xanadus in Yunnan. Now you are in the Gobi, a place where it rarely rains and you live in such a simple and crude house. You drink the highly alkaline and bitter, carcinogenic water. There are no toilets or bathrooms here. You live in such a sandy and dusty environment, do you not ever regret doing this?"

My answer is: My brothers and sisters! I feel very happy to be with you.

My heart is always full of joy. I have never felt so rich. The Greatest Creator never leaves me, and Buddha, Gods, Celestials, and Saints accompany me all the time. The Greatest Creator has bestowed upon me a group of brothers and sisters who are diligent, kind, simple, sincere, and trustworthy. Living with you, I feel very happy and blessed.

Joy, happiness, freedom, and blessings have not left me. Life is a journey of LIFE on earth; since it is a journey, whether the sceneries are good or bad, they are all sceneries; rich life or poor life, they are both lives; whether you gain or lose, at the end of the day, everything is empty. "Life is like a dream, everything disappears in the end, experience fully, and have no regrets in this life". With the opportunity of experiencing such a simple life, it enriches my mind; experiencing the bitterness of human beings and life, I have no regrets at all. In fact, what I have seen are all beautiful sceneries, and I am surrounded by beauty. I see the endless, bright and splendid future.

The sum of positive and negative energy in the universe is zero, and what one gets and gives are always equal. If I keep giving, but take and enjoy little, this would be the best arrangement for me from Tao because all my "treasures" are now saved in heaven. I will surely have very big blessings in the future, and my future life will be very bright and wonderful. The same logic applies to my brothers and sisters who follow me too, and they will also have wonderful blessings and a brilliant LIFE future.

Joy comes from being with my brothers and sisters; happiness comes from creation; blessings come from selfless dedication; freedom comes from continuously climbing to the highest realms of life and LIFE. I have done all these and I have owned everything, so what "regrets" would I have?

Actually I am the one who gets the most. When more than ten brothers or sisters lived together in a room, they allowed me to live in a double room. Although it has a bunk bed and the space is small, it is still better than our brothers' and sisters' bedrooms. Look our five branch directors: Foyi still lives in a van; Shengong shares his room with other brothers; Bian lives in a small room with a bunk bed; Xintao and Hengde also share rooms with other brothers and sisters. These directors are doing the most heavy, dirty, and dangerous work every day. Please look at how Ende and Shenci celestial who are over eighty years old, and Jinci and Xuande who are over seventy, work every day and never complain. Our middle-aged and young brothers and sisters also work happily and whole-heartedly every day and nobody complains or expresses regrets. On the contrary, no matter whether in yesterday's Xanadu or today's Gobi, as long as we live together, we can lead happy and harmonious lives together. There is always endless laughing and happiness. Who are such a group of people? Are they not a group of celestials?

In the past four years, without any support or help from external manpower, we Chanyuan celestials have accomplished brilliant achievements and a splendid culture. Those with great foresight can see this, and people living in the future will benefit from it. Although many people cannot understand us at the moment, and many people still laugh, scold, attack, and persecute us, our past and presence will finally be recorded in the history of human beings' civilization. Those who persecute us will suffer the curse, and their behaviors will be recorded on the shame pole of human history.

Thank you, my dear brothers and sisters, you bring me joy and happiness. I would like to continue making such efforts and to continue going forward with you until we arrive on the Celestial Island Continent.

We are clean, pure, civilized, and open. Let us bathe under the spiritual light of the Greatest Creator and continue to climb up the highest realm as always. Let us create a splendid future again: first some, then several, next dozens, and finally hundreds of Xanadus where people, society, and nature can coexist happily and harmoniously!

60. "Make" a Premium-quality Life

Deifor Buddha

December 10, 2006

(Translated by Tongxin and Edited by Kaer)

The products made in factories are classified into different ratings, there are premium-quality products, inferior-quality products, defective products, and waste products. Due to varying technologies and varying levels of professional dedication of different workers, different quality levels of products are produced from the same mold.

In the same field and with the same seeds, because the operators' levels of experience and diligence are different, the quantity of their crops will also be very different.

Everyone shares inborn natures of God, Buddha, and Celestial beings, and the natures of matter, animals, and humanity. Due to the differences of time, family environment, education, self-motivation, and other variables, some people will eventually achieve glorious premium-quality lives, while others are forced to endure inferior-quality lives or even lives filled with suffering.

Although human history has existed for thousands of years, nobody has ever given clear guidance to people on how to "make" a premium-quality life, so I will venture to share my opinion on this topic.

A premium-quality life has the characteristics of these following eight qualities:

1. They must create something for society and let many people benefit from it. What they attain must be far less than what they contribute.
2. They never hurt anyone, but if they do cause unintentional pain or suffering, they must compensate their victims fairly.
3. They bring joy and hope to many people.
4. There is only love, but no hatred in their hearts.
5. They are diligent, simple, kind, honest, and trustworthy, and they must dare to take responsibility for their actions.
6. They revere the Greatest Creator, revere LIFE and nature, and they are cultivated and civilized.
7. They love many people, and are loved by them in return.
8. They are kind, understanding, full of vitality, and they are positive and optimistic.

As long as one can reach the above eight standards, they will lead a premium-quality life.

I can assure you that most people want to achieve the standards of premium-quality lives, but how can they achieve it?

Jade cannot become beautiful art without skillful carving, gems cannot become shining ornaments without processing, and one cannot be a premium-quality person without cultivation. No matter how good-looking the mold is, if the materials are not processed correctly, they cannot become useful products.

I propose the following eight ways which should be enough to help guide you toward achieving a premium-quality life.

1. Choose the people you befriend and the groups with whom you associate cautiously. "He who stays near cinnabar gets red, he who stays near ink gets stained black". Be with those who are cultivated, positive, and optimistic. Avoid associating with those who are negative and pessimistic, and who complain and disrespect others.

2. Be grateful at all times on everything and in all places. As long as you have the ability to help people, do not haggle over every ounce, but rather contribute your talents and wisdom unconditionally.

3. Be a lifelong diligent worker, attain fruits through your own labor and creation, do not be greedy, and do not cling to anything that does not rightfully belong to you.

4. When dealing with benefits, whether it is between brothers and sisters, friends and relatives, neighbors and acquaintances, or coworkers and associates, you should lag behind and award the most benefits to others.

5. Never put chains on the people you love, on the contrary, allow them the widest birth and the most freedom.

6. Help others to achieve success, never be jealous or become barriers to them.

7. Have more than eight bosom friends who treat each other with sincerity.

8. Revere the Greatest Creator, revere LIFE, revere nature, and walk on the way of the Greatest Creator.

Life is a Kaleidoscope, the kinds of flowers that will blossom depend on its physical structure, and the kind of life that one can achieve depends on the structure of their consciousness. Therefore, the core question is not on the elements of the uncontrollable, objective environment, but on the interior quality of the people themselves.

“As you approach the mountain, you will learn the tweeting of birds, as you approach the water, you will know the free swimming of fish”; “As you worship the Buddha, you will acquire the nature of the Buddha, as you seek celestial beings, your dream of becoming one will materialize”.

As long as we have the will to make premium-quality lives, we will realize this ideal unconsciously. It is an imperceptible process.

I hope everyone will achieve premium-quality lives.

61. The Ways to Obtain Joy, Happiness, Freedom, and Blessing

Xuefeng

June 15, 2010

We yearn for a joyful, happy, free and blessed life, we pray for a joyful, happy, free and blessed life, but how can we make our wish become reality?

First, we should grasp the tenet, that is, we should hold in respect and awe the Greatest Creator, LIFE, and nature and should follow the way of the Greatest Creator. This is the precondition for the accomplishment of our aspirations. Secondly, we should get rid of contention, fight, comparison, jealousy, complaint, and possession, and try our best to be free from an ego, a personality, a being, a LIFE, a dharma, a non-dharma. Our mind should not reside anywhere but blend with nature. We should also understand that the process of LIFE is a game and we should be good at playing games.

The above requirements are the basic guarantee for the achievement of joy, happiness, freedom, and blessing. However, simply meeting the above requirements is not enough, we must also pay attention to the way to achieve these goals.

One can only get joy from living in the collective that shares the frequency and resonance. One cannot get joy by living alone, neither can one get joy from living with people that do not share the same frequency with you. Therefore, we should seek the group that share our frequency and resonate with us, we should work, study, play games and live with them.

Happiness derives from labor and creation. A lazy person that does not work and create shall never understand what happiness is. Only those who engage them actively in work and creation can experience the feeling of happiness in their own labor and creation.

Freedom does not fall from the sky and thus should be earned through earnest endeavors.

Freedom is not given by anyone, instead one should protect his right endowed by heaven. One should say “no” firmly and resolutely when the freedom of one’s soul, spirit, and flesh is restricted by a theory, a sermon, a way of thinking, a program, a system, an individual, or a group of people. “Freedom is the most precious thing in LIFE”, if you lose freedom, you subject yourself to the status of a slave, who has no freedom.

One should pay a cost for the obtainment of freedom. It would only be lunatic ravings to wish for the gain of freedom effortlessly. Without great affliction and hard tempering, it is very difficult to march from the realm of necessity to the realm of freedom.

Blessing is derived from unselfish devotion, the more unselfish devotion one makes, the more blessing he will have. A selfish and self-centered person who only lives for himself all his life will never experience the feeling of blessing. The person who devotes himself unselfishly to the blessing of mankind and all LIVES is the most blessed person in the world. The more unselfish service one renders, the more blessed he will be, and the less unselfish service one renders, the less blessed he will be.

Let's forge ahead and make our way to the life realm of joy, happiness, freedom and blessing!

62. Making Effort to Cultivate an Integrated and Independent Consciousness

Xuefeng

May 12, 2011

(Translated by Treasure and Edited by Kaer)

Self-harmony is the supreme realm of self-cultivation. In order to achieve it, one must have an integrated and independent consciousness, and practitioners need to cultivate their own ones continuously. When your own consciousness is no longer influenced or interfered with by the consciousnesses of fellow humans, yours will have achieved self-consistency, namely Tathagata, then the most beautiful stage of LIFE will be unveiled.

Contradictions, conflicts, annoyances, pains, anxieties, and sorrows come mostly from incomplete and dependent consciousnesses; that is, when you do not have an integrated and independent consciousness, you will be caught in dilemmas, vacillation, risky recklessness, and be lost in those aforementioned maladies.

When you encounter problems but have no idea how to deal with them, you should listen to the words and advice of others, but it is easy to become confused, injure yourself, or even follow the wrong path. This would result from your lack of an integrated and independent consciousness. Having your own opinion on everything will allow you to know how to deal with all affairs and your life will be left with few regrets.

The more that you depend on the outside, the more you will be influenced and controlled by outside consciousnesses, the more passive you will be, and the more you will become slaves and vassals to other consciousnesses. As a result, you will not find your true self and your nature of origin will be submerged. Not to mention becoming a celestial being or achieving Buddhahood, it would even be difficult to conduct yourself as a person. How could your life not be painful?

The difference between slaves and slave-owners is that slaves do not have their own integrated and independent consciousnesses, but slave owners have their own relatively integrated and independent consciousnesses. There is a pet phrase "following people's advice and bread will be coming", which is not only a bait from slave-owners to slaves, but also words that those who have relatively integrated and independent consciousnesses say to those who lack them and remain undecided on everything.

Adhering to one's own opinion, insisting on one's own ways, remaining stubborn and rigid, and sticking to dogma are not expressions of integrated and independent consciousnesses. The so-called "integrated and independent consciousness" shows that one's own values, outlook on life and LIFE, and outlook on the universe conform to the Way of the Greatest Creator. On this basis, one can handle all affairs on their journey through life without being influenced or interfered with by others' consciousnesses.

So, how do we cultivate integrated and independent consciousnesses?

1. Understand the origins of the universe, of LIFE, of humanity, and their moving and their revolutionary trends.
2. Understand the values, meanings of life; the principles of LIFE and its evolutionary program.
3. Understand roughly Tao's features and operating mechanism; the laws of the universe, including causality and that the sum of negative and positive energy always equals zero.
4. Understand the main meaning of the Way of the Greatest Creator.
5. Understand the meaning and mystery of space, especially twenty parallel worlds and thirty-six dimensional spaces.
6. Understand the nonmaterial, what lies within it, its values and effects, and the Nonmaterial World.
7. Have a clear picture of your own condition and the direction of your efforts over time.
8. Able to observe human society from a higher perspective; understand its operating mechanism and its advantages and disadvantages.

One is unable to cultivate an integrated and independent consciousness until they have finished these eight courses. They might form an independent consciousness, but without integrity, it would be flawed, go to extremes easily, be blind and even harmful, and lead easily to despotism and dictatorship.

Concentrate on the main point! Once the key point is grasped, everything else will fall into their proper places. After finishing the eight courses above, one will have a clear mind and their own opinion for dealing with everything. Then, the boundless universe will no longer be complicated and unfathomable, the journey of life will no longer be full of confusion and hardships, and the path of LIFE will no longer be a cycle of rebirths.

Most of the injuries that we suffer in our lifetimes are caused by our relationships with other people, and the direct reason is that we do not have integrated and independent consciousnesses. The conflicts of consciousnesses between people are the greatest conflicts and problems in life. To reduce them, we should begin by having consciousnesses that are integrated and independent, then we should be free from the influence and control of others as far as possible. Only then will we be able to finally unite with Tao and achieve complete self-harmony.

Lifechanyuan is the final course for people, and Chanyuan Celestials who fully comprehend the meaning of Lifechanyuan, stand on the summit of human wisdom. No one can guide them further because they have acquired integrated and independent consciousnesses gradually and know how to deal with all affairs by taking the Way of the Greatest Creator. Even I, their guide, would have no more influence over them because we gradually become the same, resonating in harmony to the same frequency, and the problem of interplay or interference will no longer exist. This is why I always stress that I am just a guide, not a master or a savior of humanity, because we are ultimately equal and independent of each other.

I expect that all of you will make the effort to cultivate and form your own integrated and independent consciousnesses as soon as possible, to be free from the bondage, shackles, and control of the consciousnesses of others, and to leave the kingdom of necessity for the realm of freedom.

63. Pass Through the Fuzzy Swamp

(Translated by Qinyou and Edited by Kaer)

Yesterday, I proposed that if something is not helpful, then it is harmful; but if it is harmless, then it is beneficial. Then I asked everyone to help verify whether my proposition is true; as a result, there were many different opinions and no consensus.

Where is the problem? It lies in the fuzzy area; that is, it is impossible to determine whether it is or is not, or whether it is right or wrong. The fuzzy zone is more correctly a fuzzy swamp. Your judgement can easily be trapped, which makes you choose wrongly.

In fuzzy swamps, it is difficult for us to know what is...

1. Bright or Dark
2. Up or Down
3. Forward or Backward
4. Correct or Incorrect
5. Right or Wrong
6. Beautiful or Ugly
7. Good or Evil
8. Dead or Alive

In fuzzy swamps, Taiji thinking loses completely its effectiveness and there are no opposing parties.

- It is a fuzzy zone; a state of chaos.
- It is like Schrodinger's cat, impossible to know whether the cat is dead or alive.

- It is a roll of the dice, impossible to determine whether it will be heads up or tails up.
- It is gambling, impossible to know whether it will win or lose.
- It is a Mobius strip, you cannot tell the front side from the back side.

When it is impossible to make a judgement about a phenomenon, a thing, or an event, it shows that we are in a fuzzy swamp in which we either run around blindly or wait patiently.

In human life, when we are faced with a choice, we often enter a dilemma. What should we do?

1. Should we continue in a relationship or end it categorically?
2. Should we go abroad or stay put?
3. Should we keep our secure job or to start a new business?
4. Is it better to rent a house or to buy one?
5. Is it better to follow Buddhism or Christianity?
6. Should we run away from home or stay in the same place where we have always been?
7. Should we have noodles for dinner or pancakes?
8. Is it better to wear casual clothes or a suit?

Such situations make it difficult to choose because we are in fuzzy swamps.

There is a period of time between dusk and nightfall which is a fuzzy zone that can also be called a buffer zone or a transition zone. We cannot say that the sky is dark or bright; we can only say that the sky is not quite either. In this vague area, my proposition “if it is not helpful, it will be harmful; if it is harmless, it will be beneficial”, does not hold because we cannot figure out whether certain things, people, opportunities, or viewpoints are harmful or beneficial.

The duration of a fuzzy zone can be as short as a few seconds, such as the rolling of dice, as long as several decades, such as self-cultivating to attain Dao; or even a whole lifetime, such as life and death. These fuzzy zones are swamps. In our lives, it is easy for us to be trapped in them and lose our way which consumes our precious time and energy and ruins our bright futures.

In my opinion, the so-called “all living beings” refers to people who have been trapped in fuzzy swamps all their lives; being busy all their lives and knowing neither where they came from nor where they are going and not knowing the true meaning of their behavior. They can only be like duckweed on a lake, swept up and down by the waves of the times, chasing the wind with confused thinking, and minds as transient illusions or passing clouds; they do not know what they are doing on any day. I have observed these sentient beings in Wechat groups; most of them are confused and are just messing around or being taken advantage of and killing their spare time. I have also observed the articles reposted in the “friends’ moments”. From the articles reposted by anyone, you can see their virtue, sentiment, and cultivation, and know whether or not they are in a fuzzy swamp.

When we are in fuzzy swamps, we need to remain calm and not decide anything, but one thing that we must do is to keep a close eye on the direction to which we are going because when we are in a fuzzy swamp, we will not even know when we can reach our destination. It is just because of this that we are easily confused, slackened off, decadent, taking the wrong direction, or expending energy on goals that are opposite to our direction which will ultimately lead to our failure even on the verge of success.

For example, I started to learn English by myself in 1979. My method and direction of learning English was to travel abroad. From then on, I kept studying every day of every month, every year, never missing a single day except for New Year’s Eve and New Year’s Day. However, I never knew, even if I could go abroad, where my opportunities would be. This continued for more than fourteen years, during which the cynicism and blow to my confidence never ceased, and during this time I was actually in a fuzzy swamp. However, because of my continuous persistence of focusing on my target, I finally passed through the fuzzy swamp in 1993, reached my destination, and realized my wish to go abroad. Along this course, I once changed my direction; I went to study Chinese at Lanzhou Institute of Education, and after one semester, I found that something was very wrong; mastering Chinese was irrelevant to my going abroad, so I decidedly switched from the Chinese Department of Lanzhou Institute of Education to the English Department of Jiuquan Institute of Education and continued to study English. Had I continued with my Chinese studies, the direction and goal that I had set in my heart in 1979 would have fallen through and all my previous efforts would have been in vain. I spent more than fourteen years traversing through a fuzzy swamp!

My purpose of talking about fuzzy swamps is to tell all Chanyuan celestials that your goal after becoming a Chanyuan celestial is to become a celestial being, to go to the Thousand-year World, the Ten-thousand-year World, or the Elysium Celestial Islands Continent. Before reaching your destination, you are immersed in fuzzy swamps constantly. Although you have been self-improving and self-refining for several years or even decades, you feel that there is no obvious change, you make no improvement in sublimation, every day seems to be the same as the day before and the day before that, and you still have a lot of difficulty and confusion to overcome before you. At this time, your confidence can be shaken easily and your faith can be blasted heavily, but please remember my example of learning English; it is only by continuous persistence, patience, and hard work to light up the sacred lamp in your heart and with the perseverance of never straying from your path toward reaching heaven that you will pass through the fuzzy swamp and reach your glorious end goal.

In fact, the above principles apply to all people who want to realize their innermost goals. Whenever you are in a dilemma, it is a fuzzy swamp. Just give up your judgement first and make your unremitting effort by biting the bullet and persevering toward your fixed direction and goal. Then, after three years, ten years, or maybe even eighty years or a lifetime, so long as you stick to it, you will be able to cross your personal fuzzy swam and reach the ideal shore.

Man proposes, but the Greatest Creator disposes.

As long as you stick to it, rubbing ropes against wooden boards will eventually cut into them.
